Chevron Makes Donation to Hawthorne
School District for STEM Education

By Cristian Vasquez

In support of Science, Technology, Engineering and Math [STEM], Chevron made a $65,000 donation to the Hawthorne School District during its recent board meeting on May 11.

“Chevron has been without a doubt our most generous sponsor over the years and tonight is just another example of their generosity,” Hawthorne School District Superintendent Dr. Helen E. Morgan said.

The neighboring refinery has been making sizeable donations to the Hawthorne School District, as well as other South Bay school district for years. Craig shared that in the past five years the donations have become more generous.

“This is becoming an annual visit for us, and we are very proud of the work that the Hawthorne School District is doing,” External Affairs Manager, Chevron El Segundo Refinery Lilly Craig said just prior to presenting the ceremonial check. “This grant tonight is just one of several ‘Energy for Learning’ we will be distributing among several South Bay schools in the weeks to come.”

The recent $65,000 donation is from Chevron’s Energy for Learning Initiative, which is targeted at sparking interest in STEM in the surrounding school communities. Craig shared that since 2010, Chevron’s direct education funding for the Hawthorne School District has summed up to almost $700,000.

“The Chevron funds are targeted at STEM activities,” Dr. Morgan said. “We have opened computer labs and STEM labs at multiple sites through Chevron’s generosity. We have purchased technology and materials to support the STEM focus at our schools.”

Due to the funds provided by Chevron the district has been capable of implementing Project Lead the Way at Bud Carson Middle School and Zela Davis School. PLTW is a comprehensive approach to STEM Education, which uses a curriculum that is activity-, project- and problem-based. PLTW allows school kids in K-12 the ability to apply what they have learned to identify problems and find unique solutions, hence allowing them to lead their learning experience.

“Chevron has been without a doubt our most generous sponsor over the years and tonight is just another example of their generosity.”

“Both schools have a STEM focus and the PLTW activities are all STEM based,” Dr. Morgan said. “Through the Chevron partnership we have been able to expand our partnerships and combined funds to train teachers, purchase curriculum, and provide computer/project development labs to support PLTW.”

Involving kids in STEM programs early in their education has been a focus of school districts across the state. Corporations like Chevron have active in partnering and funding these efforts for the past decade.

“This is their most impressionable time. This is when you want to get kids interested and excited about math and science,” Craig said. “What we have found is that for the future, jobs are going to require more math and science than ever before.”

From 2007 to 2015, Chevron has donated more than $8 million to local schools. In 2010, the refinery presented more than $1 million in Energy for Learning grants that directly funded STEM programs at 15 South Bay area schools. In order to be considered for the grant money, the district must write and submit a proposal.

“We look at the initiatives we have at a school site or for the District and write the proposal to support those activities which may range from purchasing materials, computers, curriculum, or providing staff with professional development,” Dr. Morgan said.

Hawthorne and the Chevron refinery have been neighbors for more than 100 years and refinery representatives expressed their commitment to enhancing education, and inspiring students to seek STEM-based careers.

“We have long made support for K-12 education one of our top priorities because we know that it is the key to innovation, provides the skills for our next generation of leaders, and helps ensure the sustainability of our competitive position in a global economy,” Craig said. “We are proud to support quality education in our local schools.

“We just want them [students] to get excited about it at a young age and we are seeing the fruition of that; kids are loving math and science which was not the case when I was in school,” Craig said. “I would have loved to have these opportunities when I was a kid: I would have loved for my children to have these opportunities but they just weren’t there.” •

Education on Nutrition and Data Warehousing Reviewed at Board Meeting

By Haleemon Anderson

The Wiseburn School Board reviewed innovative programs for data warehousing and nutrition education, and heard initiatives on online college and solar energy installation at its regular meeting last week. Business items were handled efficiently, with unanimous action on several personnel matters, consent items, construction and general contracts. An interdistrict attendance agreement was tabled, and a closed session preceding the meeting saw no actionable items brought forth.

