Council Adopts $15/Month Trash Fee for Residents; OKs Stop Sign

By Brian Simon

After a couple of motions resulted in stalemates, an El Segundo City Council majority (with Councilmember Don Brann dissenting and Mayor Drew Boyles recusing himself due to a potential business conflict) on Tuesday night eventually voted to impose a $15 monthly fee on one- and two-unit residential property owners for waste collection services. The group also approved (4-0) a 10-year contract with new hauler EDCO.

When a state-mandated Proposition 218 process this past fall failed to yield enough protest ballots, the Council had the option to assess up to $20 a month (with annual consumer price index adjustments tacked on over a five-year period) rate. Brann, as in past meetings on this topic, did not wish to see any residential trash fee whatsoever. He reasoned that residents wanted to stay with longtime hauler Republic Services and keep the existing manual collection system (EDCO's will be automated). He also argued that the City of El Segundo is thriving financially and he doesn't buy into doom and gloom budget prognostications. "We made it through the Great Recession and didn't kick it [residential trash fee] in then. Why kick it in now?" he said.

Brann made a motion to approve the resolution, but suspend imposing any fee so that residents won't pay anything for now. He instead suggested the Council revisit the matter in a few months before passing the 2019/20 budget. None of his colleagues seconded the motion.

Mayor Pro Tem Carol Pirsztuk broached the subject of a lower fee, with the thought of perhaps splitting the difference at $10. However, Councilmember Scot Nicol pointed out this would be unfair to owners of three- and four-unit properties who will have to contract separately with EDCO and pay more than twice as much. His motion to impose the $20 got a second from Pirsztuk, but no other votes.

It then came down to Councilmember Chris Pimentel, who suggested the $15 fee. He explained that at that particular rate, the City's subsidy portion will be equivalent to what it paid annually in the past under the original Republic contract (and thus present a stronger case for asking residents to cover the remainder). Pirztuk then made the motion for the $15. Though teetering briefly, Nicol agreed to provide the third vote and the item passed.

The EDCO contract package will feature automated weekly collection of trash, recyclables and green waste with hauler-provided carts for the 3,230 eligible single-family and two-unit dwellings. Other base services include four bulky item pick-ups per year (six items per pick-up maximum), holiday tree collection, abandoned item collection in public right-of way, five City-sponsored events annually, outreach and education, two annual cleanup weeks for bulky items, and two annual document shredding events.

Recent negotiations with EDCO resulted in several modifications to the franchise agreement. Those include quarterly rather than monthly billing to property owners, which will reduce the overall City monthly rate from $21.98 to $21.26 to save $28,000 a year. In exchange for bumping up to the 10-year contract rather than the originally proposed seven-year deal with an extension option, EDCO will provide the bulky cleanup weeks and shredding days at no extra charge and save the City another $30,200 per year.

Other contract amendments: EDCO will provide services at 15 City events (rather than the originally listed five) at $500 per; the City will pay $10,000 a year for EDCO to provide unlimited annual collection of abandoned items on public right-of way; the new aquatics center will be added to the service contract at $5,028 per year; and EDCO will offer the same monthly cart service rates ($21.98) to three- and four-unit property owners who choose to contract with it.

EDCO hopes to start service on May 1. Prior to that, the company will conduct extensive public outreach that will include a dedicated page on the City's website, postcard/brochure mailers, community meetings and carts on display at various City buildings.

Also on Tuesday, the Council voted 4-1 (with a no from Brann) to install stop signs at Walnut Avenue and Sheldon Street to alleviate resident concerns about potential dangers at what several termed a "blind intersection." This despite a staff recommendation to not proceed because an analysis of the area (the second in the last two years) revealed that a stop sign at the location is "unwarranted" due to low traffic volume, adequate visibility and roadway geometry, and lack of accident history (two collisions over the last five years).

Melissa Gooden Named Principal for El Segundo High School

At the El Segundo Unified School District (ESUSD) Board of Education meeting on Feb. 12, the Board appointed Dr. Melissa Gooden as the new principal for El Segundo High School. Since November 26, 2018, Gooden has served as the Acting Principal for El Segundo High School.

