Fall Traditions Timed for a Makeover

By Rob McCarthy

The future of Daylight Savings Time, which ends Sunday, rests in the hands of the state's voters who have a say next month whether California should retire the practice of turning back time every fall. The Legislature placed Proposition 7 on the Nov. 6 statewide ballot asking Californians for the authority to remain on Daylight Savings Time year-round. The ballot measure seeks to change to the longtime law that has been in effect since 1949. That's nearly 70 years of remembering in the spring to set their clocks ahead and then turning back time and adjusting to the time change in fall.

Getting permanently on Daylight Savings has the potential to lower energy usage in the state because nightfall would come later, according to the state's voter guide. And speaking of energy, residents wouldn't lose sleep -- a condition that is associated with the time change -- if California elected to say on Daylight Savings Time.

The annual time change is linked to a higher automobile accident rate and lowered productivity in the workplace too. Supporters of a never-ending Daylight Savings Time, in fact, tout medical benefits to longer days besides not commuting home at 5 p.m. in the dark. Among those: fewer heart attacks and strokes because of disrupted sleep patterns.

Dr. Sion Roy, a cardiologist, argues for the change to a permanent Daylight Savings Time. Citing medical studies from 2012, Roy and two Assembly members say that the risk of heart attacks jumps by 10 percent for the two-day period after the clocks are turned back. The danger of strokes is increased too by 20 percent during that window of time, according to the supporters of Prop. 7. "The changing of the clocks twice a year is hazardous to our health and our economy," supporters say.

The lone vocal opponent of tinkering with the longtime tradition is state Sen. Hannah-Beth Jackson, who represents Ventura County. She points out the advantages to adjusting the clocks so that schoolchildren aren't walking or being dropped off at school in the dark. For her, it's not a matter of breaking a tradition as much as public safety. "Changing our clocks twice a year may be inconvenient. But requiring days to start in the dark during winter is more than inconvenient -- it's dangerous," the legislator argues.

It would require a two-thirds vote of the Legislature to change the Daylight Savings routine should Prop. 7 be approved by the voters. People crossing the U.S.-Mexico border during the winter months would encounter a time change since Mexico would still be observing it.

And speaking of time for a change, some communities are heeding the call to designate the last Saturday in October as trick-or-treat night. Unlike Daylight Savings Time, Halloween night is not subject to state or federal control. Instead, trick-or-treating is a free-spirited tradition that could be moved to a date other than Oct. 31 with the approval of community leaders and parents.

Thousands of people have signed a petition asking President Trump to join the Saturday Halloween movement. The petition at change.org asks the federal government to officially change the date that children and their parents celebrate Halloween across the nation.

The petition was started by the Halloween & Costume Association, a nonprofit that represents the costume and Halloween industries. The costumers say that changing the date would make it a "safer, longer, stress-free celebration."

The Saturday night switch is a movement 20 years in the making, but one that has caught on in some states. The Farmers' Almanac started the campaign suggesting communities move Halloween celebrations and trick-or-treating to the last Saturday in October instead of Oct. 31, which can fall on a weeknight as it did this year.

The Halloween industry says that working parents would have the opportunity and time to share in Halloween preparations and celebrations. There would be no need to leave work early, rush home and quickly feed the kids dinner (all the while giving out candy to the children knocking on your door) before going trick-or-treating. Also, there would be no more concern about missing school-night bedtimes or sending candy-filled kids to school next day. Changing the date would also make observing the holiday safer, the group says.

More parents could accompany their children: there would be less work-related traffic. Because it's a Saturday, trick-or-treating could start a little earlier -- perhaps 5 p.m. and end at 8 p.m. Then, for the adults who have their own parties or celebrations to go to, they can do so after the trick-or-treating has ended.

It would also give Halloween back to the kids, offering them a night of entertainment. More communities or other organizations would have the opportunity to sponsor and participate in Halloween parades and parties.

As of this week, 31,900 people have signed the petition to make trick-or-treating a Saturday event. The petition is at change.org. Organizers say they are hoping to gather 35,000 signatures. •

Hawthorne Happenings

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy Named Norb Huber

LAZY - ON VACATION - RETIRED

Where was I last week? No HH. No Huber Happenings. No meanderings. No stupid stuff to laugh at. No talk about cold ones and God. Okay, admit it, a few of you missed me. The rest of you were up all night watching the Dodgers win and then lose and then lose. I promised not to say anything about the Dodgers. But, you all deserve a cold one after that roller coaster ride of a World Series. One minute the men in Blue are looking like champions and then all of a sudden the Red Stockings are knocking the LA pitchers around. I just wish the president would keep his tweets out of sports and sports guys would stop making political statements. Why ruin my fun by bringing politics in. It's just a game. I'm sure glad I'm not a stupid politician like I was in my younger days. Anyways, I got lazy, was up in North Lake Tahoe at a friend's timeshare resort last week and I'm, as you all know, retired so I didn't get around to writing this stinkin' blurb last week. I missed you guys. Hope you all are doing well.

VETERANS CELEBRATIONS
November is here and the holiday early in the month is Veterans Day. The Hawthorne Veterans Commission will be hosting their 4 th Annual Veterans Day Celebration on Saturday, November 10th at 7 p.m. at the Hawthorne Memorial Center. This year they will be recognizing all of the veterans who are employed by the City of Hawthorne and all the veterans who serve us in the Hawthorne Police Department. Each year this event has been a very popular and fun event. Music and refreshments will be part of the night's agenda. We really do owe our veterans a lot of recognition for serving us. This event is a great way to show our appreciation.

VETERANS DAY CELEBRATION
The Hawthorne VFW Post 2075 will be honoring our veterans, families, active duty military and District 4 auxiliaries by hosting a Family Freedom Festival on Sunday November 11th from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the post located at 4563 W. 131st Street in Hawthorne. The event will include Fun-Food-Raffles, Silent Auction, Activities for Kids.

Long-time civic volunteer and VFW member, Carol Steinhauer sent me an email asking me to please let everyone know that this event is open to the public and will be a great way to celebrate Veterans Day on the 11th.

ELECTION DAY - NEXT TUESDAY

If you have not mailed in your ballot yet, then get to the polling place next Tuesday and vote. Your vote matters not only for our City Council members, City Clerk and City Treasurer, but for all of the California measures. Do you like the way our state is headed? Do you like paying the 12 cent gasoline tax? Do you think we need change in our city council or have the incumbents done a good job? There are all kinds of questions to be asked and our democratic system will allow the citizens to determine what direction we will go. No matter who is elected or which measures pass or not pass, I know that we are directed to show respect to those in authority and to obey the civic laws that are put in place. We read in Romans 13:1 “ Let everyone be subject to the governing authorities, for there is no authority except that which God has established. The authorities that exist have been established by God.” God does not tell us to send pipe bombs to people we disagree with. He doesn't tell us to insult and form mobs to disrupt the lives of those who have different views than us. The greatness of America is that we are diverse, we can disagree, we are not forced to worship the same God or prescribe to a certain teaching. We believe that everyone has the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Now, go vote and then come home, crack open a cold one and forget about the fact that you voted for all the losers and every measure passed that you voted against. If I ran again, I would promise a “cold one in everyone's fridge”. I might even get 18 or 19 of you to vote for me. No I'm not running, I would rather let God use me in other ways, like telling you that you have nothing to worry about because God promises to be with you no matter what you are going through. Cold ones get stale, my column gets sorry, we're all getting older, but God's Word and his promises never fail, never get stale or sorry. Have fun, enjoy the life God has given you.

Seniors

(BPT) - Sadness and grief are normal human emotions. These feelings can often last for a short period of time. However, when these emotions last for many days or weeks, depression becomes a concern.

According to the American Psychiatric Association, depression is a common and serious medical illness that negatively affects how you feel, the way you think and how you act. Fortunately, depression is among the most treatable of mental disorders. Between 80 percent and 90 percent of people with depression eventually respond well to treatment. Almost all patients gain some relief from their symptoms.

According to the National Institute of Mental Health, an estimated 16.2 million adults in the U.S. have had at least one major depressive episode in a given year. In fact, according to a report from the National Center for Health Statistics an estimated 8.1 percent of adults age 20 and older had depression in a given 2-week period during 2013-2016. Of those affected by depression, 80 percent reported having at least some difficulty managing work, home and social activities.

In the past, stigma surrounding depression caused some people to avoid seeking help. As celebrities, musicians, and even politicians speak out about their own struggles with depression, people have felt empowered to take the steps to find the help they need.

Symptoms of Depression

It can be difficult to know when feeling down is turning into something more concerning. According to the Anxiety and Depression Association of America, a major depressive episode may include some of these symptoms:

- Persistent sad, anxious or “empty” mood
- Feelings of hopelessness
- Feelings of guilt, worthlessness or helplessness
- Restlessness, irritability
- Loss of interest or pleasure in hobbies
- Decreased energy
- Difficulty concentrating, remembering or making decisions

- Insomnia, early-morning awakening or oversleeping
- Low appetite and weight loss, or, overeating and weight gain
- Thoughts of death or suicide
- Persistent physical symptoms that do not respond to treatment (such as headaches, digestive disorders and pain for which no other cause can be diagnosed)

Three Steps that Can Help

People experiencing some or all of these symptoms can take action by following these three steps.

Step 1: Get screened by a qualified mental health expert. Depression can only be diagnosed by a health care professional who has special assessments and tools to make the appropriate diagnosis.

Step 2: Talk to your healthcare provider about a treatment plan. Depression can be managed with the right treatment options. A healthcare provider can determine the strategy that works best for you. Common treatment plans may include psychotherapy and medication.

Step 3: Follow a treatment plan closely and take medications as prescribed. Abruptly stopping medications may cause withdrawal symptoms that could worsen depression. If you are uninsured or your health insurance doesn’t cover the medications you need, there are programs that can help. For example, the Inside Rx program is a free prescription savings program that could save an average of 40 percent off select brand-name medications and 80 percent off retail price on generic medications. You can check the price of medications, and terms and restrictions like eligibility requirements, at InsideRx.com.

Depression doesn’t discriminate. It impacts all races, ages and genders. Take these first steps to help manage your symptoms. Keep in mind, if you are ever feeling suicidal thoughts, call the National Suicide Prevention Lifeline at 1-800-273-8255 immediately. •

HAWTHORNE SCHOOL DISTRICT
Notice Inviting Request for Proposals
Managed Services Contract
MFP Copiers, Printers, Scanning, and Service Center Operations
RFP NO.: R18-19-1
DUE DATE: December 11, 2018
BY TIME: 2:00 PM Sharp!
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that Hawthorne School District, acting by and through its Board of Trustees, hereinafter called the "District" will receive up to, but no later than the above-stated date and time, sealed Request for Proposals for the work generally described as RFP No. R18-19-1 Managed Services Contract. Proposals shall be received in the office of the Hawthorne School District, Purchasing Department at 13021 S. Yukon Ave., Hawthorne, California 90250, at the above stated time and place. Any proposals received after the time specified above or after any extensions shall be returned unopened.
There will be a mandatory Pre-Vendor's Conference and Job Walk on November 14, 2018, at 10:00 AM Sharp, at 13021 S. Yukon Ave, Hawthorne, CA 90250. Any Vendor bidding on the project who fails to attend the entire mandatory Pre-Vendor's conference and Job Walk will be deemed as a non-responsive vendor and will have its proposal returned unopened. Allocate extra time due to parking restrictions in the area. The Vendors shall be licensed pursuant to State of California Regulations, California Business and Professions Code, and maintain such license during the term of the contract, and mutually agreed upon renewals. No Proposal will be considered from a Vendor who, at the time the Proposals are opened, is not licensed. No Vendor shall withdraw its bid Proposal for a period of ninety (90) days after the award of the contract by the District's Board of Trustees. During this time, all Vendors shall guarantee prices quoted in their respective proposals.

The District reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, to award a contract, make multiple awards, or to waive any irregularities or informalities in any proposal or in the bidding. The Contract for the services, if awarded, will be by the action of the District's Board of Trustees to the Vendor that meets the qualifications established by the RFP documents. Please note, this RFP is for maintenance, consumable supplies, and repair services of the District's existing equipment fleet and management of the District's Service Center, not a request for lease of new equipment.
The Vendor is advised that all inquiries and clarifications about the Request for Proposal shall be submitted to the District in writing at least fourteen (14) days before the bid opening date. The District will respond at its earliest possible opportunity. Verbal communication by either party with regard to this matter is invalid. Inquiries shall be sent in writing to Aneska I. Kekula, Purchasing Director, at ikekula@hawthorne.k12.ca.us or mailed to Mrs. Kekula, at Hawthorne School District, 13021 S. Yukon Ave., Hawthorne, CA 90250. All inquiries must be received by November 27, 2018, at 4:00 PM. The District will not respond to any inquiries after this time. Vendors are solely responsible for ensuring their written inquiry is received prior to this deadline and the District is not responsible for any delays or errors in delivery. The District will issue responses to all inquiries through its website at <http://www.hawthorne.k12.ca.us/bids>. Vendors are responsible for reviewing the District's website and incorporating any and all clarifications provided therein into their Proposal.
It is each Vendor's sole responsibility to ensure its proposal is timely delivered and received at the designated location as specified above. Any proposal received at the designated location after the scheduled closing time for receipt of proposals shall be returned to the Vendor unopened.
