Get Your Kicks and Enjoy the Community

By Ron Sokol

Get Your Kicks on Route 66 is a well-known and popular song. Harley-Davidson riders are a stalwart community.

Mentioning both because we recently celebrated the one-hundred-year anniversary of Route 66. This included a group of some 150 Harley-Davidson riders who took Route 66 from Amarillo, Texas, to Bartels, the great Harley-Davidson dealership in Marina Del Rey; some of whom started in Wisconsin on the way to Amarillo, Texas, on the way to Bartels. Bottom line, we wound up with a warm, fun, and joyous gathering complete with food, song, and camaraderie.

Route 66 is part of the opening of America. It is not simply lore; it is fact. Established in 1926, the Route linked Chicago, Illinois, to Los Angeles, California, covering some 2,400 miles through 8 states. Highways connected our country, but did you know Route 66 was decommissioned in 1985? The interstate highways, the big time asphalt ribbons, some so very wide with so many lanes, took precedence.

Route 66 became a kind of novelty. Not, however, for those who love the road, not for those who traverse the small towns and the unique places that remain a part of this historic path. Certainly not for H.O.G., the Harley Owners Group. These folks join celebration of the highway with the joy of traveling by motor bike, a certain kind of motor bike.

Their ride from Amarillo, Texas, to the Bartels Harley-Davidson facility in Marina Del Rey took place from September 22 to September 28, 2026. Back in the day, Bill Bartels was a kid in Massachusetts living in the country. He went hunting, which was part of his childhood, and, as fate would have it, found his first motorbike; in fact, it was a dirt bike, Bill tells me, if I heard correctly, a 250 BSA. He became a motorcycle mechanic and, in time, migrated West, along with his brother. In 1983, Bartels Cycle Shop was opened in Culver City with about 5,000 square feet. In time, they took over a car dealership in Marina Del Rey, and today have 40,000 square feet, with a sizeable parking lot in front, a kind of concrete picnic ground for the 100-year celebration of Route 66.

Bartels is a really impressive dealership. To be sure, this is not a routine, basic bike shop. You will find a volume of Harley-Davidson bikes, some of which are vintage and so pristine, along with a clothes store, coffee bar, parts department, service division, information on happenings, and ample room for gatherings. It would be a bit much to describe it as a sacred location, so I won't go there; but I might think it to myself.

Bill is now in his 80s, has a cane to lean on from time to time, and a very noticeable twinkle and spirit in his eyes. Harley Davidson riders are genuine people, not the old image of tough guys and gals up to nothing positive, but quite the contrary.

A very good friend of mine, Don Harris, who lives in Hawthorne, California, has been for years now part of a Harley group that is a motorcycle ministry. Above Don's garage at his home is a sign that reads Harleyglen, a bit tongue-in-cheek, as he lives in Hollyglen. Don is mid 70s, a retired insurance agent, a grandfather, a City Commissioner, and a stand-up member of the community.

Also, at the Bartels gathering, I spoke with a Methodist Priest who had gone up to Alaska and was then looking forward to

South Bay Workforce Investment Board Honors Alumni and Employers at 31st Annual Awards Ceremony

A Hawthorne robotics worker and an Inglewood community health worker share how local training helped them build careers.

A summer learning to wire electrical systems led Cameron Hartley to a career building controls for welding robots. For Mychelle' Guyot, a temporary county assignment helped her rebuild her confidence and start a career as a community health worker. Both shared their stories at the South Bay Workforce Investment Board's (SBWIB) 31st Annual Alumni Awards Ceremony on Oct. 23 at the Torrance Marriott Hotel.

Among the thousands of participants served by the SBWIB, this year's honored awardees distinguished themselves through their remarkable accomplishments, resilience, and inspiring stories of success. Their achievements were celebrated before an audience of more than 500 civic leaders, educators, training partners, and employers who gathered for SBWIB's annual recognition event. Each year, SBWIB brings together these key workforce partners to honor individuals who have successfully completed training, as well as the businesses, community organizations, and top-performing training providers whose collaboration helps turn workforce development opportunities into meaningful employment.

Hartley learned the basics of electrical wiring in high school through SBWIB's Aero-Flex pre-apprenticeship program. Today, he builds and wires control boxes for welding robots at Advanced Metal Research in Hawthorne while completing his engineering education. He now mentors two students from Hawthorne High, the school he attended.

"I think opportunities like these are what change lives, so thank you for changing my life," Hartley said.

After losing her husband in 2023, Guyot moved from Houston to Inglewood with her three children. The Greater Avenues for Independence program referred her to the Inglewood One-Stop Business & Career Center, where the Transitional Subsidized Employment program helped her secure a ten-month office assistant assignment with the Los Angeles County Department of Public Social Services. She went on to earn a Community Health Worker certificate and was hired by the Los Angeles County Department of Mental Health as a Community Health Worker.

"This achievement means so much to me," Guyot said. "It represents not only employment, but also resilience, personal growth, and the determination to build a better future for my children."

City of Hawthorne Demonstrates Proactive Legal Approach with Injunction to Revitalize Hawthorne Mall

The City of Hawthorne is highlighting the proactive legal approach of the City Attorney's Office, recently demonstrated through the department's work on the long-vacant Hawthorne Mall. The office played a pivotal role in securing a permanent court injunction that required the property owners to move forward with redevelopment or demolition to revitalize the site.

Led by City Attorney David Caceres, this department is dedicated to ensuring municipal operations are legally sound, transparent and effectively serving the community. The office acts as the chief legal advisor for the City, handles civil litigation and serves as the City's Prosecutor.

"Our role is to help Hawthorne thrive by providing a strong legal foundation for the City's goals," said City Attorney David Caceres. "Whether we are working alongside the Planning Commission on new developments or representing the community in court, our objective is to ensure that local governance operates efficiently, ethically and in the best interest of the public."

Because the office represents the City as a legal entity, its daily workload is highly dynamic, allowing the team to tackle issues head-on. A significant portion of the day is spent providing proactive counsel to the Mayor, City Council and Department Heads to help implement their initiatives. The legal team's responsibilities range from researching policy directives to safeguarding millions in public tax dollars, shielding the city from liabilities, and shutting down repeat nuisance properties.

When the City Council adopts new policies, the office drafts the necessary resolutions and ordinances to transition those decisions into enforceable municipal law. In civil matters, the office acts as counsel for the City, managing legal filings, gathering evidence and appearing in court to advocate for Hawthorne's interests.

Additionally, Hawthorne belongs to a select group of municipalities: it is one of only four cities in the South Bay, (alongside Redondo Beach, Torrance, and Inglewood) and among fewer than 15 statewide, to maintain its own standalone internal prosecution office. This dedicated structure allows the legal team to handle local offenses directly, ensuring a tailored, community-focused approach to maintaining public safety.

As the municipal prosecutor, the department handles misdemeanors and code violations within City limits. This includes daily court appearances for arraignments and trials related to offenses such as petty theft, DUIs and local code infractions, playing a vital role in maintaining local safety and order.

Residents interested in learning more about the City Attorney's Office can visit the City of Hawthorne's official website.

Debating Darcy by Sayantani Dasgupta

By Kim Harris, El Segundo Middle School Library Assistant

Debating Darcy by Sayantani Dasgupta is a young adult retelling of Jane Austen's book Pride and Prejudice. The book takes place in New Jersey, not England and it revolves around a high school debate team. Leela Bose is a Desi girl who loves being on the debate team. She is an only child, so has made the debate team members her family. Leela loves debating and crushing her opponents through speech. When she meets Firoze Darcy, a debater from an elite private school, she can't stand him. Like Lizzie Bennet and Darcy, Leela often argues with Firoze and enjoys debating with him. Leela and Firoze see each other often because both are part of the same high school debate league.

The high school setting is perfect for Debating Darcy. Leela's debate coaches are Mr. and Mrs. Bennet, Caroline Bingley (Ro) is Leela's adversary and Ro's brother Charles is in love with Leela's best friend Jay. The book is very diverse: Leela is a Bengali Indian, Tomi is African American, and Jay is Asian. Firoze is also Indian. The diversity of the characters riding back to his home state of Alabama with his wife on the bike. I also spoke with Mike Heffernan, a fine journalist, member of the LA#1 Hog Group since 2009. Here is an inviting part of the Hog Group's online post:

"The Los Angeles Area #1 Chapter is a chapter of the worldwide Harley-Davidson Owners Group (H.O.G.) and is sponsored by Bartels' Harley-Davidson Our main objective is to ride and have fun! We do this through various activities such as meetings, picnics, social gatherings, and, of course, amazing rides! We want to provide enjoyable motorcycling events for Harley-Davidson owners and their families."

In 1939, John Steinbeck published the venerable "The Grapes of Wrath". At that point, Route 66 had been a highway for just 13 years. Indeed, Route 66 was a path to the West, to what was hopefully, even desperately, an opportunity to live a better life. We do not have a Dust Bowl today, at least not like then. After all, you can hop on an airplane to get to LAX, or take a train, or get seated on a bus, whatever.

But the storied road is Route 66. It may not be the yellow brick road, but I would suggest a road in its own way paved with faith.

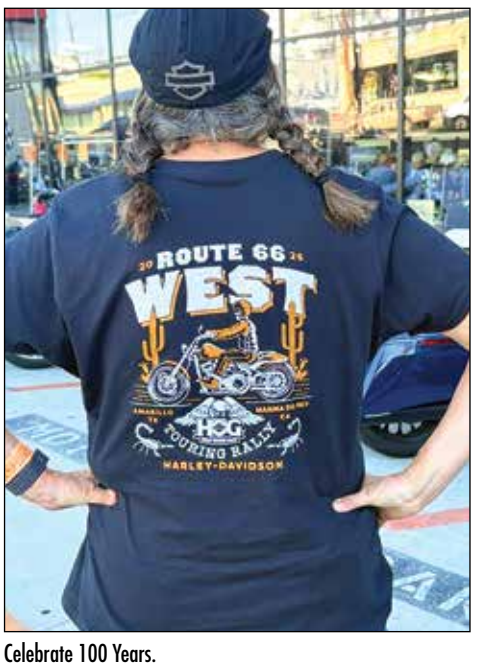

What I found at Bartel's that evening was and is a genuine confluence of those who appreciate what was, are grateful for what is, love the open road, love sharing that experience with others, and then breaking bread. Harley-Davidson was founded in 1903. Its history runs with American motor travel. Harley-Davidson and Route 66 have endured all these years.

The motorcycle riders I rode with were a family. Brothers and sisters, not exactly, but for all intents and purposes, brothers and sisters all. Vroom is replaced by embrace. Leather jackets and helmets are removed to get comfortable, sit, chat, compare notes, and talk about the next adventure.

Here, then, from the song you probably know quite well:

"If you ever plan to motor west
Travel my way,
Take the highway
that's the best,
Get your kicks on Route 66,
It winds from Chicago to LA.
More than two thousand miles all the way
Get your kicks on Route 66"

Here, a salute to this community that is so very unique. Ride on! •

Celebrate 100 Years.

Executive Director Jan Vogel highlighted the past program year's accomplishments, including the California Workforce Development Board's renewed designation of SBWIB as a High Performing Board.

"With your collective support and financial assistance as sponsors of this annual event, we are also able to sustain and fund various youth-oriented programs," Vogel said. He cited the Inglewood and Hawthorne youth centers and the Blueprint program.

The ceremony recognized Los Angeles County Supervisor Janice Hahn, who represents the Fourth District, with the Esther Williams Award of Excellence. Hahn served on SBWIB's board alongside Williams.

Business awards went to Super King Market, which partnered with the Torrance One-Stop on a recruitment event that drew more than 200 job seekers; Midway Car Rental, which worked with the Inglewood One-Stop on three hiring events; Celestron, which helped establish the Optics Manufacturing Technician apprenticeship; and Elevated Materials, which hired local candidates through the Gardena Career Fair.

Vogel acknowledged U.S. Rep. Maxine Waters (43rd Congressional District), Assemblymember Blanca Pacheco (64th Assembly District), Assemblymember Al Muratsuchi (66th Assembly District), and Assemblymember Mike Gipson (65th Assembly District). Muratsuchi was also recognized for his 12 years of public service in the California State Assembly as well as Gipson for 21 years of public service as an elected official including 12 years serving as a California State Assemblymember. He also recognized elected officials from Carson, Gardena, Hawthorne, Inglewood, Lawndale, Lomita, Redondo Beach and Torrance, and trustees from the Centinela Valley Union High School District and the Hawthorne School District.

blends well with being a debate team. Leela and her team travel around the state on weekends participating in the tournaments. When Leela first meets Darcy, she hates him because she thinks he's arrogant, bossy and uptight. They run into each other a lot during the tournaments and get to know each other better.

After competing in several tournaments, Leela decides to switch to debate so she can beat Firoze at his own game. She enjoys debating but doesn't enjoy the sexism that occurs against the girls. The judges mark down points if the girls' uniforms are a little askew but do nothing to the boys for the same problem. Leela is very vocal about women's rights and speaks up whenever she can. When she gets called out by a judge, it is Firoze who defends her. Leela begins to realize that Firoze is not a horrible person, he's just shy and she begins to fall in love with him. The other three debaters on Leela's team are Lidia, Kitty, Kate and Collin. Lidia and Kitty are freshman and professional flirts. During one of the last competitions, Lidia is banned from competition because it was rumored that she was with a member from another school. At first, everyone believed her, until Leela asked Lidia who she was with and realized that something happened to her. Understandably, the whole team was outraged and decided to call out the judges and debaters. Leela did this through a passionate speech and got applauded by everyone. Did the speech change the way the competition is judged? Do Leela and Firoze end up together? Read the book to find out!

I really enjoyed this book! Pride and Prejudice is one of my favorite books and I liked this interpretation. Some of the issues are intense, but there are also many funny scenes. Dasgupta does a good job incorporating the original book into a modern high school story. Firoze's mom is the head Dean at Pemberly College and many of the towns have the same name as the villages in England. It's a fun read and makes you root for Leela and Darcy. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 844-477-7869, or visit this internet Web site www.stoxposting.com, using the file number assigned to this case T.S.# 89099. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale." For sales conducted after January 1, 2021: NOTICE TO TENANT: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (844) 477-7869, or visit this internet website www.STOXPOSTING.com, using the file number assigned to this case 89099 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid; by remitting the funds and affidavit described in Section 2924m(c) of the Civil Code; so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Disclosure In compliance with CA civil code 2924f(F), the opening bid for the foreclosure sale is based on a valuation provided t the trustee by the lender of the lender's representative. The trustee does not determine, verify, or opine on the accuracy of this valuation and makes no representation regarding the market value of the property subject to foreclosures (the "Property"). The trustee's compliance or non-compliance with CA civil code 2924f(f) shall not be construed as an opinion, warranty, or representation regarding (i) the priority of the deed of trust being foreclosed, (ii) the condition of title to the Property, or (iii) any other matters affecting the Property, Including the value of the Property. The trustee relies solely on the trustee's sale guaranty and/or Information provided by the lender regarding the lien priority and title condition and does not Independently verify such Information. All bidders are solely responsible for conducting their own Independent due diligence regarding the loan, the Property, its value, the lien priority of the deed of trust being foreclosed, and the condition of the title to the Property. The trustee assumes no liability for the accuracy or completeness of any information provided by third parties, including the lender. The valuation used to determine the minimum opening bid applies only to the Initially scheduled sale date. Any postponement or continuation of the sale does not obligate the trustee to obtain or rely upon a new valuation, nor does It alter the trustee's limited role in the process.