Gooden joined ESUSD in August 2017 as principal of El Segundo Middle School. She brings 18 years of experience serving secondary students primarily in the Los Angeles Unified School District, and a brief period at Glendale Unified and Fairfax County Public Schools. She began her career as a special education teacher in Virginia prior to relocating to California in 2002. She worked in administration since 2007, serving as program specialist, district administrator, and an assistant principal. She has considerable expertise in the areas of special education, data-based decision making, targeted interventions for students, and positive behavior intervention and support.

Gooden earned her doctorate in educational leadership from University of Southern California. She earned her master's degree in teaching from National University and a bachelor's degree in elementary and special education from the University of Delaware.

"During her tenure as principal at El Segundo Middle School, Gooden was known for being an exceptional school leader," said ESUSD Superintendent Melissa Moore. "She has a reputation as a highly successful administrator who has garnered substantial support from the faculty she has worked with due to her warm approach, consistency, and commitment to making decisions based on what is best for students."

El Segundo Eagles Boys Soccer Team Marches Toward CIF Finals

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

The El Segundo High School boys soccer team and girls basketball team advanced to the CIF Southern Section quarterfinals. The soccer team overpowered Chaffey 6-2 to advance to the CIF-SS Division 3 semifinals and then defeated Alta Loma 4-2 to advance to their second consecutive CIF Southern Section finals. The Lady Eagles fell to Mayfair 50-36 to end their historic season.

Eagles Continue Their Championship Run

The boys soccer team has proved over the season that moving up two divisions, they could compete in one of the most demanding divisions in the CIF Southern Section. The Eagles, who ran the table in the Ocean League, have dominated their opponents in the playoffs. Their speed, athleticism, passing, defense and aggressiveness on offense were the difference especially against Chaffey. Their team chemistry and their drive to return to the CIF finals were evident against Alta Loma where the Eagles scored a 4-2 win over the Braves.

The 6-2 win over Chaffey in the quarterfinals was not as close as the score might indicate. Chaffey stayed with El Segundo for the first 10 minutes before the Eagles turned it up. The Eagles put the pressure on the Tigers goalkeeper Anthony Riveros. Jack Finders took a high lob and headed a pass to Casey Lund, who directed a header in for a goal and an El Segundo 1-0 lead. Finders made it 2-0 when he used an assist from Sam Twigg to power in the Eagles' second goal. The Eagles got a gift goal off a penalty kick by Logan Pismopulos to make it 3-0.

Everything the Eagles did turned positive and frustrated the Tigers. Twigg drove the ball down the field and passed to Finders, who drove a header past Riveros for a 4-0 El Segundo lead. Two minutes later, Denis Vezina lobbed a high shot just over the outstretched hands of the Chaffey goalie for a 5-0 lead.

In the second half, Andre Hernandez got into the scoring column 10 minutes in. He took a pass inside from Finders and drove it home for a 6-0 lead. Chaffey would score on a penalty kick at 16:00 and then time wound down for the final 6-2 score.

The win propelled the Eagles into the CIF Southern Section Division 3 semifinals against Alta Loma. On a blustery cool evening, the Eagles scored in the first two minutes. Vezina sent a corner kick that was bounced around to Finders. Finders hit a volley with his right foot over his left shoulder into the top left corner while his back was to the goal. Two minutes later, Vezina scored from close in to make it 2-0. Alta Loma responded with a series of passes that was sent home past the diving Eagle goalie James Amerault to make it 2-1

That exchange inside seemed to spark the Eagles and El Segundo scored twice more before the break. Twigg hit a shot from about 30 yards out that seemed to befuddle the keeper. It went over his head for a 3-1 lead. Then a fantastic exchange of play with some intricate passing led to the Eagles scoring their fourth goal. Lund interchanged with Finders inside the area and executed a perfect back heel that allowed Lund a clear path on goal to make it 4-1 at the half.

El Segundo dictated the second half by retaining possession, but Alta Loma would prevail on one possession. atrycio Acosta took a pass inside and drove it home for a score to close the deficit to 4-2. El Segundo's defense stepped it up in the closing minutes and the Eagles came away with the win. Logan Pismopulos, Nick Sautter, Caden Schepps and Nate Salazar were instrumental on defense helping out Amerault in goal.

El Segundo returns to the CIF Southern Section finals for the second consecutive year. The Eagles, 21-1-1, will host a familiar foe on Saturday at 5 p.m. when they play West Torrance for the CIF-SS Division 3 Ford Soccer Championship. The Eagles defeated the Warriors 1-0 on Dec. 6, 2018 on a second half Jack Finders goal. This will be the first time in school history that El Segundo will host a CIF championship game in any sport, so let's fill up Hazletine Field.

Girls Basketball Team's Historic Season Ends

The girls basketball team had the program's best season in school history. The Eagles advanced to the CIF Southern Section Division 3A quarterfinals. It marked just the fourth time the team had advanced that far in the playoffs. The Eagles, who were seeded fifth, hosted fourth-seeded Mayfair -- a team that has appeared in 10 consecutive postseason tournaments. In front of a packed gym, the Monsoons used their inside presence to defeat El Segundo 50-36. The Monsoons used their decided height advantage and tight zone defense to thwart a fourth quarter comeback by the Eagles.

In the second quarter, the Eagles were trailing 14-8 when Kayla Smith-Petty scored two baskets inside to close the deficit to 14-12. The Monsoons would take advantage of turnovers and go on an 8-2 run to close out the half and lead 24-14.

The low first-half scoring by both teams was due to the defensive efforts and unforced turnovers. The Eagles committed 12 turnovers in the first half and 19 for the game. First-year head coach John Peterson made some adjustments for the second half on both ends of the court.

The Eagles crept back into the game by slicing into the 10-point halftime deficit. Jordan Peterson's layup made it 25-21 and then on the other end she took a charge. The Eagles were within four points and had possession, but couldn't take advantage. El Segundo had its best quarter by outscoring the Monsoons 15 to 8. Bo Takehara had a steal for a layup to cut the deficit to 30-27.

Early in the fourth quarter, Peterson connected on a three-pointer to make it a one-point game. That would be as close as the Eagles would come. The Monsoons went on a 9-0 run and extended their lead to 42-32. The Eagles' cold shooting in the fourth quarter hampered any comeback attempt.

In one of the classiest moves of the season, Coach Peterson replaced his five seniors on the court. With just under a minute remaining in their high school careers, Kailea Lee, Malia Hue, Remicia Germeille, Lydia Telahun and Kayla Smith-Petty were treated to a standing ovation by the appreciative student section as they came off the court. "It was the least I could do for the seniors. They've made this year special," said Peterson.

The Eagles finished the season with 21 wins and were Ocean League champions. They ranked fifth in their division and had nine different players post career highs in scoring: Bo Takeharak (12), Kailea Lee (14), Storey Noble (19), Reese Jones (20), Hannah Chang (20, which tied a career high), Jordyn Marconet (10), Jordan Peterson (18) and Remicia Germeille (10). Jones led the team in scoring in 12 of 30 games and led the team in rebounding 14 of the games. Marconet and Peterson each had career highs of rebounds in one game with 11. •

#17 Caden Schepps' defense is one reason the Eagles will play for a CIF championship at home on Saturday.

Jack Finders goes high for a header. He had two goals and one assist against Chaffey.

A new business deserves a good name.

El Tarasco - Best of the Best

Mi Casa Es Su Casa

The story of El Tarasco starts with an elopement back in the early 1960s in the Mexican state of Michoacan. Despite the wishes of her family, a young woman named Celia saw something special in the poor but industrious Moises Palomo and married him.

He worked hard picking strawberries, avocados, or whatever needed to be harvested, until he was able to send for his wife. Celia arrived and began working in a factory while Moises worked a number of jobs.

Moises and his wife had saved up enough money over time to buy a little house, but decided to buy a restaurant, despite everyone telling them it would be a bad idea. They stayed in their one bedroom apartment and invested their money in a small restaurant (nothing more than a grill and a counter.) This all happened in 1969, and the location of the first restaurant is the very same El Tarasco that is there today on Rosecrans in Manhattan Beach.

Little by little, Celia (who did the cooking) added dinners and other items to the menu. The success of the little restaurant was in large part due to location, location, location. El Tarasco provided a place where people could go and get filled up for a reasonable price. The second El Tarasco opened up eight years later in El Segundo, and there are now 11 locations with one in far away Michoacan and 10 in Southern California.

The item which first distinguished El Tarasco from other restaurants and really made a name for them is the Jr. Super Deluxe Burrito created by Moises daughter around 1970.

Moises and Celia Palomo were two individuals to make an impossible dream a reality. The couple successfully raised 5 children and lived the true American dream. In 1997 Celia passed away and less then a year later her husband, Moises, joined her continuing their love eternally. •

Dewey: The Small-Town Library Cat Who Touched the World (Vicki Myron with Bret Witter)

By Roz Templin,
El Segundo Public Library

Finally, I got around to reading this much-beloved and highly-circulated book published 10 years ago. Heartwarming and heartrending, this timeless tale of the town of Spencer, Iowa and its most famous resident is a quick but meaningful read.

Written by the former library director at Spencer Public Library Vicki Myron, Dewey's discovery in the book return by library staff one freezing winter morning led to a 19-year association that touched not only Spencer residents but people worldwide.

Vicki describes lifting the 8-week-old kitten out of the box, shivering, dirty and weak. She and staff members wrapped him in towels and then gave him a warm bath in the staff room sink. They dried him with a blow dryer used for craft time and he was transformed into a beautiful long-haired orange tabby… with frostbitten foot pads. Pulled from death's door by kind people, that kitten almost immediately began to repay his saviors with affection and attention.

Going through the proper City channels, Dewey became a "purr-fect addition" to the library. The staff began calling him Dewey after Melville Dewey, inventor of the Dewey Decimal library classification system. Even after a citywide naming contest, the name "Dewey" won easily. Soon he had a middle and last name: Dewey Readmore Books.

The farm crisis of the 1980s was affecting families in Spencer and surrounding towns and the author gives good background information. People lost a way of life, which resulted in bewilderment about how to go forward without their farms that were lost to the poor economy and automation. The library stepped up to help with a job bank that included reference materials, job listings and resume assistance. And the new library cat also did his part – within a short amount of time, his interest in people soon began to be reciprocated by the public. With many real-life examples, Dewey befriended the lonely elderly, the worried job hunters and rambunctious children. He seemed to have a sixth sense in identifying those persons in particular need, jumping in those laps instead of others. He was also entertaining to one and all, leaping from shelf to shelf, riding on book carts and even inventing the "Dewey Carry" method of his personal transport around the library.

Vicki mixes local lore with her own personal story to give depth to what could have been almost a cartoon-like depiction of a town's cat. There is so much detail given that it is easy to picture the beauty of the Great Plains: Fields of golden corn against vivid blue skies. Vicki turns historian when recounting the Fire of 1931, which resulted in the rebuilding of downtown Spencer in a "Prairie Deco" style. She details how people pulled together during that hardship and the current farming crisis, giving a full picture of Midwest practicality and ingenuity. Difficult times define people and Dewey the Library Cat made visitors and patrons feel better. He was a distraction from their worries, but he was also more than that. He made people believe again, according to the librarian author.

I invite you to share in Dewey's story and learn about those individual instances that turned lives around and made things better for Iowans, as well as those admirers throughout the United States and worldwide. You can view video of Dewey from different media on YouTube and there is a page dedicated to him on the Spencer Public Library website. Our library also has the children's version of the book as well as its sequel Dewey's Nine Lives. •

Film Review

Donnybrook Review: Unapologetically Fierce

By Morgan Rojas
for www.cinemacy.com

It's Fight Club meets The Place Beyond the Pines in director Tim Sutton's heavy drama, Donnybrook. Set in the outskirts of middle America, the film is a rough examination of living among poverty and crime, and risking it all for a fresh start.

Based on the novel by Frank Bill, Donnybrook tells the story of Jarhead Earl (Jamie Bell), a former Marine who is passionate about bare-knuckle boxing and willing to do whatever it takes to compete in one of the most infamous underground fights in the country. The $100,000 jackpot offers Jarhead the opportunity to better his life and that of his family, like being able to afford treatment for his drug-addicted wife, Tammy (Dara Tiller). With his eyes on the prize, Jarhead uproots his family from their disheveled motorhome and they make their way toward the Donnybrook, but little do they realize that Tammy's drug dealers -- Chainsaw Angus (Frank Grillo) and his sister Delia (Margaret Qualley) -- won't let them skip town that easily.

