Marty Stone: From Struggling in Duluth, Minnesota, to Success in El Segundo

By Duane Plank

El Segundo's Marty Stone was raised in Duluth, Minnesota. "Coldest spot in the world," Stone said. "That is why I left when I was 18." Stone and his family left for the warmer confines of Southern California, landing in nearby Lawndale.

Stone did not grow up in the lap of luxury. Here is how he phrased his upbringing in a piece entitled Marty's Story. "I remember the first day I realized how being poor felt like it was yesterday," he wrote. "I had to go to the store to get groceries because my mom was ill. We were on welfare and had to buy with food stamps, and I remember getting to the store and thinking, what if some of my friends saw me buying with food stamps? What will they think? I walked through the entire store before I put anything in a cart and then did that again before checking out.

"From that day on my focus was on changing my life so I never had to feel like that again.

"I became more and more conscious of what I didn't have than what I did have," Stone wrote. "My parents were divorced, but I always knew I was loved, but even that set me apart. At that point, my focus was finding out the quickest way I could change all that, so I did not have to worry anymore about something as simple as buying groceries."

After graduating from high school in the Land of 10,000 Lakes, Stone came to California to unwind and noticed the affordability of attending junior college in the Golden State. "I knew I had to go to college," Stone said, "so that I could break that cycle of poverty." He enjoyed his six weeks or so in the sunshine and was not too keen on returning to Minnesota, but he did. He enrolled at the University of Duluth, but quickly realized that not only was the weather problematic, but the cost of attending college in Minnesota was also problematic for a young man who was subsisting primarily on welfare.

Stone told his mom that he was moving to Southern California as soon as he could swing it. His Mom, Stone said, "never liked it [in Duluth] either," so the Stone family packed up and moved to Lawndale in 1967.

Stone went to school, graduating from El Camino Junior College and then USC. Having to work while in school, he had also garnered a job at a Der Weinershnitzel outlet located on Artesia Boulevard, where he met Bob Green, whose dad was investing with Jack Buckingham. Green's dad was an engineer who was angling to retire early, hoping to make money off real estate investments. Bob's Dad talked Buckingham into giving Stone and Green jobs in his burgeoning real estate business, which would morph into Buckingham Investments. Stone was young, energetic, and happy to score gainful employment during a recession; he and Green did whatever they could to grow the business. Stone later became President and is currently Chairman of the Board.

Stone is semi-retired at this point. "Now it is primarily traveling and babysitting our grandkids," of which he has four. When we chatted a few days ago, he was looking

Island-Hopping the Aegean

Article and photos by Ben & Glinda Shipley

We're pretty sure Greek Island-hopping is a sport for penniless, energetic youth with long, scruffy hair, anorexic eating habits, worn-out backpacks, and threadbare jeans. As an activity, it feels more like hitchhiking than private luxury jet travel. Yet on our 2022 Greek adventure, we only ran into two other couples who were as hard at it as we were, and they shared both our age and relatively benign economic circumstances.

On this trip, we hopped five legendary Aegean islands in twelve days—Naxos, Paros, Santorini, Mykonos, and Tinos. No reservations, no plans, one ferry and walk-up hotel room at a time. April was the perfect month for it too, a little chilly, but empty before the Easter tourist onslaught. Greeks are chatty anyway, but with so little going on, people had nothing better to do than tell us their life stories.

We set as our prototype for the Greek Island-hopper the mythic Odysseus from the ancient Homeric epic, The Odyssey. After the fall of Troy, sometime around 2500BC, Odysseus took ten years to cross the Aegean in a voyage that should have lasted a month or two. This was the Heroic Age, when gods and monsters roamed the earth, full of random surprises for any intrepid voyager who crossed their paths. Odysseus never lost sight of his ultimate goal—a return to Ithaca and the arms of his clever, gorgeous, ultra-faithful wife Penelope—but along the way, he took on

Poor Parenting Equals Poor Future

“It takes a village to raise a child” is an African proverb that has a lot of meaning. But in reality, raising a child to be a good citizen starts at home with good parenting. Last Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. a number of driver’s experienced what our future looks like.

No less than four skateboarders failed to stop at the four-way stop at the intersection of Center Street and Mariposa Ave. Not only were these brash middle-school aged boys riding in the street against traffic, at an estimated 10 mph, they laughed at the drivers and flipped them the middle finger and yelled obscenities at drivers who honked at them. Last time I looked skateboarders are considered pedestrians according to the Vehicle Code and are required to use the sidewalk and are required to follow the rules. Sure wish ESPD would be proactive in monitoring skateboarders otherwise they could be taking more traffic accident reports or worse.

What will it take to teach skateboarders to stay off the road? How about this, confiscate skateboards by the police and let the parents of these selfish boys pick them up at the police station. Maybe the death of one of their friends will be an eye opener when a driver can’t stop in time. How about parents teaching their children what the roadway is and other words than those which start with the letter ‘F’.

Officer Kristoffer Eszlinger Honored

Provided by Gregg McMullin

El Segundo police officer Kristoffer Eszlinger was honored at the 46th Annual South Bay Medal of Valor Awards luncheon. On October 29, 2021 Officer Eszlinger responded to a radio call of an attempted suicide. He was the first on scene and discovered a female victim with large cuts on her wrists, with a weak pulse, lying in a large pool of blood on the kitchen floor. Officer Eszlinger’s training and experience took over and he applied a Combat Application Tourniquet above the injured area. His actions stopped the bleeding before paramedics arrived. EL Segundo Fire paramedics praised Officer Eszlinger for his life-saving actions. It is the second time Officer Eszlinger has been recognized for administering life-saving measures; in 2019 he performed CPR on an elderly man ultimately saving the man’s life. •

The Innocents Genre Bends From Coming of Age Drama to Supernatural Thriller

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy

Screenwriter Eskil Vogt is stepping out from behind his recent Oscar-nominated screenplay (The Worst Person in the World) and into the spotlight as a director for the first time since 2014. Eight years after his directorial debut Blind, Vogt’s reintroduction as a multi-talented filmmaker is a bold one as he channels an atmospheric and darkly surreal coming-of-age story in the Norwegian film, The Innocents.

It’s often said that babies are born good; free from bias, hatred, and general erratic impulses. In a slightly contradictory stance, Vogt himself states, “I think kids are beyond good and evil, or rather, before good and evil. But I don’t think children are little angels, that people are born pure. I think children are born without any sense of empathy or morals, we have to teach them that.”

No matter where you personally lean on the spectrum, it’s still alarming to witness seven-year-old Ida (Rakel Lenora Fløttum) sneakily abuse her older sister Anna (Alva Brynsmo Ramstad), who suffers from a type of “regressive autism.” Unable to use words to communicate her pain—from forearm pinches to broken glass in tennis shoes—it’s heartbreaking to watch Ida be so mean. But why is she acting out in the first place? See Film Review, page 4

Redlocks and the Three Bears by Claudia Rueda

By Kristina Kora-Beckman, Senior Librarian, El Segundo Public Library

This week, I’m reviewing a hilarious fairy tale mashup, Redlocks and the Three Bears by Claudia Rueda. The story opens as you’d expect with a girl trying porridge, chairs and beds with a familiar result but with a twist. As this picture book’s name suggests, an unexpected story character has invaded the bear’s home and problem-solving fun with comical twists abound. The ending had me laughing out loud and eager to read more from Rueda. If you enjoy fairy tales with a twist, or ever wonder what would happen if an author mixed Goldilocks and Little Red Riding Hood, you’ll love Rueda’s latest book. For another fun spin on a traditional folktale, try The Three Little Gators by Helen Ketteman, illustrated by Will Terry.

I love reimagined fairy tales for all ages, particularly ones that reconceive the black and white, good and bad character storylines into dynamic characters that exist in shades of grey, which I feel better reflects the reality we all live day in and day out.

For more funny fairy tale reading recommendations, stop by our adult or youth service desks, Monday – Thursday from 9am-9pm or Friday/Saturday from 10am-5pm. We’d love to hear what you’re reading and share our favorites!

Save the date for our Summer Reading Program for all ages, Read Beyond the Beaten Path, which starts Friday June 10th. More info is available at: <https://www.elsegundolibrary.org/services/summer-reading-program>.

El Segundo Little League Playoffs Begin

By Gregg McMullin

The 2022 El Segundo Little League season is winding down with their end-of-season playoffs. There's nothing like a playoff game, whether at the Major League, collegiate, high school, or Little League level. The atmosphere is the same at each and maybe even a bit more fun at the Little League level for the level, the Bats and Thunder ended up in a tie, but the Thunder will enter the playoffs as the top seed with the tie-breaker in place.

In the Major Division opener, the Cardinals came away with a hard-earned 7-4 win over the A's. The Cardinals' Josh Arieta opened the game with a double and scored on Max Adlam's RBI single. The A's responded in an insurance run in the fourth inning when Charlie Espinosa singled and scored on Adlam's RBI single to make it 7-4.

The Cardinals faced the top-seeded Dodgers last night, with the winner advancing to Championship Saturday on June 4 at 2 p.m. In the other bracket, the Angels faced the Royals this past Monday, with the winner

Film Review

One thought is her aggression is misplaced frustration at her family's decision to move into a new apartment complex, new school district, and forgoing any summer plans due to her father's hectic work schedule.

With nothing but time on her hands, curious Ida spends her sunny summer afternoons taking Anna outside, only to ditch her and explore the grounds of the apartment complex alone. This is where she meets Ben (Sam Ashraf), a boy a little older than herself. He is mysterious but troubled, as if a dark cloud looms over him constantly.

While Ida and Ben are busy making mischief, another young apartment-dwelling neighbor, Aisha (Mina Yasmin Bremseth Asheim), takes up a special friendship with Anna, seemingly able to understand what the non-verbal girl is saying. In fact, when the four of them are together, they are able to conjure up supernatural abilities that start off innocent enough but end up taking a deadly turn. It's all very suspicious.

It isn't long before the four children unite and when they do, the film seemingly shifts tone from coming-of-age drama to supernatural thriller. In a haunting display of childhood trauma being expressed by four 7-11 year-olds, The Innocents genre-bends to a disturbing degree. Beware, the animal cruelty alone is enough to make you shudder.

The Innocents isn't a traditional horror film, but more like the genre's dark and twisted cousin. Using child actors as protagonists, a minimal score, and haunting imagery, The Innocents is a hard pill to swallow but it will no doubt leave a lasting impression. Vogt—who has been a constant collaborator with filmmaker Joachim Trier—is certainly making a name for himself as a director to watch with this whirlwind of a title.

five runs to take a 5-3 lead. Marshall Dame reached on an error, Drew Hall singled, and Josiah Layne smacked an RBI single. Brayden Le and Cayden Avila, Cruz Wagner-Bagues, and Sam Meyers walked, and the Cardinals' five-run rally was in place.

In the third inning, the Dodger tied the game when Jude Hansen singled, Carson Groendal walked, and both scored on a one-out single by Declan McLaughlin. The Cardinals responded with a run to take a 6-5 lead when Griffin Goshi singled and later on in the inning scored on a wild pitch. The Dodgers manufactured two fifth-inning runs when Scotty Nicol and Groendal reached base and scored. The Dodgers held off the Cardinals in the fourth and fifth innings with solid pitching from Jude Hansen and went on for the win. They'll face the Yankees tonight at 5:30 p.m.

The third-seeded Padres, behind the timely hitting of Brandon Diaz, defeated the fifth-seeded Red Sox 8-5. Jason Lauron's two-run double gave the Red Sox a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Booker Thorpe's speed led to another run in the second inning when he doubled, stole third base, and then stole home to give his team a 3-0 lead. The Padres scored two runs when Caden Krumbach singled and scored on Diaz's double. Tony Dwyer's RBI single scored Diaz to cut their deficit to 3-2.

Trailing 4-3 in the fourth inning, the Padres put together a five-run rally. Diaz led off the inning with a double, Levi Robinson drew a walk, Mikey Fennel and Nicolas Grubbs had a single, and Vincent Tornicelli walked. Krumbach's two-run double highlighted the big inning and gave his team an 8-4 lead. The Red Sox scored a sixth-inning run but fell short in their 8-5 loss. The Padres moved onto the next round, where they faced the idle Angels this past Tuesday.

If you get a chance, come out and support Little League baseball during the playoffs. And make plans to attend the Championship on Saturday, June 4, with the first game starting at 9 a.m., followed by the Triple-A game and the Majors game.

Double-A Teams Face-Off

On Tuesday, the Scrappers faced the Iron Birds. On Wednesday, the Marauders and Bats battled, and today at 5 p.m., the Hooks and River Bandits competed against each other at Walton Field. Next Tuesday, the top-seeded Thunder will take on the winner of the Hooks and River Bandit game, while the winners of the Scrappers/Iron Birds and the Marauders/Bats game will face off next Wednesday at 5 p.m. at Walton Field. The winners of each game would advance to Championship Saturday at Brett Field at 9 a.m.

Names in the News

Former El Segundo Little League standout Lars Nootbaar had a big day for his Memphis

Redbirds, the Triple-A affiliate of the St Louis Cardinals. He went 3-for-5 that included hitting three home runs and having seven RBIs in the Redbirds' 10-4 win over the Gwinnett Stripers of the International League. Nootbaar, who is on the 40-man roster of the St Louis Cardinals, is hitting .275 for the Redbirds. •

We even had a visit from a representative from Welcome Wagon. The kids started school, and it was apparent from day one that the teachers loved kids and what they were doing. So how did a kid from Duluth, Minnesota, end up in El Segundo? Green, his Weinershitzel friend, lived in El Segundo, so Stone was familiar with the town, and once he started working 50 years ago, he moved to El Segundo. A move he does not regret. "There is no better place to raise kids than this wonderful little town," he said.

"We knew a lot of the players back then because many of our friends housed players," Stone said. "I would come home from work," Stone reminisced, to find Storr and a half-dozen LA King players playing video games with one of Stone's sons in their family room. "They are really just big kids," Stone said of the King players he met.

Being from Minnesota, a state that worships ice hockey, Stone said that some 25-or-so years ago, many of the Los Angeles Kings players and support staff lived in town, because of the relative housing affordability and proximity to the Kings training center on Nash Street. So, he did his part to support ice hockey. Stone said the King's brass, not wanting to have

Here is what Cadman has to say about his longtime friend: "He sold me many of the commercial real estate that I own in Long Beach. We also coached the El Segundo High School Ice Hockey team long ago. He also served on the El Segundo Senior Citizen Housing Corporation, the entity that runs Park Vista on behalf of the City. "Marty is just a kind, generous person always ready to help those in need. "Our number one thing we like doing is traveling," he said, concluding our 45-minute plus phone interview with sage words that he gleaned from his mentor, Jack Buckingham: "A rich man is a man who knows when he has enough. And that is the way I live my life."

Notice To Potential Bidders: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. Notice To Property Owner: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call (877) 440-4460 or visit this Internet Web site www.mkconsultantsinc.com, using the file number assigned to this case 220203031. Information about postponements that are very short in duration or that occur close in time to the scheduled sale may not immediately be reflected in the telephone information or on the Internet Web site. The best way to verify postponement information is to attend the scheduled sale. Notice To Tenant: You may have a right to purchase this property after the trustee auction pursuant to Section 2924m of the California Civil Code. If you are an "eligible tenant buyer," you can purchase the property if you match the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. If you are an "eligible bidder," you may be able to purchase the property if you exceed the last and highest bid placed at the trustee auction. There are three steps to exercising this right of purchase. First, 48 hours after the date of the trustee sale, you can call (877) 440-4460, or visit this internet website site www.tssales.info, using the file number assigned to this case 220203031 to find the date on which the trustee's sale was held, the amount of the last and highest bid, and the address of the trustee. Second, you must send a written notice of intent to place a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 15 days after the trustee's sale. Third, you must submit a bid so that the trustee receives it no more than 45 days after the trustee's sale. If you think you may qualify as an "eligible tenant buyer" or "eligible bidder," you should consider contacting an attorney or appropriate real estate professional immediately for advice regarding this potential right to purchase. Tuesday, June 21, 2022, 6:00 pm

 City Council Chamber
 350 Main Street
 El Segundo, CA 90245

Project Description: The City recently committed to a major effort to identify all of the City's capital needs through General Plan build-out and calculate a full schedule of development impact fees through a nexus study report on development impact fees with which to finance the proportional share of development-generated capital needs. These capital additions are necessary in order to preserve the existing Levels of Service currently offered to and enjoyed by the existing community from the diminution of those existing Levels of Service due to the addition of new residential and business development in the City of El Segundo. Also, to calculate the development impact fees necessary to finance those required projects.

A written development impact fee study justifying the new and/or increased fees is available for public review on the City's website www.elsegundo.org and is at the Office of the City Clerk located at City Hall, 350 Main Street El Segundo, CA 90245.

All persons wishing to appear for or against the proposed fees are directed to attend the hearing or file a statement in writing with the Office of the City Clerk, 350 Main Street El Segundo, CA 90245 prior to the hearing.

If you wish to challenge this action in court, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else rose at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City Council and/or City Clerk's Office, at, or prior to, the public hearing.

Upon City Council approval, the new and/or adjusted fees will take effect September 1, 2022.

If you have any questions, please contact the Finance Department at 310-524-2318.

Environmental Determination: The proposed development impact fee schedule is exempt from further review.

Further Information: Please submit written communication regarding this project to taxinquiries@elsegundo.org by 5:00 PM on June 10, 2022. El Segundo Herald Pub. 5/19, 5/26/22 H-27576

the wild, arbitrary challenges that life threw at him and somehow found a way through each of them.

Thanks to the superb ships of Blue Star Ferries and the guidance of the iPhone Ferry Hopper App, our voyages caused us far less stress than Odysseus and his crew endured. But as experiences go, our twelve days overflowed with unexpected little bits of serendipity. A few of the stories we lived (and heard) along the way:

Fira—a girl, a steep mule staircase, and a cruise ship.

Naxos:

A gazillion years ago, the beautiful princess Ariadne of Minoan was abandoned on the shore here by her escort Theseus. A passing sailor spotted her, fell in love, and settled in to farm the island. One day, he found a new type of vine that aimlessly crawled the ground, but had climbed into and nearly choked off a lone fig tree. The sailor loved his figs, so he cut back the vine, whereupon it began to sprout copious bunches of ultra-sour green fruit. As the fruits ripened in the blazing summer sun, they turned a lush purple, and the juices inside began to ferment into an irresistible alcoholic drink.

Thus the origin of the wine trade. All manner of sin and debauchery followed and elevated the sailor, Dionysius, to the status of a deity. We went looking for the god of pleasure in the sleepy mid-island village of Filoti, but all we found were some of his finest wines and the fiery absinthe the locals bottle as Kitro.

Paros:

Somehow, in the fiery geological soup that produced the Aegean, a massive hunk of staggeringly pure, almost translucent marble erupted from the waters opposite Naxos. No one knows much about the history of the exquisite Venus de Milo (currently resident in the Louvre Museum of Paris), but you can still find the quarry she came from on the northern end of this island. Parian marble is one of those exotic world-class standards that no one has been able to attain anywhere else.

And speaking of impossible standards and exquisite beauty, Paros was the home of the legendary saint of the Greek Revolution, Manto Mavrogenous. This wealthy woman died penniless here in 1848 after giving her life and all of her riches to the cause of Greek independence from the Ottoman Empire. You can still find her modest, private home on Paros Port.

Fira/Thera (Santorini):

The loudest sound ever recorded by human instruments was the 310 decibels registered in 1883 during the eruption of the Indonesian island of Krakatoa. Yet sometime around 1650BC, the volcano that formed Santorini might have been three times as loud. The pressure wave circled the earth multiple times and utterly destroyed the Minoan civilization on the island of Crete (120 km away). Massive piles of volcanic rock created exotic new islands all over the Aegean Sea.

Today, the semi-circular island of Santorini represents half of the caldera—or volcano rim—from that catastrophe, with steep, black precipices shooting out of the sea and topped by a long, curving string of whitewashed villages. If you want to offend the locals, use the Venetian name for the island, Santorini—otherwise call it Thira or, if you must, the Anglo version, Thera. To really impress people, stick to the local name, Fira. It's not as complicated as it sounds.

Mykonos:

Even more than the honeymooner's paradise of Fira, this rock in the middle of nowhere exists almost entirely for the entertainment of foreigners. Its main attraction—miles of hyper-organized beaches lined with chaises-lounges, many of them clothing optional—would hardly catch the fancy of a southern California beach bum. And when eating out here, you have to work hard at escaping the tourist industry. Our hotelier, for example, directed our attention to the many fine restaurants on the harbor—but when we returned full of simulated outrage at her choices, quickly made good with an out-of-the-way local joint with food we won't soon forget.

The best thing about Mykonos, apart from the easy sex with foreigners—not something we were looking for—is the bars. Mykonos is the only place in all of Greece (as far as we know) where you don't have to teach the bartender how to make a true American martini. And that might count for something.

Tinos:

At 11:30 AM, the local boats hadn't come in with the daily catch (the "big fish"), so the owner of our favorite tavern, ΑΓΚΥΡΑ, hoped we could make do with tiny grilled pilchard and deep-fried anchovies (both headless, thank the gods). We added the classic Greek dip, Tzatziki (sour cream-garlic-herbs-more garlic), and he threw in a thick, native her-ring paste for good measure. We were too early in the season for the local Assyrtiko, a spectacular white wine served young and chilled, but he had a few bottles left over from the prior year. So we spent a couple of hours watching the storms and ferries come and go, until it was our turn to return to Athens and the real world.

Bucket Lists:

There are thousands of islands in the Greek archipelago, around 200 of them inhabited and worth a visit. We've now knocked off seven, but we have friends who've visited two per year for the last twenty-odd years. Each island is entirely unique in its history, topography, and people, but for purposes of island-hopping can be loosely grouped into the East (Aegean Sea), South (Mediterranean Sea around Crete), and West (Ionian/ Adriatic Seas).

We usually sail out of Piraeus, the harbor outside of Athens, but you can just as easily ferry out of Patras in Western Greece, Istanbul in Turkey, or Brindisi in Italy. For travelers who like to hyper-organize their trips into check lists of palaces and monuments with the least time wasted in between, this probably isn't the vacation for you. But if you want to bring down your blood pressure while meandering through 4,000 years of random, serendipitous, occasionally true, but always fascinating history, welcome to the islands. You might just refuse to leave. •

Naxos—ready to race the delivery trucks off the ship.

Tinos—your ferry awaits, storm or shine.

Mykonos—the Little Venice neighborhood left behind by the Italians.

Kitten Rescue rescues cats and kittens from a variety of situations. Most live in our volunteers' homes and those volunteers foster them until we can find permanent homes for them. Young or old, tabby or Maine Coon, we care for orphaned and abandoned kittens that need to be bottle-fed around the clock, moms with litters, cats that need socialization, and sick or injured animals. When they are finally ready for their forever home, we will help match you with the purr-fect one. When you adopt, you save a life... and in turn enrich your own.

Jackie is a fun and affectionate orange tabby girl who is quite rare, in that only one in five orange tabby cats are girls. Jackie loves to play with her wand toy and her cactus cat tree. She is a quick and agile kitty and will fly around the room chasing feathers. Do you like cuddly cats? Then Jackie's the girl for you! She loves nothing more than to be involved in what her human is doing at all times. Whether it is jumping on your lap while you're on the couch, rubbing her face all over your phone while you're playing on it, randomly jumping up on your shoulders, or just plain old bedtime cuddles, Jackie loves being near, or on, her human. If you're looking for a hugely affectionate cat, then Jackie will fit in perfectly with you and will bring endless joy and furry comfort to your life.

Miss Fanny is one of our very own Southern Belles! She will welcome you home with sweet rural charm, fixin' to snuggle right up on that warm ol' lap of yours. Miss Fanny is soft, affectionate, and sweeter than honey. She is very confident and will not take "no" for an answer when it comes to cuddling. Miss Fanny loves to play and romp, is interested in all sorts of toys, especially tiny mice with a bit of a rattle. She was born into foster care and is very people focused. Miss Fanny would love to be adopted with one of her sisters, Miss Rita or Miss Heidi, or to a home with a young, active kitty.

Fiona is young, petite, and charming little lady who loves to cuddle, be held, carried and snooze in your arms! This little fairy princess flits and whizzes about your ankles, always there with you or racing towards the door to meet you. Fiona has a sparkly personality and adores her people. She is also incredibly food motivated and loves a good treat. She has a mild play drive yet enjoys relaxing just as much as playtime. Fiona would like an adult cat friend who does not have too much energy.

Rain is a sweet, sleek, black beauty who loves attention and affection. She has a chill side and playful side which make her the ideal kitty companion. Rain loves nothing more than a cuddle session with people. She will be your tv watching buddy and your nap buddy. Fiona also likes to play with her cat toys and leap into the air after the feather wand. Rain can be adopted into a single pet household or adopted together with her buddy, Willow, or adopted into a home with an existing friendly cat. Please come meet this black beauty to see for yourself what a great kitty she is.

Dame Von Purriwinkle, madam of all purrs and pets, is a confident little floofer who will greet you at the door. Purriwinkle loves to sit on your lap, snuggle, and relax with adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

Our Adoption Center is temporarily closed. In the meantime, we are still conducting contactless adoptions using all the online tools at our disposal. To virtually browse our adoptable cats, please visit our Adoption Gallery where you can find photos and profiles of all the cats and kittens we have up for adoption from our network of foster homes and from the Sanctuary. At the end of each cat's profile is a link to the email address of the foster parent or adoption counselor, and you may reach out directly with questions or to arrange a virtual meeting.

The donations and support we receive from individuals like you, who share our love and commitment to helping cats and kittens in Los Angeles, are the sole reason we are able to do what we do. We are grateful for your financial help. By making even a small donation today, you can touch the lives of the many deserving, wonderful animals in our care. There are many ways you can donate and help, and every dollar means so much. Kitten Rescue is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 3519 Casitas Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90039.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •
