Council Considers School District Unification with Centinela Valley

By Derrick Deane

School unification has been a subject that has been considered several times before with the Hawthorne area schools and while previous efforts have proven unsuccessful, Mayor Pro Tem Olivia Valentine re-introduced the idea at a recent City Council meeting due to inquiries from Hawthorne parents.

Valentine called up Dr. Allison Deegan, administrative advisor to the county committee on school district organization, to present information on what needs to happen if school unification is to be successful this time around.

"I invited her because some parents have expressed interest in unification of the Centinela Valley and Hawthorne school districts," Valentine said. "I wanted to make sure our parents in the city were informed on what steps need to be taken if they wish to go in that direction."

Dr. Deegan is the person that petitioners have to contact in order to get the unification process to take place and may be reached on the L.A. County Office of Education website's contact page at <http://www.lacoe.edu/>.

"There are several pathways for unification," Dr. Deegan said during her presentation. "All the scenarios are very complex. There is a code structure to go through some of these processes. Some of them are unique to what could come up in this region."

Whether the city actively pursues the unification or not, the decision will come down to the County Committee on School District Organization which is comprised of an 11 member elected council by school board members.

Unification would create a new K-12 district from the Hawthorne School District that could be known as the Hawthorne Unified School District. Currently, Hawthorne's K-8 schools are locally monitored while the high schools are a part of the Centinela Valley School District.

"What this means, and this is all speculative since we don't have any petitions at the moment, but we don't know if that will contain the same borders of the current Hawthorne School District, if it will morph, or if a petition would come forward that would include parts of other school districts," Dr. Deegan said.

Some of the hypothetical discussion that has taken place so far has included the potential dissolution of the Centinela Valley School District. According to Dr. Deegan, given the geography with Lennox to the north, Hawthorne in the center and Lawndale to the south, if Hawthorne unifies, there's no connection between Lennox and Lawndale for a high school district to operate.

"There is room in the education code for that to remain, but a likely scenario is that it would change the structure of the high school district at a minimum," Dr. Deegan said.

The most typical way this process moves forward is registered voters collect signatures for a petition. A voter-led petition would require signatures from 25 percent of registered voters within the city. The school board could also launch a petition that would require a majority vote of the school board members.

Dr. Deegan pointed out that the city council could spearhead school unification as well.

"This is the pathway that I think would be the most relevant for this group," Dr. Deegan said. "There is a pathway for a city as a local agency under the education code to be the petitioner."

If the City Council came up with a majority vote, they could come up to the Education Board and request unification.

The big question would be what would happen regionally if Hawthorne unified. In addition to the potential dissolution of the Centinela Valley School District, it will trigger significant and complex financial analysis.

"Any time you change government structures, you're creating a new entity that has to carry over the employment obligations, pension obligations, contracting obligations and things of that sort into a new entity," Dr. Deegan said. "It requires serious consideration."

Among the councilmembers, mayoral candidate Alex Vargas was the first to speak on the topic saying that he didn't want the City Council to pursue unification.

"I want the Hawthorne parents to pursue this because the city simply doesn't have the money and our focus right now is to turn around our city," Vargas said.

Councilman Nilo Michelin also voiced concern about the current school district structure.

"There's actually been a lot of support for this over the years and I think this is one of the most important issues we face," Michelin said. "We're here for our students and I'm concerned that the superintendent made more than the president. I'm concerned that the school board funded a house for the superintendent with a mortgage of hundreds of thousands of dollars. I'm concerned that Centinela has bond, after bond, after bond for three high schools and yet they're telling us there's going to be another bond. I think our students deserve better and yet their scores are the lowest in L.A. County."

In 2000, Michelin was involved in a Hawthorne unification effort that fell apart due to the complexities of the process.

"First of all, you need 25 percent of the registered voters. Well, 10 percent of the people vote in the election, so more than two times the number of people who will vote on Election Day is the how many signatures you need," Michelin said. "Even if you get that 25 percent, you have to go through a process that takes years and years."

Michelin said he still supports school unification saying, "I think Hawthorne School District does a great job and I totally believe in local control."

Valentine also stated that she supported the initiative of unification, but said, "I believe it has to come from the parents. The parents need to pursue it and to the extent that they do, I'm more than happy to help them in any way that I can."

Valentine added that, "The parents need to be at the forefront on this because it takes years and years to achieve." She added that the people really need to want it in order for the process to work. •

Prophet's Prey: Shedding Light on Warren Jeffs and His Polygamist Cult

By Morgan Rojas for CINEMACY

In the early 1800s, a man named Joseph Smith claimed he had been chosen by God to restore the Church of Jesus Christ on earth. For the next ten years, he was said to have received "messages" from above which eventually were translated into the Book of Mormon. Among the messages was the instruction that Mormon men were to have at least three wives to reach the celestial kingdom. Multiple wives bearing many children, known as polygamy, was seen as one of the most important components of the holy doctrine. This belief was just one the emotional devastation at the loss of his children who, still complying to FLDS rules, remain hateful towards him for breaking out of the church and want no form of a relationship. One of Warren's wives, Janetta Jessop (#63 for those keeping score at home) tells stories of underage marriage, bearing a child, and an irreparable relationship with her own mother.

It is ironic that Berg pairs beautiful sweeping aerial shots of the FLDS' mountainous compound with the full sound of a children's choir singing hymns. These moments could be taken from a fairy tale, an innocent scene of the many controversies that surrounded the Fundamentalist Church of Latter Day Saints (FLDS), an unsanctioned offshoot of the traditional Mormon Church. When the self-proclaimed "prophet" Warren Jeffs took control of the church and its people in 2002, the patriarchal abuse hit an all time high.

Prophet's Prey trails closely behind private investigator Sam Brower who has dedicated years to monitoring the religious cult, sometimes from a distance and sometimes not. In the film, Brower is confronted, chased and followed by FLDS security in an attempt to expose the group's deepest and darkest secrets. What results is a riveting documentary, an unintentional horror film that exposes what truly goes on behind the doors of one of the world's most evasive religious sects.

Animated sketches recreate the FLDS history, giving those who are less familiar with the religion and its teachings an opportunity to get caught up to speed within the film's first three minutes.

Acclaimed director Amy Berg captures the innocence and remorse of so many current ex-members and how they feel about the life they lost while brainwashed at the hands of Warren Jeffs' tyrannical mind control. Warren's brother Wallace speaks candidly to Berg, expressing born out of purity. However what looks like paradise from above is in fact a mirage; one step into the reality of this scene and into the day-to-day life of a Warren Jeffs follower reveals a world void of joy, happiness, and individuality.

Dustin Lance Black, Brian Grazer, Ron Howard, and Regina Scully are a few of the powerful forces that serve as executive producers, while music by Warren Ellis and Nick Cave round out this who's who of famous backers.

At one time being #2 on the FBI's most wanted list (next to Osama Bin Laden at #1 and Whitey Bulger at #3), Warren Jeffs was captured in 2006 after years of evasion. Today, Warren's brother Lyle rules over more than 10,000 FLDS followers on behalf of his brother, who to this day remains locked up in a Texas jailhouse. Despite his capture, however, the worry of Warren Jeffs' control over his followers has not stopped. Interviewees are concerned that blind obedience will see thousands of people follow Warren to the grave, reminiscent of a Waco or Jonestown. Even though he is behind bars, Prophet's Prey leaves us with the indication that Warren's reign is not over yet. Prophet's Prey is now playing at ArcLight Hollywood and on Showtime VOD, followed by a national rollout. •

Wiseburn Board Approves Contract With Schoolzilla Data Platform

By Cristian Vasquez

Members of the Wiseburn School Board approved a contract for $85,000 during a two-year period, with $55,000 being paid in the first year and the remaining $30,000 during the second year, with Schoolzilla. The contract will be paid for by Da Vinci and Wiseburn.

Through Schoolzilla, Wiseburn and Da Vinci will have the ability to access data about their students that has already been collected by the district, through other data systems, in ways they have not been able to do so in the past.

"Schoolzilla will connect and transform the data so the district can build reports relevant to them," District Partnership Lead Steve Taylor said. "There are lots and lots of different teachers in the district so personalizing it with just their students would take a lot of staff time without powerful tools like Schoolzilla."

With Schoolzilla, district staff will be able to upload a raw file to the Wiseburn data warehouse, and reports will be automatically personalized to show teachers' data for only the students in their class. Principals will also be able to access reports that are designed for them. This compilation of detailed information will become a useful tool for teachers, who will be able to tailor their instruction for students on a group and/or individual basis. At Wiseburn and Da Vinci the first phase of the project we will have Schoolzilla partner with the district to unify three different student information systems, nine assessments systems and one database.

In one example shown during the presentation at the most recent board meeting, principals can look at grades for each teacher, class, and student all within one dashboard. The data will be updated overnight, so every morning they are looking at up-to-date data, and can help students accordingly.

Schoolzilla will only store the compiled data and adheres to the federal guidelines set by The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) in its handling of this data. As a result, Schoolzilla will not be keeping, nor view, any student data.

"We transform the data so the district can build reports relevant to them. We don't see detailed student data in the performance of our core responsibilities," Taylor said.

As Schoolzilla is being set up, Da Vinci and Wiseburn personnel will work side-by-side with implementation managers responsible for coordinating the connection of all data and team training as well as for providing support. Through Tableau training designed specifically for schools, from beginner to advanced, Da Vinci and Wiseburn personnel will learn the best methods to use the data structuring tools for the best data visualization practices.

"In another report that was presented, district and school leaders can see how many, and which students are exhibiting warning signs that they will not graduate from high school; these include grades, attendance, and behavior data," Taylor said. "With access to this data in real time, school staff can intervene before it is too late, and help more students to graduate from high school. College readiness reports will allow Wiseburn/Da Vinci staff to use ACT data to know what percentage of students are college ready. It can be filtered by demographic, by school, by grade."

Data and Accountability Coordinator between Da Vinci and Wiseburn Gloria White looked at six different companies who offer similar services before it was decided to enter a contract with Schoolzilla. With this new data compilation system, Wiseburn and Da Vinci personnel will have the ability to track the academic career of all of their students, well into college and their careers.

"The kids are our kids from when they are five until they are 25. Even when they are gone they are still with us," White said. "That way when kids come to us we can help them along their path using the information from kids who have come before them."

The system will allow for the use of data from Naviance database to provide data from after students graduate from Da Vinci School. With post-secondary data at hand, the district can understand and look at the students' entire academic career, even after they have graduated from high school.

Wiseburn and Da Vinci will be able to analyze college applications, application results, and post-secondary schools of attendance every single year for former students. Wiseburn and Da Vinci are already receiving information on post-secondary enrollment each semester from the National Student Clearinghouse; this contract with Schoolzilla will enable the use of that data to better serve current students and/or alumni, and help support them in their quest for a college degree.

The National Student Clearinghouse is a national database that tracks college enrollment. It started as a transcript evaluation service to help colleges and universities manage transfer students, but now provides data to states and school districts about alumni enrollment. It does not reveal student grades or their majors but it does provide useful enrollment information.

The goal is to have actionable reports to district and school leaders by the spring and to have a rollout to teachers by the fall of 2016. The district can also add build reports on additional data sources, such as surveys and business information, with the same software used to build academic dashboards and reports. In time, Wiseburn/Da Vinci staff will be able to provide more and more insights to educators by building and refining their reports library.

"Teachers need deep insights into their assessment data to make it useful," Taylor said. "After partnering with Schoolzilla, teachers will be able to use their standards based assessments to help drive instruction more effectively." •

KIWANIS CLUB INSTALLATION

We congratulate Greg McClain upon his installation as the incoming president of the Hawthorne Kiwanis Club. He will be installed into his new office this Friday. Greg is head of the Planning Department for the City of Hawthorne. The Kiwanis Club has been one of the most active civic service clubs in the City of Good Neighbors for over 70 years.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

We had a good turn out for our historical society meeting held this past Monday night. Maybe it was the free food or maybe the interesting speaker that drew an overflow crowd to the Hawthorne Museum. Mr. Kenny Jue shared his lifetime of memories with us. He stated that Tennessee Williams also once lived in Hawthorne. We now can add his name to our list of celebrity Hawthorne residents. Our next meeting will be Monday night, October 24 at 6:30 p.m. The speaker and discussion will be related to "Baseball in Hawthorne". It should be interesting to hear just how many famous players have come out of our area.

WHERE DO I STAND?

When asked whom I was voting for in presidential elections in the past, I have responded by saying that I support candidates who share my same values and beliefs. I'm a conservative. I believe less government is better. I believe that the government should not be writing new laws through the judicial system. I believe abortion is wrong. I believe marriage is a sacred union between a man and a woman. I base my views firmly on the bible. I may not be politically correct. I may not win if I ran for higher office especially here in liberal CA. In America we have the freedom to stand on our beliefs. I perform my duties as a duly elected city clerk and carry out the laws of California and Hawthorne, but my personal views may not always agree with those handed down from our state. As long as they don't keep me from having a cold one, I'm good. •

Lawndale Rolls over Peninsula

By Joe Snyder
Photos by Joe Snyder

Lawndale High's football team easily improved its record to 3-0 by crushing host Peninsula High 48-0 in non-league action last Friday in Rolling Hills Estates. The Cardinals already led 20-0 at halftime, then let loose for 28 third quarter points to turn the contest into a rout.

Fourth-year starting quarterback Chris Murray continued to shine by rushing for three touchdowns and passing for another. He started Lawndale's scoring with a 32-yard run in the first quarter, then added a 67-yarder to increase the Cardinals' lead to 14-0 midway in the second period. With 1:27 left before halftime, Murray connected with receiver Bryant Perkinson for a 46-yard TD increasing Lawndale's lead to 20 points.

The Cardinals finished off the Panthers, who fell to 1-3, in the third period. Their quarter scoring began on a 15-yard touchdown run from Murray. With 5:56 remaining, defensive back Zach Cooper picked off a pass from Peninsula quarterback Daniel Schubert and returned the ball 55 yards for the score. Terrell Williams made it 41-0 when he completed a Lawndale drive on a two-yard run. Lawndale capped off the scoring on Perkinson's 51-yard interception return. From there, the fourth quarter was on a mercy rule running clock and the Cardinals cleared the bench.

After losing its season opener to South Torrance 33-21 on September 4 at home, Lawndale recorded its stunning upset over a very good Encino Crespi squad on September 11 at home and its momentum continued to build from there. The Cardinals proceeded to roll over visiting crosstown rival Leuzinger 42-14 on September 18 before its win over the Panthers, who are struggling with a rebuilding season.

"We're trying to get better," Lawndale head coach Travis Clark said. "We must work harder and that's what we did."

Clark said that the whole team is contributing and that's what is needed for the Cardinals to win their first Ocean League championship. Lawndale has not won a league title since its earlier stint of the school in 1975 when it won the Pioneer crown.

Lawndale quarterback Chris Murray eludes a Peninsula tackler as he is on his way to a touchdown in Friday's non-league football action.

"Murray can't do it on his own," Clark

Serra High running back Zach Cooper runs with the ball in Friday's non-league football game against Peninsula. The Cardinals host Torrance Friday at 7 p.m.

said. "Everybody is doing better."

For Lawndale, it is its first shutout of the season as the Cardinals limited Peninsula to just 82 total yards on offense. Murray rushed for 103 yards and three touchdowns on eight carries and completed 11 of 18 passes for 170 yards and one TD. Lawndale will seek to finish non-league at 4-1 as it hosts winless Torrance (0-4) Friday at 7 p.m. The Tartars are coming off a 41-7 loss to El Segundo last Friday at Torrance's Zamperini Field. The Cardinals begin the Ocean League at Culver City on October 9 at the same time.

MORNINGSIDE REMAINS UNBEATEN

Morningside High's football team is 4-0 after downing previously undefeated Gardena 33-14 in non-league action last Friday at Coleman Stadium in Inglewood. The Monarchs played probably their best defense of the season in holding down the Panthers' running game. Gardena, which entered the game averaging more than 300 yards rushing per contest, was held to just 68 yards on the ground. On offense, Morningside had two touchdowns apiece by Adarrus Wilson and quarterback Jerome Rouseborgh.

The Monarchs' scoring began early in the first quarter when Rouseborgh found

Wilson for a 50-yard pass play. Morningside added a defensive touchdown on a 42-yard fumble recovery. Leading 13-7 at halftime, Morningside pulled away in the second half that was started by a one-yard quarterback sneak from Rouseborgh. Rouseborgh also added another TD pass to Wilson.

Rouseborgh completed 14 of 31 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns. He was intercepted once. Rouseborgh also ran for 44 yards on seven carries. Leading 27-14 entering the final period, the Monarchs put the game out of reach on a TD reception by Patrick Jeune.

With its running game held down, Gardena scored both of its TDs on short passes from quarterback Jonathan Mudd to receiver Jamar McDaniel. Morningside has its final tune-up for the Bay League against Blair High Friday at 7 p.m. at John Muir High in Pasadena. The Monarchs begin the Bay at Peninsula High on October 9 at 3 p.m.

GOLDEN VALLEY ROUTS HAWTHORNE

Hawthorne High's football team saw its record fall to 0-4 with a 43-14 loss to Golden Valley High last Thursday at Canyon Country Canyon High. A 36-point second quarter buried the Cougars in the contest as Golden Valley built a 43-7 halftime lead.

Hawthorne's only touchdowns came in the second quarter by Jaylen Morgan on a five-yard run and in the fourth period from Justice Powers on a 12-yard run. The Cougars will visit cross town rival Leuzinger for the Mayor's Cup Friday at 7 p.m. The Olympians had an off week and are 0-4.

NORTH BLANKS INGLEWOOD

Inglewood High's football team found North Torrance way too hard to handle in a 43-0 non-league loss last Thursday at Coleman Stadium. The Sentinels mustered only 66 total offensive yards against the Saxons (4-1), who recorded their fourth consecutive win and third straight shutout. Inglewood (1-3) closes non-league at home against Notre Dame High from Riverside Friday at 7 p.m. before hosting Redondo (4-1) in its Bay League opener on October 9 at the same time. •

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF:
HERBERT V. BIGELOW
CASE NO. BP166893

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of HERBERT V. BIGELOW. A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by HERBERT L. BIGELOW in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that HERBERT L. BIGELOW be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent. THE PETITION requests the decedent's WILL and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The WILL and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court. THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act with limited authority. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority. A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 10/23/15 at 8:30AM in Dept. 79 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012 IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney. IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code. Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law. YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250.