At this point, Jarhead doesn't know that Chainsaw is hot on his trail and in a twisted turn of events, an additional party is added to Chainsaw's pursuit. Police officer James Badge Dale, whose past is as dirty as his typical drunken state, is on a mission to track down Chainsaw and catch this drug-selling felon once and for all.

As if the picture hasn't been painted clearly enough thus far, Donnybrook is a heavy film with lots of blood, death and booze. Violence runs wild in middle America and in the world of Donnybrook, the outcome is bleak. While this intensity can feel overly showy at times, there was one moment that completely took me out of the movie and, I'll admit, it's a silly annoyance: I couldn't stop staring at Chainsaw Angus' popped collar on his pea coat. It is so out of place and intentionally stylized in an otherwise disheveled and highly desperate community. Not only that, but I highly doubt that a man who is almost 100 percent pure muscle, practically machine-built, with a name like "Chainsaw" would be wearing a peacoat.

In his last feature, Dark Night, Tim Sutton took inspiration from the horrific true events of the Aurora, Colorado movie theater shooting, where a midnight screening of The Dark Knight turned into a midnight massacre. This docudrama blurred the lines between reality and fiction, due in large part to the freestyle camerawork and effortless performances. Donnybrook is a much larger production than Dark Night, both in story and scope, but its overarching themes of despair and sadness ring similar. The moody and beautiful color palette creates rich images of poverty and desperation, a cinematic juxtaposition at its finest. There is no doubt that Donnybrook is a transfixing film, even if the subject matter is a difficult watch.

The physical endurance and emotional depth Jamie Bell reaches throughout the course of the film is truly remarkable. He transforms his body into that of an amateur boxer, his muscles being a point of awe all on their own. For as heavy-handed as Donnybrook is, Bell is the backbone that gives the film a glimmer of hope in the darkest of situations. He is proof that not all of humanity has evil intentions. Unapologetically fierce with an abundance of striking visceral mayhem, Donnybrook is an intense watch that will certainly leave you feeling like you endured nine rounds of emotional gut punches.

Donnybrook is rated R for disturbing violent and sexual content, drug use, language and some graphic nudity. 101 minutes. Now playing at Laemmle Monica Film Center, Arena Cinelounge, and VOD and digital services Feb. 22. •

The City's traffic engineering firm, Richard Garland and Associates, recently conducted a one-hour observation during peak morning traffic at the intersection and counted 68 vehicles on Walnut as well as 34 vehicles, six pedestrians and two cyclists on Sheldon. According to state guidelines, multi-way stop signs may be warranted if there at least 300 vehicles per hour for eight hours a day on the major street (Walnut) and a combined volume of a minimum 200 vehicles, pedestrians and bikes entering the intersection from the minor street (Sheldon). Garland's study also concluded sight lines were sufficient. During public communications, nearby residents Ryan Quinnan said the analysis didn't take into account other key criteria, but instead put all its weight on traffic volume. "Visibility is definitely not 250 feet going up the hill," he said. Julie Quinnan described her recent near-accident experience when she couldn't see the other car coming. She contended that a one-hour observation was not enough. Meanwhile, the Council decision came with a caveat, issued by City Attorney Mark Hensley that installing a stop sign deemed unwarranted could present future liability issues.

Police Chief Bill Whalen updated the Council on his department's reorganization to become more "operations-oriented" with expanded and dedicated watch commander coverage and continued emphasis on regular patrol plans. The plan involved enhanced training, with quarterly team block sessions and new training sergeant and officer positions. Also coming: a new Community Engagement Division; expansion of the Community Lead Officer Program; creation of a Recruitment officer; implementation of a new marketing plan in April; enhanced bonuses; and addition of eight specialty/task force officer positions as well as a specialty sergeant.

The Council also approved two of Whalen's position upgrade requests as well as another to create a full-time crime analyst position (the current one is part-time on contract). The $102,877 needed for all the requests will come out of existing department salary savings with no impact on the City's general budget. Whalen asked the Council to increase his department's budget in the future when personnel fills up and salary savings can no longer cover the costs. The Council, in keeping with its recent policy on new hires, issued a directive to offset the additional head count for the new hire elsewhere in the department.

Tuesday's public communications also brought out individuals speaking on behalf of the South Bay United Water Polo Club who were concerned about insufficient pool time at the new aquatics center. Club president Kurt Fry reported that his group was relegated to only a one-hour slot (8 to 9 p.m.) that he noted is too late for younger players and not long enough for older athletes. He emphasized that South Bay United is a non-profit willing to pay peak rates ($15 per lane per hour for 10 lanes) during off-peak times and pointed out that 22 percent of the players are El Segundo residents -- with five attending the local high school but don't live in town. Five of the coaches are also locals, Fry noted. The lack of pool time surprised Brann, who said he hadn't seen the schedules yet. But he reiterated that the Council's wish was to prioritize El Segundo residency in establishing which groups get to use the facility the most – and that South Bay United (along with Alpha Aquatics) got equal nods in this regard.

Tuesday's presentations included a $3,000 check presentation to the El Segundo Education Foundation from the proceeds of the recent El Segundo Police and Fire departments "Battle of the Badges" basketball game; a proclamation recognizing February as National Black History Month; and introduction of new firefighters Khalid Abdelshife, Alissa Connell, Dylan Lowell and Javier Olmedo; as well as recently promoted Eric Anderson (from firefighter to paramedic) and Kevin Heronema (from paramedic to engineer).

Chevron's Rod Spackman addressed the Council on the Jan. 31 lightning strike that knocked out virtually all of the refinery process units and resulted in flaring. He provided video footage of the incident and called the event a "force majeure" that no one could have anticipated. Spackman added that he was amazed no one was severely hurt. "Think if this had happened at The Point," he said. "It could have been much more catastrophic." Spackman reported that it took the refinery just over a week for all process units to get back online, but no additional flaring took place. He also mentioned the Feb. 1 "significant odor event" that spurred many complaints but did not pose a major risk. Meanwhile, he noted that the refinery plans to install a now-required fence-line monitoring system by the beginning of next year that will measure air quality in the area surrounding the refinery. He said he will provide updates on this item in the near future. •

Each Sudoku puzzle consists of a 9X9 grid that has been subdivided into nine smaller grids of 3X3 squares. To solve the puzzle each row, column and box must contain each of the numbers 1 to 9.

Pets

Featured Pets of the Week

Provided by Meggie Hogan, Development Assistant/spcaLA

This cuddly quartet of three dogs and a cat will give those looking to adopt their next pet some awesome options. Each of them is available at the spcaLA South Bay Pet Adoption Center at 12910 Yukon Ave., Hawthorne, CA 90250. To learn more, call 310-676-1149.

Luca (19-02922): 5 Months Old/Chihuahua Mix/Male

"I'm Luca, a sweet puppy looking for a Friend for Life who will train with me so I can grow into my best doggie self. Come meet me and we can learn together!" More info: https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=19-02922

Buddy (19-02894): 6 Months Old/Terrier Mix/Male

"I'm Buddy, a sweet pup looking for my forever home. I love to play with toys and run around outside. Wouldn't you like to be my Friend for Life? Stop by today and see if we are a match!" More info: https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=19-02894

Beenie (19-02831): 10 Years Old/Chihuahua Mix/Female

"I'm the beautiful Beenie! I may be little, but I have a big heart. My favorite things are cuddling and taking naps in the sun. Come meet me if you need a sweet and mellow Friend for Life!" More info: https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=19-02831

Button (19-02865): 2 Years Old/Domestic Short Hair/Male

"Meow, I'm Button! If I'm not busy chowing down on kitty treats, you can usually find me sunbathing by a window or snuggled in a lap. I'm cute, friendly and sweet. What's not to love?" More Info: https://spcala.com/adoptable/pet/?ss=19-02865 •

THE YELLOW DOG PROJECT.com

If you see a dog with a YELLOW RIBBON or something yellow on the leash, this is a dog who needs some space. Please do not approach this dog with your dog. Please maintain distance or give this dog and his/her person time to move out of your way.

There are many reasons why a dog may need space:
HEALTH ISSUES
IN TRAINING
BEING REHABILITATED
SCARED OR REACTIVE AROUND OTHER DOGS

THANK YOU!
Those of us who own these dogs appreciate your help and respect!
