Answers to Last Week's Question:

What should you do if your friends are doing drugs?

I would tell them the dangers of taking drugs and how it can ruin your life.

E.N.

You should ask them what is the smartest thing that they have ever done, and then ask them what the dumbest thing that they have ever done. Tell them that you would rather stay on the smartest curve of your life, and if you take drugs, you may not be able to remember what that was.

L.A.

Several of my friends use drugs. I have tried using some drugs but didn't like the way they made me feel, so I don't do it anymore. I still enjoy hanging out with my friends so we still go to parties together, we remain friends and enjoy going to movies together. I'm not going to let their drug use get in the way of our friendship.

J.S.

I wouldn't do anything. If my friends want to do drugs, it's their choice.

M.V.
