ES Planning Commissioner Jay Hoeschler Plans a Lengthy Stay in El Segundo

Story by Duane Plank

El Segundo's Jay Hoeschler said that he relocated to our gem of a town for a simple reason: The El Segundo Unified School District. And now that his two daughters have passed through the school system, Hoeschler said that he and wife Reba and dog Eloise see no reason to leave the friendly confines of El Segundo.

Like some folks approached to star in a renowned El Segundo Herald profile, Hoeschler said that he was initially not too keen to participate in the process. But, after first contacting him three or so months ago, the El Segundo City Planning Commission member finally agreed to be interviewed.

A couple of neighbors had nominated Hoeschler to be the subject of a story. "I am not super-happy with being in the lime-light," Hoeschler shared, "but I am happy to participate."

Hoeschler said that he lived in Manhattan Beach in the early 2000s when his eldest daughter was approaching her high school years. After considering the local high-schooling options for his daughters, Jay and Reba decided to move a few miles North and take advantage of what they considered the benefits of the ESUSD. A move that they have never regretted.

A University of Arizona graduate, Hoeschler moved to Los Angeles in the mid-'80s to further his chosen career in graphic design and advertising. He said he also did some art schooling in the Denver, Colorado environs, which, he wryly noted, happened to be in the near vicinity of some primo snow ski slopes, the powder of which he could take frequent advantage of.

Hoeschler has always been a proponent of participating in outdoor activities. Look up his profile page on LinkedIn, and you will see him posed next to one of the eight bikes that he and Reba own, with different style bikes suited for Strand cruising, tooling around the confines of the city or tackling the more rugged terrains of the mountains.

As mentioned, Hoeschler is a graphic designer by trade, and he worked for other companies before starting his own company, Avid Trails, in 2014, with founding partner Justin Lax.

Hoeschler said that he surveyed the situation at that time in his life and decided that there was a niche opening for his creative design talents that could be meshed with his love of outdoor endeavors. And, according to Hoeschler, no other firm was filling that

Katie Hamilton Helps Deliver Babies at Home During Covid

By Kiersten Vannest

There were over 100,000 births in LA County during the pandemic. Hospitals became filled with Covid patients, stay-at-home orders were implemented, and we didn't quite know how the disease was spreading or if babies and mothers were more vulnerable. So what happened with all the quarantine babies?

Katie Hamilton, a midwife serving the South Bay area, will tell you that she saw a massive influx of home births. "Every midwife [was] slammed," says Hamilton, "I would have five, six phone calls a day right at the peak of Covid." On top of requests for home birth assistance, Hamilton is always on call for questions and phone calls for her clients, and she checks in with them throughout their pregnancy and after birth. All in all, Hamilton's schedule is constantly full of new clients and their babies, especially over the last year. If that weren't enough, Hamilton just had a baby of her last year. So on top of assisting South Bay moms in their homes, she's raising her little one.

Despite the workload, Hamilton knew she wanted to be a midwife since she was fifteen. Originally born in England, Hamilton was an only child until her mother got pregnant in her new marriage. Helping her mother through the pregnancy and birth journey piqued her interest in

Ode to Acacia Park and Pool Fond Memories of My Childhood In El Segundo

By Tim Wheeler

Acacia Park and Pool, a longtime fixture of El Segundo's west side, passed away into history on January 20, 2021. Although its passing was not unexpected, the 60 something symbol of neighborhood pride was felled by the repeated crushing blows from a jackhammer. The time of death, officially announced by Father Time, was 8:00 a.m.

Over the course of its lifetime, Acacia Pool was the summer place for several genera-done away with when the City moved the playground equipment to the center of the park and posted a No Ball Playing sign on the building that housed the bathrooms.

Our park and pool were a safe place for parents to send their children, mostly unsupervised. Their only rule, a universal rule all over town, "Be home before the street lights come on."

The highlight of every swim day was when the lifeguard would blow the whistle, signaling for all kids to exit the pool.

tions of west side kids, especially those of us who did not have a cement pond in their backyard. I call this collective group The OAP or Original Acacia Park'ers.

The adjacent park was available year-round. Originally named Acacia Parkette, the playground toys and sandbox were located along the western property line, leaving a full grass field for which the Baby Boomer Age kids made full use, especially in the 1960s and into the '70s.

Kids from the '60s formed the AFL (Acacia Football League) as tackle and touch football games were almost daily during the fall and winter seasons. Another popular sport that was played at our park was some form of baseball. Games such as Over the Line, Work Up, and the most popular, Wiffle Ball, were played on our field. All games were played under special Acacia Park ground rules that we created.

The bushes at the north end of the park had these purple berries attached to them, making them the weapons of mass destructions of many a tee shirt whenever someone yelled, "Berry Fight!" Our OAP field was

After pouring a copious amount of liquid chlorine into the water, all the kids would then sit along the edges of the pool and delightfully perform the "Chlorine Kick." Ask any adult today that ever swam at our pool as a kid what they remember most; the answer most likely will be said chlorine kick. Another mainstay and forever memory of our pool is that of Mr. Elephant, the painted elephant head that adorned the pool's water fill pipe.

I, along with three others, were at the park on demolition day sharing memories such as those described above, including a quick game of Wiffle Ball and then performing one final ceremonial chlorine kick on behalf of all OAPers everywhere.

Acacia Pool is survived by its granddaddy, The Urho Saari Swim Stadium aka "The Plunge," its sibling, Hilltop Park and Pool next to the water tower, several generations of OAPers, and Mr. Elephant.

I've seen the plans for the "New" Acacia Park, and I believe the current residents of town will enjoy what the City has drawn up. Just remember to tell your kids... "Be home before the street lights come on." •

Your Neighborhood Therapist

Dear Neighborhood Therapist:

I am struggling with a major decision that I have to make in about a month. Whatever I choose is going to have long term effects, and I am feeling paralyzed. I cannot stop thinking about this decision, weighing the pros and cons, and making lists. But I feel like I am no further along than I was when I first started to ponder it. I am afraid I'm going to wait until the last minute, and then make the wrong decision and end up regretting it for the rest of my life. Is there some way around this?

- Fearing Regret, Hawthorne

vowing to make the best of it and wondering what would have happened had you made a different decision. As life progresses, one path leads to another path, more choices and more paths not taken. We face countless choices about who to date, what to study, where to live, what job to take. This, for many of us, creates that gnawing, lingering uncertainty of the inevitable regret. There are so many other choices we could have made where things would have turned out differently.

Despite those "No Regrets" slogans you see around sometimes, regret is inevitable. The idea that we should - or even possibly could - have no regrets is to assert that there has never been a time when we were faced with more than one good option in any situation (which we get every time we go to an ice cream store, for example).

We do the best we can, forced to make some decisions under pressure, or with little information. We regret things we said, and things we didn't say, or talking to the wrong person. Perhaps we are not that good at talking about regret and disappointment after all.

You cannot take both paths at the same time. Regret, then, is a real possibility. But it's more than that. It's baked in. If you have made the best decision you possibly could, given the info available to you, your circumstances, and interests, then I suspect that may provide a very strong shield from the arrows of regret.

Please write to tom@tomandrecounseling.com or text to 310.776.5299 with questions about handling what is affecting your life, your family, the community or the world. Dear Fearing Regret,

The short answer is no, there is no way "around" it. The longer, and I hope somewhat more satisfying answer, is that while you cannot avoid regret, you can learn to live with it, because you are no doubt already living with regret. We all are. It's part of being human.

Imagine standing at the top of a very deep valley, and the path diverges down either side. You can continue down one side or the other, but not both. You can see some of what lies ahead, but eventually both paths disappear around the bend, and you don't know what comes next. Though the paths are each different, each is also appealing in its own way.

You know that as you walk down your chosen side, you will see the path across the valley, and you may well continue to wonder if that might not have been a better choice. Maybe it would have been! So you wonder: is it better over there? Should I have chosen the other path?

Perhaps the only way to know the answer to this question is to retrace your steps. But often, you are too far down the path for that to make sense. And so you continue forward,

Plans for “The Plunge” Move Forward

By Liz Spear

In a 3-2 vote, the El Segundo City Council opted at its regularly scheduled meeting Tuesday night to move forward with plans to redesign the city’s legendary Urho Saari Swim Stadium, fondly known as “The Plunge.” The stadium was built in 1940 and named after a highly regarded swim coach who came to El Segundo in 1941 and coached US Olympic water polo and swim teams, and the aging two-pool facility is frequently closed for repairs and in need of renovation. The 3-2 vote authorizes city staff to return to City Council with a proposed agreement for the next phase of design services.

Tuesday night, City Council was presented with plans for three different renovation options at various price points. Staff from the Mith n Architect agency gave options ranging in cost from $3,970,551-$8,433,063 based on the level of work selected. City staff noted that approximately $2,500,000 is available for the Plunge renovation project. Additional funding will need to be obtained.

Mayor Drew Boyles and City Council member Lance Giroux did not vote to move forward with the renovation project, sticking to their guns to be provided with more precise financial information on the costs to build and operate any of the three renovation options presented. Boyles’ concerns centered on a cost study on recreation programs currently in progress that is expected to be completed in two months. He said his “No” vote was “because I think it would be more responsible to do the study first.”

Council members Carol Pirsztuk, Scott Nicol, and Mayor Pro Tem Chris Pimentel voted to authorize city staff to negotiate a consultant contract for engineering design services for the swim stadium’s renovation.

“I do feel that, you know, this pool is iconic for El Segundo,” said Pirsztuk, “and memories are made at pools like this, and memories from a lot of people, myself. And I’m sure that if we rebuild, many more memories would be made. It’s important. I know it seems like a big-ticket item, but if we don’t build something, if we don’t have a plan and build it, we will never get it.”

“And I think one of the concerns that I’ve had is that we have been wanting to fix this Plunge for many, many years. And it kept being pushed off and pushed off and pushed off, and that’s why the Aquatics Center was even designed, was because it kept getting pushed off. We have to, at some point, invest in our community. And this is a community pool, and I think it’s real important that we do invest in this pool,” she explained.

“So, I think, we have to try for our community. Because if we just turn away from this, we’re going to have a lot of people that are going to be upset because we did promise this community that we would fix this Plunge.”

The people did not want the Aquatics Center on the east side of Sepulveda, PCH and the promise was that we would do The Plunge. And we cannot turn back on that promise.”

In other news from Tuesday night, City Manager Scott Mitnick said the city would acknowledge Juneteenth, the oldest nationally celebrated commemoration of the ending of slavery in the United States, with a proclamation at its next meeting on June 15th. Tuesday night, the city clerk read emails from several residents asking for a Juneteenth proclamation during public comment. Juneteenth originated in Galveston, Texas, in 1865, marked by the observance of June 19th as the African American Emancipation Day, and now commemorates African American freedom and emphasizes education and achievement.

City Council also delivered special presentations marking June as LGBTQ+ Pride Month, hearing in person in council chambers from a youth resident who thanked the city for doing so and from El Segundo resident and screenwriter/TV personality John Pickhaver via Zoom.

The meeting began with El Segundo resident Shelly Effler presenting the city council with her concerns about the gym project at See City Council, page 7

Eagles Shock Soccer World with CIF Championship

By Gregg McMullin

Inside the El Segundo high school gymnasium is home to banners hanging high on the walls, depicting league championships and CIF championships. It just got a little more crowded with the girl’s soccer team’s shocking 2-1 win over previously undefeated San Dimas in the CIF Southern Section Division 4 in the CIF-SS finals. It was the first for the girl’s program, and the third soccer CIF championship for the school; the boys won back-to-back CIF championships in 2018 and 2019.

El Segundo’s road to the finals started with a third-place finish in the Pioneer League and ended as the Cinderella team invited to the big dance. The Eagles’ grueling playoff schedule saw them take three long bus rides, two matches that went to overtime, and face three of the top four seeded teams. They trailed in three of the five matches. The Eagles extended one game that went into overtime with a goal in the last thirty seconds of stoppage time. It wasn’t fate but rather the team’s sheer determination that came from the entire roster; this indeed was a team with destiny on its side.

In the finals, the Eagles would travel to San Dimas to face the top-ranked and undefeated (19-0) Saints. This was the classic David and Goliath tale where the Eagles weren’t supposed to survive, but this team didn’t get that memo and played brilliantly. In front of a crowd of an estimated 950 fans, the Eagles were loose and filled with confidence. Head coach Skip Jones said, while his team warmed up before the game, “They’re ready, and they’ve earned the opportunity to play for a title, and they aren’t intimidated by whoever they face.”

San Dimas, which boasts a couple of Division 1 commits, including UCLA-bound attacking midfielder Ally Lemos, pressured the El Segundo defense and controlled most of the first half. But the Eagles responded with the game’s first score. Michaela Turner spun a defender and fired off the upper right netting for a 1-0 lead in the 15th minute. “I had a clear shot and made it count,” she said.

the middle school she lives near. Effler explained that the school district had been at work on the gym project since 2019, and yet residents who would be impacted by the gym only heard about the project in March 2021.

In COVID-19 news, city staff said El Segundo is on herd immunity's "low side", with 74% of residents vaccinated. Staff also noted that the city is presently planning for its annual July 4th festivities and advised residents to sign up for CA Notify so that individuals would be notified if they'd been in contact with someone who tested positive for the coronavirus.

In keeping with a growing trend to hold city elections on even-numbered statewide general election years in November, City Council opted to move its next scheduled election from March 2022 to November 2022 and to continue with elections coinciding with the statewide November elections moving forward.

City Council also decided to opt to align with AB 571, which sets a default limit for political campaign contributions as state law and would save the city money because campaign contribution oversight would switch from the city to the Fair Political Practices operation. The FPPC campaign donation limits are slightly higher than the current El Segundo contributions limit, but the city council noted the city's limit was set in 2008.

Council member Pirsztuk gave a shout-out to graduates and a thank you to city board members. Nicol brought up the city's senior housing board and said the council could expect to hear from them due to concerns on "very specific items" and that a discussion of Park Vista would need to take place.

Pirsztuk also noted that each city board should have the opportunity to make a presentation to the city council once a quarter on a regular schedule.

Boyles called for legislative information of interest to the community to be communicated publicly. Mitnick said perhaps city staff could add "Legislative Updates" to the city newsletter.

The next city council meeting is scheduled for June 15th, beginning at 6 p.m. Then the council will take July and August off, with meetings scheduled if they become necessary. •

2020 City of El Segundo Urban Water Management Plan Update: Public Notice
The Urban Water Management Planning Act (AB 797) and Assembly Bill 2661 (AB 2661) respectively, require all urban water suppliers who provide water to more than 3,000 customers, to prepare and adopt an Urban Water Management Plan (UWMP) every five years. Our last plan was adopted in 2015/2016. The 2020 plan, which includes data through the end of 2020, is required to be adopted by July 2021. As mandated, the City of El Segundo, in coordination with the West Basin Municipal Water District (WBMWD), is making the draft 2020 Plan available for public review in May 2021. Any interested parties can request information or leave comments with the City's Public Works Department.
Since the original act's passage in 1983, several amendments have been added. One of the most recent changes includes legislative requirements set forth by SBX7-7 or the 20x2020 Water Conservation Plan, which calls for a 20 percent per capita water use reduction by the year 2020. The City's reduced water use targets were introduced in the 2010 UWMP and met in the 2020 Plan update. The City is currently in compliance with SBX7-7 requirements.
A public hearing will be held in June/ July 2021 to present the final plan to City Council and allow for public comment on the Plan update. The date of the hearing is to be determined.

Katie Hamilton

midwifery, and with the birth of her first child, Hamilton pursued a degree in midwifery.

After some mentoring by other midwives and working in a birth center in Utah, Hamilton has delivered hundreds of babies and has run the gamut of pregnancy complications. She knows what to look for and how to handle the birthing process in a safe and calm way.

What is the difference between a midwife, a doula, and a doctor? A doula is a trained professional, but not a medical professional, who aides and assists emotionally and physically during and after the pregnancy. Midwives have medical training and can provide services like antibiotics, sutures, and emergency care. Doctors are trained with a full medical degree and can provide more complicated services with the resources of a hospital.

Hamilton has close relationships with South Bay hospitals and medical centers and has assisted births in a hospital many times. If an emergency arises that requires more than she can administer at home, she refers her patients to the nearest hospital to undergo more complex medical treatment. But, says Hamilton, this is rare.

“If you’re healthy and your pregnancy is deemed low-risk, midwifery is a very reasonable if not safer option in the United States today.” She says she sees excellent outcomes with healthy, low-risk mothers who choose to give birth at home. Currently, compared to other first-world countries, the United States has the highest maternal mortality rate. For black women, that rate is more than two times as high in America. This is often because of a lack of woman-centered birthing processes.

“Labor just tends to be a lot more smooth and straightforward when it’s women-centered and not being managed like it’s a medical problem,” she says. Hamilton explains that while she has good relationships with doctors and hospitals, the typical birth procedure in a hospital is slightly counterintuitive to the natural birthing process for an otherwise healthy labor. Labor inducing is common in hospitals that want to shorten the length of the birth, as well as epidurals, and the lights are kept on full brightness the entire time. At her time in hospitals, she’s heard men joke of “husband stitches,” which is adding an extra stitch or two if the woman tears during birth to make her a little “tighter.” All of these procedures can lead to associated medical issues that aren’t typically present with natural childbirth.

With the options to walk around, eat, and move at home, mothers may give birth as mammals might normally, says Hamilton. With the lights dim, the option of a birth tub, and a caring and supportive team around her, mothers can let labor take its natural course with the help of trained professionals.

In her time, though she’s been there for the highs of having a baby, she’s also been present for the lows. She’s helped many mothers go through complications, stillbirths, and miscarriages. She explains that there are a lot of tears sometimes and that her goal is to keep everyone as calm and supported as possible.

As for the benefits of home birth, Hamilton says she sees healthy relationships, positive self-image, and low postpartum depression, which she says trickles into our community. Asked how she’s able to keep going back to such a physically and emotionally demanding job, Hamilton says this: “It sounds cheesy, but I do believe that peace on earth begins at birth.” • void, so he dove in and has not regretted taking the entrepreneurial leap.

Before starting Avid Trails, Hoeschler said he met with one of the foremost experts on designing outdoor trails and soon partnered with Lax to go into business.

Lax is listed on the company's website as the president, with Hoeschler billed as the design director and Troy Duffin as the technical director. Lax, who has known Hoeschler for a dozen years, said that the partnership continues to thrive.

"Jay is an incredible business partner," Lax said. "I tell people all the time how grateful I am to have such a dedicated, passionate, hardworking, and experienced business partner. He is remarkably skilled at not only the creative work we do at Avid Trails but managing client relationships and keeping things highly organized. Jay also seems always to know the right thing to say and do in a moment of crisis, which is extremely helpful to our entire team. He makes work fun and enjoyable for all of us."

"Well, I am not sure it is appropriate to talk about age here, but I am in my thirties while Jay is in his 50s. My first point on that is how I am always amazed that Jay has as much energy, passion, and endurance as any of my contemporaries at this stage in life. He is up before anyone I know and either working or working out, and he always pushes himself to produce the best work product and creative thinking for our clients no matter how much work it takes. He also constantly pushes himself physically with exercise and outdoor pursuits, which I think has a lot to do with how he stays so sharp. My second point on the age difference is that obviously, Jay is a mentor to me on every level of professional life. His experience and wisdom have helped me immensely, and I know I can always count on him to provide good advice when needed."

Hoeschler Compiling a Little 'Research.

Again, I am incredibly lucky to have him as a partner, mentor, and friend."

Hoeschler calls Avid Trails "A passion project. We work hard to create beautiful trails that fit naturally in the landscape and take people to places that would otherwise be difficult to get to. One of the highest compliments we get when building a new trail is hearing someone say, 'It seems like that trail has always been there.' It's a good feeling to know our trail planning and building helps people get outside and enjoy nature."

"I have the best job in the world," he said.

While not working his day (and probably night) job with Avid Trails, Hoeschler has served on the city of El Segundo's Planning Commission for the past four years.

Ryan Baldino chairs that commission and was, for a time, a neighbor of Hoeschler's. Baldino called Hoeschler "a valuable part of the commission. He brings advocacy (to the commission) about the South Bay Bicycle program." Baldino said that Hoeschler is very adept at asking probing questions about what a proposed project "is all about. Jay brings a level of intelligence and a sense of humor to the process."

Speaking of Hoeschler's neighbors, Libby Barr emailed that "I have known Jay since 2017 when we moved in across the street from him. I saw him out front talking to my dad and wearing a backpack. I was fairly sure he was selling something and tried to steer clear of him for as long as possible until my dad called me out front. We quickly became good friends. Good enough friends that when one night I needed to go to the hospital, we knocked on his door at 3 a.m., and he came over and then proceeded to watch our kids for the following day as well.

"He is a dynamic guy involved in the city planning commission, has an interesting small business that he started, enjoys bicycling, great sense of humor, brews beer, and is quite handy.

A true renaissance man! He has a passion for El Segundo and a real zest for life."

Hoeschler neighbor Neal Von Flue chimed in: "I've known Jay for a few years now. Jay is not only a talented graphic designer and trail builder, but a deeply committed member of the El Segundo Community. His work on various city committees and volunteerism around the city, as well as his friendliness, make him a true asset to the community."

As an avid proponent of and participant in outdoor activities, Hoeschler has participated in multiple triathlons, solo-hiked the John Muir trail, a trek of over 200 miles, and scaled the heights of Mt. Whitney, the mountains peak poking into the ozone at about 14,500 feet, four times.

As for more indoor pursuits, Hoeschler crafts IPA brewskis, which he gifts to his neighbors during the Holiday season to help grease the skids for December festivities.

Hoeschler said he cherishes the interactions that he has with his neighbors, noting that those neighbors range from those who have been ensconced in El Segundo for more than fifty years, to those families who are fairly new arrivals.

"We are so fortunate that we have awesome neighbors," he said.

And Hoeschler related that, as a Planning Commissioner, he is tasked with looking forward as, hopefully, the scourge of COVID-19 continues to abate. He said that he hopes, as California opens up, that "We have changed, and spend more time outside."

Hoeschler said that, looking to the future as a Planning Commissioner, that the evolving city of El Segundo administrators will continue to implement "smart planning" and continue to stress "quality of life."

It appears that the city of El Segundo is fortunate to have folks like Jay Hoeschler mapping out the future of our city. •

The Saints didn't allow El Segundo to celebrate too long and responded with their own goal in the 16th minute. Ally Lemos sent a long free-kick that found Jordan

Eagles celebrated their first CIF title with their 2-1 win. The team, with so much to prove to the soccer world, had just brought down Goliath.

Chelsie Charles scored the winning goal in El Segundo's 2-1 win over top-seeded San Dimas in the CIF Southern Section Division 4 finals. Crooymans unmarked near the left goal. Crooymans' shot ricocheted to the far right post, and freshman Reagan Parkhill fought through traffic to beat defenders and tap the ball across the line for the equalizer, tying the match at 1-1.

Parkhill had another opportunity to score near the end of the first half but couldn't finish the breakaway with a block by Natacha Lee. "That was a heart-stopper," said Coach Jones.

The Saints had other opportunities in the first half to score, but Eagle goalie Nili Kovacs came up with four saves, including one that nearly bounced over her outstretched arms. The Saints also sent three attempts over the net.

Chelsie Charles had been El Segundo's hero throughout the CIF Southern Section Division 4 soccer playoffs. She scored the game-winning or game-tying goals in each of the team's first four wins, and she saved her biggest goal for the CIF finals.

With the score tied 1-1, Charles got loose down the right side and didn't waste it, scoring the eventual game-winner with 10 minutes to play. She scored in the 70th minute on a pass from Michaela Turner. Charles, whose postseason highlights included scoring the game-winning goal in victories over Hacienda Heights Wilson and Temescal Canyon, knew she had a golden opportunity to score. "I drew the goalie out and beat the defense and just wanted to hit the ball solidly." The goal set off a brief celebration by the Eagles and their faithful supporters.

CJ Hardy's 37 points paced the Eagle's 71-67 win over Norco in the second round of the CIF-SS Division 3A playoffs.

In the 72nd minute, Lemos initially tied the game with a goal, but it was negated by an off-sides call. El Segundo had two other scoring attempts that just missed in the final seven minutes. Charles raced down a breakaway pass that got away, and her attempt was blocked. The other was an attempt by Turner, which sailed just wide.

In the closing moments, El Segundo's defense came through by tying up the passing lanes and thwarting shot attempts, and the

On Tuesday in the first round of the CIF Southern California Regional, the Eagles played host to Escondido's Classic Academy, the San Diego Section Division 4 champion. A win would send them to the semi-finals today, with the finals set for Saturday.

CJ Hardy Leads Eagles to Playoff Wins

The Eagles behind CJ Hardy's game high 36 points derailed the Ayala Bulldogs 68-53 in the first round of the CIF Southern Section Division 3A playoffs. The Eagles opened the game up with a 6-0 run and went on to a 21-8 first-quarter lead. They did it with hot shooting from Hardy and Gideon Telahun and two three-pointers by Leo Cagan.

In the third quarter, the Bulldogs clawed back into the game after being down by as many as 14 points. Jermaine Rogers, who led the Bulldogs with 20 points, connected on a three-pointer to cut El Segundo's lead to four points. CJ Hardy scored 15 of his team's 18 third-quarter points, connected on a three-pointer, and scored on an acrobatic

Michael Jordan type layup to stretch the lead back to nine points. In the fourth quarter, Hardy went the distance with a powerful slam dunk that brought admiration even from his opponents. The Eagles went on to win easily and advanced to play at Norco on the road. The Eagles survived the second game with a 71-67 win paced by CJ Hardy's 37 points.

The Eagles went on the road Tuesday to face top-seeded Shalhevet. A win would send them into the CIF Southern Section Division 3A semi-finals on Friday night, most likely at home, at 7 p.m.

Lady Eagles Bow out in First Round

The Eagles exited the CIF Southern Section Division 3AA girl's basketball playoffs with a 60-44 loss to Pioneer on the road. In the first half, the Eagles kept the game close after falling behind by seven points. Jordan Peterson connected on a long three-pointer to cut the deficit to one point. Later on, Story

Noble, who scored a team-high 20 points, tied the game with a three-point play. The Titans would score the final six points of the quarter to take the lead they would not surrender.

In the third quarter, El Segundo's shooting woes continued, and the Titans took advantage on the other end and extended their lead to eleven points. The closest the Eagles would come was Kristen Tsubaki's three-pointer to cut the deficit to 49-40 with five minutes remaining in the game.

Baseball Team Wins but Left Out of Playoffs

On Senior Day, the Eagles started their ten seniors in a 4-0 win over the Lawndale Cardinals. Eagles starting pitcher Jake Stalnack turned in his best outing of the year by throwing a complete game two-hitter with seven strikeouts. The Eagles scored two second inning runs when they loaded the bases and benefitted from Brendan McAndrews' RBI walk and an RBI single by Lloyd Sapanza. Cooper Stalnack hit his third home run of the season in the third inning to extend the lead to 3-0. In the sixth inning Eddie Grant and years, they failed to advance to the CIF Southern Section playoffs.

Boys Lacrosse Season Ends in First Round

The boy's lacrosse team finished with a 19-5 first-round loss to San Juan Hills in the CIF Southern Section Playoffs to end the season with a 5-7 record. In a rebuilding, learning year, the offense was anchored by senior midfielder Ian Michel and junior attackman Marshall Nakada.

Defensively, senior midfielder Justin Gil and junior midfielder Duke Sanders stepped straight in from the overlapping football season to add to the team's depth.

The future looks bright with freshman goalie Jonah Coleman improving with each game and sophomore middies Michael Maffucci and Miles Salazar joining an impressive group of eighth-graders slated to join the program next season.

Girl's Lacrosse Keeps Rolling

The Eagles made history by defeating Woodbridge 13-4 in the first-ever CIF Southern Section playoff game. Syd Moeller paced El Segundo's offense by scoring eight goals,

The seniors were honored on Senior Day. The Eagles finished their season with a three game winning streak.

Christian Kramer each singled, and Marquise Wright drew an eight-pitch walk to load the bases. Mc Andrews then walked for the fourth time in the game for his second RBI walk.

The Eagles end their season on a three-game win streak, including a 6-2 road game with Lawndale. It wasn't enough to advance to the CIF Southern Section playoff for the first time since 2008.

Softball Team Season Ends on High Note

The Eagles won their last three games of the season, including their 7-0 win over City Section powerhouse Venice. Leading 1-0 in the second inning, the Eagles scored four runs on an extended rally. Sammie Kleiger had an infield RBI single followed by an RBI single by Mya Bennett to make it 3-0. Kelly Carignan made it 4-0 with her RBI single. Leah Abitante's fielder's choice made it 5-0. The Eagles would go on to score two more runs and defeat the Gondoliers 7-0.

The Eagles' season is over and finished 11-8 overall. For the first time in over twenty while Grace Bonney had three goals and one each by Teagan Meyer and Sofia Wight.

Bonney got the Eagles going by scoring two inside goals, and Moeller's strike at 22:47 made it 3-0. As hard as Woodbridge was trying, they were no match for the Eagles. They had no answer for Moeller's slick fielding and scoring or the passing from Bonney, who assisted on a goal that Moeller made. Sofia Wight scored from eight meters to close the first half at scoring 9-1.

In the second half, the Eagles continued to pressure Warriors goaltender Ada Meltzer. Teagan Meyer scored on an assist from Leah Ostler, and Moeller scored three more goals. On the defensive side, Faith Desmone had four saves while getting help from Emma Wigington and Meyer down near the goal.

The Eagles advanced to the CIF-SS Division 2 quarter-finals yesterday to face second-seeded Corona Del Mar. A win would send them to a semi-final match on Saturday, with the first-ever CIF Southern Section Lacrosse championships set for Wednesday, June 9. •

Grace Bonney score three goals in the Eagle's first-round victory in the CIF Southern Section Division 2 Lacrosse playoffs.

Purrrfect Companions

Mac and Cheese

Did you miss National Pet Adoption Day? No worries...we have plenty of kitties who are waiting to be your purr-fect match.

Mac and Cheese are an adorable brother and sister duo who complement each other perfectly! Mac is the tabby with the swirly coat, and Cheese has the stripes. They are both super sweet and playful kittens. What you see is what you get with these two. They will play endlessly, until they get tired and pass out. They are also great lap cats and love to snuggle with their humans. There is never a dull moment with these two around – they will make the purr-fect addition to your household. Mac and Cheese are very bonded and will only be adopted as a pair.

Tourmaline is a sweet, friendly, people-forward little kitty who never tires of hugs and kisses. She was found with an eye injury that has healed with treatment. This has changed the appearance of her iris, but it doesn't slow her down. She is a kitten with a lovely demeanor, very even-tempered, gently curious, loves to receive affection and be with her people. If you are looking for a cuddly little friend who will be front and center for hug time, Tourmaline is the kitty for you. She is mature enough to live as an only kitty, but she really enjoys friendships; life with a buddy will be preferred. Her best friend is Keaton.

Keaton is a curious, playful, friendly, people-

loving little guy who purrs to the touch and loves affection. He is a complete package, a fun kitty on the go, who can also settle in and enjoy quality snuggles and people time. He has a funny way of always wanting to get in on what you are doing, especially if interesting smells are involved! He is a kitten full of personality, always ready to meet new situations or people with confidence. If you are looking for a best buddy type of kitty who is a bundle of fun, Keaton is a great choice.

Kyutaro is a beautiful brown tabby male cat. He and his siblings were abandoned when they were kittens. When first rescued, Kyutaro, then a little nervous with people, is now a friendly and sweet cat. Since Kyutaro has grown up with cats, he is comfortable living with others. He is very active and playful and would be a perfect friend for your cat! Like many of us, Kyutaro has occasional seasonal allergies. He does not seem to have allergies annually, and it usually only lasts for a few weeks in spring if he does have a flair-up. He is easy to medicate and beyond this has no other current medical issues.

Kyutaro

Dakota is a chill dude with a short, crooked tail. He likes to hang out and observe his environment, but he always ready to play with any type of string toy. Dakota tolerates brushing and petting to an extent, being more on the independent side vs. wanting to glue himself to a human. Dakota's ideal person would have some experience with cats and would give him a chance to relax in his environment. Though we have not seen him get involved in mutual grooming sessions, he does get along with most cats and could do well in a home where he was the only kitty or could share the space with other cat tolerant cats. Dakota is ready for his special person to take him home.

Shirley is as sweet as she is gorgeous! Shirley and her sister Laverne were found together in a backyard. Shirley is the quiet go-getter. She will get the first few bites of food before anyone else. She has an awesome purr that is more felt than heard. Shirley loves being baby carried or cradled in your arms. With a little bit of sass in her, she will let you know how she feels. Shirley needs to be adopted with another cat/kitten or into a home with an existing kitty. She and her sister Laverne are an awesome pair. She has also been quite fond of her stepbrothers Yuki and Kyo. All four of these kittens have been around a dog and have been fine with him.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, micro-chipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed, and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •
