Going Green One School at a Time

Former Lakers' star Steve Nash celebrated the with students at Oak Street Elementary School their winning of the Grades of Green Trash Free Lunch Challenge on Tuesday, April 20. The students were able to divert 13 tons of trash from landfills with the help and guidance of Grades of Green volunteers and lead Oak Street Elementary School Teacher Lena Atutoa. Oak Street Elementary Wins First Place in Trash Free Lunch Challenge

By Cristian Vasquez

In time for Earth Week, Oak Street Elementary School students celebrated their win in the Grades of Green Trash Free Lunch Challenge, through which the school was able to divert 13 tons of waste from landfills.

"You guys are lucky because you don't realize what a great school you go to," NBA All Star Steve Nash, who took a selfie with the kids in the background raising their hands, said to the enthusiastic crowd of children. "You have great teachers, parents, city council and Grades of Green people who spend their time and energy to making sure that you get a great education and great opportunity to be happy and successful."

The Trash Free Lunch Challenge involved 24 other schools, from which three elementary school finalists and three middle school finalists were chosen. Participants, which are singed up based on an eligibility requirement, must part of the L.A. County Sanitation Department. A teacher must submit an application for the grant; there must also be a teacher to oversee the program and a maintenance crew willing to help sort the compost, recycling, and other items.

"Kelso Elementary, also an Inglewood school, was involved with Grades of Green last year and I saw it [Grades of Green] in our district website so I thought that it looked like a really good program," Oak Street Elementary School Teacher Lena Atutoa, who spearheaded the school's efforts, said. "We had a lot of waste at our school; a lot of waste. So I thought that if someone taught us how to do it, then we could do it just as well as Kelso."

When a school applies to become a part of one of the Grades of Green program, representatives of the non-profit based in Manhattan Beach will take a tour of school, count how many bags of trash are disposed of on a daily basis. Once that is determined, the program is set into place and a record is kept of how many trash bags are disposed of at the end of the day once the program takes effect. However, the trash bags are now weighed after the waste is sorted, into recycling, compost and landfill bins. There are even buckets available for students to drain any unwanted juice or milk containers. At Oak Elementary, students are provided a white board that reminds everyone how to dispose of their food trays and leftovers once they are done eating, in order to facilitate the efforts behind the Trash Free Lunch Challenge.

"It is really good that we have our sixth graders here because they worked with the younger children and teach them how to do it so that by the time the Kindergarteners come to sixth grade, they won't know any other way: it will be the only way to dispose of trash," Atutoa said. "In our application, it is what I put: it's a new culture here."

Oak Street Elementary School not only created a student-driven environmental program that teaches students the importance of keeping waste out of our landfills, they also reduced their trash bag count from 25 bags of waste at lunchtime to less than 10 bags per day. The Trash Free Lunch Challenge schools have collectively diverted more than 100,000 bags of trash from landfills. Even more impressive, the schools have educated nearly 11,000 students on the importance of waste reduction by reducing, reusing, recycling and composting. This year's Challenge educated even more students than the previous year.

Representatives attended the community-wide celebration from the Sanitation Districts of Los Angeles County, representatives from Mark Ridley-Thomas' office, Inglewood City Councilman Eloy Morales Jr., Kristin Agostoni from the Inglewood Unified School District and dozens of volunteers and representatives from Grades of Green.

Grades of Green, the non-profit which hosts the Trash Free Lunch Challenge, is an international nonprofit dedicated to providing parents, students and educators with free tools to educate, inspire and empower pre-K-12 students to take steps to care for the environment. Anyone wanting to implement sustainability programs can register their school online—at no cost—to get tips and measure their success on reducing trash, emissions, harmful classroom chemicals, plus dozens of other ways to help the environment. Grades of Green has been honored with many awards, including the U.S. EPA's prestigious Environmental Award. The nonprofit is growing rapidly, with 200,000 students enrolled across 39 states and six countries.

"I juts want to say how important this program is and how important it is to care for our environment and our planet. Any of you guys know that we have been in a drought here in California? It's been about four years," Nash told the students. "We have to be careful not to use water or waste water. What that means is that we have to take care of our planet and be very careful to take care of it so that we can enjoy all this beautiful stuff. That is exactly what you guys are doing with Grades of Green; you are learning to take care of the environment." •

How Hearing Aids Give you a Great Return on Your Investment

(BPT) - If you're one of the nearly 40 million Americans who suffer with hearing loss, maybe it's time to consider investing in your hearing health.

Research shows that the rewards can be substantial. In fact, identifying and addressing hearing loss has been shown to positively influence virtually every aspect of an individual's life, helping people personally, professionally and even financially.

New technological advances have revolutionized hearing aids in recent years. Today's hearing aids can automatically adjust to all kinds of sound environments and filter out noise. Many are virtually invisible, sitting discreetly and comfortably inside the ear canal. Some are even waterproof, and others are rechargeable. Best of all, many are wireless, so you can stream sound from smartphones, home entertainment systems and other electronics directly into your hearing aid(s) at volumes just right for you.

When it comes to the purchase of personal items that enhance your life, there's more than one way to measure value. Here are six ways that investing in professionally fitted hearing aids - if recommended by a hearing care professional following a comprehensive hearing evaluation - could bring you a greater return on your investment than you ever imagined.

Unleash your earning potential. Using hearing aids reduced the risk of income loss by 90-100 percent for those with milder hearing loss, and from 65-77 percent for those with severe to moderate hearing loss, according to a Better Hearing Institute (BHI) study. People with untreated hearing loss lost as much as $30,000 in income annually, the study showed.

Maintain your cognitive function. Research shows a link between hearing loss and dementia, leading experts to believe that interventions, like hearing aids, could potentially delay or prevent dementia. Research is ongoing.

Keep you on your feet. A Johns Hopkins study showed that people in middle age (40-69) with even just mild hearing loss were nearly three times more likely to have a history of falling. The intensive listening effort demanded by unaddressed hearing loss may take cognitive resources away from what is needed for balance and gait, experts have suggested.

Relieve stress and lift your mood. When people with hearing loss use hearing aids, many feel more in control of their lives and less self-critical, BHI research shows. One study found that the majority of people with mild and severe hearing loss felt better about themselves and life overall as a result of using hearing aids.

Tame that ringing in your ears. Hearing aids can help reduce the prominence of tinnitus by amplifying background sound. Just taking the focus off the tinnitus can provide relief for many people. Hearing aids also reduce the stress associated with intensive listening, which alone can help relieve tinnitus symptoms.

Strengthen your relationships. Research shows that using hearing aids can help improve interpersonal relationships. In one BHI study of people with hearing loss, more than half of the respondents said using hearing aids improved their relationships at home, their social lives and their ability to join in groups. Many even saw improvements in their romantic lives. •

Not Happy with Mayor Brown

As a 40 year resident of Hawthorne one of the first things I learned was that the political landscape was always controversial. Now, we have an additional black eye on the city in the form of Chris Brown. His carefully orchestrated election brought factions of political outsiders that destroyed what was mostly a non-partisan decision making body. Chris Brown is proving to be what many of us believed from the start- an incompetent fraud and charlatan who cannot manage his own finances and now is taking from the pockets of the taxpayers. But he did not do this alone. One can also point a finger of blame toward the City Manager, Mike Goodson and lack of oversight and due diligence on most of the city council. Olivia Valentine and Angie English participated in this mess and have been advocates for the mayor's actions. Now, Mr. Goodson has imposed a gag order at City Hall to hide from the citizens what is public record. So much for transparency. Another overused word.

The "silly season" has opened and many will be running for office this November, including Mr. Brown and Ms. Valentine. The citizens have had enough and will be working hard to unseat these people.

It would save us a lot of trouble if Mr. Brown would step down now, but he is too arrogant and certainly not "Godly" as he likes to claim. Maybe Mr. Brown should check his bible as to paraphrase Proverbs 10:9- he who walks in integrity will walk securely, but he who perverts his ways and lives dishonestly will be exposed. Mr. Brown has no integrity and been exposed. It is time to flush him out of office.

Hopefully, this newspaper will also begin to cover the nonsense going on in Hawthorne City Hall.

JAPANESE BASEBALL

I had always heard that the Japanese people are crazy about baseball. So, on the last day of our trip to Japan, I was able to attend the Giants vs the Swallows game played in the Tokyo Dome. With 13 million people, Tokyo has enough population to support five major league baseball teams. The game itself looked very much like a game here in the USA. However, there were some differences. The first being that almost all of the fans actually watched the game. There was no getting up to go to the snack stand and missing half of the game. Very few fans went to buy souvenirs until after the game was completed. There were organized crowd cheers or chants for the team at bat throughout the game. The visiting fans all sat together in a designated area out in left field. There were cheerleaders leading the cheers between innings. No litter was thrown under the seats, no spilled beer on the stadium steps. The stands were kept clean. After the game the winning team, the Giants, stood between home plate and first base and took a bow. Of course there were cold ones for sale. (I've been asked if this was a city sponsored trip. No, I have looked at my credit card statement and I can definitely say that I paid 100% of all expenses. We consider ourselves blessed to be able to travel and see other parts of the world.)

CANDYLAND CARNIVAL

Hawthorne High School is sponsoring a carnival this Thursday thru Sunday, April 23-26 out on their football field. Unlimited ride tickets are $15 presale and $20 at the gate. The times are Thursday and Friday nights and afternoon and evening on Saturday and Sunday. Help support the programs of Hawthorne High by having fun at the carnival. St. Mary's Girls, Lawndale Boys Have Strong Showings in Meets

By Joe Snyder
Photos by Joe Snyder

Most of the local prep track and field teams had a busy week as they competed in dual meets, then two big invitationals. Last Friday and Saturday featured a prestigious Mt. San Antonio College Relays in Walnut and Saturday was the South Bay Championships at West Torrance High.

Most of the top athletes, however, were at Mt. SAC, which was fielding its last invitational at its 67-year-old Hilmer Lodge Stadium, which, after this season, will be closed for major renovations.

That included the girls from St. Mary's Academy in Inglewood where they had some very good showings. Leading the way was Aliyah Hale, who helped the Belles' 4x200-meter relay win the prestigious invitational race at one minute and 39.19 seconds. Other runners included Kyra Anderson, Anaiah Brown, and Briana Shufford, who held off second place Arcadia (1:39.42).

Hale also finished third in the 300-meter hurdles clocking 42.65 seconds. St. Mary's 4x100 squad of Brown, Hale, Shufford and Keyshawna Myles was sixth in 47.45.

Over at West High, Lawndale's boys had a very good showing by finishing fourth, as a team, with 116 points. The Cardinals placed behind the champion and host Warriors with 191.5 points to 170.5 for second place Mira Costa and 121 for third place Redondo.

Lawndale had one meet champion in Bryant Perkinson in the triple jump at 42 feet, three inches. The Cardinals also had second place finishes from Jalen Walker (high jump, 5-8), Bryant Perkinson (long jump, 20-9) and their 4x400 relay team of David Broaster, Hasani Barrett, Nathan Sanders and Kiyaam Cooksey timing 3:26.35. Lawndale's 1,600 relay squad fell only .06 of a second behind winner Los Angeles Washington (3:26.29).

Cooksey was third in the 300 intermediate hurdles in 40.81. He placed behind champion Justin Alexander (L.A. Crenshaw, 38.96) and runner-up Maurice Jones (Carson, 40.46). Walker also placed fourth in the long jump with a leap of 20-4 and basketball standout D'lano Beckles was fifth in the high jump at 5-8. Redondo's Drew Decurtis (5-9) won that event. Matthew Alvarado placed fourth overall in the 800 at 2:01.75.

Hawthorne also had a few athletes involved in the South Bay meet. Its best showing came in the non-scoring co-ed 800-meter sprint medley relay that took fourth in 1:44.56. Runners were Faith Placie, Jahleel Enriquez, Diamond Allen and Kishawn Berry.

WEST PROVES TOO MUCH FOR LEUZINGER

Leuzinger High's baseball team began the Pioneer League against a highly regarded West Torrance High squad last week and suffered a pair of lopsided losses. In a five-inning mercy rule game on April 15 at Leuzinger, the Warriors, who came into the league opener ranked second in the CIF-Southern Section Division IV, blanked the Olympians 17-0. Last Friday at West, the Warriors rolled over Leuzinger 13-1 in a game stopped in the bottom of the sixth due to the 10-run-plus mercy rule.

In the second game, West, which improved to 18-5, started out by scoring five runs in the bottom of the first inning but the Olympians (2-12 overall, 0-2 in league) were able to hold them to just four more runs through the next four innings.

Leuzinger had some opportunities to make it a respectful game leaving the bases loaded, twice, and in the top of the third where the Olympians had runners at first and third with no outs but were unable to push a run. "This game should have been a little closer," Leuzinger head coach Robert Romero said.

Hawthorne High's Kishawn Berry completes the anchor leg in the co-ed 800-meter sprint medley relay at Saturday's South Bay Track and Field Championships. The Cougars finished fourth at the event in 1:44.56.

The Olympians scored their only run in the bottom of the first on a base hit from Angel Vital. Leuzinger scored one run in the bottom of the first and one in the top of the second inning on April 15.

The Olympians play a Torrance team that won the CIF-Southern Section Division IV championship last season but is rebuilding with a miserable 3-16 record, including 0-2 in league with a pair of losses to rival South Torrance last week, this week. Leuzinger visited the Tartars Wednesday at Torrance Park's Kendall Field and will host Torrance Friday at 3:15 p.m. The Olympians, then, will visit another top Pioneer contender, South, which lost to the Tartars in last year's Division IV final at UC Riverside and is rated fourth in the division this year, next Wednesday at the same time.

SAMO SWEEPS HAWTHORNE

Hawthorne High's baseball team began the Ocean with two losses to Santa Monica last week. At Santa Monica on April 14, the Vikings downed the Cougars 6-2. At Hawthorne last Thursday, Santa Monica outlasted the Cougars 6-5.

Hawthorne, which fell to 7-8-1 overall, hosted Beverly Hills last Tuesday and visit the Normans at La Cienega Park today at 3:15 p.m. The Cougars will host powerful El Segundo (ranked second in the CIF-Southern Section Division III) in Ocean play next Tuesday at the same time. •

Keyshawna Myles of St. Mary's Academy completes her anchor leg of the girls' 4x100-meter relay at Saturday's Mt. San Antonio College Relays. The Belles finished sixth in the event at 47.45 seconds.

Leuzinger High's Francisco Rubio gets a base hit in Friday's Pioneer League baseball game against West Torrance. The Olympians fell to the Warriors 13-1. Leuzinger hosts Torrance Friday at 3:15 p.m.

By Bob Eklund

Saturday, April 25 is the night of all nights for you to look skyward. That's when the whole world will be celebrating the "Global Star Party"—an evening devoted to appreciating the skies that surround our fragile planet Earth. The night's celebration is part of Global Astronomy Month (GAM), sponsored by the astronomy advocacy organization Astronomers Without Borders (AWB).

Use this link to check out AWB's worldwide events: <http://astronomerswithoutborders.org/gam2015-programs/observing/1558-global-star-party-for-gam-2015.html>

One April 25 a global event of special interest will be the "Hangoutathon" a shared program of AWB and CosmoQuest: <http://astronomerswithoutborders.org/gam2015-programs/online/2607-cosmoquest-hangoutathon.html>

This online Marathon-length event runs from 8:00 a.m. April 25 to 8:00 p.m. April 26.

During the Hangoutathon, CosmoQuest invites you to race to map the worlds: Mercury, the Moon, Mars (yes, we'll have Mars!), and cold distant Vesta. While you do science, we'll take you on a tour around the world as we follow the terminator to Global Star Party events taking place around the world.

The Hangoutathon runs for 36 hours straight so no matter where you are in the world you will be able to tune in and see some exciting astronomy programming. This year, as part of the Hangoutathon, AWB is teaming up with CosmoQuest to let you participate live online in Global Star Parties being run by clubs all over the world! Another online highlight of Global Astronomy Month is "Walking on the Moon: A Virtual Telescope Project." Go online at 12:00 noon on Friday, April 24 to reach the Moon from home!

The Virtual Telescope Project provides a remote, online lunar observing session, linked up with plenty of friends from all around the planet. Find your own crater, mountain or sea while flying over our ancient satellite, with live narration. This promises to be an unforgettable event. WESTCHESTER JOINS THE PARTY

And here at home, just above the bluffs in Westchester, the public is invited to look skyward from 7:30 to 10:00 p.m. Saturday, April 25, at our local version of the Global Star Party. Host Bob Eklund welcomes you to join him at the parking lot of the Christian Science Church at 7855 Alverstone Ave., corner of 79th St.

Telescopes will be set up for everyone's enjoyment. We'll be looking at Jupiter with its four moons, our own Moon and its craters, and stars and nebulae. ALL are welcome—bring the children, learn astronomy together, and enjoy the sky! And if it's cloudy or rainy, come anyway—there'll be an indoor learning session on basic astronomy, especially for children (of any age).

There is no charge, and refreshments will be served. If you have a telescope of your own, feel free to bring it—experienced amateur astronomers will be on hand to help you set it up if necessary. Questions? Contact star party host Bob Eklund, (310) 216-5947, beklund@sprynet.com
