ESPD Places Fourth In Division at Baker to Vegas Relay

Detective Glenn Delmendo of the El Segundo Police Department runs his section of the 120-mile Baker to Vegas relay on March 28 and 29. Behind Delmendo, notice the follow vehicle, which travels each mile with the racers. In spite of extreme heat, ESPD ranked 78th out of 267 teams that participated, taking fourth place in their division. It's a move up for our police department, who placed 84th last year, and motivation for next year's race. More photos, page 2. Photo provided by ESPD.

LAX Runway Closures Could Increase Aircraft Noise

By Brian Simon

Last month, Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA) kicked off the first of a series of phased runway closures at LAX to make improvements to the Runway Safety Areas (RSA). These buffer zones exist in the event an aircraft overshoots, overruns or veers off a runway. The RSAs are usually 1,000 feet by 500 feet at the end and 250 feet from the runway centerline.

Construction is set to wrap up this month on the first project, Runway 7R-25L, which is the one closest to El Segundo in the south airfield. The next closures will entail the two north airfields Runway 6L-24R (June and October 2015) and Runway 6R-24L (November 2015-October 2016), followed by the south airfield Runway 7L-25R (October 2016-June 2017). Dates for additional runway and taxiway maintenance work continuing into 2018 will be determined later. LAWA previously completed RSA work at other facilities in Ontario and Van Nuys.

The runway closures shift aircraft operations to different parts of the airport and may increase noise for surrounding communities during the construction period. The current runway closure on the south complex moves aircraft to the north to impact Inglewood as well as Westchester, Playa del Rey and other adjacent areas. El Segundo residents may notice additional noise over the 18-month period when the north airfield runways close as more aircraft operations move south. According to the LAWA fact sheet on the project, "increased takeoffs on the south complex can also increase the likelihood of an FAA [Federal Aviation Administration] early turn instruction." Despite this warning, El Segundo Mayor Suzanne Fuentes thought to take a wait-and-see approach. "LAWA is in the process of improving all its runways to comply with FAA rules, so that as runways on the north are closed for construction we'll probably hear more noise just because of increased traffic on the south—but hopefully that will be balanced out when the south runways are closed for the same work and traffic is diverted to the north," she said.

"Also, I don't think any of these changes will be caused by early turns, but rather just more traffic. There's no doubt that noise will increase when one of the north runways is shut down, but thankfully it will be temporary."

In addition to noise impacts from the runway shifts, ongoing construction in other areas of LAX now affect airport traffic thanks to sidewalk and vehicle lane closures as well as inter-terminal work currently in progress. Restrictions

Police Department Canine Search Presentation

By Duane Plank

The Tuesday night meeting of the El Segundo Unified School District School Board featured a special presentation made by Superintendent Melissa Moore, El Segundo Chief of Police Mitch Tavera and School Resource Officer Scott Black about broadening the scope of the department's canine searches at the High School level.

The department's police dogs are highly trained in the detection and apprehension of dangerous suspects, narcotics, and items of evidence. Because the dogs possess a keen sense of smell, they are able to help officers conduct searches in a safer and much more efficient manner.

In an email sent prior to the meeting, Superintendent Moore noted that in a recent

City/School Sub-committee meeting that "City representatives clarified that the City funds the canine searches as part of the in-kind services that the City provides. City representatives expressed interest in expanding the scope of the canine searches. Specifically canine searches into classrooms."

Tavera's and Black's presentation detailed basic guidelines about how classroom canine searches could be conducted in the future. At this time, campus canine searches are limited to lockers. There have been two such searches this school year.

Black spoke of having the dogs enter the classrooms randomly and search for possible narcotics. The classrooms would be selected by school administrators. One

ESMS Selected Grades of Green Finalist

El Segundo Middle School in El Segundo was one of three local middle schools recently selected as finalist schools in Grades of Green's Trash Free Lunch Challenge (TFLC). The 25 competing schools spent the school year educating students about waste reduction and diverting as much lunchtime waste as possible – and it's paying off! In total, this year's participating schools achieved a 77 percent average lunchtime waste diversion rate, which means about 320 tons of waste will be diverted from Southern California landfills thanks to the work of these dedicated students.

Kiwanis Club Good Citizen Award

On Wednesday, February 11, 2015, at approximately 5:40 a.m., Truman Hedding was driving on the 600 block of West Oak Avenue when he observed two subjects walking on the same street. He turned his car around to see what they were doing and saw that one of the subjects appeared to have come from a driveway. Believing their activity to be suspicious, Hedding called police and provided a description of the subjects while continuing to watch them. The subjects became aware that Hedding was following them and quickly left the area. As they approached Hillcrest Street, they split up when they noticed an El Segundo Police unit arrive in the area. Officers contacted the subjects and found one of them to be in possession of stolen property from an unsecured vehicle in the neighborhood. Truman Hedding is to be commended for his assistance, which led to the arrest of a larceny suspect.

El Segundo Choir goes to New York City

By Cece Stewart, Sophomore at ESHS

The El Segundo High School Choir embarked on a whirlwind journey to New York City to perform and learn about the Big Apple. They said goodbye to their families, and left for a few days away from school and home to experience New York, and even perform. They landed at JFK Airport at 7:15 AM, on Wednesday, which means they were on the flight all night! Then, they went to their hotel in Times Square, The Row Hotel, to freshen up, and began to explore. The first place they took a jaunt to was New York University (NYU). Each group took a self-guided tour in order to see the parts of the school they were mostly interested in. This helped them see some more of New York they ate at Buca di Beppo and headed to Central Park. For those of you who have not been to NYC, Central Park is a beautiful, 843-acre park in the middle of Manhattan, and it is used to help navigate from one part of the city to another. It is so beautiful.

Friday, the students ate breakfast at Planet Hollywood, which must have been nice for those who missed home, since we live in close proximity to Hollywood, it might have felt more like home. Then, they went shopping on the world famous 5th Avenue. However, they did not get to shop for too long because they had to get ready to perform. They arrived at the New Amsterdam Theater in their formal wear, and warmed up. They were staged. Then, they actually performed

City, and get a look at a possible future college. Then, they went to the Top of the Rock Observatory at Rockefeller Center to come back together, and they all participated in a tour together. They returned to the hotel and had a few minutes to relax, then they all met in the lobby to go to HB Burger for dinner, where they experienced the delight of tasting amazing burgers. After dinner, each group explored Times Square. Many of the choir students said that they loved the lights in Times Square. They said it was a sight to see before you die.

On Thursday, they headed to Hard Rock Café Times Square. The choir trips usually always end up eating there at some point or another, wherever they are; it's kind of a tradition! After eating and gaining nutrition, they all went to Marymount Manhattan College for another self-guided experience. The great thing about the choir students getting to see colleges while in New York, is that they can see if there is anywhere they are interested in attending.

That afternoon the students had to make sure they were ready for the first event in the highlight of the New York City trip to Broadway, starting with rehearsal. They had their hair and make up done, and practiced singing because they were about to have an amazing life experience. They headed to a Broadway studio. They had a clinic with Broadway professionals, and got to interview current stars. After this amazing experience, for an audience, on a real Broadway show, Aladdin! Kudos to our choir.

On Saturday, they went to Grand Central Station, one of the most practical forms of transportation in all of the city, and they sang for the civilians. After this, they went on a Harbor cruise, where they got a close look at The Statue of Liberty, and got to see Brooklyn. After the cruise, they went to Chelsea Market to explore. They were running around the giant market having fun. Afterward, they explored the beautiful high line. The high line was once used as a railroad system, but plants have bloomed, and now it is a beautiful walk where you can look over the city. Then, they went to dinner at Dallas BBQ Time Square.

The last day of their journey, Sunday, they went to FDNY (a firehouse) to explore it and sing for the firefighters. After this, they went to the 9/11 memorial. The museum is a tribute to the nearly 3000 people who were killed in the attacks. There are the twin reflecting pools, and every name of a fallen or lost soldier is written. They then sang their memorial song. After this wonderful but emotional visit, they went to the Metropolitan Museum of Art (MMA) for a tour. After this, they packed and got on the bus to JFK Airport. They flew home, arriving back on a Monday at 12:54 am, and were picked up by their families, went home, and finally got to sleep in their own bed as they reminisced on the fun time they had. •

Dior and I is a Glamorous, Inspired Look Into the Fashion Empire

By Morgan Rojas for CINEMACY

A man's journal is read aloud over grainy black and white footage of women from 1947: their wardrobe reflects the time period – a crucial moment in women's history when traditional, civilian dress, and military attire was being traded for more masculine-femme looks like fuller skirts, rounded shoulders, and cinched waists. Most notably, the revival of the skinny black suit revolutionized the way women dressed, empowering those who came back from WWII, pieces coming to life— and that alone is worth the watch.

Dior and I continues the fashion icon's legacy with a new artistic director: the minimalist Belgian designer, Raf Simons. Simons has only six weeks to create, execute and display his first ever haute couture collection under the famed brand; whereas five to six months is the typical construction period for such grandeur shows, Simons undeniably hits the ground running.

Simons, a very low-key leader, is quite and ultimately set a trend that changed the fashion world – and history – forever.

The pioneer of this new sartorial vision, the one credited as The Godfather of the "New Look," is Christian Dior, owner of the aforementioned journal, and whose empire would far surpass his impactful life on this earth.

Dior and I, a fashion documentary from director Frédéric Tcheng shot in the spring of 2012, serves as an exclusive look behind the runway and into the nitty-gritty world of haute couture (a world that, sadly, is beginning to disappear). The film pays homage to Mr. Dior with a story that is both personal and informative. While Dior and I may only lure those with an interest in high fashion, do not be mistaken, everyone can appreciate these sequences of beautiful and artistic the collaborator when it comes to designing his debut collection, fully relying on Dior's in-house seamstresses, essentially factory workers in white coats rather than blue collars, to literally pull it all together, hand-sewing every single piece. Dior is one of the last fashion houses to board such ateliers, or workrooms, and this alone is another fascinating dimension to the film; the camaraderie in the ateliers between Simons and the hard-working seamstresses, some who have worked at Dior for over 40 years, is very humanizing to watch. There is no trace of a catty, backstabbing workplace vibe like The Devil Wears Prada would suggest.

Another interesting angle is observing Simons' personal creative process, his unique

include speed bumps across all lanes of the Upper/Departures Level roadway in front of Terminal 1; a 10-foot, six-inch height clearance limitation through February 2016 on the two curbside Lower/Arrivals Level passenger pick-up lanes from Terminals 4-8 as well as rotating one-lane closures; and a 200-foot-long barricade through the end of 2015 on the Upper/Departures Level curb along the western half of Terminal 1 where motorists can only drop off passengers along the curb before the barricade. Additional work on power conduits, traffic signals and parking structures will result in some restrictions or closures for various vehicle lanes. Some portions of sidewalks in Terminal 1 will also be closed (through 2016) as well as the pedestrian bridge connecting Terminal 3 with Parking Structure 3 (through October of this year). In-terminal renovations resulted in the closures of four gates in Terminal 1 as well as most concessions in the concourse in Terminal 2 (scheduled to reopen this summer). When summer rolls around, passengers may also experience delays or slight increases in wait times aboard aircraft.

beyond that period is unknown at this point, but City of El Segundo officials hope to negotiate additional RSI dollars from LAWA. In the meantime, LAWA continues to move ahead with its major projects to modernize LAX and to meet federal safety requirements. "Passenger safety remains a priority," Fuentes said. "We negotiated the south airfield runway agreement to improve safety and we look forward to the improvements being implemented to improve passenger and aircraft safety."

The 2005 legal settlement paved the way for LAWA to proceed with its Southern Airfield Improvement Project that included increasing the distance between the airport's two south runways (bringing the southernmost one 55 feet closer to El Segundo) and building a parallel taxiway between them to reduce the risk of close calls on the ground between aircraft. The City of El Segundo agreed to drop the pending lawsuit against LAWA in exchange for several mitigations. In addition to providing the RSI monies, LAWA also conceded to a key provision to remove 10 passenger gates at a clip of two per year starting in 2010 in order to reduce the total from 163 to 153 by 2015. The gate constraint would have remained in effect through 2020, with the City having the explicit right to visually count the gates at least until the end of that year. The goal was to ensure the airport could not grow beyond its physical maximum capacity of 78.9 million annual passengers. However the gate reduction was contingent upon LAX exceeding 75 million passengers a year. The numbers fell well short of that target, so the 163 gates stayed put.

LAWA posts monthly noise complaint reports on its website, although figures for 2015 do not yet include March, the first month of the southernmost runway closure. The February 2015 report showed 363 total complaints (with 217 of those anonymous and 146 registered by 44 individuals). Four individuals in El Segundo lodged complaints in February, while just one did so in Inglewood.

Annual LAX passenger traffic, which reached a high of 67 million in 2000 before taking a nosedive after 9/11, again fell to 56.5 million as recently as 2009 when the recession adversely affected air travel. However, the numbers have steadily trended upward ever since with an improving economy. According to statistics posted on LAWA's website, domestic travel swelled from 48.8 million passengers in 2013 to 51.5 million last year, while international travel rose from 17.8 million to 19.1 million. In all, passenger travel jumped from 66.6 million passengers in 2013 to a record 70.6 million in 2014. LAWA officials had not issued projections for 2015 volume as of press time. However, January passenger numbers were up 0.36 percent compared to the same month in 2014, while February showed a 2.01 percent increase. The upticks were considerably higher for those months in 2014 when compared to 2013, though.

Even with the settlement expiring and all the gates in operation, Fuentes emphasized that provisions remain in place to limit LAX growth. "It is the City of El Segundo's position that all LAWA planning is based on a 78.9 million annual passenger cap and any projects that would cause that number to go beyond that cap would require CEQA [California Environmental Quality Act] analysis and the opportunity for the City to intercede," she said. "Two other things to keep in mind are that the overall fleet that is using LAX has gotten substantially quieter over the years, which is good for the community. Secondly, while a higher annual passenger number directly translates into more traffic in and around the airport, LAWA and Metro are investing heavily in improving ground transportation to and from LAX—including the Crenshaw line—connecting the Green Line up to Century and constructing a people mover that will finally connect rail transit to the central terminal area. None of these will eliminate traffic, but they should at least hold the line..."

At the end of 2015, a 10-year-old settlement agreement between Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA) and the cities of El Segundo and Inglewood (as well as other parties) will expire -- and along with it a decade-long commitment to constrain gate capacity and provide funding for residential sound insulation (RSI). Whether a revised agreement will be forged

5 Tips To Slash Prescription Drug Costs

(BPT) - Today's rising health care costs can feel out of control. Fortunately, prescription drugs are an exception. Consider these five simple ways to save money on your prescriptions so you can stay healthy and maintain your budget.

1. Ask about generic or lower-cost equivalents. Your health plan has a list of covered prescription drugs, called a formulary. Within that list are preferred drugs, which have a lower copayment cost for the patient. These are clinical or therapeutic equivalents to higher-priced brand drugs.

Always ask your prescriber or pharmacist, "Is there a generic for that?" It's a fair question. Many physicians write for the familiar brands, the "tried and true," or the newest, most highly marketed drug in the therapy class. Until you ask, they may not be well acquainted with lower-cost equivalents on your particular plan's formulary.

2. Don't be duped by drug coupons. Hundreds of high-priced brand drugs offer coupons that apply to the consumer's share of the drug's cost. But beware: A temporary discount may end up costing you more in the long run. A recent study in The New England Journal of Medicine found that 62 percent of coupons were for brand-name drugs for which lower-cost alternatives were available.

"Despite the short-term savings achievable with coupons, they do not offset higher, long-term costs because they're nearly always time-delimited," the study states. "Some coupons can be used once and others more than once. But we found that few offered savings for more than a year. Once a coupon program ends, patients with chronic disease face copayments for these brand-name medications that are higher than for those generic alternatives."

3. Use preferred retail pharmacies for acute medications. Many prescription plans offer a preferred network of retail pharmacies within a wider network. These plans allow you to save between $5 and $10 on copayments just by choosing a preferred pharmacy. Chances are good that a preferred pharmacy is conveniently located near you.

Before you fill a prescription for an acute medication, such as an antibiotic or painkiller, use your plan's pharmacy locator to find a preferred option. And inform your doctor, as he or she may now send electronic prescriptions directly to the pharmacy.

Medicare patients choosing a prescription plan should look for one that offers preferred networks. Savings at the pharmacy window can easily exceed any small difference in premium amount.

4. Use home delivery for chronic or maintenance medications. With home delivery, many patients can save up to 33 percent on their copayment costs and have the medication delivered right to their door.

Home delivery is a safe and convenient way to obtain medications that you use long term. Many pharmacy plans will provide you with a 90-day supply for a lower copayment. Be sure to tell your doctor that you use home delivery so your prescription can be written for a 90-day supply.

There's an important bonus that can save you even more: Patients using home delivery are more likely to take their medication as prescribed (see No. 5).

5. Take your medications as prescribed. While it might be tempting to stretch your medication dollar by skipping daily doses, this can be harmful to your health and end up costing you significantly more money to treat the health complications that could have been avoided.

Adherence to your prescribed therapy is the best way to make sure you get the most from your pharmacy benefit. Take your medication at the proper time and frequency as indicated by your doctor, and refill and renew prescriptions as early as possible so you are never empty-handed. Express Scripts offers mobile apps, as well as auto-refill and renewal reminder programs to help you stay on track. • option broached was checking for narcotics with the students in the classroom; a second option would entail the students leaving their backpacks in the classroom, and leaving the classroom while the dogs partake in their search duties.

Said Black: "We want to work with the District." He mentioned prescription drugs and edible marijuana as two types of contraband that have been found on school campuses.

Wrote Moore: "Note that the District's recommendation would be that no change in the scope of the canine searches be done this year. Deferring a potential change to next year would allow the District to appropriately notify the parents and students of the increased scope in the search."

The Board raised questions about the rites of the students regarding canine searches, specifically the "presumption of innocence." Moore mentioned the possibility of a survey being developed and sent to High School and Middle School parents, seeking their input on the possible broadening of the scope of the canine program.

That presentation was followed by student representative Cassidy Shevlin's report to the Board about activities taking place at the High School.

Next on the agenda at the 90-minute meeting was an update from Ed! Foundation CEO Carol Pirsztuk. Prior to the regularly scheduled 7 p.m. meeting, the Board had held a special session to discuss the administration's recommendations for Ed! Foundation funding for the 2015-16 school year.

Pirsztuk's presentation noted that the Foundation had received $80,000 from Skechers as a thank you for the El Segundo communities' participation in the Pier-to-Pier friendship walk. The $80,000 helps fund the Physical Education programs at the District's Elementary schools.

The Foundation's always popular gala is on the calendar for Friday evening, May 15, and will again take place on the grounds of Chevron Park. More than 30 El Segundo restaurants and bars have donated specialty food, beer and wine for the event, with all proceeds going to towards the Foundation's $1,000,000 grant to the District.

After Pirsztuk spoke, Moore noted that "We are very thankful for what the Ed! Foundation does for our District to enhance our programs and opportunities for our youth."

The consent agenda portion of the meeting featured the Board giving their consent to multiple line-items, including a proposed tuition "adjustment" for students attending the Eagles' Nest preschool; three upcoming elementary school assemblies; and the establishment of new science Career Pathway offerings at the High School.

The Eagles' Nest fee adjustment, which will be implemented because of rising personnel and supplies costs, is approximately a 4% increase in tuition. The Eagles' Nest preschool offers two day, three-day, and five-day options for the young learners, with half-day, extended day, and full day programs available. According to District-provided notes, the proposed fee adjustment would set the yearly tuition at approximately $815 for parents selecting the 5-day, full-day option for their child.

Eagles Win Baseball and Softball Tournaments

By Gregg McMullin

The El Segundo high school baseball team has done something that hasn't been done in years, they won the San Luis Obispo Tournament. It's been over 10 years since the Eagles last participated in the prestigious spring tour-the day. They were held to just four hits by Templeton's Mac Lardner but they made the most of them. Leading 1-0 in the fourth inning the Eagles got RBI singles from Saucedo and Stone.

As good as Lardner was for Templeton, the Eagles' Mitch Thompson was better giving namment. They made up for their absence by sweeping through the three-day tournament. In their opener the Eagles defeated Amador Valley 8-1 and got strong pitching from the staff's ace, Willem Mostert. The senior right-hander went the distance in scattering five hits and struck out a season high eight batters.

El Segundo held a slim 1-0 lead going into their half of the fifth inning when they exploded for six runs. They added another run in the seventh for their opening round win. Jackson Stone was 2-4 to lead the nine hit attack and Nick Saucedo had two RBIs.

What made the win that more special is where they played the game, at Sinsheimer Park Baseball Stadium. For the nearly twenty years the Eagles had played in the tournament this was the site of most games being played. It brought back memories for the El Segundo coaching staff who all had played at the stadium.

In the second game the Eagles defeated Templeton 4-0 in the first of two games of up just two hits and needing only 84 pitches for his complete game victory. In the second game of the day the Eagles mauled Golden Valley 14-0 in a five inning mercy-rule game. Albert Galicia gets the win by tossing three innings and improved to 4-1 on the year; Justin Ostler and Wyatt Boyce finished up and kept the shutout intact.

Lars Nootbaar led the team going 3-4 including hitting his team leading fifth homerun and had two RBIs. Dylan McDonnell and Noah Bergren each had two hits while Jake Palmer had two RBIs.

The Eagles faced tournament host San Luis Obispo in the finals. The Eagles and Tigers are no strangers to each other. Besides playing each other in the tournament over the years they've also faced each other in the CIF playoffs. SLO has been one of the top teams from the Central California area for decades. So it was a fitting end of the

Opening Day Filled With Fireworks

By Adam Serrao

The fireworks during the national anthem two Mondays ago at Chavez Ravine in Los Angeles weren't the only fireworks present for the Dodgers Opening Day and first game of the year versus the San Diego Padres. Sure, Opening Day only represented one of a long, 164-game regular season, but what the new front office of Andrew Friedman and Farhan Zaidi saw unfold on the field was certainly much to their liking, to say the least. Former Dodger Matt Kemp brought his own fireworks back to L.A. as he roughed up the reigning National League MVP, CY Young Award winner and his former teammate, Clayton Kershaw for two hits and three RBI's, but it was a pair of new Dodgers that immediately breathed new air into their team and gave fans a reason to believe that this Dodgers team may indeed be better than any of the years past.

Gone is the power of Matt Kemp and the speed of perhaps the fastest man in baseball, Dee Gordon. What has been lost on offense, however, has certainly been made up for in defense. A new shortstop and second base platoon of Jimmy Rollins and Howie Kendrick must have heard about how everyone was nervous with the supposed decrease in offensive productivity. Not only did Kendrick go 2-for-4 with a triple, run scored and an RBI, but Rollins delivered a one out, three-run home run in the bottom of the eighth inning on a 3-and-2 count that brought the Dodgers back from behind and put them in the lead for good as they snuck away with a 6-3 victory over the Padres in the first game of the season.

"I've seen that too many times when he was in a Phillies uniform," said former Dodger and new Padre, Matt Kemp. "I knew right away it was gone. He got a pitch that he wanted and put a good swing on it. He's clutch, man. He's one of those guys who gets big hits when his team needs them." Kemp is right. Rollins has tormented the Dodgers all too often during his 15-plus years in the league, but now gets to deal the pain to the rest of the league for a change. The lifetime .267 hitter put together a preseason in which he batted .313 and after his 2-for-4 effort on Opening Day, Rollins began the season batting .500 with three RBI's and a home run. Not bad.

"It was a lot of fun in a big situation, being able to come through and help the team get the victory," Rollins said of his game-winning blast. "That's what you want on Opening Day, to get the 'W', the first 'W' out of the way, get that left column rolling," he continued. "When I hit it, Howie said he got the chills."

Despite Kendrick putting together a great game himself, he decided to take the time out to break down Rollins' at-bat: "That was a veteran at-bat," he said of Rollins fighting back from an 0-2 count to work it to 3-2. "He fouled off those sliders and got a pitch in the honey hole – that's what we call it – and he didn't miss." He certainly didn't and neither did the rest of the Dodgers. After a spring in which the team out-homered their opponents 49-24, the Dodgers left the yard twice in the first game of the season (Adrian Gonzalez also went deep). Despite the loss of certain key offensive pieces in the offseason, the Dodgers were never worried about a decrease in offensive productivity.

Friedman's and Zaidi's moves this offseason were primarily based on analytics; that is, the empirical analysis of baseball, especially baseball statistics that measure in-game activity. What those analytics told the front office was basically that the Dodgers could afford to give up offense in order to replace the defensive deficiencies created by former Dodgers, Ramirez and Gordon. There is no questioning the fact that both Rollins and Kendrick are far and away upgrades at their respective defensive positions over their predecessors. To replace the power of Ramirez, however, and the speed of Gordon was going to be the hard part. Well, with a triple and a double for Kendrick and a single and home run for Rollins, the two new Dodgers did their part to combine for the cycle in their first game donning Dodger blue.

It was certainly a great day to be a "new guy" wearing Dodger blue. While Kershaw has had two subpar outings to start the season and looks to have picked up right where he left off last postseason in St. Louis (0-1, 5.84 ERA), Yasiel Puig, too, seems to still be on vacation. Aside from Adrian Gonzalez making history as the first player ever with five home runs in the first three games of the season, it has been the new guys who are bringing the Dodgers back from behind in games and, in turn, led the team to their first victory of the year.

Not only did Rollins and Kendrick do the job, but to the front office's utmost pleasure, the bullpen stepped up big. Rookie Yimi Garcia, veteran Joel Peralta and newcomer Chris Hatcher simultaneously held the Padres scoreless and, for at least one day, delivered Dodger fans from their constant nightmare of last season that was the sixth, seventh and eighth inning relief. Opening Day was just one game, however. In the games since then, the Dodgers have repeatedly found themselves attempting to come from behind due in large part to little offense, which has, in itself, been

One of the assemblies that was consented to is the upcoming Pioneer Days/Gold Rush event that will be taking place at Center Street elementary on April 24th. Always a campus favorite, the assembly will allow fourth graders the opportunity to enrich their social studies knowledge while gaining hands-on, interactive experiences as they recreate some of the hardships and challenges that faced early California settlers during the California Gold Rush.

Also consented to were a couple of assemblies slated to take place this Friday at Richmond Street elementary. The Play-Well TEKologies assembly will provide those who attend STEM night (Science, Technology, and Math) activities the opportunity to gain hands-on experience in the science field; Kathy's Critters portion of that same gathering will provide live-animal education for the students and their families.

Next on the agenda, the Board approved a resolution selecting Tuesday, November 3 as the date for the next Board member elections. They also approved the job descriptions of three District positions, including administrative assistant, business services; administrative assistant, educational services; and preschool teacher-in-charge.

The information pending action portion of the evening included consideration of Assembly Bill 306, as well as a look at the proposed summer reading lists for the Middle and High Schools. Assembly Bill 306 ensures that active duty military members may choose which school districts to send their children to, regardless of the school district in which they reside.

After Superintendent Moore quickly mentioned the informational calendar events for the balance of April, member reports followed. Moore gave her Superintendent's report, and a few minutes later President Jeanie Nishime called for the meeting to come to a close.

The next regularly scheduled meeting is set to take place on Tuesday evening, April 28. •

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF VELTA LOUISE BRUCE

Case No. BP161622

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of VELTA LOUISE BRUCE

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Robert James Bruce in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Robert James Bruce be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on May 12, 2015 at 8:30AM in Dept. No. 79 located at 111 N. Hill St., Los Angeles, CA 90012.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

tournament that these two teams face each other in the finals.

El Segundo jumped out to a 2-0 lead in the first inning, added two more in the second and exploded for five runs in the third inning for a 9-0 lead en-route to a 9-4 victory. Nootbaar led the Eagles with a triple, four RBIs and also scored twice. Stone and McDonnell continued their hot hitting with two hits apiece while Spencer Long had two hits and scored twice.

The Eagles opened Ocean League play earlier this week at home against Beverly Hills on Tuesday and today at La Cienega Park at 3:15pm. Saturday they host Gahr in the Redondo Tournament at 11am. Next week they play at Culver City on Tuesday and host the Centaurs next Thursday at 3:15pm.

The El Segundo JV baseball team has turned the corner and is playing well. After starting out the year 4-6 they have won five in a row including two against Palos Verdes 4-0 and 11-1. Ben Saucedo went the distance in the first game giving up just three hits and struck out four. It marked the second consecutive start that Saucedo has given up four hits or less. He worked out of two tough spots and was in command throughout.

The Eagles struggled offensively to begin with until the fourth inning when Chris Gomez walked, stole second and third base and scored on a fielder's choice. Griffin Martes and Brando Craig each scored in the fifth inning and Mario Morales walked, stole second base and scored on Craig's RBI single in the sixth inning.

In the second game Craig, CJ Shevlin and Dylan Sledge each had three to lead the Eagle's 14-hit attack. El Segundo scored runs in each inning but the fourth inning but threatened with two runners on in that inning.

The Eagles played Beverly Hills on the road earlier this week and host the Normans today at 3:15pm. Saturday they travel to South Torrance for an 11am game before returning home next Tuesday at 3:15 to host Culver City.

The girl's softball team made the softball world wakeup and take notice by winning the Pioneer Valley Best of the West Tournament in Santa Maria. The Lady Eagles defeated Lompoc 8-0 in the opener and Orange Lutheran in the quarter-finals 4-3. It was a win that proved monumental to both the team and the school.

Head coach Keith Cameron, in his 19th year, said, "I told the team before we left that this game (against Orange Lutheran) would give us an opportunity to put our program, our school, and our community into the national spotlight."

Orange Lutheran (16-1) entered the game undefeated and ranked No. 8 in the latest USA Super 25 national softball rankings. With the Lancer's ace, Maddy Dwyer, on the mound the Eagles would need a monumental effort. It took the sister act of Katherine and Emma Burner to push their team into the national spotlight.

The game was scoreless until the top of the third inning. Katherine Burner led off the top of the third inning with a single. Shannon Brooker then laid down a perfect bunt down the third base line for a base hit. Monique Benjamin then put down another great bunt. Benjamin was safe with an infield hit but the ball got away and Burner scored to give the Eagles a 1-0 lead. Allison Tatnall then singled to bring home both Megan Truesdale, running for Brooker, and Benjamin, and the Eagles were up 3-0.

With the score tied 3-3 going into the seventh inning Emma Burner led off the inning with a single. Carlie Doucette laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to put Burner in scoring position. She later scored the game-winning run on an infield single by her sister Katherine.

The Lancers would not go quietly with a leadoff single in the seventh. With the tying run on at second base and two outs Mackenzie Boesel, hitting .492 with six homeruns on the season, came to the plate. Brooker induced a long fly ball to that was easily caught by Allison Tatnall to end the game and give the Eagles the win.

Shannon Brooker hurled a complete game to get the win for the Eagles. She limited the high-scoring Lancers to just five hits and struck out seven. Afterwards, Eagle head coach Keith Cameron praised his team. "It was a huge victory for our program to beat a team so highly ranked in the nation," Cameron said. "This was one of the greatest victories for our program in my tenure. This was a statement game for our program and our school. I am really proud of the team and how they played and how they responded to the challenge. It was a great day to be wearing an El Segundo jersey!"

In the semi-finals El Segundo took care of the tournament host, Pioneer Valley 6-1. The Eagles reached the finals where they faced St Bonaventure and their ace Cielo Meza one of the CIF's top pitchers. With the Eagles' Brooker and Meza locked up in a pitcher's duel. The Eagles were a little flat in the championship game after two emotional draining games against Orange Lutheran and Pioneer Valley. After being held hitless for the first three innings Allison Tatnall singled with one out in the fourth inning and took second on a passed ball. Then, after fouling off five pitches, Alyssa Pelegrin doubled home Tatnall to give the Eagles a 1-0 lead. The Eagles added a run in the 5th inning. Katherine Burner singled with two outs. Brooker then singled to right field and Burner scored all the way from first to give El Segundo a 2-0 lead.

St. Bonaventure scored in the top of the 6th to cut the lead to 2-1. The Eagles got out of a jam in the inning with an odd 6-2-4-2 double play to end the rally and keep the lead. El Segundo added a run in the bottom of the 6th when Pelegrin led off with a double and later scored on a single by Emma Burner to give the Eagles a 3-1 lead. Brooker closed out the game in the top of the 7th inning for the Eagles to win the Best of the West tournament.

Shannon Brooker won all four games for the Eagles and was named the tournament MVP. She allowed just two earned runs in four games.

The boys' lacrosse team upped their season record to 6-3 with a 15-5 victory over visiting Glendale. Balanced defense lead by Cayman Barber and Austin Thompson provided solid footing for goalie Jake Barone who handled most of the Nitros' shots. Three challenging games to be played this week with Culver City yesterday and on the road at Valencia tomorrow and at Mira Costa Saturday night at 7pm.

Opening Day

taxing the starting pitching and the relievers. If the team ever hopes to be successful over a long period of time, veterans like Puig, Juan Uribe, Carl Crawford and the catcher's spot are going to have to contribute as well.

It's still too early to tell how this offense, starting pitching and bullpen will hold up over a 164 game season, but Opening Day, at least, gave fans hope. Hope that the newcomers like Rollins, Kendrick and the 'pen would fill into their roles nicely. Hope that the front office truly does know what it's doing. Most importantly, hope that your Los Angeles Dodgers may actually have a team that can finally reach the World Series. Opening Day was, indeed, just one game, but Opening Day; fireworks, festivities and all; showed Dodger fans everywhere why they love baseball and why they love L.A. • idea of marrying fashion and art. As a self-proclaimed fan of the work of American painter Sterling Ruby, Simons challenges the ateliers and himself by recreating Ruby's artwork on cloth. However, he is set on the imprimé chaîne method in which the thread is printed on before it is woven into cloth. His more ingenious idea, however, is his vision for a floral runway: each room of the rented Parisian house where the fashion show takes place is covered in different colored flowers. This scene takes your breath away: millions of flowers invigorate the senses just by looking at them. It's beautiful and overwhelming, as Anna Wintour, Jennifer Lawrence, Marion Cotillard, and other celebrity guests can't stop complimenting Simons' vision. For all of the glitz and glamour overshadowing most fashion-centric documentaries, Dior and I does an excellent job of staying grounded, even if the ground is covered in couture.

Though, as a Vogue-reading, New York Times Fashion & Style-section enthusiast, I was expecting the film to hit a littler harder, as ultimately, this documentary should be categorized as a "day in the life" type film. Just like the pastels in the patterns of the beautifully constructed garments, Dior and I felt like a broad stroke of muted self-appreciation. There is absolutely no tension felt as six weeks turn to five, and so on, as Raf doesn't appear to let his nerves show. Not that this makes for a boring watch by any means, but it's definitely not a Project Runway type of suspense that I myself find ridiculously enticing. Dior and I opens at the Nuart Theatre this Friday. •

Wowser Schnauzers

Bones is a mini-Schnauzer mix with a calm personality.

We are looking for volunteers to help with our pet adoption fairs which are held every Saturday at the Petco located at 537 N. Pacific Coast Highway Redondo Beach 90277, from noon-3:30 p.m.. If you are interested in volunteering and can commit to at least one Saturday a month, please contact us at info@msfr.org. You can also visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoption fair or check out our website, www.msfr.org. If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability you can email us at info@msfr.org. Schnauzers! But you can't adopt just one!

My friends Sulu and Spock have been "transported" to their forever homes so now it's my turn! I'm called Bones and I'm a two-year-old male Miniature Schnauzer mix. I could be a Tibetan Terrier/Schnauzer mix but we're not making any promises. A more accurate description of me would be that I look like a "Tramp" type dog with my long legs and sleek (23 pound) body. When I was rescued from the LA county shelter I was pretty sick with kennel cough and giardia and I'm still about three pounds underweight. After taking all of my medications, and receiving lots of TLC, I'm feeling great and ready to begin adventures with my new family. I'm a fairly calm boy who is very good with other dogs; however, I was a little shy with people in the beginning because of the way I had been treated in the past. I've been given so much love that my trust and confidence level is right up there! If you are interested in Bones please email info@msfr.org for more information.

Winnie adores people and is ready for a loving owner.

My name is Winnie and I am the perfect little lady for you. I'm a quiet, sweet, female, purebred Miniature Schnauzer who LOVES people. I'm just a tiny gal, weighing only 10 pounds, and at nine years of age there won't be any growth spurts! After I was rescued from a LA county shelter and examined by a Vet I had a dental done. Twelve teeth had to be extracted but I now have the most endearing, if not goofy, smile. I'm considered a special needs gal because I have low grade IBD (Irritable Bowel Disease). I'm on a Rx, high fiber dog food which keeps it totally under control. The MSFR folks thought that they had found me a home but unfortunately, I didn't get along with their other dog. That sometimes happens when you get two women who want to be the "lady of the house." I've been waiting so long to find my forever family won't you please open your heart and give me a chance? If you are interested in Winnie, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

Farley is sweet and gets along with other dogs.

Hi, my name is Farley. I have a very cool name and a very unique look for a four-year-old male purebred Miniature Schnauzer. I'm a pretty sturdy guy at 24 pounds but that's not what makes me so special. You see I have what is called cauliflower ears. They are the result of having untreated ear hematomas but there's nothing wrong my hearing and they give me a rather charming look! I was rescued from a LA county shelter where I was considered a stray. I've been told that I'm a super sweet guy and another plus - I get along well with other dogs. Come to adoptions and see what a tremendous guy I am. If you are interested in Farley please email info@msfr.org for more information.

If your idea of the perfect addition to your family is a four-year-old male purebred Miniature Schnauzer, I'm your guy. They call me Mason and I was rescued from a shelter where everyone said I was a stray. It's hard to imagine why no one was interested in me but I spent almost two weeks at the shelter before I was rescued. The only thing I can think of is that my appearance was a bit off-putting. I admit that I was a bit matted and literally had half of a haircut (don't ask me why they didn't finish it). I'm only 18 pounds so I'm not overly large. I have a very expressive face and a sleek black coat. I get along well with other dogs, and I've been told that I have the sweetest personality ever. It had to be the tacky appearance thing - it just had to be. You must come to our adoptions on Saturday and see what a proper grooming will do! If you are interested in Mason please email info@msfr.org for more information. •

Mason is four years old and needs a new home.

Happy Tails

Miss Sayyida, now Twinkie, was adopted about a year ago as a kitten. At only five weeks old, she had been rescued off the streets of Hawthorne along with her siblings; she had infected eyes and a nasty URI. But with the proper care and love, Twinkie bounced back quickly and has blossomed with her new adoring family. Her Kitten Rescue foster mom recently received this note from Twinkie's family: "She is doing great and we couldn't be happier having her in our lives. Thank you for what you do and allowing us to adopt her."

When you adopt a "pet without a partner", you will forever make a difference in their life and they are sure to make a difference in yours. •

Twinkie has a happy new home with a family that loves her.

THE YELLOW DOG PROJECT.com

If you see a dog with a YELLOW RIBBON or something yellow on the leash, this is a dog who needs some space. Please do not approach this dog with your dog. Please maintain distance or give this dog and his/her person time to move out of your way.

There are many reasons why a dog may need space:

HEALTH ISSUES
IN TRAINING
BEING REHABILITATED
SCARED OR REACTIVE AROUND OTHER DOGS

THANK YOU!
Those of us who own these dogs appreciate your help and respect!

Doing our part for the drought

20 YEARS OF WATER RECYCLING AND CONSERVATION

For 20 years, West Basin Municipal Water District, a wholesaler water agency, has provided imported and recycled water to nearly 1 million people in 17 cities throughout coastal Los Angeles. Since 1995, West Basin's Board of Directors' sound investments in water recycling and conservation have reduced our per capita water use by 27%.

To date, we have distributed over 300,000 conservation devices, reached 165 billion gallons of recycled water production, and continue to responsibly research ocean-water desalination to ensure a reliable and diverse water supply.

This fourth year of drought requires decisive actions and continued commitment. We can't do it alone. West Basin thanks its water retailers, customers, residents and community members for doing their part in the current drought.