Deputy Superintendent Chris Jones introduced a report from Schoolzilla, a K-12 data gathering service which “brings data into focus.” Gloria White gave the board an overview of phase one. “This is the stock car phase,” White said. “We want to know what you as a board would want.” After input from the board and district faculty, Schoolzilla will build dashboards for the “stock car.” Customized, interactive dashboards will allow cross-referencing of multiple data streams. Student data can be grouped and analyzed for trends or specific areas of interest.

“We want to build a robust model that can grow with us,” White said. When fully implemented, educators will be able to look at data by student, by class and school, and a plethora of other markers. “We can look at grades, SBAC scores and SELDT scores, as well as attendance and chronic absences. We can look at the state average versus us,” Jones said.

Jones noted the potential for Schoolzilla to benefit student matriculation even after high school. He said data on the last three senior classes has been gathered from 12th grade teachers, who report to a national clearinghouse. “On the Da Vinci side, we’re looking at, what do grades show regarding college persistence?” Jones said. “We’re thinking about data across K through 16.”

Alex Smith previewed site plans for a potential solar panel installation at the K-8 schools. Partners For Many Generations Solar (PFMG) develops productive, cost effective solar power systems, according to its website. Smith noted 22 California districts are already on board. “It’s no emissions, clean, green and a good show to the community as a good neighbor,” Smith said.

The project would produce $3 million in savings over 25 years, and provide local hiring and education programs for students, as well as community events around energy conservation and efficiency. It provides electricity only, not gas. All capital and design, implementation and maintenance would be financed by PFMG. The company mitigates its costs through a “power purchase agreement,” said Smith, essentially buying excess outputs of energy beyond district use at reduced rates.

Board member Roger Banuelos asked what is the price tag if the district wanted to bear its own costs. Smith said the projected price is approximately $5 million. He said there are a few methods to self-fund, if the district chose not to enter into the power purchase agreement. It could do a general obligation bond or it could take on debt.

Janet Lusk, director of dining services, gave a report on the district’s nutrition programs. Chartwell, the district’s food service provider, has been hosting a dietetic intern in training for the Registered Dietitian certification. Zaily Llamas shared healthy eating instruction with the students and has also conducted a study of eating habits at Cabrillo and Dana. She found the students wasted more cold salads, fruit and vegetables, while generally consuming the entrees and starchy vegetable side dishes. Lusk said students have responded well to the nutrition lessons from Llamas. Board member Neil Goldman expressed interest in having a district-wide food education program.

As there were no public comments, the board proceeded with reports. Goldman attended the Wiseburn Education Foundation, meeting with the new leaders, Debbie Felt and Wallis Chang, to discuss their strategic plan. Jones met with English teachers and staff to ready the K-5 English Language adoption materials for pilot this fall. Jones said he is getting summer school set at Anza, with Dana Teacher Kiana Brede as acting principal.

Vince Madsen, director of facilities planning, said comments come back next week from the Department of State Architects regarding phase two submissions for the gym and the pool. Madsen also reported the Sepulveda gas mail line gave way, saying it needs to be repaired first and replaced at a later time. Madsen reiterated the mandate from OSHA that requires guard rails above the fourth 4th floor for window washing.

Johnstone reported attending programs in Boston and New Hampshire, to look at College for America, an online program with connections to industry. The college has 70,000 students enrolled nationwide, with tuition costs of $5,500. Johnstone said it would be the first of its kind in California. “It could be a potential model for funding college,” Johnstone said. “It looks at kids beyond high school, who may have already dropped out.”

Johnstone also shared with the board a letter from a Cabrillo family, commending the school for its work with their autistic son. Johnstone met with the Wiseburn Faculty Association, and reported progress on compressing parent/teacher conferences into two weeks instead of six. The move must be approved in collective bargaining. He also presented a college commit list from Da Vinci Science, showing students have been accepted at all nine UCs and all 23 CSUs, as well as several private and Ivy League schools including Harvard for fall 2016.

Additionally, District 37 Little League Coach Jerry Florey will sell fireworks this year during the 4th of July season, and will alternate yearly with the Rotary Club.

The next meeting of the Wiseburn School Board will be Tuesday, May 24, at 5:00 p.m. at Cabrillo PAC. •

Hawthorne Happenings

News for the ‘City of Good Neighbors’

From City Clerk Norb Huber

COMMUNITY K-9 DINNER

The Hawthorne President’s Council in collaboration with the Hawthorne Police Department will sponsor our annual Community BBQ Dinner to raise funds for the HPD’s K-9 Unit. The date is Thursday, May 26th starting at 5 p.m. at the Memorial Center. Adults are $5 and children are $2.50. It’s great to come together as a community and help support our HPD. In attendance each year are some of the German shepherd dogs that make up our K-9 unit. The dogs have been trained to help their partners at various crime scenes. They usually show off their talents for all in attendance.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

The next open meeting of the Hawthorne Historical Society will be held on Monday, May 23 beginning at 6:30 p.m. at the Hawthorne Museum. By attending you will meet some of your neighbors, get to know what Hawthorne was like and become more involved with your community. We need you to be involved. Make a point to try to make our next meeting. Coffee and cookies are available for your nutrition.

GOOD NEIGHBORS DAY COMING THIS SUMMER

The 6th Annual Good Neighbors Day is planned for Saturday, July 16th at the civic center area. We want to make this year’s edition bigger and better. We are inviting any Hawthorne residents with talent or with some talent, to contact us about performing on that day. We are particularly looking to involve our young people in our program. If you know of a local band that is practicing in their garage and wants an opportunity to perform, this would be their chance. Please email me if you know of anyone who would like to participate. My email is: norbhuber@gmail.com

RABIES CLINIC

The City of Hawthorne will once again offer a Rabies Clinic to all residents on Saturday, June 4 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the City Hall located at 4455 W. 126th Street. The event will offer low cost rabies vaccinations, renewal of dog licenses, and low cost microchipping. These services are offered once a year by our animal control office here in the city.

ON TO MARS, BATTERIES FOR YOUR

HOME AND FEWER CAR ACCIDENTS

Every week I could give you an update on what they are up to over on Crenshaw Blvd. Elon’s two companies are changing our world, right here in Hawthorne. SpaceX plans to send its Dragon spacecraft to Mars as early as 2018, marking a major first step toward CEO Elon Musk’s goal of sending humans to the Red Planet. If successful, the endeavor would make SpaceX the first private spaceflight company to land a vehicle on another planet. Tesla announced that they are working on a battery pack for your home. Solar panels will draw the energy from the sun and feed the power into the battery wall that will power up your home. Finally, Tesla’s self driving car technology will prevent 50% of the auto accidents that are due to human error. The future is happening right here in front of us. You could say that we are becoming the good neighbors to the universe. If some of us are going to live on Mars we are going to have to get along with your neighbors. That would make Mars the Planet of Good Neighbors. Mars could be our “sister planet”. I’m sure we could roll out the red carpet to welcome any Martians to Hawthorne that would want to visit our fine city. The possibilities are unlimited. No, I am not having a cold one while writing this. No, I do not wish to send my dear wife to Mars. I do wonder what God will be thinking when we do set up camp up there. As long as we have an ice box, it will all be good. •

Need Readers?

Here Are Key Facts to Know Before you Buy Reading Glasses

(BPT) - Your 40th birthday was a while ago and since then, print looks like it’s been getting smaller. Moving printed matter farther from your eyes to bring it into focus worked for a while, but now you’re stretching your arm as far as it will reach. Since that arm’s not going to get any longer, it may be time to get some reading glasses.

A visit to an eye doctor can confirm if you’re experiencing presbyopia, a natural side-effect of growing older. As you age, the lens inside our eye loses flexibility and becomes less effective at helping you focus. Most people will develop presbyopia in their early to mid-40s; in fact, the number of people who wear corrective lenses spikes in the 40s, and 93 percent of people ages 65-75 wear corrective lenses, according to the Vis

Of course knowing you’re far from alone in your need for reading glasses might not make you feel any better about wearing them. You may be tempted to sneak into the local pharmacy, grab the first pair of readers you see and hope you can pay for them and get out of there before anyone you know sees you. But don’t be hasty in your choice of reading glasses. A recent study by Foster Grant indicates the readers you wear can have a significant impact on your productivity and quality of life.

Here are some important facts to help you choose reading glasses that are right for you:

- Reading glasses generally offer magnification between +1.00 and +2.75, in increasing increments of .25.
- You can buy readers without a prescription from a pharmacy, department store, vision center, discount store or online.
- Try to purchase the lowest level of magnification that works for you; a magnification that is too strong may cause headaches and eye strain

- Long gone are the days when all reading glasses looked like something your granny would wear. Today, brands like Foster Grant have reading glass designs in a variety of shapes, colors, sizes and styles to flatter any facial structure and appeal to virtually every preference.

- While readers help you focus on printed matter, they can actually make it difficult to see other things, such as a computer screen or the face of someone you’re talking to. In order to refocus your eyes from printed material to something else, you have to remove single-focus readers or peer over the lenses.

A study by FGX International, the owner of the Foster Grant brand, found nearly half of people 40 and older who wear single-focus reading glasses take them off 10 or more times a day. Having to remove readers is irritating, embarrassing and hinders productivity, the majority of wearers said in the survey. The arrival of reading glasses with multiple strengths is changing the way people use readers.

Foster Grant Multi-Focus reading glasses offer three different magnification zones in the lenses of a single pair of glasses. Users can keep the glasses on and still be able to focus comfortably on things farther away. It’s not necessary to remove the glasses in order to refocus from printed matter to something else, sparing users the time and aggravation of removing glasses and putting them back on. Since you remove the glasses less frequently, there’s less chance of misplacing them - so you no longer need to buy multiple pairs to leave around the house or keep replacing pairs you took off and lost.

For most people, reading glasses are an inevitable part of growing older. But they don’t have to be an irritation, or something you’re embarrassed to wear. A little shopping around can help you find readers in a style, magnification and focus options that work best for your lifestyle. Visit www.fostergrant.com to find readers that are right for you.

Lawndale Sweeps Hawthorne

Lawndale High's Tyler Bonsky swings in last week's Ocean League rivalry game against Hawthorne. The Cardinals swept the two games from the Cougars, 11-9 and 3-0.

Hawthorne base runner David Perez gets back to second base to beat out the tag of Lawndale second baseman Alex Robles in last week's Ocean League baseball game.

Article and photos by Joe Snyder

Lawndale High's baseball team's record was not so impressive. It ended the Ocean League with a 2-8 record after sweeping league rival Hawthorne last week. At Hawthorne on May 10, the Cardinals outlasted the Cougars, 11-9. In their Ocean finale last Thursday at Lawndale, the Cardinals had a fine pitching and hitting performance from Michael Zembrano in shutting out Hawthorne, 3-0. Making things better was that Lawndale ended the regular season at 11-11 and head coach Steven Washington feels the Cardinals are capable of getting an at-large spot in the CIF-Southern Section Division III playoffs, despite the fifth place finish in league play.

"We haven't been this good since 2003," Washington said of his squad's .500 mark. "I hope we can make the playoffs. The guys we played were tough and we gave them very good games. We had some very good games against teams like Santa Monica, Culver City and El Segundo. We definitely competed and know how to complete. We did pretty good. To look where we were in the past, we have improved."

Last Thursday, Zembrano went the distance with a four-hitter. He struck out six batters and walked none. With the bat, he drove in a run with a double. "He was lights out," Washington said of Zembrano. "Mike was the show." Jesus Sanchez also did well. He was two-for-two and drove in two runs with the bat. Sophomore catcher Ju Ju Diaz threw two Cougar base runners out. Centerfielder Kobe Dempsey also had a good game, according to Washington. For Hawthorne, which finished last at 1-9 and ended its season at 11-13 overall after an 8-0 start, had one hit each by Danny Perez, Brandon Brown, Daniel Sanchez and Andres Cordova. Losing pitcher Bernardo Robles pitched five and one-third innings, allowing three runs (two earned) on three hits. He struck out three batters and walked two.

On May 10, the game was tied at five until Lawndale let loose for four runs in the top of the sixth to take the lead for good. Dempsey's two-run single highlighted the inning. Julian Diaz went two-for-five with one run batted in, two runs and a stolen base. Alex Robles had two hits and scored once. Tyler Bonsky doubled in a run and made an outstanding defensive play at third base.

"It was a tight fought game," Washington said. "Both teams played well against each other."

After a very good non-league against mostly weaker programs, the Cougars found things tough going against tougher Ocean League teams, including league champion Culver City, runner-up El Segundo and third place Santa Monica. Hawthorne's only Ocean win was a few weeks ago against Beverly Hills.

"Our kids are young," Hawthorne head coach

J.C. Randolph said. "We have to learn how to win. These kids have a full year. Next year, we will compete."

Senior Brown had a good game for the Cougars. He went three-for-three with two runs batted in and two runs scored. Junior Charles Phelps was three-for-four and drove in two runs. Sanchez, a sophomore, had one hit, two RBIs and three runs.

Last Friday in the Contreras Tournament, Hawthorne lost to Rolling Hills Prep, 3-2. The Huskies are currently ranked third in the CIF-Southern Section Division VII and are Harbor League champions.

LAWNDALE, ST. MARY'S ATHLETES ADVANCE TO FINALS

Lawndale High's boys and Inglewood St. Mary's Academy's girls track and field teams qualified a few athletes to this Saturday's CIF-Southern Section Divisional Championships after getting high enough finishes in last Saturday's Divisional Prelims. In the Division II Prelims at Moorpark High, the Cardinals advanced Kiyaam Cooksey in both hurdles and Jalen Walker in the long jump. The Belles advanced Israel Conerly, Aaryn Smith and their 4x400-meter relay team in the Division IV Prelims at Carpinteria High in South Santa Barbara County.

For Lawndale, Ocean League champion Cooksey had a pair of eighth place overall finishes in the 110-meter high hurdles at 15.0 seconds and the 300 intermediate hurdles clocking 39.84. Jalen Walker, who also won the Ocean in the long jump on May 5 at Culver City High, just made the cut with a ninth place overall finish with a leap of 21 feet, 2.75 inches.

In the Division IV Prelims, Conerly had the meet's third overall best time in the 400 (57.39). She also ran on the third leg of St. Mary's 1,600-meter relay that was fourth overall in 4:04.55. Other runners included Jade Jones, Aaryn Smith and Ziquisha Reed. Smith also advanced in the 300 hurdles after a seventh place overall finish timing 47.6.

The Divisional Finals will be on Saturday at Cerritos College. The field events begin at 11 a.m. and the running events start at 1 p.m. •

Lawndale pitcher Armando Novela lets the ball go toward a Hawthorne batter.

Wowser Schnauzers

Hi, my name is Rueben. I know, that's a pretty grown up name for a 2-year old, 14 pound guy like me. My life proves how important luck and being at the right place at the right time can be. First of all, if I hadn't wandered off I never would have ended up, as a stray, at a LA county shelter. If the MSFR folks hadn't been there to check on another dog they were supposed to rescue, they wouldn't have even noticed a Schnauzer/Lhasa mix. The MSFR folks are very big fans of the Grooming Gives Hope volunteers and they stopped to admire their work. When the groomers started my grooming, I heard someone say that I looked like cousin "It" from the Addams Family so I truly was a nasty mess. If I hadn't been posing for my post makeover photos, I never would caught the eyes of the rescue people but once I did,

Ziggy

Fonzi

Aaaeeeeyyy! It's me, Fonzi but I'm not the guy who wears a leather jacket. In fact, I'm a 1.5-year old, male Wheaten/Bichon mix who is always looking for fun and a playful companion. I've had some training and was an exceptional student – you'll have to see me to believe how smart I am. I'm ready to be adopted by a South Bay family and would probably do best in a home without children. I am eager to please and love to romp around but have the potential to become over enthusiastic – especially at first introductions. I'm about 22 pounds and I love to play with dogs my size, however, I become intimidated by anything larger – you know the big boys. Fonzi can be seen at Whiskers N' Tails in Gardena. Call 310-532-0860 or email info@thedrivendog.com for an appointment or more information. •

Retriever. They were looking for someone to share their home, their hearts and their love. Gibson now lives in Del Aire with his siblings, a 4-year old MinPin and two senior cats. As of our last report, all get along famously. Wishing the whole family many happy memories. •
