Brunt of New Tax Laws Hits Home at Refund Time

By Rob McCarthy

The mad rush to file income taxes by midnight April 15 has begun. Expect some added stress because there are fewer tax brackets, revised calculations, and fewer deductions to claim after Congress made sweeping changes in the nation's tax code.

The additions and subtractions in the tax overhaul bill 17 months ago were too many to count. The immediate effect on workers was their take-home pay was slightly higher last year. What they didn't know -- until now -- was whether they would still receive a tax refund under the new formulas for individuals and couples. And if so, would the IRS be giving back less.

Those residents who've already filed their federal returns have the answer. For the rest who haven't prepared their federal returns yet, they will soon find out if there's money coming to pay off outstanding debts, make some home repairs, or splurge on a vacation.

Based on IRS figures released before April 1, the consequences of the congressional changes to tax law aren't proving to be as draconian as predicted. Yes, refunds are safe. The average refund has dipped under the new tax code by $20, the IRS said after calculating 92.9 million returns filed as of March 29. The average refund so far is $2,873. There are several factors that could cause a tax refund to be larger or smaller than expected, especially in the current tax season when individuals are encountering new tax brackets with higher standard deductions. These offset the past deductions -- including a cap on mortgage interest and state and local taxes paid -- which members of Congress eliminated in late 2017. Standard deductions increased to $12,000 for singles, $18,000 for heads of households and $24,000 for married couples filing a joint return.

Situations that could reduce the amount of this year's refund include: math errors or mistakes on the 1040 forms; back taxes owed to the federal or state government; and unpaid child support or student loans. If the IRS makes adjustment to a return or withholds some or all of a refund, the tax bureau will send a letter explaining where the money went. The Internal Revenue Service says it "understands that taxpayers are anxious to get details about their tax refunds," but to disregard misleading information circulating on social media.

There is no "secret way" for taxpayers to find out when their refund will be issued, though the IRS says it issues nine out of 10 tax refunds in less than 21 days. The "Where's My Refund?" tracker at the IRS website takes the guesswork out of the waiting process. People can use "Where's My Refund?" to check on the status of their tax return within 24 hours after the IRS receives an e-filed return or four weeks after a mailed paper return.

The "Where's My Refund?" tool is updated daily and usually overnight. Only call the IRS tax help hotline if a check on an individual or couple's refund indicates the taxpayer should contact the IRS. If the system doesn't show a return filed 21 days after it was electronically filed or six weeks after tax forms were mailed, a call to the IRS is warranted.

South Bay residents without Internet access can call an automated refund hotline at 800-829-1954. There is a myth that ordering a tax transcript is a "secret way" to get a refund date confirmed. The IRS says doing this will not help taxpayers find out when they will get their tax refund. While taxpayers can use a transcript to validate past income and tax filing status for mortgage, student and small business loan applications and to help with tax preparation, they should use "Where's My Refund?" to check the status of their refund.

Even though the IRS issues most refunds in less than 21 days, it's possible a refund may take longer, it says. When a return is incomplete or needs more review, it takes longer to process and the taxpayer may need to provide more information or fix any errors found by IRS auditors. "This means that in some cases, a taxpayer who filed later may receive their refund sooner than someone who filed earlier in the season," the bureau says. "Also, remember to consider the time it takes for financial institutions to post the refund to the taxpayer's account or to receive a check in the mail."

Refund Time

Another myth the IRS is trying to dispel is that the tax withholding on individual employees' and self-employed people's paychecks is correct since a refund was issued this year. It's not true that getting a refund means there's no need to adjust the withholding for the rest of 2019. The IRS encourages people to do what is called a "paycheck checkup," especially if the current tax return contained surprises or "unexpected results." Either too little or too much withholding requires action for next year, as does additional tax withheld to avoid a costly tax bill. The IRS has a withholding calculator on its website that helps taxpayers to dial in the correct amount of federal tax to be withdrawn from each check.

Given all of the changes in tax brackets and deductions that tax filers are seeing firsthand this filing season, the IRS offers some simple advice for those procrastinators who haven't prepared their federal returns yet.

File for an extension, but pay any amount they expect to owe the IRS to avoid penalties and interest.

The easiest way to file an extension is through the Free File link at IRS.gov. In a matter of minutes, anyone, regardless of income, can use this free service to electronically request an automatic tax-filing extension on Form 4868. Filing an extension avoids a late-filing penalty of up to 5 percent per month and any payments made by April 15 reduce the interest and late penalties that come with unpaid taxes to the feds.

California residents who file for a federal extension automatically receive more time to prepare and file their state returns, too. It doesn't grant an extension to pay their state taxes. Residents still need to pay any tax due to the Franchise Tax Board using a payment voucher. The form is at www.ftb.ca.gov/professionals/efile/forms.shtml for download. •

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Purrrfect Companions

Ruth

Every second of every minute of every day, a helpless animal is put to death just because no one was there to take them home. Give them a second chance for love when you adopt one of these precious kitties. You can also check out their friends on our website – www.kittenrescue.org

Clint is an adorable, sleek pocket panther with adorable white flecks along his legs. He adores other kitties more than anything in life and must have a kitty companion who will let him cuddle and even nurse on them. He loves to play and romp around with his fellow foster, Anastasia. They would make a great pair since they are already good friends and their personalities balance each other. Clint is a quiet little boy who needs a calm, relaxed home where he can thrive. He will cuddle on the bed and couch with you, gently chewing and licking your fingers, and then will go bananas for interactive play. He's not the kind of cat who will greet strangers at the door, but give him time to get to know you and you will have a sweet, precious companion. Clint is a fantastic little boy who deserves an amazing home!

Peanut Butter is a very fluffy bear cat. He is super affectionate with people and cats. He has also coexisted with small and medium-sized friendly dogs. PB is a young and playful kitty. He loves to explore and loves attention. He needs the freedom to run around and let all his kitty energy out. A great way for him to do that is to play with his sister, Big Eyes. They play together and chase each other all day long. When PB isn't chasing his sis, he loves to smother his humans with love. He loves to lay on top of people while purring super loudly. All in all, he is perfection and a great match for someone who is excited to have an energetic, playful kitty boy. He would love to be adopted with his BFF sister, Big Eyes. They bring out the best in each other.

Big Eyes is an exceptional little kitty. She always looks shocked as if she doesn't know if she can trust you. Found at a month old, she was very sick and was nursed back to health. Big Eyes will cry (a cute little yelp) if she feels cornered, but once you pick her up she purrs since she secretly enjoys being held. Earning her love is rewarding and magical -- you will fall in love with her. Big Eyes is best friends with her older brother, Peanut Butter. He is outgoing and brings out the best in her. They would love to be adopted together so they can stay together forever.

Our sweet and gentle Ruth always looks on the bright side of things and never lets life get her down. When she came to us, Ruth was nursing four newborn kittens. Once she finished nursing, she was a bit more mobile and we noticed her limping. It turns out that no one knew she had a broken leg all that time. Ruth had successful surgery and has bounced back with her same zest for life knowing that her future is bright! Ruth is playful and adores other cats, especially the boys. With her gorgeous looks and upbeat attitude, she is completely irresistible. If you are looking for a kitty to make you smile every day and remind you to stay positive through life's ups-and-downs, Ruth is your girl.

Florence ("Flo Kitty") is an extremely shy, reserved kitty who loves taking treats from your hand. She is very expressive when it is mealtime and will always let know when she's hungry (no shyness about that). Florence is very playful. She loves chasing her toys and Delphine, with whom Flo Kitty is best friends.

Florence

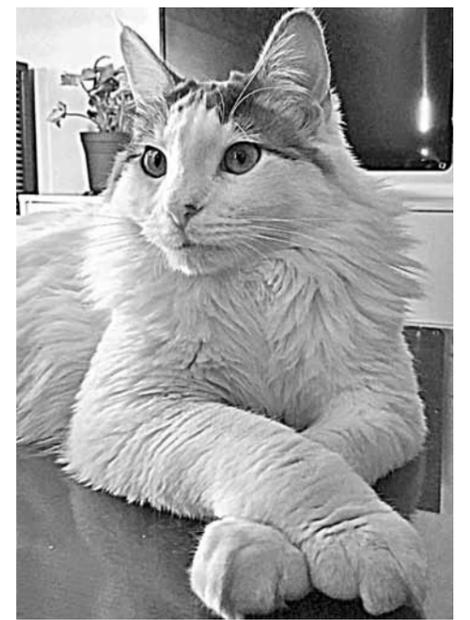

She also enjoys playing independently with her favorite ping-pong balls and catnip toys. Flo is an owner-surrender cat, so we are uncertain of the cause of her shyness, but she is a very sweet girl. Though not a lap cat, Florence enjoys being near wherever her foster mum and Delphine are. Florence would best thrive in a quiet home where her adopter is experienced with shy cats and who is willing to be very patient for the rewards of profound love this beautiful cat will surely bestow upon her forever companion.

Delphine is a sweetheart of an Abyssinian Tabby ("Abby-Tabby") mix. "Del" is an independent and expressive young lady, especially after capturing a favorite toy. She loves exploring and discovering that perfect, cozy nook where she can nap or just watch you work. While not a lap cat, Del enjoys being wherever you are. In a show of kindness, Del several times presented her toys to another kitty for whom Del's foster mum is caring. The other kitty, Florence, is extremely shy... but once she touched noses with Delphine, the two were fast friends. Both cats love playing together and chasing each other around their foster's home. A young mum herself (all of Delphine's kittens have been adopted), it's now this lovely lady's turn to greet you when you return home and become your forever friend.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Blvd. #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Ave. and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave. just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Peanut Butter

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •
