Jane Burrell Leads Push to Have Woman's Club Clubhouse Declared a National Landmark

By Duane Plank

Jane Burrell is leading the push to have the El Segundo Woman's Club [ESWC] building, located across the street from El Segundo High School [ESHS] at 541 Standard Street, declared a National Landmark.

A quick history of the building: it was initially located on the acreage that is currently Richmond Street School. Circa 1912. The building was initially utilized as a one-room schoolhouse. In the 1930s, the schoolhouse was moved to the land that currently houses ESHS. When the building was deemed no longer necessary at the High School, the Board put the building up for sale.

Savvy operatives of the Woman's Club bid on the building, securing it for a tad bit over $64 in 1936, and moved it across the street. Renowned architect John C. Austin became part of the renovation project. Austin is credited with being a huge part of the design of the Griffith Observatory, the LA City Hall, and the Shrine Auditorium.

Burrell and the other members of the Club have circled April 21 on their calendars; that is the date that the State of California's Office of Historic Preservation will release the news regarding whether the clubhouse makes the landmark designation cut. "I will be the most ecstatic person," she said, "if we get this designation."

Burrell, who moved to El Segundo in 2008, spent her youth in New York. She lived in the suburbs of Gotham City, eventually nabbing a bachelor's degree in art history and fine arts from Skidmore College and a master's degree in Chinese Art from Brooklyn College.

She said that one of the best things about growing up in the shadows of New York City was her proximity to the museums and art houses in NYC. Burrell said her engineer father was interested in the arts, allowing her to page through his art book library.

When her family moved to California, settling in Manhattan Beach, she quickly scored a position with the Los Angeles County Museum of Art [LACMA] in 1978. Burrell drew a paycheck from LACMA for forty years until her retirement in 2018. "An amazing experience," she said. "I could not be more grateful for my career there."

When approached for an interview and Herald story, Burrell, also a member of the El Segundo Arts and Cultural Advisory Committee, wanted the story to focus on something other than her, but rather the history of the El Segundo Woman's Club and their historical building quest. "I do not like to be the center of attention," she said.

So here is a bit more of the history of the El Segundo Woman's Club.

From Burrell: "The El Segundo Woman's Club was founded in 1922 to promote civic, educational, and philanthropic interest in the community," she emailed. "The seventeen founding members, many of whom were wives of oil company workers who came from the Midwest to settle the newly formed town, recognized the necessity of fostering civic engagement. The Club remains the only organization of its kind in the City of El Segundo." Burrell continued.

"Immediately upon forming the Club, members became involved in advocating for social improvements from dealing with the offensive odors from the Hyperion Plant to asking the school to open the Plunge swimming facility in the summer to allow people to bathe," she wrote.

"In the 1920s, Club members were instrumental in supporting the community's campaign for a high school for El Segundo; before this time," she said, "high school students attended Inglewood High School. [ESHS] opened on December 13, 1927. Members [also] worked to improve children's welfare, and upon establishing a Child Welfare committee, they invited the County nurse for public schools to address one of their meetings. They supported the Children's Hospital's formation and continued assisting the organization through charitable donations. In recognition of their community service, the Chamber of Commerce invited the Woman's Club to become an honorary member in 1924.

"In 1935, the Club's executive board voted to use the student loan fund for emergency loans 'with small amounts to students of El Segundo seeking higher education.' They established a committee to select the students and handle the disbursement of funds, not to exceed $50 per student. In 2022, the El Segundo Woman's Club provided college scholarships totaling $24,000 to El Segundo High School and Arena High School seniors.

"In the 1940s, Woman's Club members supported the war effort by working in the Red Cross canteen, sponsoring dances for soldiers, wrapping bandages, hosting blood banks in the clubhouse, donating blood, knitting, and raising money for war bonds and the Red Cross.

Sandy Jacobs Remembered

1960 Sandy Garrard Senior Portrait with all her accomplishments.

Sandy and I have been friends for over 31 years. She inspired me, she advised me, she supported me and she cared about me. I admired her so much and would always say to her "I want to be just like you Sandy"! There is nothing more that I could have asked for of a friend. Here we are meeting Margaret Thatcher many moons ago. I will never forget you Sandy! I will miss you and our talks so very much.

– Lily Craig

I was first introduced to Sandy by our daughters, Jenny and Lori, high school friends who thought we'd have a lot in common. Soon after, Sandy invited me to join the Chamber. When I asked her why, she responded that it would be a way to get a lot of positive things done for the community. Sandy understood that the way to accomplish lofty goals was to inspire various groups of people to share a vision and work together. I will be forever grateful for her mentorship and her efforts to make a better community for everyone.

– Nancy Cobb

I first met Sandy when I moved to the South Bay from Indiana. I was in my 20's and just getting involved in the community. Sandy took me under her wing and became an incredible mentor. She was involved in every organization in town and made sure I not only felt welcomed but also, she made me feel like I belonged. She has been on the El Segundo Chamber Board for many, many years and just this past November, Barbie (Mattel), Sandy Jacobs and Julia Abreu.

was calling me with input and guidance on the election. Her knowledge and history of El Segundo was so vast and so appreciated. Sandy was my husband Dave and my first landlord and we were honored to have Sandy & Karl at our Disneyland wedding in 1998. Over the years, Sandy became more like a mother to me, especially after my own mother passed in 2018. Sandy would come to the Chamber to chat or just give me a call to check in always offering cherished advice and guidance. I will miss those chats more than words can say. One memory that I will treasure is taking my oldest daughter to have lunch with Sandy several months ago. Sandy told stories of her mother's travel adventures and I watched in awe as she shared herself with the next generation. I think we all had tears in our eyes that day. Sandy truly gave of herself to each and every person who were blessed to know her and I am so grateful for her. She has left an indelible mark on our community and on our hearts.

– Marsha Hansen

A memory I have with Sandy Jacobs is a very special present she gave me almost 17 or 18 years ago. When I was a Rotary Youth Exchange Student sponsored by the El Segundo Rotary Club we went on a bus trip, just the women in the club, and after the trip, Sandy gave me a purple blanket with my name embroidery in gold that she had made especially for me. It has always been so special to me because it was made by Sandy, and I take very good care of it while I use it every winter here at home in Brazil and it always reminds me of Sandy. She was always very kind and sweet to me. I loved El Segundo so much. My condolences to Karl, Jenny, other family members, friends and Rotarians.

– Iane Carolina Loureiro,
Rotary Exchange Student 2004/2005

Sandy Jacobs is the reason I became involved with CASE some 25+ years ago. I went to her seeking advice on getting appointed to the Recreation & Parks Commission at which time Sandy felt my time and energy would be better spent serving a greater purpose and wanted me to get involved volunteering my time with CASE helping El Segundo families instead of serving on a city commission. CASE was not even an organization I had considered getting involved with or even knew much about at the time, but Sandy being Sandy, she quickly introduced me to Father Alexei Smith and Rev. Steve Shields who both oversaw the organization at the time. I quickly found myself volunteering my Saturdays at the pantry helping our families with their shopping followed soon by my parents volunteering as well. Now more than 25 years later, my mom and I are still volunteers with CASE assisting "El Segundo Families in Need" and if it were not for Sandy making that introduction, I probably would not have found CASE as an organization to get involved with at the time. All these years later, it has come full circle as I am currently sitting on the Recreation & Parks Commission. Just like Sandy told me, "Hold off on that one for now, CASE needs you more as a volunteer." There are many others out there who Sandy influenced to get involved in one way or another in this community. I am thankful for Sandy's friendship and guidance.

Sandy and Karl

– Julie Stolnack

Sandy Jacobs was our family friend. We are honored to have been friends for many years, in many capacities. Sandy used to own a wonderful gift shop. Barb would often take our daughter, Sarah, on walks past the window of the shop to look at the pretty things. When Sandy learned Sarah's name, she started saving the "Sarah, Plain and Tall" promotional materials for Sarah. Sarah loved them all and to this day, we have several posters framed. Sandy was so kind. Sandy got to know our family - she knew that Barb loved nativities.

Sandy and Hailey Hansen.

Sandy had an especially sweet little nativity that Barb eyed every time she went in the shop. That Christmas, Sandy gifted Barb that first of many sweet remembrances of that first Christmas. Sandy was thoughtful. When Mike decided to get involved in the School Board, Sandy was the first person Mike turned to. She guided him, gave him wise counsel and encouraged him. Sandy was wise. Even after so many years, we still turned to Sandy to share her love of El Segundo with us. We were blessed to have Sandy Jacobs in our lives. We send our love to Karl and all her family. They shared her with all of us - We are grateful.

– Mike and Barbara Briney

The Good Nurse: A Dark Doctor Thriller and Unnerving True Story

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

A killer nurse's trajectory from doctor's scrubs to handcuffs is depicted in the eerie crime drama The Good Nurse (now streaming on Netflix). Based on the true story of Charlie Cullen's 16-year crime spree – which included the murder of at least 29 hospital patients and up to 400 additional victims – the film details the horrific events that led to his eventual arrest. Directed by Tobias Lindholm, whose previous credits include screenwriter on 2021's Oscar-winning film Another Round and writing the teleplay for one of Netflix's most binge-able crime series, Mindhunter.

Academy Award-winning actor Eddie Redmayne transforms himself into the 40-year-old sociopath Charlie Cullen. Having bounced around from hospital to hospital throughout his questionable tenure as an ICU nurse, he lands on the floor of a hospital in Central New Jersey in 2003. Here, he meets fellow ICU nurse Amy Loughren (Academy Award-winner Jessica Chastain), a compassionate woman and single mother of two whose own struggle with her health is becoming life-threatening. Amy immediately takes to Charlie's sweet disposition and kind nature, and his goodwill extends beyond that of just a colleague. Their relationship quickly goes from co-workers to friends, staying purely platonic but genuinely invested. However, Amy soon discovers that Charlie's projection of being a good guy isn't necessarily true for everyone he meets.

While initially optimistic about Charlie's addition to the hospital staff, his presence is overshadowed by the mysterious death of two patients. These unnatural circumstances lead the hospital's senior staff to involve state police and an external investigation into their causes of death is quickly launched. The two detectives assigned to the case, Danny Baldwin

Eagles Return to Action

By Gregg McMullin

With the calendar turning the page and with it a new year, the Eagles are back in action after the winter break silenced their playing. The girls' water polo, basketball, and soccer teams were all back in action, looking for a positive start to their Pioneer League schedules.

Girl's Water Polo Dominates

The Eagles have played a demanding non-league schedule where they've played five nationally ranked teams, including the top three. The Eagles have vaulted themselves into the national spotlight, ranked 21st based on their play against other nationally ranked power programs. The Eagles aren't a physically imposing team, but what they are is athletic and have tremendous speed and endurance. They also have the coaching and guidance and a strong supportive fan base that clearly has the makings of a successful program.

With the start of a new year is also the start of the Pioneer League schedule for the Eagles. Their two-week layoff showed no signs of rust because of the winter break between games. They came away with a pair of blowout wins against South Torrance 23-3 and West Torrance 21-3. Then they capped the week off with an impressive win over Mira Costa.

El Segundo quickly got out to a 4-0 lead just three minutes into the game against South Torrance. The Eagles were faster and easily advanced their possessions against a Spartan team that lagged behind. Alyssa Mullane scored back-to-back goals to make it 6-0, and Emmie Ramirez closed out the first period with two goals to give the Eagles an 8-0 lead.

Sally Gonzalez's tenacious defense helped lead to El Segundo's 23-3 win over South Torrance.

"Members of the [ESWC] had begun gathering historical memorabilia in late 1957," Burrell said. "Items for the collection were first stored in members' garages. When [their] garages started to fill, the School District donated a small room in the high school administration building for the Woman's Club to display the historical items collected from residents. When the collection outgrew this space, a basement room in City Hall was made available in 1958, and the collection was organized for public viewing by a historical committee." The gathered material now resides in the El Segundo Library History Room and is managed by volunteer members of the History Committee.

"The [ESWC] acquisition and judicious renovation of the original schoolhouse reflects the organization's civic commitment to the community. By repurposing this historic building for their clubhouse, the Woman's Club has retained an important representation of the settling and development of Southern California. The 1940 Mariposa entrance preserves a small piece of residential architecture by John C. Austin. Since its renovation, the clubhouse has been used for member and community needs, including serving as a site to administer the polio vaccine in the late 1950s, as a gathering place for local merchants to sell their wares, and as a community rental space for personal and civic events. The revenue derived from Clubhouse rentals has enabled the Club to fulfill one of its fundamental goals: donating Burrell may not want to speak about herself, but some other folks were glad to. Mary Lenihan said, "I met Jane when I first joined the LACMA staff in 1991, but we were in different departments and didn't have much interaction," Lenihan emailed. "I really got to know her in 1998 when I was hired to work in one of the departments she directed, Education and Public Programs.

"She is unique because she combines both the artistic—creative and visionary—and the practical—methodical, calm, and goal-oriented.

"Because of [those] traits, she was an extremely effective senior decision-maker at the museum. She was recognized as a supportive manager and mentor, overseeing dozens of employees and a multi-million-dollar budget. She is also a kind and generous friend."

Shares Carol Cervantes of the ESWC: "I have known Jane for about five years. Her quiet demeanor belies her fascinating life story. Her appreciation of art and history positioned her perfectly to compile and tell the story of the clubhouse; a task she lovingly completed with thoroughness and grace."

So, El Segundo residents, how about we rally in the second week of March to eat some spaghetti, socialize a bit, and support the El Segundo Woman's Club? •

In the second period, the Eagles played with finesse and precision in their passing game. There were five assists out of the seven goals scored. Stephanie Rodriguez and Mackenzie Jaeger each had two assists apiece as the Eagles took a 15-1 lead into halftime.

In the third period, Sally Gonzales showed her athleticism with a 180-degree turnaround backhand goal, and Stephanie Rodriguez

Their 1-0 overtime loss to Torrance dropped them to 2-1 in the Pioneer League play. It was the first goal they had surrendered in five consecutive games and just the eighth all season long.

The Eagles couldn't find their rhythm offensively, especially in the passing lanes. In the second half, a questionable no-call may have cost El Segundo a goal attempt. Lauren Nguyen was on the attack and pressuring the

They took on the Torrance Tartars in a marquee matchup between the two top teams in the Pioneer League. The game ended in a 0-0 tie after two overtime periods were played scoreless.

The Tartars started the game by pressuring the Eagles' offensive attack, which resulted in few chances on goal. Midway through the first half, El Segundo's best chance at scoring came from Liam Moore, who blasted it at 3:30 p.m. to host North Torrance.

Basketball Team Bows to Torrance

The Eagles have struggled this season with poor shooting. They'll need to improve in the competitive Pioneer League to earn a spot in the playoffs. Against Torrance, the Eagles continued their weak shooting percentage and fell to the Tartars 69-45.

scored twice and assisted on two other goals to make it 21-1. In the final period, Ava Albertson and Valeria Mora capped the Eagle's scoring for a 23-3 win.

Against West Torrance, the Eagle's counterattack was just as strong as it was against South Torrance. The result was another big first period and an 8-0 lead. Emmie Ramirez scored five goals, Stephanie Rodriguez chipped in two, and Alyssa Mullane scored twice. West Torrance had no answer for El Segundo's counterattack or how to score against Eagle goalie Kendall Donahue.

The Eagles opened up a 14-0 second-period lead. They scored on virtually every trip down after setting up a play. Evelyn Hale scored twice, the second one on an assist from Ramirez. Ramirez and Rodriguez teamed up to score the final two points by feeding each other, including Rodriguez taking a pass from Ramirez and tapping it in over Warrior goalie Allison Tsai for a 14-0 lead.

With the score 17-0 in the third period West Torrance scored two exclusion goals to close out the period. The Eagles worked on their passing in the fourth period, which resulted in a low-scoring period, and the Eagles won easily.

El Segundo scored a 7-5 non-league win over Mira Costa. It was a good win over a solid program after two lopsided Pioneer League wins. The Eagles return home on Tuesday at 3:30 against Beverly Hills.

Tartars made five first-quarter three-pointers and trailed by nine points at halftime. Though they made some defensive adjustments in the second half, it wasn't enough to overcome or slow down Torrance's hot-shooting offense. Keith Puckett led the team with 11 points, three rebounds, and two steals, while Holden Coulter had eight points and four rebounds, and Liam Endo contributed with five points and four assists.

Head coach David March was upbeat about his team's play, even in defeat. "The team played hard, but we need to be more consistent on both ends of the floor and hit open shots. To the kids' credit, they continue to work hard and have a great attitude which will help as we continue to navigate through a tough league season."

The Eagles continued their Pioneer League schedule this week with games against South Torrance on Monday and West Torrance on the road last night and host Da Vinci on Friday at 7 p.m. and North Torrance next Wednesday.

The Eagles suffered a lopsided Pioneer League loss to the Torrance Tartars. The Eagles never threatened but didn't fold and played with intensity throughout. Nicole Ungaro had a game-high 17 points and led the game with 20 rebounds. Senior point guard Aili Watanabe had four points and three assists for the Eagles.

The Eagles dropped to 9-7 on the season and 1-2 in the Pioneer League. They'll host Da Vinci Friday at 5:30 p.m., Vistamar on Monday, and North Torrance next Wednesday; both games are slated for 5:30 p.m. tipoffs. • (Nnamdi Asomugha) and Tim Braun (Noah Emmerich), are immediately suspicious of the hospital's vow of secrecy and believe they are hiding behind loopholes in the law. When a light is cast on Charlie's sketchy employment history and possible involvement, the detectives reach out to Amy to see if they can crack the case, with her help, from the inside. Reluctant to believe that her friend is a murderer, seeds of doubt have already been planted and Amy takes it upon herself to risk their relationship, his future, and her life, to see that justice is served.

The Good Nurse does an especially good job of capturing the essence of feeling unsettled. Masterfully crafted to match the nature of the crimes, the film is deliberately paced so that the audience feels like they're uncovering Charlie's inconsistencies at the same time as Amy. Running just over 2 hours long, the film successfully builds suspense until the pressure cooker of intensity explodes at the very end, evidenced by Eddie Redmayne's remarkably powerful performance. His characterization of a serial killer is subtle yet undeniably haunting. In her role as an empathetic woman who finds herself struggling with mounting internal conflict, Jessica Chastain is the film's emotional vehicle. Her battle is internal yet we all clearly feel her plight, which is further explored through the film's soundtrack by ambient musician and composer, Biosphere.

Produced by Darren Aronofsky's production company Protozoa Pictures and FilmNation Entertainment, The Good Nurse is a thrilling watch that feels too surreal to be true. However, for as entertaining as it is to see onscreen, the lingering takeaway that not all service workers in uniform have good intentions is a dark realization that I haven't been able to stop thinking about. •

Sandy Jacobs and John Van Hammersveld at ESHS Hall of Fame induction.

Thank you Sandy for setting an example for me to try to emulate. You were the adult leader for the El Segundo Job's Daughters when I first met you. How fortunate for me that we developed a special bond during my teenage years. You patiently taught me how to plan and prepare to serve in a leadership role. I would often visit you for advice when you owned the Hallmark store on Main Street. When I graduated from college, you kindly gifted me a beautiful journal book that I still treasure. Years later and throughout the early part of my career, you encouraged me to join the Rotary Club. As I became more involved, you continued to share pearls of wisdom from

It was an honor for me and for my family to know Sandy Jacobs.

We met many years ago when Sandy was helping her father, Frank Gerard, in their family business, South Bay Welding Supply located on the corner of Main and Franklin. Our company and theirs participated in a national group of independent welding supply dealers. Her business skills, pleasant personality and sincere interest in others was exemplary to everyone who knew her. Those skills carried her in her local community activities, and ultimately to her tenure as our El Segundo mayor. Sandy will be missed. She leaves the mark of a wise, caring neighbor, community member Sandy's greatest joy was her family. Karl was the love of her life and she was rarely without him at her side – we shared a special date, their anniversary is my birthday. Her daughter Jenny and Grandson Jacob were the lights of her life! Nothing made her happier than sharing their accomplishments and adventures. She and Karl lived for Jacob coming home from Boston!

I am grateful for Sandy and her friendship. I am a better person and El Segundo is a better city because of our dear friend and Mayor Sandra Jacobs. I know we'll meet again and our reunion will be joyous!

– Suzanne Fuentes

Sandra "Sandy" Jacobs was a true trailblazer and a dedicated public servant. Sandy was the first female president of the El Segundo Chamber of Commerce in 1989 and became the first woman to serve as Mayor of the City of El Segundo from 1996-1998. She continued as Mayor Pro Tem until 2004. An extremely active member of the community, Sandy served on over a dozen civic and charitable organizations; a founding member of Downtown El Segundo, Inc., the first president of the Library Board of Trustees, a local business owner, and named Switzer Center's South Bay Woman of the Year in 1999.

your time serving as our city's mayor. From your recommendation, I was asked to join the community advisory panel for the Chevron refinery. It was my honor to then recommend you to serve on the same committee once your elected city leadership term was complete. These last few years we shared many lunches and visits together on your beautiful patio. We would talk and laugh and share our thoughts on a myriad of topics. Your love for me was so much appreciated when you asked if you could host a bridal shower for me in 2021. I tried to politely decline but you were persistent. Thank you for a most wonderful afternoon filled with family, friends, food and fun! I cherish the beautiful quilt you made as a wedding gift. Sandy Jacobs was my mentor and friend. My life has been touched, enriched and blessed because of her. Her positive attitude and willingness to lead with a moral compass will always remain with me. Sandy's imprint on my life will forever be appreciated and remembered.

and friend. For this, we as a family will be grateful for her life of service.

– Barbara Vidmar

Many many years ago, Sandy and Julia Abreu-Mason invited me on a humanitarian trip to visit Guaymas, Mexico, the Sister City of El Segundo. So, off I went along with many other volunteers including Mike Gordon, current Mayor of the City of El Segundo. Supporting the city and the children of Guaymas was very important to Sandy. Through Sandy's decades of association with Castaway Kids Mexico, ES Rotary Club still supports a student every year with a scholarship to attend high school. I had the great honor of seeing Sandy, Class of 1960, inducted in 2017, into the ESHS Hall of Fame.

– Shiela Fowler

Sandy Jacobs exemplified the best of El Segundo. She was unceasingly kind, fun, funny, a committed public servant, and generous with her experience and advice.

Sandy was a fellow El Segundo High School alumna, El Segundo Rotarian and El Segundo Mayor and I am grateful for our time spent discussing life, people and El Segundo. In addition to being a great friend, public servant, local business owner, and talented quilter, Sandy was committed to El Segundo's Sister City Guaymas, Mexico. She began a project which taught Guaymas women quilting to help support themselves. She not only taught them to quilt, she collected fabric from her El Segundo and quilting friends delivered it to Guaymas.

Sandy was a thoughtful friend, she used to invite me to lunch for girl talk and called me when I moved to Idaho to check out how I was adapting to snow.

Sandy was a member of El Segundo Rotary for many years. More importantly she was a vital member of our community all during her life. Whether it was operating her two local businesses on Main Street to her leadership on El Segundo Chamber of Commerce to her serving as the first female mayor of our town. One of the many things I will remember Sandy for was her love and support for El Segundo's Sister City Guaymas Mexico. For many years Sandy and her husband Karl would journey down to Guaymas for their annual Marci Gras and to serve the local schools. Sandy helped with the donation of used fire equipment from El Segundo to Guaymas and supporting a vocational school with new sewing machines and woodshop equipment. El Segundo Rotary continues to provide annual scholarships to students in Guaymas because of Sandy's influence. She will be greatly missed by all the people whose lives she touched.

Always generous with her time, Sandy was a source of expertise and encouragement to the next generation. "She was a dear friend and mentor to me and many others in our wonderful city," said Mayor Boyles. "She will be missed tremendously."

"El Segundo lost a leader, servant, and friend with Sandy's passing," added Councilmember Carol Pirsztuk. "Thankfully, her legacy will live on as she helped set the path forward for our city and future leaders." As a leader, Sandy was kind, warm, thoughtful, and made decisions with respect and integrity. "She had a bright and ready smile, coupled with a depth of knowledge and love for the City of El Segundo" remembers Councilmember Lance Giroux. "She was a true pioneer for women, and I am a better person for having known her." The City is grateful and fortunate to have benefitted from Sandy's guidance and service.
