pass to Nick Kessler to make it 21-0.

In the second quarter, the Eagles defense continued to stop Mary Star both on the ground and through the air. Defensive coordinator Dan Heck said the key to stopping Mary Star was taking them out of their game plan, and he thought his defensive unit had done its job. "We get after it and we were probably a little quicker than they (Mary Star) thought we would be," said Heck.

While the defense continued to stop the Stars, the Eagles' offense scored one more touchdown before halftime. Once again El Segundo went to the air to pick up big yardage, as Bundy was 5-for-5 during the drive for 100 yards. It culminated with a 16-yard TD pass from Bundy to Palmer to make it 28-0. During the nine-play series, the Eagles committed three penalties for 40 yards. That hampered the drive but didn't stop it. The Eagles were penalized a total of 17 times for 149 yards during the game. "We have to cut down on all of the penalties if this team is going to be successful," said Eagle head coach Steve Shevlin.

In the second half, El Segundo turned the ball over on its first two possessions with a lost fumble and an interception, but the Stars were unable to convert either time. The defense, led by linebacker Brandon Jimenez, forced Mary Star out of rhythm, and the Stars had to punt after a short series of downs each time. The Eagles used another long drive that consumed just shy of six minutes of the third quarter to settle for a 39-yard field goal by Adam Hobbs. The junior place-kicker handled the kickoff duties too, and four of his seven kickoffs were for touchdowns.

In the fourth quarter and holding a comfortable 31-0 lead, the second team offensive players displayed their talents. Junior running backs Wes Curfman and Trevor Thompkins both showed some promise for the future. Thompkins showed his speed when he broke through the line and outran the defense on his way to his first varsity touchdown, a 79-yard romp, and a 38-0 lead for the Eagles. The Eagles lost their bid for a shutout with under a minute to play in the game on a 34-yard pass play.

It was a much-needed win for the Eagles after playing West Torrance and Cathedral in the first two games. This was also a game to audition some other players for the coming weeks because of some injuries to key starters on offense and defense. Most notably missing for perhaps up to four games could be Brice Savage. He was diagnosed with appendicitis and was hospitalized during the Eagles' victory.

The Eagles play host to another parochial school Friday night at 7 p.m. when St. Bernards (1-2) visits. The Vikings have their share of scoring weapons, including quarterback Chris Smith (598 yards, 7 TDs) and running back Daniel Pipkin (39 carries for 209 yards, 2 TDs).

Eagle News and Notes

The girls' volleyball team is off to a 4-2 record and travels to West Torrance in a non-league match-up today at 4:30 p.m. The Eagles won't return home until October 16 when they host South Torrance in a Pioneer League game.

The boys' water polo team has been busy playing another arduous schedule. They recently beat Crescenta Valley 15-9 behind the play of Jackson Hogoboom (five goals), Beau Blacksten (four goals), Csaba Nagy (three goals) and Max Reynolds (two goals). The Eagles are 5-3 on the year and play host to Beverly Hills on Monday for a 3:15 p.m. game. • way. With more that a few vexing foreign policy issues on his plate, including what to do with the Afghanistan war situation, the Iranian nuclear situation and the recent scrapping of a missile shield program, Mr. Obama told the folks that it was more than time that they did their share in dealing with global problems. "Those who used to chastise America for acting alone in the world cannot now stand by and wait for America to solve the world's problems alone," he said. "Now is the time for all of us to take our share of responsibility for a global response to global challenges."

So, to paraphrase, quit bitching and moaning about America, the rest of you guys, and taking our cashola to bail you out, as we provide the military muscle to not only protect your borders, but keep your folks from maiming each other in civil war-type conflicts.

We'll see how that plays out. Can't see the U.S. taking our football and heading home in the big time contest that is geopolitics.

Speaking of the Afghan situation, published reports state that the Washington brain trust are now rethinking the policy that Mr. Obama signed off on in March. They apparently are not going to be so quick to send more troops into Afghanistan and escalate the efforts over there to shape Afghan politics and rebuild its economy. When did that become the U.S.'s job, by the way?

All we wanted was for someone, anyone, to track down and kill the Osama bin Laden-led Al Qaeda bastards after they took responsibility for destroying the Twin Towers. Oh, and get rid of the Taliban regime. Do you remember when the war was launched, back in October of 2001, dubbed Operation Enduring Freedom by then-President George W. Bush?

Looked at a stat the other day stating that 843 Americans had been killed in the war. To be honest with you, I would have thought more American lives had been lost in the eight-year campaign, but overseas wars seem to receive a lot less coverage over here, what with the devastation of the current economic recession.

Saw that Manson follower, murderer Susan Atkins, 61, died recently of brain cancer before she could rot away in prison. Good. You do remember that she was the one who got the credit for the brutal murder of actress Sharon Tate and her unborn fetus in the late 60s? She apparently had been a really good prisoner, and some had clamored for her release from the slammer because she was terminally ill.

You kidding me? Release a monster, show her some compassion? Thankfully, the smart folks involved in the decision nixed letting the murderess go home.

And, finally, mentioned last week that I listened to Doug McIntyre on el radio. Not this week. Doug M. was canned by KABC... •
