Free CERT Training in Inglewood

The County of Los Angeles Fire Department and The City of Inglewood Office of Emergency Services is proud to present C.E.R.T. training to the public. Following a major disaster, police, fire, and medical professionals may not be able to fully meet the initial demand of the community. People will have to rely on each other to meet the immediate life-saving and life sustaining needs, particularly in isolated neighborhoods that may be cut off from the main roads for a period of time. The County of Los Angeles Fire Department's Community Emergency Response Team (C.E.R.T.) program was developed to provide basic training in safety and life-saving skills for the general public. The training course will be presented as a series of three consecutive Saturday classes. Scheduled class dates are on June 9 (topics will include Disaster Preparedness, Disaster Fire Suppression and Disaster Medical Operations I); June 16 (Disaster Medical Operations II, Light Search & Rescue, and Team Organization); and June 23 (Terrorism, Disaster Psychology, and Review/Stimulation).

Classes will take place at Inglewood City Hall in the Community Room on the first floor, 1 Manchester Blvd. Classes are free. To enroll, contact the City of Inglewood Office of Emergency Services at 310-412-8840, or email oes@cityofinglewood.org. Participants are required to wear closed toed shoes and long pants. All students must be at least 18 to participate, though those ages 16 and over may attend if accompanied by a parent. Students must complete all 20 hours of the course to receive a certificate of completion.

At-Risk Youth to Receive Violence Intervention Services

Approximately 100 Inglewood area youth ages 14 to 18 will receive violence intervention services through a coalition of agencies led by the South Bay Workforce Investment Board (SBWIB) and funded by a $500,000 state grant from the California Violence Intervention Project. The Inglewood Community and Regional Engagement Violence Intervention Prevention (I-CARE VIP) Project, comprised of representatives from the City of Inglewood, Inglewood Police Department, Inglewood Unified School District and the SBWIB, will provide a systematic pathway for diversion and employment opportunities for the youth.

"Through this education and training program, youth will have the tools they need to focus on academics and gain skills for employment," commented Inglewood Mayor James T. Butts, Jr. The SBWIB and Centinela Youth Services (CYS) will partner to provide trauma-informed case management while the youth are improving their labor marketability through paid pre-employment training, paid work experience and job search assistance. CYS will also provide its highly effective diversion services, which includes a community empowerment model, mental health diversion, Families Able to Resolve Situations mediation, Victim Offender Restitution mediation and Everychild Restorative Justice Center case management.

"We are very excited to continue serving Inglewood's youth through I-CARE and support their career pathway and educational development," noted SBWIB Executive Director Jan Vogel.

The stated goal of the I-CARE program is "to reduce risk factors that contribute to gang-related crime and violence. This is done through law enforcement and services provided by the City of Inglewood, schools and community partners."

El Camino College to Receive Career Development Grant

El Camino College will receive funding from a California Economic Development Department (EDD) grant awarded to the South Bay Workforce Investment Board (SB-WIB) to develop and provide CNC Machine Operator career development programs for people with disabilities in partnership with the Uniquely Abled Project.

The $350,000 Disability Employment Accelerator grant works in partnership with El Camino College and Harbor College to provide future graduates with disabilities 100 hours of paid work experience and assistance transitioning into employment. Employer partners committed to providing the work-based learning opportunities include Northrop Grumman Aerospace Systems, Haas Factory Outlet, Protech Knives, LLC, Advanced Theoretical Concepts, Inc., and Edelbrock, LLC. At El Camino College, the Industry & Technology Division's Machine Tool Technology program, in partnership with ECC's Community Advancement Division, will provide training to 18 individuals on the autism spectrum.

The SBWIB will use its collaborative network of employers in high-growth industries and training/education partners to develop "earn and learn" strategies that include paid on-the-job training, transitional jobs and work experience. The strategies will enable businesses to customize skills training for people with disabilities that can lead to employment, career advancement and economic independence.

SBWIB has also partnered with the Department of Rehabilitation, the Employment Development Department/Wagner-Peyser, and The Arc-South Bay to ensure that both the participant and employers have all the resources to make the work-based learning opportunity a positive experience. All the partners will also be engaged through the "Mentored" coaching and training digital platform to deliver "Blueprint for Workplace Success" training and provide support and case management on demand for both the participant and employer.

Inspiring Undefeated Upends History and Uplifts Underdogs

Reviewed by Tommy Vinh Bui, MLIS, Associate Librarian, Inglewood Public Library

Inglewood finds itself caught in the frantic fervor of football fever with the groundbreaking of a new nearby stadium. I thought it pertinent to review a book that touts the early history of the sport in this country and the long and storied past that has helped mold football into the powerhouse pastime it is today.

Forging history and drama, Steve Sheinkin has served up an enthralling and well-researched tome about the nascent days of football in his acutely accurate and educationally edifying Undefeated: Jim Thorpe and the Carlisle Indian School Football Team. This is a tale of bruises, blisters and broken collarbones. It's a colorful and proper dustup chronicling a team of ne'er-do-well and never-say-die football players who went toe-to-toe with the athletic elites of the day and held their own. The writer corrals all the qualities of a good yarn: overwhelming obstacles, a ragtag group of outsiders and a particular moxie that coaxes them to go the distance. It's a story of triumphing over insurmountable adversity via sheer grit, guts and unfathomable depths of indefatigable doggedness.

At the epicenter of this swirling whirlwind of courage and pluck are the two main subjects of the book: Jim Thorpe and Pop Warner. The former is a jocular and mild-mannered uber-athlete that broke every record imaginable. And the latter is his brash and full-throated coach who recalibrated gridiron football with innovative and masterful plays of speed, strategy and sapient insight into the evolving potential of the modern game. Together they took the sport by storm and redefined how football was played.

The writer scribes with a nimble-footed virtuosity and a honed understanding of history and narrative. Steve Sheinkin's descriptions of historically significant matches and the early travails and institutional bigotry and inequalities the Carlisle students experienced on and off the field are featured in fully-flared technicolor here. The book is steeped in little-known histories as it chronicles the early evolution of football and the industry of professional sports as it comes of age. The writer incisively indites with a deftness that jukes and jostles and performs pugnacious pirouettes by way of paragraphs. It's a true-blue page-turner.

The most accurate description of the book is that it's a series of nontraditional love stories. A love of football. A love of sportsmanship. And an unwavering love of proving the naysayers wrong. The students of the Carlisle School found themselves in an untenable position. They were shipped off to a school that was designed to systematically suppress their culture and family traditions. It was a tragic ordeal these kids endured. But this huddle of disparate and hard-done-by ragamuffins banded together and proved they could rise above their situation and accomplish something legendary. It's an inspirational underdog scrum of The Bad News Bears, Hoosiers and Rudy.

It's also noteworthy that an interest in football isn't a prerequisite for enjoyment of this book. The raw human emotions and compelling tales of overcoming trials and tribulations should be enough to blindside you thoroughly. So fumble on over to the Inglewood Library and embrace this blitz of a book.

Film Review

Highlights from the Tribeca Film Festival

Morgan Rojas for www.cinemacy.com

Cinemacy returned from the Tribeca Film Festival last week and after five red carpets, one exclusive interview and countless screenings, we are feeling a bit exhausted but more excited than ever. The festival, started by Robert De Niro in 2002, is a showcase of eclectic independent films and is held in the Tribeca neighborhood of Manhattan, NY. I hope you enjoy some of our highlights from this year's festival! To see more, including our red carpet interviews with Zoe's Matthew Gray Gubler and Drake Doremus, visit www.cinemacy.com.

Songwriter

Ed Sheeran fans rejoice: the English singer-songwriter is getting candid by inviting viewers to take an intimate look into his artistic process in the documentary Songwriter. Directed by his cousin Murray Cummings, the doc follows Sheeran throughout the creation of his chart-topping album "÷" (divide) which, after just one week on sale, became the biggest-selling album of 2017. From early jam sessions in his tour van to brainstorming lyrics and chords with friends in Malibu, Songwriter plays like next couple of days until Bluebird leaves the trail for home. Under different circumstances, it seems like this relationship could have thrived, but the reality is that not everything that seems meant to be will be. This makes one question: Can the heart make a mistake?

Zoe

Drake Doremus has done it again. The independent film director takes the familiar theme of love in modern relationships and adds an exciting new sci-fi element to his latest romantic drama, Zoe. Starring Ewan McGregor as an entrepreneur computer scientist and Léa Seydoux as his research assistant, Zoe is a beautiful and heartbreaking look at the complexities of love and the lengths one is willing to go to in order to hold onto it. Set in an undisclosed time in the future, Cole (McGregor) is at the forefront of revolutionizing romantic relationships. He has developed technology that determines the compatibility and likelihood of long-term success for couples looking to take that next step in their relationship. Cole has also been working on creating an ideal physical partner for singletons unlucky in a private acoustic concert for an hour and a half. Sheeran's talent is undeniable. his soothing and uplifting voice is always on point -- even when dressed in a green t-shirt, blue plaid pajama pants and fuzzy moccasins -- a juxtaposition that makes for some (perhaps unintentionally) funny moments. Songwriter is the ultimate film for Sheeran groupies, music fans and anyone pursuing a creative passion. It was acquired by Apple in a seven-figure deal for worldwide distribution.

Maine

Fleeting love and missed connections are all-too-familiar situations that happen in everyday life, yet the number of films that successfully tackle these complex and heartbreaking feelings are very few. In Maine, director Matthew Brown embraces the romance of nature and creates a love story that may be devoid of a stereotypical happy ending, but does not shortchange on emotional satisfaction. Laia Costa and Thomas Mann play Bluebird and Lake, two hikers on a journey -- both literally and figuratively -- who cross paths while on the Appalachian Trail. Each of them is saddled with personal baggage. The intimacy of the environment and their growing bond comes to a head when, after getting caught up in the moment, they kiss. Even though the affection is mutual, Bluebird makes it clear that she cannot continue to put herself in this position with Lake. She is married, after all. Understanding but obviously disappointed, Lake does the best he can to get through the love. "Synthetics," as they're called, are programmed to be completely compatible with, and never betray, their partner -- qualities that real humans struggle with in reality. While working closely with Cole, Zoe (Seydoux) becomes increasingly overwhelmed with romantic feelings for him. When no one is looking, she runs a compatibility test with him and finds shocking results that reflect a 0.00 percent success rate. Dumbfounded, Zoe can't help but be honest with Cole about her discovery and his explanation as to why their relationship could never work out despite their mutual attraction and it leaves Zoe questioning her entire existence. Zoe had been acquired by Amazon Prime for a summer release. •

Hawthorne Happenings

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy Named Norb Huber

NINE YEARS

Has it been that long? It's been close to nine years that I have had the privilege and honor to represent you, the fine people of Hawthorne, as your City Clerk. There have been ups and downs along the way. During my tenure, I have served under four distinctly different mayors. Mayors Guidi, Juarez, Brown, and now Vargas all have had their individual styles of running the city council meetings and conducting business. Back in 2009 I really didn't know what I was getting into. I campaigned on the motto: "Independent Leadership". I have a stack of old campaign signs in my garage with that verbiage. Let me know if you would like one. No elected official can really be totally independent. We must work together, listen to one another, compromise on some issues, and move forward for the benefit of those whom we serve. Isn't that true for everyone? We can't live our lives being totally independent. The more we accept one another and work together, the more enjoyment we have in life. We are all in this together. Just because you might like one brand of cold ones and I like another, or worse yet, you may not like cold ones at all, that doesn't mean I hate you. Just because I like blonde beer and you like your refreshments dark, doesn't mean we can't get along. Forget the battle to be better than others. Forget this idea that you are always right. Just drink whatever you want and I'll drink what I want. I love you, my 16 readers, regardless. Less stress, more cold ones, that's the key to living a long, enjoyable life.

NATIONAL NIGHT OF PRAYER THIS THURSDAY NIGHT

The Hawthorne/Lawndale Ministerial Association invites you to attend their annual National Day of Prayer Service on Thursday, May 3 at the South Bay Celebration Assembly beginning at 7 p.m. The theme for the service this year is Unity in faith based on Ephesians 4:3: "Make every effort to keep the unity of the Spirit through the bond of peace."

HAWTHORNE 5K RUN AND HEALTH FAIR

Time to get in shape. It's time to get the running shoes out, run in the Hawthorne 5K Run, and then attend the Health Fair that will be held over at the Hawthorne High School track on Saturday, May 12. Each year many of the students enrolled in our Hawthorne schools run for credit or for the health of it and they invite their parents to run with them. Mayor Vargas and Mayor Pro Temp Awad were seen sprinting around the course last year. There are no hills, no real obstacles to impede your progress, it's just a fun time to walk, run, or crawl the 3+ miles to stay in shape.

HALL OF FAME BANQUET

The Hawthorne Historical Society will be holding their fourth Hawthorne Hall of Fame Banquet on Saturday, May 19th at 6 pm at the Ayres Hotel located at 14400 Hindry Avenue in Hawthorne. The class of 2018 inductees include: Joe Contestabile, The Hawthorne Kiwanis Club, Phillips Plumbing and Heating, Chet Pipkin, and Emitt Rhodes. The MC for the evening's program will be Christina Pascucci, KTLA anchor. It looks like another great event for the residents of Hawthorne to celebrate the accomplishments of some great people and organizations. For more information: hawthornehistorical@gmail.com.

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Precious Pooches

Chip

We are looking for volunteers to help with our pet adoption fairs which are held every Saturday at the Petco located at 537 N. Pacific Coast Hwy., Redondo Beach 90277, from noon to 3: 30 p.m. If you are interested in volunteering and can commit to at least one Saturday a month, please contact us at info@msfr.org. You can also visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoption fair or check out our website, www.msfr.org. If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability, you can email us at info@msfr.org. Schnauzers! Bet you can't adopt just one.

"Hi, I'm Chip of Chip and Dale. Not the chipmunks, but the 9-month old, male Miniature Schnauzer mix dogs whose mother had a great sense of humor. My brother Dale and I decided to do some exploring, but we became lost and ended up at an LA County shelter where they called us strays. I'm not sure what that is, but I sure didn't like being called that. I got really nervous when I thought I had found a home and would have to leave my brother, but then my potential adopter never appeared. Apparently, they changed their minds...so the MSFR folks were able to rescue both of us. People say that I'm a real looker and it's probably because I'm mostly Schnauzer, with a natural tail and a stunning black and silver coat. At 14 pounds, I'm smaller than my brother. Compared to him, I'm the shy and reserved one. I get along fine with other dogs and I'm really friendly. Once I reach my grown-up weight of 16 pounds, I think I'll be fine. I would love to find a home that would take both my brother and me. If that's impossible, I definitely need a home with another doggie pal to keep me company."

If you're interested in Chip, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

"Well, I guess you've already met my brother Chip, so that would make me Dale. Since I'm the larger and adventurous one, I wanted to do some investigating in our neighborhood. We started out fine, but then I got turned around and couldn't find my way home. The next thing I knew, both of us were in an LA County shelter and being called strays. I started to worry because my brother was supposed to get adopted, but thankfully the adopter never showed. So we both got rescued. I've been told that I'm a Miniature Schnauzer mix, but no one can figure out what the mix is. With my natural tail and beautiful salt and pepper coat, I look just like any other extremely handsome. 9-month-old, male Miniature Schnauzer. I'm currently 17 pounds, but when fully grown I could be a whopping 20 pounds. I admit that

I need some work on obedience training as well as a little Housebreaking 101, but I'm pretty confident that I'll exceed at both in no time. I get along great with dogs and am a pretty playful guy. I would be ecstatic to find a family that would take my brother and me. If that's not doable, I must find a home that has a doggie pal to show me the ropes."

If you're interested in Dale, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

"Hello, my name is LouLou and I could be the treasure you're looking for. If a sweet, little, female Chihuahua mix would be the perfect addition to your life, I'm your gal. I'm only 3 years old and weigh a mere 10 pounds, so I'm easily transportable to share in all of the things you love to do. I'm very obedient and eager to please. So if you want to go out looking for adventures or spend a quiet evening at home with me being a loving lap dog, I'm ready, willing and loyal! In addition to having a great personality, I'm quite a great-looking lady with my taffy-colored coat and expressive brown eyes that will look up at you adoringly. I'm currently being fostered with three other Chihuahuas, so obviously I am sociable with other dogs as well as people."

If you are interested in LouLou and would like more information, please contact Lynne of Whisker & Tails Foundation at amano@whiskerstails.org.

Happy Tails

Congratulations to Flora and her new family!

Congratulations to our little Flora and her new family! Her folks recently lost their 18-year-old, female Miniature Schnauzer and were looking to find a friend for their 11-year-old male named Walter. Coincidentally, Walter is also a Miniature Schnauzer and a rescue! Flora, now named Addie, hit the lottery with this family. Not only does she now have a brother, but also her folks are retired and are very devoted to their furry kids. We had a feeling when Addie, who isn't one to give her stamp of approval to everyone, showered her new family with plenty of kisses and cuddles. Addie and her family are living in Camarillo and we wish all of them a world of happiness and many fun memories. •

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal.
