Over 370 Families' Lives Brightened by Aerospace This Holiday Season

Contributed by

The Aerospace Corporation

The spirit of giving was alive and well this holiday season, as one local business granted the wishes of hundreds of families in need in the Los Angeles and Orange County areas. The Aerospace Corporation, an El Segundo-based national nonprofit that operates a federally funded research and development center for the nation's space programs, provided over 700 gifts to 376 of the area's families and hundreds of dollars to local food pantries. The virtual food drive collected a total of $2650 to support food pantries and banks at four of Aerospace's national locations.

During the holiday season, Aerospace partners with local family crisis centers and mental health institutions to channel their efforts in a way that aims to bring joy to those in need within its local community. A full list of Aerospace's partnerships with Los Angeles and Orange County organizations can be found below.

After transitioning to a virtual gift drive in 2020 due to COVID-19, Aerospace continued to maximize giving efforts through online wish lists. This year's efforts resulted in one of the most successful drives yet and marked a significant milestone as every child's wish list was fulfilled, providing two gifts for each of the names submitted by the agencies.

"Since 1998, the core motivation for Aerospace's holiday gift drive has remained the same, virtual or otherwise — to brighten the lives of children and families in challenging circumstances," said Lianne McGinley, head of Aerospace's Corporate Social Responsibility efforts. "Aerospace's commitment to making a difference in the communities where our employees live, and work has resulted in the annual LA-area drive growing from a single agency to aiding nine diverse organizations in 2023."

"It's very special to these children," said Xavier Galindo, who has led the corporation's holiday drive for over 25 years. "Many of these children have no family support, meaning no gifts for the holidays. All we're doing is making sure they get that feeling we all got as kids when we woke up Christmas morning

Malvin Charsha

Malvin "Mal" Charsha of El Segundo, CA, a beloved husband, father, grandfather, brother, uncle, and friend, passed away peacefully on December 25th, 2023, after a brief illness. He was 87.

Mal was born in Pennsylvania where he met Arleen Gentile, whom he would eventually marry. The newlyweds set out for California and settled in El Segundo where they raised their four children.

Mal and Arleen were active members in the community and St. Anthony's Church and School, where Mal coached girls' sports. Mal's love of coaching led him to coach for many years in the El Segundo Bobby Sox softball league. He, manager Arleen, and coach Chris Barrett led the 1974 Minor Bobby

Sox All-Star team to win the National Championship, one of Mal's proudest accomplishments, he also earned the title of "Mr. Baseball" for the El Segundo Baseball Parade in 1977.

Mal is survived by his wife Arleen, his sister Marie Robinson, and his four children (and spouses): Terry Robley-Young (Ken), Sherry Patterson (Ken), DeDe Gerber, and Keith Charsha (Beverly). Those children graced Mal and Arleen with five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mal was larger than life, our Superman, and he will be missed deeply.

A celebration of life will be held on Saturday, January 20th, at 1:00 pm at the El Segundo Women's Club. •

The Time Has Come by Will Leitch

By Roz Templin, Library Assistant, El Segundo Public Library

Seven people come together in a smalltown pharmacy in Athens, Georgia. Some are neighbors and acquaintances, some are strangers. But none will leave Lindbergh's unchanged.

There is an impending sense of doom from the beginning: "Today's the day. This is what I've been building up to – this is what all this was always pointing toward," says a character. What is going to happen? What has been building up? Who is involved? Who's responsible for it? WHY?

The Time Has Come by Will Leitch.

Constructed with individual introductions of the participants, both on the day of the incident as well as six months previous, this novel draws the reader into the lives of these very realistic and diverse people. There is a teacher, a widow, a builder and his teenage athlete son, a nurse, a lawyer/activist and a worker from a local music venue. And Theo Lindbergh, who has recently inherited the family business (Lindbergh's Pharmacy) after the death of his father. Is Theo a target? Maybe his family? The pharmacy itself? Or maybe one of the customers unknowingly has entered into the radar of someone who may be a bit addled?

Ferrari Is an Entertaining, Exhilarating Portrayal of an Automotive Icon

By Ryan Rojas, Cinemacy.com

"Two objects cannot occupy the same point in space, at the same moment in time," says famed Italian automaker Enzo Ferrari in Michael Mann's new biographical drama, Ferrari.

