With Finances Flush, City Council Promotes Some Upcoming Events

By Haleemon Anderson

It was business as usual at Tuesday's Inglewood City Council meeting, as the members acted quickly to pay bills and move forward on development projects. Notable actions included purchase of seven Ford and Chevrolet trucks and vans in the amount of $242,580; acceptance of a $212,000 safety grant to the police department; consent of a grant agreement for $20 million in federal aviation funds for residential sound insulation; and an extension agreement for environmental studies on a proposed Hilton Hotel to be built at 11111 S. Prairie Ave.

The City of Inglewood's deal with Beverly Hills-based Kruger development will result in a 6-story, 120-room construction in close proximity to the emerging NFL stadium, set to open in 2020.

City Treasurer Wanda M. Brown gave a glowing financial report: "As of June 30, the City holds $198 million in total cash and investments," she said. Brown touted her extended tenure and the vastly improved economic outlook. "When I started 31 years ago, it was $38 million. This is what can happen with the Council on the same page. This city has been on the move, especially in the last 10 years. Brown also noted that the total funds include $58 million in successor agency monies, plus $12 million in public finance.

Brown announced a community financial workshop to begin in November. The multi-session event will focus on various aspects of financial literacy -- including debt elimination, IRAs, investing and reverse mortgages. Another upcoming program will give students in eighth through 11th grade classes an overview of city government that will look at various departments as well as the Council positions.

In public comments, resident Rodney Davis gave tribute to the first responders who perished in the 9/11 terrorist attacks on the Twin Towers.

Diane Sambrano, a resident and frequent critic of the Council, objected to the brevity of the meeting, which moved through numerous agenda items including a 17-item consent calendar in under 20 minutes. Sambrano chided the Council for its budget process. She requested a community budget study session and questioned the lack of a third quarter financial report.

Resident Aldean L. objected to the special meeting held on Monday, Aug. 27, and the subsequent cancellation of the regular Tuesday meeting. "This is to be a democracy," said Aldean, before making the claim that the Council had "joined forces with Sacramento." She seemed to refer to the recent approval of AB-987, which streamlines the process for the required Environmental Impact Report (EIR) on the proposed Clippers arena in Inglewood. The construction won unanimous Senate and Assembly support in August.

Mayor James T. Butts requested the appointment of Renee A. Fox to the Arts Commission. Butts reported on the recent 92nd anniversary of 1st Lutheran Church. He noted actress Della Reese was a former pastor. Butts added that a police citizens' academy will start this week. The 10-week civilian training program will give resident exposure to police procedures.

Councilmember George Dotson announced a document shredding event this Saturday. A Back to School Tennis Day will be held Saturday, Sept. 22 at Edward Vincent Park. The event will feature tennis lessons and other fitness workouts. Students will receive school supplies.

Councilmember Alex Padilla announced the winner of his annual Chili Cook-off: Resident Jim Vaughan. Padilla thanked his sponsors, including 7-11, Rotary Club, Lions Club, AT&T, City Clerk Yvonne Horton, the Inglewood Area Chamber of Commerce and Paletas Michoacán.

The Inglewood School District will host a Wellness Fair at Morningside High on Friday from 2 to 5 p.m.

This Saturday, the City will host the Hispanic Heritage Festival. The event features music, live entertainment and a classic car show, and will be held at Crozier Middle School at 11 a.m.

Councilmember Ralph Franklin reported on the block club meeting in Century Heights where Maxine Waters gave the keynote speech. Franklin's district will hold a Town Hall meeting Wednesday at 6:30 p.m. at the Hollywood Park Turf Club.

Councilmember Eloy Morales noted the City has been committed to block clubs for many years. "They have turned into very positive events," he said. He also announced Coffee with a Cop on Oct. 3 at Randy's Donuts at 5:30 p.m.

Padilla asked the meeting be adjourned in honor of long-time resident Jodean Sparling, who passed this week. He was 94.

The Inglewood City Council meets every Tuesday, unless otherwise noted, at 2 p.m. in the Council chambers on the 9th floor, Inglewood City Hall. •

OSIRIS-REx Captures First Glimpse Of Asteroid Bennu

Based on a Press Release from University of Arizona, Provided by Bob Eklund

After an almost two-year journey through space, NASA's asteroid sampling spacecraft, OSIRIS-REx, caught its first glimpse of asteroid Bennu last week and began the final approach toward its target. On Aug. 17, the spacecraft's PolyCam camera obtained the image from a distance of 1.4 million miles.

Led by the University of Arizona's Lunar and Planetary Laboratory, OSIRIS-REx is NASA's first mission to visit a near-Earth asteroid, survey the surface, collect a sample and deliver it safely back to Earth. The spacecraft has traveled approximately 1.1 billion miles since its Sept. 8, 2016 launch, and is scheduled to arrive at Bennu on Dec. 3.

Now that OSIRIS-REx is close enough to observe Bennu, the mission team will spend the next few months learning as much as possible about Bennu's size, shape, surface features and surroundings before the spacecraft arrives at the asteroid, said Dante Lauretta, OSIRIS-REx principal investigator and professor of planetary science at the UA. After spending so long planning for this moment, I can't wait to see what Bennu reveals to us.

To boost itself onto Bennu's orbital plane, OSIRIS-REx performed a slingshot maneuver, or gravity assist, around Earth 11 months ago. The craft is now zipping along at almost 32,000 mph relative to Earth, while catching up with Bennu at a little over 1,200 mph relative to the asteroid. The image was acquired using PolyCam, one of three cameras, all developed at the UA, that together comprise the OSIRIS-REx Camera Suite, OCAMS for short.

As OSIRIS-REx approaches the asteroid, the spacecraft will use its science instruments to gather information about Bennu and prepare for arrival. In addition to the OCAMS camera suite, the spacecraft's science payload includes the OTES thermal spectrometer, the OLA laser altimeter and the REXIS X-ray spectrometer.

During the mission's approach phase, OSIRIS-REx will:

- Search for dust plumes and natural satellites, and study Bennu's light and spectral properties

- Perform maneuvers, beginning on Oct. 1, slowing the spacecraft to match Bennu's speed and trajectory

craft's sampling arm in mid-October and subsequently extend and image the arm for the first time in flight

• Determine Bennu's shape in late October and begin detecting Bennu's surface features in mid-November.

After arrival at Bennu, the spacecraft will spend the first month performing flybys of Bennu's north pole, equator and south pole, at distances ranging between 11.8 and 4.4 miles from the asteroid. These maneuvers will allow for the first direct measurement of Bennu's mass, as well as close-up observations of the surface. These trajectories will also provide the mission's navigation team with experience navigating near the asteroid.

Bennu's low gravity provides a unique challenge for the mission, said Rich Burns, OSIRIS-REx project manager at NASA's Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Maryland. At roughly 0.3 mile in diameter, Bennu will be the smallest object that any spacecraft has ever orbited.

The spacecraft will extensively survey the asteroid before the mission team identifies two possible sample sites. Sample collection is scheduled for early July 2020, and the spacecraft will head back toward Earth before ejecting the Sample Return Capsule for landing in the Utah desert in

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Purrrfect Companions

Andromeda.

“Second-hand” cats make first-class companions. Give one of these kitties a chance for a lifetime of love with you!

Donna is a 1-year-old sweetheart. In March, she gave birth to two male kittens who are now also looking for a good home. Donna loves to play and look out the window. She’s vocal when you interact with her, enjoys being carried around and loves being petted. She plays with her kittens, spends quite a bit of time cleaning them, and is used to being around other cats. Donna would do well in a home with another cat, as she likes being groomed and grooming others. This cuddly, loving and easygoing girl will be a wonderful addition to your family.

Opie and Rusty are bonded twin brothers looking for a forever home. They are quite the little pair – they play together, eat together, nap together and wrestle together. And look so darn cute doing everything together. When it comes to nap time, they look like a big orange puddle. Sometimes it is hard to tell where one brother ends and the other begins. Opie is a friendly cuddle bug who will seek out love, affection and a warm, comfortable lap. Rusty is a little more reserved when he meets new people, but food and the cat wand are the way to earn his trust and affection. They both sound like purring engines when you pet them. If you want to meet Rusty and Opie to see what an awesome pair of kitties they are, their foster mom is happy to arrange a playdate.

Opie and Rusty.

Ramsley.

Dithium.

Mickey is a sweet, playful boy who loves people and other kitties. He has a deformed foot, as a result of an injury that he sustained when he was only a few days old. He has seen the vet twice for this, and it is the vet’s recommendation to leave it as it is. The leg is healthy and he uses it just fine! Mickey is very playful and loving and would love a home with one of his siblings or another cat or kitten. Won’t you give this special boy a home?

The biggest kitten out of his litter, Ramsley is a handsome little tuxedo kitty. He loves interaction with other animals and people, but he’s also good at entertaining himself or doing his own thing. He definitely likes to run around and play, but you can often find him on top of the couch cushions taking a nap. Ramsley will start purring immediately after you start petting him and is always excited to play with toys or strings. He would be good either as an only cat or in a home with other cats.

Andromeda has a wondrously soft coat and surprising orange dots and stripes. She is a very loving buddy to her kitty siblings and friends and is a very tender, gentle sweetheart who loves to be held and doted upon by her people. Andromeda is cautious and careful in exploring new spaces, but quickly gets comfortable and makes them her own. She is a natural at integrating with other cats and playing well with others. Andromeda is accustomed to being in a group of kittens of various ages and will need to be raised with a playful buddy to keep her busy. She would be a great match with Helix, Tachibana, Calamansi, Pomelo, Osmium, Vanadium, Zirconium or Rhodium.

Dilithium is an affectionate, sweet little boy who loves to sit on your lap, roll around for belly rubs and purr. A bottle baby, Dilithium loves humans more than almost anything else in the world – right up there with his sister Pixie Dust and a good lunch. He’s very good with other kitties. He loves to play and wrestle with them, especially his sister with whom he is bonded. “D” loves to toss around a toy mouse before hoarding it and warning away all the other kitties with the cutest low growl while he holds it in his mouth. Dilithium is great with kids and would adapt well to a cat-friendly dog. He and sister Pixie Dust are very bonded and must go to a home together.

Donna.

These kitties are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org.

Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Blvd. #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Avenue, and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave, just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Be kind. Save a life. Support animal rescue. •
