South Bay Work Investment Board Holds Youth Job Fair

Blueprint graduate Jenny Victorio, 19, of Inglewood, at the 15th Annual Blueprint for Workplace Success Youth Job Fair. On average, 700-800 students attend the job fair with about 50-60 companies participating. The average number of students hired on site is about 175-200, while those scheduled for second interviews has an average of about 150-200. This year, 653 local South Bay youth, ages 16-24, attended the event. Photo courtesy of SBWIB.

City Approves Subcontractor Agreement with South Bay Center for Counseling

By Cristian Vasquez

Through the recommendation of the city's parks, recreation and library services department, the Inglewood City Council approved an agreement with the South Bay Center for Counseling [SBCC].

The agreement will allow the city to receive $60,000 in grant funds for the provision of its Prevention and Aftercare Services Program. The approval also required an approved amendment of the 2014-15 fiscal year budget in the amount of $45,000 for a period of nine months [Jan. 1-Sept. 30].

Since 1996 the City of Inglewood has been the recipient of grant money for a variety of programs tailored for children and families through the Service Planning Area [SPA] 8 Collaborative, of which the city has been a member.

"The SBCC is a non-profit agency serving as the lead agency for awarding grant, including the P&A, to member agencies," states the staff report. "The P&A works toward strengthening families and providing opportunities to increase the safety and well-being of children through a variety of integrated strategies."

In addition there will be a commitment of $15,000 for fiscal year 2015-2016 for a three-month period [Oct. 1-Dec.31] in order to use up the remaining amount of grant money from the SBCC P&A. The funds provided by the grant will also pay for a staff person, referred to as a family coach, that will be responsible for providing case management and referral services to Inglewood families and children.

"The P&A is a new grant program administered by the Los Angeles County Department of Children and Family Services [DCFS]," indicates the staff report. "The purpose of the program is to provide easily accessible community-based support services, activities, and resources organized as a continuum to respond to a broad array of family desires and concerns to decrease social isolation and increase family economic development opportunities."

The family coach is responsible for designing and implementing a family strengthening plan, which is an agreement reached by the coach and family. In addition, the coach will be responsible for reaching out and finding "high intensity" families on a weekly basis in order assist and assure that the families reach their goals.

The family coach is also responsible for connecting families to services such as: Lending Circles [a program that helps low-income individuals build credit, reduce debt to establish their financial footing], Deferred Action [assistance with the American Immigration Policy which allows undocumented immigrants to receive work permits and exemption from deportation], voter registration, economic coaching, access to car loans, credit repair, income tax preparation, Earned Income Tax Credit [EITC], savings accounts associated with EITC and vin number project [for recall repairs].

In addition, the family coach will work toward helping families transition into becoming fully engaged community members and will introduce the families they work with to social setting such as: community gardens, community cafes, the formation of worker co-ops, weekly yoga classes, introduction to Neighborhood Action Councils [NAC] and extend services provided by the SPA 8 Partners, Family Support, Partnership for Families, NAC'S DCFS resources and the city's parks, recreation and library services department programs.

"In the past years, the City has offered a Prevention Initiative Demonstration Project [PIDP] through grant agreements with SBCC, which had similar scope of work to the P&A," states the staff report. "The city's agreement for PIDP expired on December 31, 2014 and is no longer offered through the SBCC SPA 8 Collaborative. This new contract for P&A with SBCC will enable the city to continue providing several prevention initiative components and expand programming to include an integrated continuum of culturally responsive, strength-based services by using comprehensive, family centered and community oriented resource directed approach to vulnerable children and families in the city's service area."

The staff report estimates that 150 families will be served and benefit through the entirety of the 2015 calendar year. Furthermore, the contract is expected to last until the end of this calendar year, but can be terminated if any of the provisions for termination happen to take unfold.

COMMUNITY INVITED TO OIL FILTER RECYCLING EFFORT

Residents are invited on May 30, from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. to bring old oil filters at O'Reilly Auto Parts located at 250 N. Market St. in Inglewood. Participants who bring an oil filter will receive a new one in exchange.

Residents may receive up to two new oil filters, while supplies last. In addition, anyone who arrives with used oil properly stored in a clean and uncontaminated container will be eligible for a free motor oil change kit.

Persons interested or with questions can call (562) 944-4764. •

Financial Management Tips for Adult Learners Going Back to College

(BPT) - The ever-rising price tag of college education has been in the news for years, with the average cost hovering just less than $20,000 a year, according to the National Center for Education Statistics. That number, however, speaks to first-timers enrolled full-time in a four-year or two-year college. What about adult learners - professionals either looking to continue their education and earn another degree, or those who are returning to school to finish an incomplete degree?

"Many adult learners already in the workforce juggle a number of expenses besides tuition and text books," says Tracy Lorenz, president of Western International University (West). "They're paying mortgages or rents, childcare costs, utility bills, car payments and more. Earning a degree can put a strain on their finances."

Cost was the biggest barrier to continuing education cited by 1,000 women in an online survey conducted by West. Respondents, who had indicated an interest in returning to college, said cost trumped an institution's prestige in influencing their choice of learning institution.

If you're considering returning to school as an adult learner, it's essential to find effective ways to control education costs and manage your overall finances. Here are five steps that can help you control costs while earning a degree:

1. Comparison shop for the best tuition and costs.

While more than one institution may offer the degree program you want, costs will vary from school to school. Many adult learners find that online degree programs offer the best value in terms of cost and quality of education. Not only is tuition typically less, online programs offer adult learners greater schedule flexibility - so they can continue earning a living wage and arrange their schedules to minimize costs like childcare and transportation.

2. Prior learning assessment credits may lower costs.

First-time students have a lot to learn, and the costs of a full-time education at a four-year college reflect that. Adult learners, however, already have professional and life experience under their belts, and many institutions have created programs that take this into account. Credit you earned at other colleges or universities may transfer to the institution where you've chosen to continue your education. You may hold professional certifications, licenses or corporate training that could also qualify as college-level credit toward a degree. To learn more about prior learning assessment credits, visit the Earned & Learned Credit page on West's website, www.west.edu.

3. Find ways to lower textbook costs.

After tuition, textbooks are a significant expense - for both adult learners and first-time students enrolled in a full-time degree program. Many schools sell used textbooks at a lower cost than new. You may also be able to buy or rent textbooks through a variety of independent online websites. Many online degree programs also include digital copies of text book and course materials with no extra charge.

4. Explore financing options.

Paying for college is a complex endeavor, regardless of whether you're an adult-learner or a first-time student. It's important to explore all financing options - from loans and grants to other forms of financial aid. Many employers offer tuition reimbursement programs, while other students may qualify for additional assistance for their service in the military. To determine if you are eligible for federal financial aid, visit studentaid.ed.gov.

5. Practice basic financial planning.

Smart money management habits are always valuable - especially when you're paying for a college degree. If you haven't already done so, create a personal budget or a household budget that will allow you to closely track monthly expenses and income. Curtail discretionary spending, but don't eliminate important long-term financial goals such as saving toward retirement or to buy a home.

"Improved earning potential is one of the many benefits of returning to school," Lorenz notes. "With research and planning, adult learners can protect their financial wellbeing while earning their degree." •

MOTHERS DAY 5K RUN AND HAWTHORNE HEALTH FAIR - THIS SATURDAY

The Hawthorne Education Foundation's Mother's Day Health Fair and 5K Run will be held at Memorial Park this Saturday, May 9th. The 5K run begins at 8 a.m., followed by the health fair. If you read my column and see me at the starting line with my grandkids come over and say hi. I love to talk with my loyal readers. I'm the tall, 60 year old, white guy with grey hair. You shouldn't have too much trouble spotting me in the crowd.

9K COMMUNITY DINNER - THURSDAY MAY 21

The Hawthorne Police Department uses every means available to them to protect and serve us. We have a great helicopter above, we have new squad cars racing to respond to 911 emergency calls, we have the latest in technology to fight the bad guys. But, one of the most valuable weapons at the disposal of our team are the K9 dogs who are highly trained to search and seek out suspects hiding, or they may find evidence of a crime. Each year the Presidents' Council of Hawthorne sponsors a community chicken dinner to raise funds in support of the HPD K9 program. This year the dinner will be held on Thursday, May 21 from 5 to 6:30 p.m. at the Memorial Center. Tickets are $5 and only $2.50 for children. There is a big raffle and the dogs are there to meet the community.

SON, NOT LIKE FATHER

"Like father, like son" is the old saying that implies that a son takes after his father. My son, David would be an exception to this rule. He didn't take after me. He passed me by at an early age. Like all parents, Linda and I feel proud when our kids accomplish something. From about 4th grade on David always wanted to be an architect. He did just that. Now he is using his architectural mind and his love for art and design to write for well-know art magazines and internet sites. He was chosen to write a featured article in this month's edition of ARTFORUM, the world's number one art magazine. My meager writing style for this column is a little bit lacking compared to my son's. Here is a glimpse of his article: "If most postmodernist critiques of functionalism were fueled by antihumanism, a displacement of the subject and a hotheaded visual combativeness—think of deconstructivism's affinity for fragmentation and disorientation—these architects have never abandoned the idea that architecture is necessarily about inhabitation, the rhythms of bodies and space." Wow! You can see that it's not even close to being "like son, like father".

MOTHERS

I was born on Mothers Day. Maybe that is why I was always my mother's favorite. She made everyone feel special. My mom was the type of lady that everyone loved. She never had a bad word to say about anyone. We all have memories of our moms. We remember the times we did things that upset our moms, but we always knew that she still loved us. We would stomp through the house with dirty shoes on right after she had cleaned the floors. We would eat all the freshly baked cookies that she had made for the bake sale at church. For most of us, the most important thing we remember is the effort we put into making our mother proud of us. She had given us so much love, it was the least we could do for her. To do good and make her proud, that's all she wanted from us. Thinking of what she meant to me in my life still brings tears to my eyes as I write this. Happy Mothers Day to those moms out there who have devoted their lives to making their homes a place of love and joy.

FILING PERIOD CORRECTED DATES

Every odd year, the City Clerk's office in given the duty of conducting the city's elections. This being an odd year, the citizens will be given the opportunity to go to the polls and elect two city council members and a mayor. November 3rd is election day for this year. Any registered voter in Hawthorne is eligible to run for office. The process of running begins with the filing of papers in my office. The filing period for this year is from July 13 to August 7. Two years ago, the voters changed the term length of mayor from two years to four years. So, the winner of the mayoral race in November will serve for four years.

Wowser Schnauzers

We are looking for volunteers to help with our pet adoption fairs which are held every Saturday at the Petco located at 537 N. Pacific Coast Highway Redondo Beach 90277, from noon-3:30 p.m.. If you are interested in volunteering and can commit to at least one Saturday a month, please contact us at info@msfr.org. You can also visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoption fair or check out our website, www.msfr.org. If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability you can email us at info@msfr.org. Schnauzers! But you can't adopt just one!

My friends Sulu and Spock have been "transported" to their forever homes so now it's my turn! I'm called Bones and I'm a two-year old male Miniature Schnauzer mix. I could be a Tibetan Terrier/Schnauzer mix but we're not making any promises. A more accurate description of me would be that I look like a "Tramp" type dog with my long legs and sleek (23 pound) body. When I was rescued from the LA county shelter I was pretty sick with kennel cough and giardia and I'm still a few pounds underweight. After taking all of my medications, and receiving lots of TLC, I'm feeling great and ready to begin adventures with my new family. I'm a fairly calm boy who is very good with other dogs. I was a little shy with people in the beginning but I'm doing just fine now. I've been given so much love that my trust and confidence level is right up there! If you are interested in Bones please email info@msfr.org for more information.

My name is Winnie and I am the perfect little lady for you. I'm a quiet, sweet, female, purebred Miniature Schnauzer who loves people. I'm just a tiny gal, weighing only 10 pounds, and at nine years of age there won't be any growth spurts! After I was rescued from a LA county shelter and examined by a vet I had a dental done. Twelve teeth had to be extracted but I now have the most endearing, if not goofy, smile. I'm considered a special needs gal because I have low grade IBD (Irritable Bowel Disease). I'm on a Rx, high fiber dog food which keeps it totally under control. The MSFR folks thought that they had found me a home but unfortunately, I didn't get along with their other dog. That sometimes happens when you get two women who want to be the "lady of the house." I've been waiting so long to find my forever family; won't you please open your heart and give me a chance? If you are interested in Winnie, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

If your idea of the perfect addition to your family is a four-year-old male purebred Miniature Schnauzer, I'm your guy. They call me Mason and I was rescued from a shelter where everyone said I was a stray. It's hard to imagine why no one was interested in me but I spent almost two weeks at the shelter before I was rescued. The only thing I can think of is that my appearance was a bit off-putting. I admit that I was a bit matted and literally had half of a haircut (don't ask me why they didn't finish it). I'm only 18 pounds so I'm not overly large. I have a very expressive face and a sleek black coat. I get along well with other dogs, and I've been told that I have the sweetest personality ever. It had to be the tacky appearance thing - it just had to be. You must come to our adoptions on Saturday and see what a proper grooming will do! If you are interested in Mason please email info@msfr.org for more information.

They say that breaking up is hard to do and I can attest to that. My name is Missy and after my previous owners got divorced the one that had custody of me had to downsize so I ended up at a shelter. Do you know how hard it is for a nine-year-old female purebred Miniature Schnauzer to adjust to shelter life? Take my word for it, it's not easy. I'm grateful that my owner had second thoughts, bailed me out of the shelter, and turned me over to the folks at MSFR. I'm a tiny little gal so even at a mere 14 pounds I'm a bit overweight, but with a little exercise, I know I can get back in shape. I'm very sweet and loving, plus I get along really great with other dogs. All I'm asking for is a chance to be your best friend and companion - come see me at adoptions. If you are interested in Missy, please email info@msfr.org for more information. •

Happy Tails

Suzy-Q is now the ruler of the roost in her new Cypress home.

Congratulations and much happiness to our gal Suzy-Q and her new family. Suzy is the little five-year old girl who had bladder stones that was rescued in January. Her Mom always had larger dogs but now she lives in a townhouse and wanted a smaller friend. Suzy-Q knew a good thing when she spotted her new Mom and warmed right up to her. Suzy-Q now owns a residence in Cypress and she allows her Mom and Dad to live with her! •

Animo Has Unbeaten League Record

Hawthorne pitcher Andy Monarrez throws to an El Segundo batter during last Thursday's Ocean League baseball game. The Eagles blanked the Cougars 23-0.

The Animo Leadership baseball team from Inglewood displays a 5-0 Harbor League record after easy wins over Summit View West and Shalhevet, both private schools from Los Angeles, last week. At Stoner Park in West L.A. on April 27, the Aztec-Eagles rolled over Summit View West 25-3. Two days later at Shalhevet, Animo won handily 12-2.

Against Shalhevet, the Aztec-Eagles led 2-1 through two innings, then broke the game open by scoring 10 runs over the next four innings, including three in the third and five in the fifth. Animo had a balanced attack, behind senior Dante Siordia who went two-for-three with two runs scored. Junior Miguel Patino was two-for-two with a run and junior Adam Miranda went one-for-two with two runs batted in and one run. Angel Baron, Sergio Orejel, Brian Rocha and Cesar Rocha each drove in a run.

Brian Rocha was the winning pitcher. He went three innings allowing two runs (one earned) on three hits. He struck out four batters. At Summit View West, the Aztec-Eagles made quick work with five runs in the top of the first, four in the second, 11 in the third and five more in the fourth.

Winning pitcher Baron went three-for-five, drove in five runs and scored three. He was among five pitchers as he went just one inning, allowing two earned runs. He struck out two batters and walked two. Ernesto Lucas pitched two hitless innings with two strikeouts and two walks. At the bat, Lucas was two-for-three with three RBI's and two runs. Brian Rocha went four-for-four with two RBI's and five runs.

Animo (13-3 overall) will take on Environmental Charter from Lawndale at Kendall Field in Torrance tonight at 6:30 p.m. in another league game. The Aztec-Eagles, then, host Newport Beach Sage Hill at the Urban Youth Baseball Academy in Compton next Wednesday at 3 p.m.

Environmental, meanwhile, is struggling with a 1-9 overall record and is 1-3 in Harbor action after a 7-3 loss at Shalhevet on April 27. Shalhevet scored three runs in the bottom of the first inning and four runs in the second before the White Tigers scored three in the top of the third. The rest of the game was scoreless.

EL SEGUNDO DOMINATES HAWTHORNE

Hawthorne High's baseball team had two Ocean League games against a premiere El Segundo team and the Eagles proved overwhelming to the Cougars last week. At Hawthorne on April 28, the Eagles rolled over the Cougars 16-4. At Stevenson Field on the ground of El Segundo Recreation Park last Thursday, the Eagles overwhelmed Hawthorne 23-0. Both games ended after five innings due to a mercy rule coaches' agreement. At Hawthorne, the Eagles rolled to a 16-0 lead before the Cougars scored all four of their runs in the bottom of the fifth inning.

Senior Chris Phelps, one of the two Phelps brothers (the other being sophomore Charles) who transferred to Hawthorne from El Segundo prior to last season, had two hits and drove in a run. Max Riley went one-for-three with one RBI and Brandon Brown also had a hit and drove in a run. Last Thursday, the Eagles thoroughly dominated the Cougars, already taking a 16-0 bulge (seven runs in the bottom of the first and nine in the second) after only two innings.

El Segundo, unbeaten in league at 6-0, 19-6 overall and ranked third in the CIF-

Hawthorne batter Max Riley swings at a pitch during last Thursday's Ocean League baseball game. The Cougars visit Culver City today at 3:15 p.m.

Hawthorne baserunner Charles Phelps leads off second base in last Thursday's Ocean League baseball game against El Segundo.

Southern Section Division III, was sparked by Joey Garza who went two-for-two, including a three-run home run in the fourth, and drove in four runs. Hunter Lewis also went two-for-two including a two-run homer.

Hawthorne mustered just five hits, two of those by Charles Phelps. The Cougars will have road league games at Culver City today and at Lawndale next Tuesday, both beginning at 3:15 p.m.

LAWNDALE SPLITS WITH BEVERLY HILLS

Lawndale High's baseball team won its first Ocean League game of the season at home over Beverly Hills 1-0 last Thursday. The win came after the Cardinals (1-5 in league) lost a nailbiter to the host Normans 4-3 on April 28 at La Cienega Park in Beverly Hills.

Lawndale has a brutal two-game series against Ocean leader El Segundo this week. After visiting the Eagles at Recreation Park's Stevenson Field on Tuesday, the Cardinals host El Segundo today at 3:15 p.m. Lawndale, then, begins its league closing rivalry at home against Hawthorne next Tuesday at the same time. The Cardinals visit the Cougars next Thursday.

HAWTHORNE BLANKS LAWNDALE

Hawthorne High's softball team shut out host Lawndale 11-0 on April 28 before being blanked by Santa Monica 12-0 last Thursday at home. Against the Cardinals, pitchers La Leilua (starter), Alyssa Casillas, Emily Cortez, Carrie Ludman, Natal Rocha and Melina Sandoval combined for a one-hitter.

Vanessa Perez sparked the Cougars' offense by going three-for-three with five runs batted in and one run scored. Cassandra Perez was two-for-three with two RBI's and a run. Alyssa Casillas went two-for-three and scored one run. Santa Monica, the Ocean League leader and last year's CIF-Southern Section Division III champion, proved too much for Hawthorne.

The Cougars visit El Segundo at Richmond Field in a key league game Friday at 7 p.m. Hawthorne, then, visits Culver City in another big Ocean contest next Tuesday at 3:15 p.m. before closing league next Thursday at home against Lawndale next Thursday at the same time. •

Caregiving Expert Gives Advice on Advanced Estate Planning

My Internet Connection is Slow. Should I change providers?

By R. Christine Brown

"I'm a caregiving expert, with more than 30 years of experience in the field of aging, so you'd think I'd be fully prepared for a loved one's death, especially when that person is older or has been battling illness. Yet even for me, death caught me by surprise."

There are many things caregiving expert Amy Goyer wished she would have asked before her mom and sister passed away. She says that it's harder for her to feel that she totally lived up to her responsibilities as executor of their estates.

Her recent AARP article, titled "5 Questions I Wish I Had Asked Before They Died," explains that she is going to ask her other sisters and other loved ones about this type of information now—long before she hopes she'll ever need it. She has in place the proper advance directives, estate and financial planning, but she says that she'll also be more thorough with the finer details. To that end, the author recommends asking these questions:

Where is important paperwork located?

The author of the original article thought she had the most recent valid copies of her sister's legal documents; however, that wasn't the case. She had to search through mountains of paper! Your loved ones may know where their financial and legal documents are located—but that's no help after they're gone.

What are the details of what you want for your memorial service? Obviously with the stress of losing a loved one, any decisions about the service that can be made in advance are most helpful when relatives are deep in shock and grief. Discuss details with them like music, the service location, speakers, flowers, and food.

Who should get your personal items? The article urges you to catalog your collectibles, jewelry, and special mementos. Most people fail to list these items in their wills.

Who is in that picture? Many folks have stacks of family photographs of people who look familiar, but they're not sure who they really are. To avoid this, label each photo when discussing it with your loved ones and hang on to that family history.

Finally, the original article stresses that you don't let your hesitancy to talk about death keep you from bringing up these subjects with your family. Start the conversation early and have them often; it will help reduce the awkwardness.

Remember, as much as we hate to face it, death is inevitable for all of us. The better prepared we all are—in addition to the basic legal documents—the easier it will be when the time comes. •

By Sid Kato, Array Systems, Inc.

There are several reasons your internet connection may seem slow. Before you jump to the conclusion the problem is with your Internet Provider you need to do some investigation.

First, run a speed check of your Internet Provider. This is actually quite easy to do. A speed test program will test the speed of your computer connecting to the Internet – called the "upload" speed. It will also test the speed of copying data from the website onto your computer - called the "download" speed. There are many speed test programs available. You can search by typing "internet speed test" into your search engine. One I found on Google is <http://www.speakeasy.net/speedtest/>.

After you run the speed check and have both the upload and download speeds, compare them to the contracted speed of your Internet provider. Most of the time you'll find the Internet Provider is not the problem. If yours is not, continue the investigation.

The most common cause of a slowing computer is a virus or malware. Check your virus protection or malware program status. You may find your computer is infected and needs attention. Follow the steps to clean or quarantine the problem.

Another possibility can be a problem with a specific program. If one program seems slow, log in to a completely different program to determine if the problem is widespread or limited. I use Quickbooks to manage my accounting so I'd log in to Quickbooks to see if I still notice a similar response time problem. If the slowness only occurs in one program, you have probably found the culprit. If the slowness affects multiple programs, your computer may be to blame.

After investigating all of these without finding any issues, your computer itself may be the source of the problem. You will most likely need help from a local computer expert who can evaluate further. If you live near Torrance, I'd recommend PC Parlor run by Tony Musorafite. Ask for his bench rate, which is very reasonable.

Hopefully, these tips will help you find the problem and get your computer back up-to-speed!

Firehouse Chili with Cornbread and Havarti Crust

Makes 4 servings as a main course or 12 servings as an appetizer

Ingredients

- 6 cups prepared chili from the deli section in your local grocery store
- 1 cup shredded Arla Dofino Creamy Havarti
- 2 cups cornbread crumbs
- 2 tablespoons chopped fresh cilantro
- 1 seeded and minced jalapeno
- 1 tablespoon fresh lime zest

Preparation

1. Preheat the oven to 400 F. Heat the chili and divide between four oven-safe servings bowls, set aside.
2. Combine the shredded Havarti with cornbread crumbs, cilantro, jalapeno and lime zest. Top the chili with the cornbread mixture and place in the oven until cheese melts and cornbread browns, about 15 minutes. Remove and serve right away. •