While Ferrari's words are spoken about car racing, they are also true about the larger forces that compete to edge out the other in his life; success and failure, happiness and heartbreak, and even life and death are consummate rivals that race to occupy the same spot in Ferrari's world.

Set in the summer of 1957, Ferrari focuses its story on Enzo Ferrari (Adam Driver) at a pivotal crossroads in his life. We see early on that Ferrari-a former racecar driver himself-lives a life that's colored by the loss of his young son, whom he grieves with the child's mother, Laura (Penélope Cruz). It's a loss that's ripped them apart, their relationship now comically and tragically disastrous, symbolized by their constant shouting matches that sometimes lead Laura to produce a handgun to illustrate the intensity of their fights.

Although their marriage is a sham, Enzo and Laura still need each other, as they both own majority stakes in the Ferrari company. It's a predicament for Enzo, who would rather deal with matters on his own. To that end, we see just how private a man he is, choosing to wrestle with his demons in secrecy. The largest example is his secret relationship with Lina (Shailene Woodley), the "other woman" whom he shares a son with. Meanwhile, Enzo must hide that the Ferrari company is near bankruptcy. It leads him to bet the company and push his drivers to win the Mille Miglia, a 1,000-mile race across Italy which ends up having disastrous results.

Catching Up on the Eagles

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

The Holiday Break is over, and high school sports are returning to their respective schedules. The girls' water polo team and the boy's and girls' soccer and basketball teams had a great December. The outlook for the rest of the season looks favorable for a playoff berth for each team.

Evelyn Hale, defensive standout and captain Sally Gonzalez, and three-year junior starting goalie Kendall Donahue. Evelyn Hale leads all scorers with 34 goals this season, recording a season-high of nine goals against South Torrance. She has scored in each game so far this season. Defensively, she leads the team with 18 steals and eight field blocks. Sally Emmie Ramirez returns to bolster the offense after missing the start of the season.

Girls Water Polo Looks to Build on Their Start

Head coach Nila Ward is encouraged by how her team has played. The Eagles had a solid start to the season, winning a close one against Palos Verdes and competing at the prestigious Villa Park Tournament. The Eagles handled Santa Monica and Riverside Poly and lost some good matchups against highly touted Yucaipa, Sunny Hills, and Bonita.

The start of the season has been carried in large part by offensive powerhouse

Gonzalez is the second leading scorer with 19 on the season. Her defensive efforts have helped to shut down opponents' best players and directing traffic. She leads the team in assists and steals. Kendall Donahue is stepping up in the goal, blocking nearly 70 percent of the shots that have come her way. Her communication and leadership are apparent, and she does an excellent job of playing aggressively between the posts.

Lastly, as you prepare to apply for a loan, be sure to understand the documentation you'll need to provide to lenders. Mortgage rates fluctuate over time. The rate you could get today may not be the rate you'd get tomorrow. That's why it's important to shop for the best rate and lock it in once ready. For example, Chase's understand how much your ideal home Homebuyer Advantage Program offers Lock & Shop, allowing you to lock in your mortgage rate for 90 days with no upfront fee. You'll also be able to use the one-time float-down option if rates go down before your closing.

Emmie Ramirez rejoin the team. She said, "We are looking forward to the experience and talent of the Cal commit to boost our level of play."

Ramirez missed the first eight games recovering from an injury. Coach Ward added, "We know she scores many goals and draws much defensive attention. So, it should help lighten the load for her teammates who have been doing the heavy lifting this season."

New standouts this year have been Ava Albertson and Valeria Mora. Both come to the Eagles with extensive swimming backgrounds. According to Coach Ward, they are stepping into more aggressive roles this season to help fill out the roster. "Ava can always be counted on to score a couple of counter-attack goals, win some sprints, and is on the leaderboard for steals. Mora led all scorers with five goals against West Torrance, and Coach Ward says she is starting to develop a killer instinct.

Looking ahead, the Eagles have a full schedule coming out of the winter break. They continue league play against North Torrance and Torrance. Then, they'll head to the Warriors Winter Classic to gain more experience in tournament play. They are looking forward to a matchup with rival Mira Costa the following week.

Coach Ward said, "I'm excited by the progress that these girls have made in such a short time so far this season. We have a core of very experienced players. We have been working to really teach the game and help our newer girls feel more comfortable in the pool. It has been a fun journey so far watching them start to understand some of the finer nuances of the game and play more aggressively and become contributors."

The Eagles continued their schedule this week against Torrance at home today at 3:30 p.m.

Basketball Team Has a Showtime Feel

The Eagles are off and flying with a great start to the season. The Eagles are the top-ranked team in the latest CIF-SS 5AA polls but sit in fourth place in the Pioneer League. The Pioneer League schedule is an arduous one with two other highly-ranked teams besides the Eagles.

The Eagles have won eight out of their last nine games to end the year, including their league opener against Torrance. The Eagles have been led by their trio of seniors, including Eli Coles, Jack Pintens, and Gavin McKinnon. All three were selected to the All-Tournament team in the Dwan Hurt Holiday Classic, and the Eagles won.

In their latest game, the Eagles started 2024 with a convincing 88-64 win over a talented Orangewood Academy Spartans team. The Eagles, at full strength, demonstrated a fun and talented team with their up-tempo, crisp passing, diving for loose balls, and ability to shoot from beyond the arch made for success. With a (11-) record, the Eagles are pushing to make the playoffs for the first time since the 2020-2021 season. In addition to making the playoffs, the Eagles are now in Division 5AA, where they can make a deep run.

Lady Eagles Young Team Seeing Potential

The first month of the season was a roller coaster for the Eagles. With just two seniors on the roster, the Eagles rely on inexperienced but talented younger players. First-year Guard Ella Sabosky and sophomores Kalista McMillon, Stella Pollard, and Myleah Cooley are a very young group, but they hold their own. With the leadership of seniors Hailey Wantz.

and Abby Quaknine helping the young players out, the team is improving. Missing another sophomore, Taryn Walker, to an injury has made the defensive side suffer.

Overall, the potential is there, but they may have to learn through the adversity of defeats to build on their success. Head coach Terrence Wilson said, "The expectation going into the second half of the season is to compete to our best. The remaining schedule doesn't get any easier for us. So, I just want to see our girls out there competing with the best."

Boys Soccer Improving as the Season Goes On

The Eagles started the season off in a funk. The results definitely didn't go their way. According to the coaching staff, they had a poor showing in the South Tournament and lost to some teams they should have defeated, and it box-to-box midfielder who never stops running and 100 percent effort. The Moore twins, Liam and Connor, are captains and inspirational leaders of the team. They are also the team's main goal-scoring threats. Defensively, the center-back pairing of Max Abroms and Erik Fallon has really developed into a consistent and formidable defensive partnership.

Lady Eagles Seeing Improvement

The Eagles got their season off to a rocky start. Through their first six games, they scored just four goals and were (1-5). But things changed once the chemistry of a new coaching staff and the roster got more familiar with each other. To end the month of December, they went (4-1) and won the tier two bracket of the South Torrance Tournament with a win over North Torrance.

Defensively, the Eagles have been tough seemed to affect their confidence. To change the team's direction, a closed-door meeting with the team and coaching staff. They discussed expectations of them in terms of effort, desire, and executing tactical set-up and game plan. As a result of the meeting, they have been able to turn things around and win four in a row, including two wins to start the Pioneer League.

The surprise standout has been Bryant Waites, a first-year player who has been exemplary in his efforts and desire. He is an all-action, to score on, thanks in part to Ava Adlam and Shelby Jackson. Offensively, the Eagles have struggled to put shots into the net, but first-year coach Rob Duffy is not too concerned. He believes the offense will find its rhythm if the defense continues to create turnovers.

Each team is poised to make a run at a playoff berth as they begin the second half of their respective seasons. If you get the opportunity, you can support the Eagles by attending their games. • and there were gifts under the tree with our name on it. Better yet, it was something you wished for. It brings kids joy that we listened to them and made their holidays brighter."

In addition to the gift drive, Aerospace launched its 'One Good Thing' campaign in October 2023, which featured a variety of volunteer and giving opportunities with a goal to accomplish 5,000 good things during the holiday season. Counting every hour volunteered and every dollar donated, the company said they well exceeded that goal by the New Year's Eve deadline.

"The idea behind One Good Thing is that one good deed can inspire others. One good deed adds up, and collectively, has the power to create many good things," McGinley said.

Aerospace also prioritizes STEM mentorship, volunteering, outreach and scholarship programs and free teacher workshops throughout the year through their volunteer program, Aerospace Cares.

The next major campaign the corporation will host through Aerospace Cares is the MLK Day of Service later this month, the efforts of which will focus on food insecurity. Employees, including executive leaders, from all major Aerospace locations across the country have signed up to spend that day supporting community organizations and food banks in their cities.

"By combining the diverse talent, interest, and efforts of our employees, Aerospace can touch the lives of those in need across the country," McGinley said. "Aerospace Cares serves as a reminder of how important it is to connect with and care for our neighbors. Giving back to the community and inspiring the next generation of scientists and engineers are some of the great strengths of Aerospace's culture."

For the 2023 National Day of Service, Aerospace and their families prepared more than 3,000 food boxes, planted produce at a hydroponic garden and packed well over 2,400 pounds of food, totaling at 455 hours collectively donated to these local organizations fighting food insecurity in America. Aerospace anticipates duplicating those efforts for the 2024 Day of Service in the new year.

"After the success of last year's event, we would love to come back even stronger for our second National Day of Service for MLK Day," McGinley said. "It's a beautiful thing when you give random acts of kindness to someone you don't know and you don't expect anything in return," Galindo added. "What's better than putting a big smile on someone's face and bringing joy to their lives?"

During The Aerospace Corporation's first MLK Day of Service this past year, employees and their families volunteered at the LA Food Bank, packaging over 4,099 boxes of food to be delivered to those in need.

Film Review

Following the likes of the singularly titled Oppenheimer, Napoleon, and Maestro, Ferof great, troubled men who were integral to history but lived complicated lives (often at the expense of their female partners).

Here, director Michael Mann follows up such classics as 1995's Heat and 1992's The Last of the Mohicans-along with more recent films such as 2009's Public Enemies and 2015's Blackhat-with another successful film that I enjoyed seeing in theaters. The racing scenes are gripping, and the throttling engine roars make the hairs on the back of my neck stand up.

What's more fascinating is that Michael Mann, at 80 years old, seems to be less interested in making an all-out action film, and instead more interested in turning the camera inward to investigate the interior life of a man who, after dedicating his life to his career and passion, realizes he can no longer outrun his grief and guilt nor the failings in his life that now consume him.

Based on the book Enzo Ferrari: The Man, The Cars, The Races, The Machine by Brock Yates, Troy Kennedy Martin's script focuses on a fascinating time in Ferrari's life when everything seemed to hit at once. The frankrari is the latest film of 2023 to tell the story ness of addressing infidelity and mortality is weighty, and we get a very vulnerable moment in time from this figure.

However, the script and story feel a bit too slick and straightforward. Without much subtext, the dialogue and exposition are oftentimes left to fall flat enough that it feels like we're sometimes amongst the pit crew, looking right under the popped-up hood to see all of the story's pistons and parts firing.

Yet, it's all so beautifully visualized that the film-set in 1950s Italy-is a dream to live in throughout its 2h 10m runtime. The film is also lushly photographed by Academy Award-winning Director of Photography Eric Messerschmidt (all the more impressive when you learn that he also photographed David Fincher's The Killer which was released in the same year).

For all of its technical achievements, the film's success comes down to its lead performances. Adam Driver brings depth to the lead character that conveys much more than the script even offers. And Penélope Cruz is beyond fantastic, stealing every scene she's in.

Shailene Woodley feels like the out-of-place one here, but her character brings a softness that counters Laura's fire.

For being a story of highly famous Italian people, the film has an uphill battle to climb with how believable its actors' authentic Italian ethnicities can be. And although they never fully disappear into them, they bring an emotional authenticity that does a commanding job.

With its amazing visuals and incredible period piece production, along with exhilarating racing sequences, Michael Mann's stirring character study of a tortured entrepreneur trying to outrace his demons is solidly built, even if fails to get past the surface emotionally.

Although there are a significant number of main characters, because of the author's skill, it seemed very easy to distinguish one from the other and to remember particular connections and personal quirks. Will Leitch says in an interview "You find all these different characters, and some of them interact with each other, some of them don't interact with one another, but in the end it's very vivid that no matter how disparate their lives are, no matter how different they may all be, under the same universe and there's a galactic event that reminds you, 'Oh no, we're all in this together.' "Because the author throws a seemingly random mix of people together who weather an extreme event, it's interesting to speculate on how those folks wind up - has a bond been created for them for life? Do some stay in touch and others drift away? Is the event so traumatic that it overshadows the rest of their lives? The suspense increases as the pages are turned and at a certain point, the book is just impossible to put down.
