City Council Begins Looking into Residential Parking Near PCH

By Liz Spear

Parking in El Segundo received most of the attention at Tuesday’s regularly scheduled El Segundo City Council meeting, with city finances also coming into play. Community Development Director Michael Allen was pleased with the 1,351 responses to a parking survey available from September 25 through December 1 last year, noting that city surveys on the Downtown Specific Plan and Smoky Hollow areas have typically received maybe 100 or so responses. On his first day on the job, New Chief Financial Officer Paul Chung was also introduced to the City Council, as was new Fire Chief George Avery, who was also in his first day of employment for the city. Mayor Pro Tem Chris Pimentel pulled an item on the Consent Calendar about the Library Park pathway and improvements being funded by a grant that requires ADA compliance because he wanted to see a schematic and hear more about where rails would be placed in Library Park. Public Works Director Elias Sassoon assured him that the rails council previously thought not necessary and perhaps unsightly or that would impede or interfere with activities had been removed from the project. The ones that remained were necessary and more in the park’s perimeter. Sassoon also presented the city’s need for a new combo jet/vacuum, costing $667,878, since the 20-year-old one the city currently has isn’t operational. On Tuesday night, the council voted 3-2 to pursue a five-year lease-to-purchase option, with Mayor Drew Boyles saying the city needed to get a lower interest rate than the 5.38 percent Sassoon had been quoted just that day. The other two options presented to the council included purchasing the equipment or using a 10-year lease-to-purchase option. The 10-year lease-to-own interest quoted was also 5.38 percent, and Sassoon explained that interest rates had increased since he’d received the 10-year financing terms. With the five-year lease-to-purchase, Sassoon said the city would incur about $61,000 in interest costs, while he noted that the 10-year option would result in about $117,000 in financing costs. During his presentation, Allen noted that the city currently has two parking zones where permits are required and that via the new survey, it was apparent that residents in Zone N had serious concerns about parking in their neighborhood. Fifty-nine percent of survey respondents (you did not have to be a city resident to respond to the survey) in Zone N indicated that they want a parking permit program in their area and that weekend parking is much more of a problem than weekday parking. Zone N is located near Pacific Coast Highway and heads into the residential areas adjacent to Grand Avenue and Mariposa. Allen told the council that people who work in the area park in those areas, as well as individuals who are visiting businesses (particularly those that don’t have parking), people staying at nearby hotels, people who are Ubering to Los Angeles International Airport, leave their cars for the duration of their air travel, Uber drivers, and a nearby car rental agency. Council member Ryan Baldino brought up “the fact that Pacific Commons” has been approved to be built on PCH and that any future parking changes in that area need to take that development into account. The survey also revealed that 337 respondents have three or more vehicles, 632 respondents have two vehicles, 167 have one, and one respondent did not have a vehicle. In human resources agenda items, Director Rebecca Redyk told the council that two new vacancies within the city had been switched to at-will positions and that one of those jobs - recreation superintendent - was being changed to recreation manager. Other actions involved and approved in the agenda item included “Updated Classification Specifications and Examination Plans for Building Safety Manager and Recreation Manager, and Resolution to Establish the Basic Salary Range for the Recreation Manager.”

ESUSD Celebrates Opening of New Richmond Street School Classroom Building

The El Segundo Unified School District celebrated the opening of the new Richmond Street School Classroom Building with a ribbon cutting and dedication ceremony on Friday, January 5.

The ceremony marked the culmination of a years-long effort to ensure adequate school facilities for students in the district.

Richmond Street School Principal Carie Oulashian opened the ceremony with a welcome to all guests and introduction of special dignitaries, including elected officials from El Segundo; Assemblyman Al Muratsuchi; Edward Feves, representing Senator Ben Allen; Jessalyn Waldron acting on behalf of Supervisor Holly J. Mitchell; Scott Houston, President of the West Basin Municipal Water District; City Officials, including Mayor Drew Boyles, Mayor Pro Tem Chris Pimental; Councilmembers Carol Pirsztuk and Ryan Baldino; and members of the Board of Education.

Former board member Nancy Cobb delivered remarks on Measure ES, sharing the history and legacy of the initiative. Then, Board President Meredith Beachly led the building dedication, highlighting the importance of the new construction. Superintendent Dr. Melissa Moore brought the proceedings to a close with concluding remarks, encapsulating the significance and vision associated with the effort.

The new addition, which contains six classrooms, presently will serve the school’s second and fifth-grade students. Additionally, the project stands as a prime example of sustainable construction that supports energy efficiency, water conservation, and native plantings, including an El Segundo Blue Butterfly habitat. Student ambassadors were on hand to highlight special building features which included a custom stair panel design, two garage doors in classrooms to promote indoor-outdoor learning, and the most noteworthy Blue Butterfly mosaic is the center showpiece. Parent Chia-Ming Ro, along with other dedicated parent volunteers, spearheaded an effort to re-establish transformational learning gardens for students, as well.

During the 2015-16 school year, ESUSD began the long-range facility master planning process with PBK Architects with the goals of assessing and prioritizing current and future facility needs, and bringing technology infrastructure to current standards. In November 2018, El Segundo voters approved the passage of Measure ES with 63.2% support. This $92 million bond is the fourth school bond measure passed by the community and the largest, with a comprehensive reach that impacted every campus in ESUSD. The bond targeted three new construction projects, with this classroom building being one of them.

Dr. Moore thanked the community for their support of the district’s facilities and building efforts.

“This beautiful new building stands as a testament to the tireless efforts and unwavering commitment of everyone involved,” said Dr. Moore. “Together we have built more than just a building—we have built a promise for the future in a vibrant learning environment where our students will thrive and feel seen, heard, supported, and loved for many decades to come.”

Assemblyman Al Muratsuchi presents Board Clerk Tracey Miller-Zarneke with a certificate to honor the occasion.

The showpiece of the building is the custom Blue Butterfly mosaic.

Mayor Drew Boyles presents a proclamation to ESUSD Board President Meredith Beachly.

Principal Carie Oulashian, Assistant Principal Sean Brandlin and RSS Student Ambassadors

RSS Playground received a full refresh and a Blue Butterfly habitat was established.

Remembering "The Hook"

I met John back in the early '80's by going into a store on Main Street and, by chance, meeting his ex-wife Rose. I had just finished a game of golf and she told me her husband was an avid golfer and that I could go down to J.B.'s Fine Arts (current site of Sausal) and introduce myself to him and Jay Blank. That was the beginning of a twenty plus year good friendship that included golf, family and many good times. We would go on Boy Scout camping trips and take our daughters Rachel and Alyson with us to all sorts of outdoor venues. The girls crowd increased which meant sleep-overs for a dozen or so and John and I would be the cooks and serve the gang pancakes for breakfast. This all created family traditions and so the camping trips kept coming and coming. El Segundo became ground zero for all sorts of activities as we raised our kids. John also became involved in the community by serving on the Planning Commission for several years. I personally look back on all the good times this wonderful town of ours gave to us and gives all that are entrenched here in these current times. Even though he relocated to Florida back in 2005, and we lost contact during this time period, I will always remember my grand times with the "Hook". He will be sorely missed.

Alden Ehrenreich Crafts a Tight, Tense Debut in Short Film, Shadow Brother Sunday

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

Any time a well-known actor steps out from behind the lens and into the role of a filmmaker, it comes with an additional layer of pressure. After starring in a string of big-screen hits, including Netflix’s Fair Play, Disney’s Solo: A Star Wars Story, Elizabeth Banks’ Cocaine Bear, and the Coen

Shadow Brother Sunday, courtesy of Vanishing Angle. Brothers’ Hail, Caesar!, Alden Ehrenreich proves that his expansion into directing has come by way of learning the tricks of the trade from some of the industry’s best. The experience of working with top-tier directors effortlessly translates onto the screen in his short debut film, Shadow Brother Sunday. It’s easy to recognize that the guy’s got talent, and hopefully, this is just the beginning of a very storied and fruitful filmmaking career.

In Shadow Brother Sunday, which Ehrenreich wrote and directed, he transforms himself into Cole, an aspiring musician whose jealousy toward his famous brother seeps into dangerous territory. When Jacob (Nick Robinson), an actor on the rise, returns home to attend the premiere of his latest film with his family, the general mood in the household is celebratory and bright. That is, until Cole enters and brings with him a dark cloud of negativity and gloom. Frustrated with his financial situation and seeing an easy opportunity for quick cash, Cole entertains the idea of selling his brother’s personal information to a gossip site. The decision weighs on Cole; he loves his brother, yet feels entitled to the same amount of success that Jacob is currently basking in. Time is ticking, and Cole has to make a choice: stand by his brother, or sell him out.

Ehrenreich uses the film’s 15-minute run-time to craft a concise drama. The pacing hits the right level of tension and ends on a cliffhanger that will hopefully be addressed in a feature-length adaptation (one can dream!). As a filmmaker, Ehrenreich wanted to create as much authenticity for the actors as possible, which is why his performance is immersed in method acting—gaining over 20 pounds to fully embody Cole’s uncomfortable physical state. He also set up dinner parties so that the faux family could get acquainted off-camera and organically develop their relationships.

For transparency’s sake, Ehrenreich didn’t claim to take this project on alone. Shadow Brother Sunday is equipped with backing and support that most directors in the short film space only dream of, including Francis Ford Coppola serving as Executive Producer and Elizabeth Banks moderating the film premiere’s Q&A. Hollywood legends aside, the film still holds its own.

As Ehrenreich continues down the directorial path with confidence and passion, I believe he could follow a similar trajectory to Bradley Cooper (Maestro, A Star is Born). Shadow Brother Sunday premiered at the 2023 Tribeca Film Festival and won a Special Jury Award for Excellence in Filmmaking from the Salute Your Shorts Film Festival. •

Eagles Have a Mixed Week

Story and Photos by Gregg McMullin

The El Segundo Eagles had a mixed week, dropping close games while winning other nail-bitters. The boys’ basketball team won two down-to-the-wire games and dropped another one at the end. The girls’ basketball team broke a four-game losing streak. The

Eagles Win Two Thrillers

According to head coach Scott Martin, the Eagles played one of their worst games of the season against the South Torrance Saxons. The Eagles shot poorly and allowed the Spartans to capitalize on numerous turnovers. The result was a 58-54 loss that the Eagles let slip through their hands.

Warriors took a five-point halftime lead, but the Eagles responded in the third period by outscoring their opponents by six points to take a one-point lead. Senior guard Shane Biscaya led the Eagles’ third-quarter scoring attack with nine points.

The fourth quarter was a frantic, up-tempo game that played into El Segundo’s game plan but produced few scoring chances. With the game winding down, Eli Coles gave the Eagles a 47-43 lead. With 1:25 remaining in the game, the Warriors’ Jacob Reyes connected on a three-point shot to narrow El Segundo’s lead to 47-46. In the final 80 seconds, the Eagles missed several golden opportunities to increase their lead with free throws, but they came up empty each time.

The Warriors had the ball for the final possession of the game and used a timeout with 11 seconds remaining. The Eagles had a foul to give before the Warriors were in the bonus, so they fouled with 7.8 seconds remaining. The Warriors inbounded the ball but couldn’t get a decent look, and their shot attempt for the win was off the mark. The Eagles escaped with the 47-46 win.

Facing the top team in the Pioneer League proved to be a nail-biter to the end. The Da Vinci Wolves came into the game as the third-ranked team in the CIF-SS 3AA poll and the top team in the Pioneer League. The game started inauspiciously for the Eagles when they were assessed with a technical foul for a pregame violation. The officials try their best, but seemingly, they fail to allow the teams to determine the outcome.

