LAX Uses Social Media to Find Lost Album Owners

Usually lost items at LAX are discarded or auctioned off after 97 days in custody, but airport police couldn't bear to throw out this wedding album and, after a year of searching, took to social media asking for help. Within one day, someone in Northern California recognized the couple in the photo, Safiullah Jabar Khil & Halimi, and LAX was able to reunite the album with its owners. Agreement Reached for On-Call Consulting Services Related to Hollywood Park Project

By Cristian Vasquez

Inglewood's mayor and city council approved an amendment to Agreement No. 13-105 in order to have on-call consultant services for the city's Hollywood Park project.

The original agreement, with Atkins Global North America, Inc., was approved on Aug. 13, 2013 as a bi-party agreement with five firms, including: Bureau Veritas North America, Inc., Harris and Associates, Interwest Consulting Group, CSG Consultants, Inc. and Atkins Global North America, Inc. The multi-party agreement was established to "set forth the rates and general scope" of the work required to complete the city's biggest construction effort in years.

As part of the city's attempts to successfully complete the Hollywood Park project, on March 7, 2014 the city agreed to a deal with Atkins Global North America, Inc. to provide "specific on-call consulting services for Hollywood Park Infrastructure related to plan check, inspection and engineering," states the staff report signed by Senior Economic and Community Development Manager Christopher E. Jackson, Sr.

In February of this year the council moved forward with the approval of the City of Champions Revitalization Project [COCR]. Much like the original development project, COCRP was entered with the goal of creating a mixed-use development site. COCRP incorporated the original 238 acres of land and added the 60-acre site located just to the north.

"The 'Stadium Alternative' allows for the development of a stadium with up to approximately 80,000 fixed seats and an ancillary, multi-purpose, enclosed performance venue of up to 6,000 fixed seats," indicates the staff report. Furthermore, the stadium alternative was designed to provide 25 acres of open space, along with a retail center of 890,000 square feet, 2,500 residential units and 780,000 square feet of office space. The project will also provide a new Hollywood Park Casino building, a 300-room hotel and four acres dedicated to a civic site.

"Since the entitlement of Hollywood Park murdering of Robert Hollis is still being offered, in hopes that the heinous crime can soon be resolved.

Hollis, a 75-year old Inglewood resident and member of Faithful Central Bible Church, was discovered dead on Thursday, June 18, when Inglewood Police Officers were dispatched to his home. Upon entering his residence, IPD officers found Hollis' lifeless body had been decapitated.

The victim, who was fondly known as "Mr. Bojangles," was almost legally blind and was well known in the community. Hollis served as a leader in his church's choir, which required him to spend a large amount of time singing in church choirs.

Due to the few leads obtained by IPD detectives during the initial phase of the investigation, as well as because of the nature of the crime, the IPD and the City of Inglewood reached out to the community for any and all information that would lead to the apprehension and conviction of those responsible.

During the city council's June 30 meeting, Inglewood Mayor James T. Butts requested that a $50,000 reward be offered in an effort to entice anyone with information on the case to assist police investigators. The reward is the largest monetary compensation ever offered by the city in its effort to solve a crime.

IPD and the City of Inglewood encourage anyone with information regarding the crime to call the Inglewood Police Department at (310) 412-5246. For anyone who wishes to remain anonymous but provide information, the number to call is (888) 412-7463. •

Mayor James T. Butts requested a $50,000 reward be offered in an effort to entice anyone with information on the case to assist police investigators.

Tomorrow in 2009, the developer, Hollywood Park Land Company [Developer] has continued its due diligence to complete the necessary infrastructure planning, financing, and pre-development activities necessary to implement the Project in accordance with City approvals," states the staff report. "These activities have included ongoing coordination with City staff."

Atkins Global North America, Inc. is now being retained by the city as its on-call consultant in order to provide services for COCRP Infrastructure Phase I, if needed. City staff is scheduled to return with amended agreements for Bureau Veritas North America, Inc., Harris and Associates, Interwest Consulting Group and CSG Consultants, Inc. in order to include their agreements with COCRP.

Dana Middle School Extended Day Program Ready For Second Year

By Cristian Vasquez

For Dana Middle School Co-principals Dr. Blake Silvers and Aileen Harbeck, providing a safe learning environment for their students extends beyond regular school hours. So when a need to provide students with a safe afterschool haven was identified, an idea was born and efforts were put into place to develop the proper program. That idea grew into The Waves, Dana Extended Day Program, and is now ready to begin its second year at Dana Middle School.

“We had a program that offered afterschool services but there was a disconnect. Every time you have someone come in that is from an outside entity that might be a contracted source, you lose that connection,” Dr. Silvers said. “We felt that it would be in our best interest if we had a program that had a stronger connection [to students].”

With a strong sense of confidence in their leadership skills and with support from the district, Harbeck and Dr. Silvers moved forward. Today The Waves Dana Extended Day Program provides Dana Middle School students an afterschool program that allows them to receive more than homework support and which is led by highly-qualified and credentialed instructional aides.

“Our goal is to provide students with something that they like to do after school so that they aren’t there just doing homework,” Dr. Silvers said. “Since we have skateboarding activities, we brought in adults who have been skateboarding for a long time so that the kids are doing it the right way. We have a gardening club, we have the cooking experience, we have taken them on field trips to the Getty, to the movies and all different types of other activities.”

The program includes homework supervision, tutoring, sports activities, arts and crafts, as well as special club activities such as dance, drama and flags. Also offered are computer activities and other education-based games, all with a 1-to-20 staff to student ratio. During its first year of existence, the program registered as many as 104 students [December 2014] and averaged 96 enrolled students between March and May.

“Our goal is to have it grow. I always like to joke that we are looking at Operation 200 because we are aiming to get 200 kids,” Dr. Silvers said. “Based on most of the research that we have been able to conduct, we know that there are about 200 kids that can benefit from afterschool care so our goal is to get at around 200; that would feel like we are meeting the demand of the population that we are serving.”

During the June 11 Wiseburn School Board meeting, a report was presented to the board where the numbers of the program were highlighted, such as enrollment and cost. The program does ask for a $55 enrollment fee. There is also a $150 fee for the after school portion of the program [2:45 to 6 p.m.] and $90 for the before school part of the program [6:30 to 8 a.m.]. While it hasn’t been finalized, raising the afterschool fee to $165 is being considered but it has yet to be approved, if at all.

“Our initial push was to avoid having kids hanging out afterschool on the streets, at Costco, at McDonalds or the library and have them participate in something that is relatively affordable,” Dr. Silvers said. “This offers an affordable opportunity for parents to keep their kids on campus afterschool, in a safe environment. We are seeking to get members of our staff, that are working the afterschool program, out into the community to see where kids are hanging out so that we can identify groups of kids that might benefit from the afterschool program and who might not be in a safe environment after school.”

Affordability was a big concern moving forward with the program and continues to be a priority as it enters its second year.

“We wanted to make it accessible to everybody and I know that Dr. Johnstone [Wiseburn Superintendent] is very much into not wanting to exclude people because they can’t afford something,” Dr. Silvers said. “It was really important to us to provide something that didn’t seem like an astronomical price and that not everybody could participate in. I think as we move forward, one of the challenges and one of our goals is to reach those students who really can’t afford what we are offering now.”

Simultaneously, it is important for the program to engage students in a manner different from the regular school day but that ensures that students are learning.

“We know that students have been in school all days and they want to have some kind of enrichment activity to be able to decompress, experience other things and doing it in a structured, methodical and systematic way,” Dr. Silvers said. “We have staff members that are excited, engaged with the kids and they know what they are doing.”

However, the ability to provide an efficient and affordable afterschool program extends beyond Dana Middle School.

“We are all operating from the exact same platform, from the exact same foundation and with the exact same goals and that is when you have a good system,” Dr. Silvers said. “We are launching into the second year with a lot of optimism and a lot of excitement about where this program can actually go.

“Dr. [Tom] Johnstone, who wrote a lot on afterschool programs, was very involved with afterschool programs when he was at Lennox and it is a passion of his,” Dr. Silvers said. “We all think alike and from his leadership we are able to guide our school in the direction that we feel kids would benefit and in this case, this is one of those programs.” •

News for the ‘City of Good Neighbors’

From City Clerk Norb Huber HISTORIC TOUR OF

SPECIAL OLYMPICS

The competitors who arrived here in LA last week to compete in the Special Olympics are special. They were excited and grateful to be in America. Hawthorne had the opportunity to host 100 of these athletes. It was great to see them at a dinner sponsored by the Hawthorne Kiwanis Club. The goal of the Special Olympics movement is to provide opportunities for people to overcome and participate. It’s all about inclusion. It’s not about who the strongest or fastest is. It’s about working to be their best at whatever they attempt. We can learn a lot from these world games. Too often our youth sports competitions teach kids that a few are winners and everyone else are losers. Too many kids go away thinking they aren’t good enough. We really need to stress that participation is winning.

“SUCCESSFUL AGING”

I guess when you turn 60 you start thinking about the important questions in life like “What are you going to do in retirement?”, “Where would you prefer to live during your “golden years”? We also hear a lot of slogans like, “If you have your health you have everything”, “You are as old as you feel”, and “Enjoy it while you can”. How about, “Use it or you will lose it.”? I came across a term recently that intrigued me, “Successful Aging”. What in the heck that does that mean? Are we successful if we are healthy and live to be 80 or 90? Is the person who lives the longest the winner? Am I a loser if I die young? Some people spend their lives trying to live longer. They live life afraid to try or do anything out of their comfort zone. Yes, it’s great to be concerned with what we eat, whether we exercise and get enough rest, but God only knows when our time will be up. Why not enjoy our journey? To use a few more phrases, “Don’t forget to smell the roses along the way”. How about, “Have a cold one!”?

NATIONAL NIGHT OUT –
THIS TUESDAY, AUG. 4

Several of the homeowners associations of Hawthorne have come together to help coordinate our National Night Out event that will be held at the civic center on the evening of Tuesday, August 4. Free food is promised and presentations by our police and fire departments are on the schedule. Our civic center is located in front of city hall on 126th Street. Come out and help us say NO to crime and YES to Good Neighbors.

HOT NOW, BUT WET IS COMING

The weather is hot and humid now and it’s no doubt going to continue through August and September, but our weather people tell us that El Nino’ is on its way. Now, they tell us to start worrying about flooding, mudslides and rough commutes that are predicted this Fall and Winter. If you have not checked out your roof lately, it might be wise to see how old your roof is and replace it now. I just helped my mother-in-law get her house re-roofed. The contractor told me that the price of materials is already starting to increase. The longer you wait the higher the price will go. Since we haven’t had much rain, there are a lot of roofs that have not been really tested lately. I would highly recommend that you get your house ready for the rain to come. No, I do not own a roofing company. After you get your roof done, relax and have a cold one knowing you’ll be nice and dry all winter long.

WHAT IS YOUR FAVORITE COLD ONE?

Summer is a great time to cool off with a “cold one”. I’m conducting a survey of my readers and would like to know what your favorite cold one is? Is it lemonade, Coke, an Arnold Palmer, or something a little stronger? Please email me your vote. I will post our results next week. Email me at: norbhuber@gmail.com

Yes, your vote is confidential and will only be used for this survey. •

Hard Work Tops Game Time to Pull into First Place Tie

By Joe Snyder

Hard Work worked hard to down Game Time 50-38 to pull into a first place tie in the match-up between the top two teams in the Hawthorne Parks and Recreation Youth Basketball League Division IV (ages 12-13) action Saturday at the Betty Ainsworth Gymnasium. The game was close in the early going. The game was tied at 10 after the first quarter before Hard Work outscored Game Time 11-4 in the second quarter to grab a 21-14 halftime lead. Game Time got close for awhile but Hard Work pulled away in the closing minutes as both squads are tied for the top spot, each with 4-2 records.

Warriors Hold off Shut Em Down: The Warriors were able to hang on for a 43-40 victory over Shut Em Down to improve to 3-3 in the Hawthorne Parks and Recreation Youth Basketball League Division IV play Saturday at the Ainsworth Gym. The Warriors took a 23-17 lead at halftime, then extended it to 10 points (34-24) with 1:44 left in the third quarter. The Warriors appeared to have the game well in hand still leading by eight (41-33) with 4:29 left but Shut Em Down, which is in last place at 1-5, went on a 7-0 run to get within one point (41-40) on a three-point basket by Aaron Gomez with 44 seconds remaining.

The Warrior defense was able to hold down Shut Em Down from there and Tajay Hope scored right before the buzzer for the final score. James Burbank sparked the Warriors with a game-high 14 points, followed by Michael Herron and Hope with six points apiece.

Kevin Preston led Shut Em Down with nine points. Kamero Williams added seven points and Gomez chipped in six.

Game Time Wins in Division III: In Division III action on Saturday, Game Time won a thriller over the Generals 33-30. The game was close throughout most of the contest.

Amauri Dukes led all scorers with 14 points for Game Time. James Andrade contributed eight points and Theo Taylor had five. James Lyles sparked the Generals with 11 points. Tyler Murray put in four points. Edgar Toc, Joel Seaya and Nicholas Ford each tallied three points. Game Time is currently in second place at 3-2, while the Generals fell to 2-3.

The Warriors are in first place at 4-1 after winning their game Saturday.

Skylanders and Dream Team are Unbeaten: The Skylanders are undefeated in the Hawthorne Parks and Recreation Youth Basketball League Division I with a 6-0 record. Leading Division II is Dream Team at 5-0.

Lennox Loses First Two in Regionals: After rolling to the California District 37, Section 4 and Division 3 (Southern California) championships, the Lennox 50/70 Little League All-Star Baseball team started the Western Regional Tournament slow at 0-2 after losses to Tacoma, Washington and Honolulu, Washington last week in Nogales, Arizona. Against Tacoma on July 21, Lennox held a 6-5 lead entering the top of the sixth inning before seeking Tacoma scoring five unearned runs and Lennox fell 11-6. Against Honolulu on Thursday, Lennox was shut out 9-0. Errors plagued Lennox in its loss to the Washington state champion. Seven of Tacoma's runs were unearned. Lennox continued to play in pool play against host Nogales last Sunday and faced Oregon state champion Beaverton on Tuesday, hoping to pull off a spot in bracket play. Lennox needed to win its final two games and hope to get some help from others to move on.

Special Olympians Start: The City of Hawthorne had the privilege of hosting Nigeria and Estonia who began competition in the 2015 Los Angeles Special Olympics last Sunday, the day after their spectacular Opening Ceremonies at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

Athletes from the nations from Africa and Eastern Europe (Estonia is a former Soviet state from the Soviet Union era of 1917-91.) spent much of last week working out at Hawthorne High School and the Coast Fitness Center, located in a center west of the high school before marching in Saturday's Opening Ceremonies.

The Special Olympics, which was started by the late Eunice Kennedy Shriver in 1968 in Chicago, includes approximately 6,500 athletes from 165 nations. Shriver died in 2005. The first Games from 47 years ago included just two nations: United States and Canada.

Sports include aquatics (swimming, synchronize swimming, open water swimming and water polo), badminton, basketball, beach volleyball, bocce, bowling, cycling, equestrian, soccer, golf, gymnastics (artistic and rhythmic), half marathon, team handball, judo, kayaking, roller skating, softball, table tennis, track and field, triathlon and indoor volleyball. Sites of the events will be throughout cities of Los Angeles and Long Beach and admission is free.

Don't Let Long-Term Care Needs Spring Up On You

(BPT) - Most of us have spent the better part of the last seven months bundled up or buried in snow, but the time has come to shed the layers and ditch the itchy, bulky sweaters and start anew.

For so many of us, this means spring cleaning. The washing of, or planting of or for some, the planning of what's to come, whether it be summer vacations, family get-togethers or the eye-rolling, heart beating, palms sweating conversation about long term planning for you or for your loved ones.

We understand, it's not at the top of everyone's list - but it should be and here's why. The truth is, according to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services, at least 70 percent of people over the age of 65 will need some form of long term care services and support, and most are not prepared for what's to come.

Many people may avoid having this conversation, thinking that Medicare, Medicaid or other supplemental health insurance covers long term care - but that's a myth. Medicare generally covers skilled nursing home care after a hospital stay of at least three days, but its coverage for other long term care services is very limited. Medicaid can contribute toward long term care, but it requires recipients to use their income to pay for care and spend down most of their assets to qualify and care must be received in a state approved facility. Most forms of private health insurance do not cover custodial or personal care services.

If health insurance does not cover long term care services, it is typically only for skilled, short-term, medically necessary care. The truth is, being proactive, educating yourself on what your options are, and developing a long term care plan is a great way to ensure financial and emotional stability for you and your family.

No one understands this better than actor Rob Lowe, whose father was abruptly diagnosed with lymphoma at age 50 the same week he won the Dayton, Ohio golf and tennis championships. Additionally, when his mother later fell ill, he and his brothers took time off from work to help care for her. For most, however, caring for loved ones is not always an option due to geographical and financial constraints. Knowing that this is a growing trend, having a conversation about long term care planning is something Lowe now encourages everyone to have - sooner rather than later.

"Being a caregiver for my mother was a profound experience for me. I've learned that staying silent about long term care planning could mean getting caught off guard," says Lowe. "No one wants to believe they'll be anything other than what they are at the height of their powers, which is what makes having 'the talk' so difficult yet so important."

The first step is always the hardest but these tips from Genworth can help you have "the talk" with friends and family this spring:

Be open - Come out and tell them that you'd like to talk about these issues and ask if they would mind talking about them. Everyone thinks about these things and worries about what the future holds.

Be reflective - Some time when you're together, ask them about their past, their childhood, and their parents. Learn about them. Then move on to the future. What do they want most? How do they perceive the future? What worries them?

Discuss someone else's situation - Chances are that you, your spouse or partner or your parents know someone who is already dealing with some aspect of aging or long term care. Talking what's good or bad about their situation can be a useful launching point.

Mention an article or website - Give them a clipping, or link to information about planning ahead, family conversations, long term care costs, and move forward from there.

Ask for advice - This is a great way to get the discussion rolling. Tell them that you're starting a retirement account or preparing a will and ask for advice. Then ask how they planned ahead and if they feel fully prepared.

Grab an opening - If, for example, your mother is talking about a family member who's in a nursing home, and says, "I don't see how she can stand it," ask her what she means. What would your mother want in the same circumstance? If you miss the chance, bring it up another time. "Hey Mom, remember when you said you couldn't stand to live in a nursing home..."

Write - If you find the whole thing too daunting, write a letter or e-mail outlining your concerns and what you would like to discuss. This can be particularly helpful if you live far away and only have a weekend to have these talks. You can pave the way and get them to start thinking about it before you get together.

Get help - Maybe you have a sibling who is more at ease talking with your parents. Maybe your parents are more comfortable talking to someone else in the family about finances or health. Don't be offended. You just want someone to know what's what. •

NOTICE TO POTENTIAL BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information.

Bidder shall furnish bonds when required in the Special Provisions: One for faithful performance in the amount of the contract sum, and another for contractor's labor and materials in the amount of the contract sum. The City Council reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities in any bid, and to take bids under advisement for a period not to exceed sixty (60) calendar days from and after the date bids are opened and announced.
Attention is directed to the provisions of Sections 1777.5 and 1777.6 of the California Labor Code concerning the employment of apprentices by the Contractor or any subcontractor under them. The Contractor and/or any subcontractor shall comply with the requirements of said sections regarding employment of apprentices.

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Wowser Schnauzers

Herbie warms up slowly, then he's all yours.

We are looking for volunteers to help with our pet adoption fairs which are held every Saturday at the Petco located at 537 N. Pacific Coast Highway Redondo Beach 90277, from noon-3: 30 p.m. If you are interested in volunteering and can commit to at least one Saturday a month, please contact us at info@msfr.org. You can also visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoption fair or check out our website, www.msfr.org. If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability you can email us at info@msfr.org. Schnauzers! Bet you can't adopt just one!

If you've ever seen a cute, fluffy, tiny Ewok, then you'll be able to recognize me instantly! I'm Herbie, a two-year old male Brussels Griffon mix. I was rescued from a LA county shelter where I was brought in as a stray after being hit by a car. The good news is that I sustained only soft tissue injuries to my rear legs. I'm all healed now and ready to find my forever home. I'm not a very outgoing guy in fact I'm pretty wary of everyone until I get to know you. Then it's a totally different story. My foster family can tell you that once I warmed up, which didn't take long, I could be the poster child for lap dogs. Since I'm just a tiny bit of a boy, weighing 6.5 pounds, snuggling in your lap will be our favorite pastime. If you are interested in Herbie, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

They call me Jack and I have had a pretty rough life for a five-year old male Miniature Schnauzer. First I ended up at a LA city shelter after being hit by a car – there seems to be a lot of that going around. Unfortunately, my left eye had extensive damage and had to be removed while I was at the shelter. I wasn't looking my best so it's no surprise that there wasn't much interest in adopting me. Secondly, after I was rescued it was discovered that my injury didn't heal properly so I had to have another surgery on my eye to correct the problem. I have to admit I looked a bit rakish in my "patch" but since I'm all healed, the patch is gone and I'm on a quest to find a new home. I get along great with other dogs but I'm most affectionate with my people and at 22 pounds, I'm the perfect size to accompany you wherever you go. If you're interested in Jack, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

If you're looking for a nine-year old male purebred Miniatures Schnauzer who is sweet as can be and loves to give kisses just ask for Bosley. I got lost and was taken to a LA county shelter where they called me a stray. No one was interested in adopting me – most likely because I'm not exactly a young pup – but they missed a real gem. I love people and when my rescuers first approached me I was so happy I even kissed them through the bars on my cage. Our Vet examined me and performed some blood work. My senior screen indicates that I'm a healthy mature guy but at 25 pounds I'm a bit on the plump side. After my dental, resulting in 7 teeth being extracted, and a large, fatty lump removed from my side, I am ready to find my forever family. If you are interested in Bosley, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

Hello, my name is Thorin, which is Scandinavian for Thunder. I'm a three-year old male German Shepherd who was rescued from the San Bernardino City shelter the end of June. I currently weigh 66 pounds but when I was found and turned in to the shelter, I was very thin and filthy – a total mess. My ideal weight should be around 80 pounds so you can imagine how emaciated I was. I get along with other dogs and I'm very friendly with people – even those I've just met. I'm learning all kinds of skills – leash manners, sit and I even ride calmly in the car. I keep hearing about something called cats and another called children but since I'm not acquainted with those terms, I'm not sure how I would do with those. Thorin can be seen anytime at Yellow Brick Road Doggie Playcare in El Segundo Call 310-606-5507 or email southbaydoggie@hotmail.com for appointment. •

Jack is affectionate and needs a good home.

Bosley loves to give kisses.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal.

Happy Tails

Congratulations to Rhonda and her new Mom. Rhonda, now named Tooty, went to a previous adopter of ours. In fact, over the last 15 years their extended family members have adopted 4 of our rescues! Definitely Schnauzer folks and we love them!! Tooty now lives in Redondo Beach and is looking forward to lots of beach adventure with her "cousin" Muffy (aka Gigi) who was adopted earlier this year. We wish you much happiness. •

THE YELLOW DOG PROJECT.com

If you see a dog with a YELLOW RIBBON or something yellow on the leash, this is a dog who needs some space. Please do not approach this dog with your dog. Please maintain distance or give this dog and his/her person time to move out of your way.

There are many reasons why a dog may need space:

- HEALTH ISSUES
- IN TRAINING
- BEING REHABILITATED
- SCARED OR REACTIVE AROUND OTHER DOGS

THANK YOU!

Those of us who own these dogs appreciate your help and respect!