Da Vinci used their two-point gift to start the game to their advantage and took a 6-0 lead. El Segundo didn’t allow the game to get out of hand, and Gavin McKinnon got free for a layup to cut the Eagles’ deficit to 11-9. The Wolves scored the last five points of the first quarter to take a seven-point lead. The Wolves worked the ball inside constantly and converted back-to-back layups for a 24-dished off to Gavin McKinnon for a 45-41 lead. With just under three minutes to play, Ortiz connected on a three-point attempt that gave the Wolves a 46-45 lead.

Shane Biscaya gave the Eagles the lead with 11 seconds left with an 18-foot jumper. The Wolves, who missed their final five

The Eagles are 10-6 overall after beginning the season 3-5. They are atop the Pioneer League standings with a 4-0 record and the Eagles’ scoring with an easy shot. The Eagles played another tight defensive game, allowing the Warriors to get off very few shot attempts. In goal for the Eagles, Kendall Donahue made four saves and was in total control.

The Eagles competed in a tournament in Orange County held at Troy High School. After dropping their first game to Division 1 powerhouse JSerra the Eagles defeated Camarillo, Millikan and Santa Margarita. The Eagles host South Torrance today, travel to Mira Costa on Friday, and host West Torrance on Tuesday.

Soccer Team
Rebounds After Loss

The Eagles were on a four-game winning streak before facing South Torrance. The Spartans, ranked sixth in the CIF-SS Division 1 polls, are a physical team that puts constant pressure on their opponents. The Spartans jumped out to a 2-0 lead before the Eagles scored, but it wasn’t enough in their 3-1 loss.

The Eagles faced West Torrance and were challenged by the Warriors but still came away with a 1-0 win. The two teams traded field positions but were out of sync on scoring opportunities. The only score of the game came in the first half. Tristian Hummel was driving close to the goal when he was fouled. The Eagles were awarded a penalty kick, and Max Abroms’ attempt was good.

13 advantage. After an El Segundo timeout, the Eagles went on a 14-2 run, including Darreson Naruse’s 15-foot jumper to give the Eagles a 27-24. Da Vinci’s Caleb Ortiz stole a pass with time running out and went in for a layup to close out the first half.

In the third quarter, there were eight lead changes and three tied scores that ended with Grant Ostler assisting on a play to Naruse, who sank his jumper, giving the Eagles a 43-41 lead with 13 seconds remaining. In the fourth quarter, neither team could get their offense in gear. Each shot attempt was contested, and the lane was log-jammed with players jockeying for rebounds. Eli Coles

Four Game Slide

The Eagles had been involved in four consecutive lopsided losses before they defeated the Da Vinci Wolves. The fact that the Eagles were down to just seven players due to injuries and illnesses makes their 53-21 win over the Wolves much more impressive.

The Eagles played their best game of the season defensively, and the offense seemed to connect when the opportunity evolved. Stella Pollard led the Eagles with 19 points, while Abby Quaknine, Myleah Cooley, and Hailey Wantz played suffocating defense.

Kendall Donahue was stellar in goal during Pioneer League action.

In El Segundo’s 16-2 win over West Torrance, the Eagles could have scored twice that score, but Coach Ward opted to clear her bench and work on set plays. Evelyn Hale got the Eagles going with a quick score. Emmie Ramirez scored the next two goals and assisted on two goals, the first one to Sally Gonzalez. The Eagles led after the first period 7-0 and backed off the throttle to score just one goal in the second period.

In the third quarter, Sally Gonzalez scored two more goals, including one Valeria Mora set-up. Mora would score on a five-meter shot to make it 15-1, and Ramirez capped

The Eagle’s defense has been stifling, and against the Warriors, it was even more so. James Baldino had four stops in goal. The defensive play of Pierce Moore, Erik Fallon, Mikah Meyerson, and Juddson Lister interrupted the Warrior’s offense, which helped lead to the shutout.

The Eagles kept their winning formula against the Da Vinci Wolves in a 4-1 win. The Eagles held the aggressive Wolves offense in check. El Segundo’s pair of goals in the first half and then added two more in the second half to seal the win.

How to Have Fun, Stay Active and Be Bold at Every Age

(BPT) - No matter your age or fitness level, experts agree that physical activity brings multiple benefits to your mind and body. If you wonder how being more active as you get older can help you live a happier, healthier life - and how to get started - taking small, simple steps to boost your activity level can make a big impact.

“Age is just a number, and we’ll make sure it never slows you down, so why not begin the new year on the right foot by finding activities you love to do,” said Julie Logue, M.P.H., training manager at SilverSneakers. “You can ‘act your age’ by having the time of your life, whether you’re dancing, walking or playing pickleball with friends.”

Remember, before starting any new exercise, it’s recommended to consult your health care provider.

Stronger muscles help protect your bones and joints as you age. But if you think lifting heavy weights is the only way to strengthen your muscles, you’re in for a pleasant surprise. If you haven’t been active, you can begin strength exercises by starting slowly, using little to no special equipment, and gradually improving your strength over time.

It’s best to seek classes or programs specifically designed for seniors, such as SilverSneakers by Tivity Health - the nation’s leading fitness program for older adults that offers in-person and virtual classes with the needs of seniors in mind. Seniors can find classes for all levels focused on building strength and flexibility as they age, along with cardio exercises to get their blood pumping.

About one in four Americans aged 65 and older will fall each year, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention. Regular exercise that builds strength and improves balance is one of the best ways to help prevent falls or recover from a fall.

Classes like those offered by SilverSneakers can help strengthen your ankles, knees and hips for a sturdy foundation. Plus, they can help improve your core strength and upper-body posture - to help you stay upright and steady.

Injuries can happen at any age, but a few simple precautions can help to keep you moving injury-free. If you’re a beginner, choose instructors and exercise programs that start slow - even seated - and build your strength and flexibility gradually, so you can continue improving your fitness without risking injury. SilverSneakers even offers virtual classes designed for beginners to help get you started.

One valuable benefit of being active is finding a class or community of people you enjoy spending time with. Whether you’re taking classes in person or online, you’ll know everyone else in the class is also aiming to stay more fit and healthy. Taking classes together is a fun bonding activity that will help you stay motivated and may inspire you to create your own group of friends for walking or doing activities together.

Physical activity can reduce stress, help you stay more present throughout your day and enjoy your life to the fullest. Classes offered by SilverSneakers include Tai Chi and Yoga, which are easy ways to help you stay more mindful and boost your overall well-being.

SilverSneakers offers members a network of up to 22,000 fitness locations, along with community-based options like community centers and parks. Workouts are offered at thousands of gyms, community centers and other participating fitness locations nationwide.

Members can participate in live, instructor-led and on-demand virtual classes in a variety of lengths and formats. Learn more at SilverSneakers.com. •

Bad Money Habits and How to Steer Clear of Them

(BPT) - There’s a good chance you may have a habit or two when it comes to money that is not doing your financial future any favors. The good news is you’re not alone, and there are ways to break those habits and create better financial health for you and/or your family.

According to a recent survey from OnePoll and National Debt Relief, LLC, over 60% of people in the U.S. claim to make poor decisions when it comes to money and 42% of people admit to having current financial struggles. That may be in part because most people either have information that they aren’t using in their day-to-day lives, or like over 20% of respondents, they need more information to help them learn better habits.

While spending money on things like takeout or app subscriptions may seem minor, these purchases add up over time. Your coffee may only cost $4.99, but as a daily habit, it can become costly. If you add up these seemingly insignificant costs over a month or two you’ll get a clear picture of how much you’re spending. Additionally, while BOGO promotions may be appealing, if you don’t need the second item, don’t spend the extra money.

While you may not be a high-stakes poker player or spend hours at casinos, a regular lottery ticket habit can mean you’re throwing away your hard-earned money. Instead, try saving any money you might put into gambling and investing it into a higher interest savings account, which will add up quicker than you expect, especially if you keep adding to it.

Paying bills with a credit card can work well if you’re paying your balance off in full each month. But, if you’re not paying your balance off in full each month, you may want to reconsider. The interest you’ll end up paying on the card will make your bills much more expensive. For example, if your credit card interest rate is around 20% and you have a $5,000 balance, it could take you around 11 years to pay this off with minimum payments. Plus, your total payments will end up being around $8,417.

To avoid getting into this situation, try listing out your regular expenses, categorizing which ones are absolute necessities (like rent, utilities and food) and which are not (like entertainment and eating out). Then total your must-pay bills and compare that amount to what you’re earning and cut anything that’s not a necessity that you’ve been relying on credit cards to keep up with.

Beware of payday loans. These short-term loans often have high interest rates and may cost you a lot of money. Other options you can consider before taking out a payday loan may be finding ways to earn extra income like driving for a ride sharing company or getting some part-time work, or saving money through strict budgeting and getting rid of those non-essentials (see above for more on that).

Start by listing out all your expenses and your income. This can help you get a better picture of where, and how much, you need to cut down. Minimize unnecessary expenses and look for creative ways to boost your income. People are always looking for help with tasks like cleaning, organizing or creative work. If you have any special talents, see if you can monetize any of them.

Need to break bad financial habits? National Debt Relief can help you resolve your debt more quickly and for less money than you owe. Their team will also help you learn skills like budgeting, how to save money, and how to live within your means so you can improve your financial health and feel confident about your future.

If you’re ready to fix your bad money habits and create long-term financial security, visit NationalDebtRelief.com or call 800-674-0907. •

The new words are called compound words.

Match the two bold words to the meaning of the new word they make when "added" together!

1. foot + ball (sphere used in games)

2. foot + man (male human)

3. foot + note (short message)

4. foot + wear (clothing)

5. foot + stool (seat with no back)

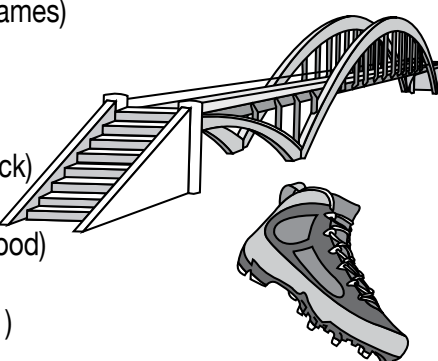

6. foot + hold (to have in hand)

7. foot + board (flat piece of wood)

8. foot + hill (sloped area)

9. foot + bridge (built structure)

10. foot + path (walkway)

 +  =

A. structure only wide enough for a person to cross

B. opposite of the headboard, found at the bottom of bed

C. place to rest or start on a rock climb

D. narrow trail for hikers

E. sneakers, boots, sandals and high-heeled shoes

F. popular sport that is played on the gridiron or field

G. small hill at the base of a larger mountain

Cheddar Broccoli Frittata

Provided by Campbells Soup Corp.

Why do we never think frittata when we think one-dish meal? It cooks quickly, it's budget-friendly and easily customizable. This Cheddar Broccoli Frittata tastes great and is easy, too! Just saute some veggies, then pour a mixture of condensed broccoli cheese soup and eggs over the top. Let it cook for a minute or two, then quickly broil- 25 minutes, start to finish! You can also use whatever vegetables you have on hand, just keep the amounts and cut sizes the same so they cook in the same amount of time. You can also bake the mixture in a mini muffin-pan, for egg bites that look great on a brunch board! Or make a batch to freeze for a prep-ahead breakfast!

Ingredients

- 9 eggs
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) Campbell's® Condensed Broccoli Cheese Soup or (10 1/2 ounces) Campbell's® Condensed 98% Fat Free Broccoli Cheese Soup
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 3 ounces mushrooms, coarsely chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 large yellow onion, chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1 small zucchini, coarsely chopped (about 1 cup)
- 1/2 cup shredded Cheddar cheese
- 3 green onion, chopped

Directions

- Step 1: Beat the eggs and soup in a medium bowl with a fork or whisk. Season with salt and pepper.
- Step 2: Heat the butter in a 12-inch ovenproof nonstick skillet over medium heat. Add the mushrooms, yellow onion and zucchini and cook until tender. Stir in the egg mixture. Reduce the heat to low. Cook for 5 minutes or until the egg mixture is almost set but still moist.
- Step 3: Heat the broiler. Sprinkle the cheese over the egg mixture. Broil the frittata with the top 4 inches from the heat for 2 minutes or until the top is golden brown. Sprinkle with the green onions before serving.

CFO Chung also presented the Annual Comprehensive Financial Report for the Fiscal Year Ending June 30, 2023, noting that city staff had done the work since Tuesday was his first day on the job. He thanked them for their excellent work and brought on Tiffany Fung, Signing Director with CLA, who delivered a Zoom presentation, stating that her firm agreed that the work was “clean” from a financial perspective. Council member Carole Pirsztuk noted that having the financial documents “clean” and in order bodes well for an upcoming transfer to a new enterprise system. The “clean” rating was the third one in a row that the City of El Segundo achieved. Chung noted that the city finance team worked on the finance audit for six months or less, acknowledging their speedy and accurate work.

Purrrfect Companions

Charcoal

Kitten Rescue rescues cats and kittens from a variety of situations. Most live in our volunteers' homes and those volunteers foster them until we can find permanent homes for them. Young or old, tabby or Maine Coon, we care for orphaned and abandoned kittens that need to be bottle-fed around the clock, moms with litters, cats that need socialization, and sick or injured animals. When they are finally ready for their forever home, we will help match you with the purr-fect one. When you adopt, you save a life... and in turn enrich your own. This week's pur-fect pairs are waiting to share double the love with you.

Charcoal and Reseda are two beautiful and engaging siblings. Charcoal is a grey fluffy boy with a big bushy tail. Reseda is a stunning and silky dilute tortie. Together they make a wonderful, fun, and unique duo! They enjoy being brushed, pet, and are very playful and affectionate. Still in a young phase, they have a nightly play routine that is adorable to watch. They will make a wonderful and loving addition to any home. Reseda and Charcoal would prefer a quiet home from a distance but adores it when you come to give her pets or pick her up for a cuddle session. Bear teaches Blossom to be braver and more adventurous, encouraging her to explore new areas with him. Blossom, in turn, shows Bear the beauty of quiet cuddle puddles in a ray of sunshine and grooms him sweetly. Both kittens adore being pet and cuddled by humans. They are also good with other animals.

Summer and Ghost, former feral kittens, were rescued from the streets when they were about twelve weeks old. This bonded pair loves to cuddle up with each other like yin and yang. Ghost loves to groom his brother and also works full time at the bakery making biscuits throughout the day. Summer loves to play with catnip toys; his favorite toy is the flirt pole. These brothers are absolute purr machines and will demand more pets if you stop. They get short spurts of the zoomies but for the most part enjoy snuggling up with one another.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information to see these or our other kittens and cats and for a list of our weekend adoption events, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

The donations and support we receive from individuals like you, who share our love and commitment to helping cats and kittens in Los Angeles, are the sole reason we are able to do what we do. We are grateful for your financial help. By making even a small donation today, you can touch the lives of the many deserving, wonderful animals in our care. There are many ways you can donate and help, and every dollar means so much. Kitten Rescue is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 3519 Casitas Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90039.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •
