Ballet Folklorico Macias Gears Up for Heritage Festival

The colorful group Ballet Folklorico Macias performed last year at the City of Inglewood's Hispanic Heritage Festival and will be back again at this year's event this coming Saturday. The group practices at Veteran's Memorial Building on Tuesdays and Thursdays, providing instruction in the art of Mexican folk dance to youth and adults. Housing Trust Fund Approved Amid Community Concerns About Affordability

By Haleemon Anderson

The Inglewood City Council adopted a resolution establishing a Housing Trust Fund during this week's meeting, taking action to address affordable housing in the community. The program boosts federal, state and local efforts to provide housing for extremely low and very low-income households, including homeless families. The relatively new funding source was established under Title I in 2008, and state guidelines for implementation were published in 2015.

Housing has become a hot-button issue in the city, with residents severely divided. Many are cautious that the massive construction boom will price-out existing tenants. Others see new development as an opportunity to create jobs and raise income levels. And while construction continues at a pace on the NFL stadium for the LA Rams, the City of Inglewood has begun initial planning on a basketball arena for the LA Clippers.

In fact, Mayor James T. Butts, absent on the dais, was in Sacramento working on SB 789, according to Councilmember Ralph L. Franklin. The bill seeks to loosen some of the most stringent aspects of the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA).

Members of the Uplift Inglewood Coalition showed up in force at the meeting, voicing their continued opposition to the basketball arena, and conflating the issue with housing. The nonprofit organization has consistently represented the position that rising housing costs will force many longtime residents out of Inglewood.

Chris Shaw circulated copies of letters addressed to Senator Steve Bradford and the Inglewood community at large, urging other legislators and Bradford, who authored the bill, to vote no on SB 789. The group is planning a meeting today (September 14) to address rent stabilization and affordable housing.

Cathy Duffy said Uplift Inglewood is opposed to bypassing CEQA. "We want the community to be driven at a sustainable pace," she said.

Willie A.G. spoke in support of the Council's work. "I support SB 789 100 percent," he said. New development will bring businesses and jobs, he insisted, noting the impact of renovations on The Forum and Hollywood Park. He added that the City would be "bankrupt," if those projects had not gone forward.

Melvin Howard had a different viewpoint, "SB789 is a detriment," he said. "The environment is more important than a stadium."

Councilmember Eloy Morales took umbrage with the community dissent. "There will be a complete CEQA review," he said, adding that the idea that SB 789 subverts CEQA is "completely false."

Morales explained the amended CEQA, authored by Bradford, limits the time that lawsuits can come into play, allowing the City to complete the arena in time with the Clippers' contract ending at Staples Center in 2024. "It takes two years for the environmental impact report, two years for judicial review and public comment and two years for the build-out," Morales said.

There is precedent for the CEQA to be amended as such, particularly in sports and entertainment venues. The same protocol was used in the construction of Staples Center and other local entities, according to Christine M. Robert, an Inglewood resident and supporter of the development.

Councilmember George W. Dotson talked about the rebounding local economy. "Inglewood is growing. After 40 years, where we are now is one of the best places we've been," he said.

"We disproved people," said Councilmember Alex Padilla, "with the Rams, the development of Hollywood Park and now the Clippers." He recalled the many naysayers who didn't have a vision for Inglewood. "Now we have FedEx coming. We're getting jobs for Inglewood residents. Our jobless rate was 27.5 percent. Now it's 5.5. Now we have the number one concert venue in the state." Padilla also noted more housing will be developed at the defunct Daniel Freeman Hospital site, with 200 new homes planned.

In other business, the Council introduced a permit parking district at 97th, 98th and 99th streets between La Brea and Myrtle avenues, and approved an MOU between the Housing Authority and the South Bay Workforce Investment Board (SBWIB) to authorize joint resource and infrastructure costs. Also, a public hearing was set for September 26 at 2 p.m. to consider an amendment to municipal zoning codes regarding marijuana and cannabis regulations.

The Inglewood City Council meets every Tuesday, unless otherwise noted, at 2 p.m. in the Council Chambers on the ninth floor, Inglewood City Hall. •

Lawndale, Hawthorne Teachers Receive Unsung Heroes Grants

Ma Tadena

Voya Financial, Inc, a leading provider of workplace retirement solutions, including savings plans for K-12 educators, announced last week that Gregory Lakey, a teacher at Environmental Charter High School in Lawndale; and Ma Tadena, a teacher at Hawthorne High School, have each received $2,000 grants as part of the company's 2017 Voya Unsung Heroes awards competition.

Through the program, Voya Financial awards grants to K-12 educators nationwide to honor their innovative teaching methods, creative educational projects, and ability to positively influence their students. For more than 20 years, the program has awarded over $5 million in grants to more than 2,000 educators across the United States.

Lakey's innovative teaching idea, "Quadratics Through Rocketry," focuses on providing a hands-on approach to understanding abstract concepts, such as quadratic equations, trigonometry and physics. Through designing and building a rocket, and then measuring and analyzing its flight, students are exposed to STEM concepts and learn how to apply them to real life situations. Building rockets from scratch can be very expensive, as there is a tremendous amount of trial and error involved in perfecting the apparatus, so Lakey hopes the Voya grant will enable him to build upon his rocketry project and establish a rocketry club that gives students the opportunity to compete in national rocketry competitions.

Tadena's innovative teaching idea, "When Geometry Meets Fashion," focuses on connecting "left brain and right brain" skills and applies a Project Based Learning (PBL) strategy in her geometry classes. Students apply the math skills they have developed from Tadena's class to the study of music, art, and fashion design. The Voya grant will allow Tadena to provide materials used for a diverse array of mathematical art projects, including drawing, painting, fashion and accessory design, and more. Tadena believes that by understanding and applying the crossovers between arts and mathematics, students will be able to find color, glamour, and beauty in what is often considered a dull, linear subject.

Selected from a group of more than 1,200 applicants, Lakey and Tadena are two of only 100 winners across the country who will receive this award to help fund and bring their programs to life. In addition, they will now compete with other finalists for one of the top three prizes—an additional $5,000, $10,000 or $25,000 from Voya Financial. — Source: Voya Financial

Metro Line Work to Close Parts of Arbor Vitae This Weekend

Los Angeles World Airports (LAWA) announced last week that LA Metro work on the Crenshaw/LAX Project will close a portion of Arbor Vitae Street, affecting access to some businesses northeast of Los Angeles International Airport (LAX), including several car rental offices, the weekend of September 15-17 (the street was also closed last weekend).

Arbor Vitae Street will be closed between Aviation Boulevard and Bellanca Avenue during the work. Metro has established a detour using Aviation Boulevard, Manchester Avenue and Airport Boulevard. Access will be available to businesses on Bellanca Street between Manchester Avenue and Arbor Vitae Street.

LAWA encourages travelers to allow extra time for potential traffic delays. Passengers should arrive at their terminal two hours ahead of the boarding time for domestic flight and three hours ahead of the boarding time for international flights.

Updates on real-time traffic conditions in and around LAX will be available by following the Los Angeles Airport Police (@LAAirportPD) and LAX Airport (@flyLAXairport) on Twitter, as well as through the WAZE traffic app.

Information on the Metro Crenshaw/LAX Transit Project is available at www.metro.net/projects/crenshaw_corridor/ and by following Metro on Twitter @crenshawrail or www.facebook.com/crenshawrail. The public may also call the Metro Crenshaw/LAX Transit Project hotline at (213) 922-2736. — Source: LAWA •

Take Precautions in the Heat - Lifesaving Tips

(BPT) - From tornadoes and floods to hail and lightning storms, the United States experiences a broad array of extreme weather. Fatalities do occur, but many people are surprised to learn that the weather event that causes the greatest number of deaths is heat.

According to the National Weather Service, heat causes the greatest number of weather-related fatalities each year. In fact, an average of 130 people a year lost their lives as a result of heat from 1986-2015. This is a higher number than all other weather events, including hurricanes.

From coast to coast, many regions are experiencing heat waves and extreme temperatures this summer. The toll the heat can take on the body should not be underestimated. It's important to take precautions to ensure safety in the heat when exercising, entertaining or working outdoors or in non-air-conditioned areas like the garage.

Hydration: The top tip for giving your body the power to beat the heat is to stay hydrated. You need water to sweat, which cools the body. When sweat evaporates, it cools the air around the skin so you can maintain a comfortable body temperature. Be certain to avoid sugar or caffeinated drinks, as they are not as effective as plain old H₂O.

Rest: Whether at work or play, be sure to take breaks from the heat. Heat exhaustion can lead to heat stroke, both of which are dangerous conditions caused by too much time in hot temperatures. Frequent breaks from strenuous activity allow the body to rest and cool down.

Shade: High temperatures paired with the UV rays of the sun can be a dangerous combination. If you must spend time outdoors, try to do so in the shade. Shaded surfaces, for example, may be 20-45 degrees cooler than the peak temperatures of unshaded surfaces, according to the United States Environmental Protection Agency.

Cooling: While air conditioning is not an option for open areas like the patio, deck or garage, consider achieving cooling in these spaces with a portable evaporative cooler. Using the ambient air and the natural process of evaporation, these coolers produce chilled air to create a comfortably cool environment. Portacool portable evaporative coolers offer a variety of sizes to accommodate spaces from 1,000 to 6,000 square feet. They operate with a standard 110-V, are energy-efficient and are equipped with heavy-duty castors for easy mobility.

Clothing: Loose-fitting clothing made from lightweight materials can help keep your body cool during hot temperatures while shielding you from sunburn. This type of clothing can breathe, meaning that air can easily circulate to your body and keep you cool. Be selective when it comes to colors. Choosing light-colored attire is wise because it can reflect heat more efficiently than darker tones.

Peak hours: While it's not always possible, it's wise to avoid being outdoors during peak heat periods of the day. This is typically noon to 5 p.m. So if you must work in your garage or plan to exercise outdoors, start early in the morning. Consider planning family cookouts for later in the evening when the sun lowers and temperatures start to drop. •

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy named Norb Huber

GOOD NEIGHBORS DAY - THIS SATURDAY!

It's finally here. I really hope you can make it over to Jim Thorpe Park this Saturday. A lot of hard work has gone into setting up the new Hawthorne Museum. The grand opening and ribbon cutting ceremony will be part of Good Neighbors Day this year. Five, great live bands will be performing on stage. The In-N-Out Burger truck will be there. The first annual John Baker Memorial Car Show will be held out on the park's large grounds. An art walk and many vendors will be setting up their booths. Plan to make a good day out of it. There will be plenty to take in. You are encouraged to park on the street or better yet, walk, or ride a bike over to the site. Parking will be limited. This is our seventh year for GND. It's been a great day each year for Hawthorne. We celebrate our history, we celebrate our diversity, and we celebrate our good neighbors. It will be great to have the good people of Hawthorne come together and share in the festivities. I'll be there. If you read my column, please introduce yourself to me. I get lonely writing this every week for my five relatives that open up there emails some weeks. I really think I have a lot of "closet readers". You know I'm talking about you folks who don't want to admit that you read this stuff. That's okay, writing off the wall stuff is therapy for me. I feel worthwhile, I feel that I have contributed something to the cause. I feel like I've done my duty regardless of how many of you there are out there. The way I look at it, is IF I reach one soul and that one person has a cold one to relax and enjoy life, I can go to sleep knowing that I have "made a difference". Have a cold one for me, I'll sleep better.

CUBAN FESTIVAL

Get ready for some more fun. The annual Cuban Festival is returning and will be held on Sunday, October 1 starting at 12 noon at the Sociedad Jose Marti. The festival was not held last year but for many years has been a real treat to attend. Delicious Cuban foot, sandwiches, fritters tamales, and Cuban coffee. Live music provided by the Charanga Cubana Band and DJ Audio Genics. Admission is $10 for adults and free for children 12 years old and under. Verena Cubana is the name of the event but it's really spelled FUN. So, mark your calendars and plan to get over to Prairie Avenue early to get a parking spot.

36 DIFFERENT CANS

As I was looking for ice cream, I passed by the "cold ones section" of WalMart Market the other day and spotted a big display for Budweisers. These were not just your regular Buds, these were giant cases of 36 cans. Each can had a different NFL team logo on it. So, I guess if your team is losing you can find the winning team and celebrate with that cold one. My 49ers have not done well for the past several years, so I might need to find another team to celebrate with. Since I only have one cold one each weekend, this giant case will last me through the regular season and well into the playoffs.

FLORIDA, TEXAS, MEXICO, WHO'S NEXT?

Why does God allow all of these natural disasters to occur? Hurricanes and earthquakes kill loved ones and good people lose all of their earthly possessions. Could it be that God wants us to depend on Him instead of putting our trust in our wealth? We either put our whole trust in what we accumulate or accomplish here on earth or we trust in God who provides us with all we need. We can't serve two masters. We read in Matthew 6:24 "No one can serve two masters. Either you will hate the one and love the other, or you will be devoted to the one and despise the other. You cannot serve both God and money.

When bad comes into our lives, God is working through those trials to bring us closer to him. All of our money, our houses, our cars and everything else in our lives can disappear in a moment, but God's love for us can never be taken away. Live today without worrying so much about how much money you need to make to buy that next big car or house or big screen. Trust in the Lord with all of your heart and God will provide you with what you need to really live. I look forward to seeing you on Saturday. •

Dodgers Look Horrible, But That Really Doesn't Matter

By Adam Serrao

It has become a year of records and streaks for the Los Angeles Dodgers, who have simultaneously looked like the utter and complete best team and now the absolute worst team in Major League Baseball this season. The Boys in Blue, who at one time not long ago looked destined for greatness, began looking black and blue. As of last Sunday, they were still stuck in a losing streak that they simply couldn't seem to halt. Every great baseball team hits a skid. It's simply a matter of how long that skid lasts. For the Dodgers, while it seems as if their current slide was lasting forever, it's better for the team to figure it out now during the stretch run of the regular season than once the playoffs roll around in early October.

It wasn't long ago that everyone around baseball was talking about how the Dodgers hadn't lost a series to an opposing team since the beginning of the month of June. Since that time, someone obviously took it upon themselves to create a voodoo doll with a big Los Angeles logo on the front of it in an effort to bring a team that looked like one of the best ever back down to the mean. Now as of last weekend, the Dodgers hadn't won a series since late August, finding ways to lose games in every way imaginable. They could lose close, like they did last Friday night in a 5-4 loss to the Colorado Rockies. They could get demolished, like they did in a 13-0 loss to the Arizona Diamondbacks. Or, they could lose two games in one day like they did two weeks ago when they dropped a doubleheader to the San Diego Padres over the Labor Day weekend.

Labor seems to be the key word here, as the Dodgers are struggling on the mound and most notably, at the plate. "It's bad right now," Dodgers ace Clayton Kershaw began to explain. "There's no getting around that. When you compare it to the first half, however many games we played it's pretty stark opposite. If anything, it doesn't make this easier." Nothing is ever easy about losing. Especially when you're Clayton Kershaw and your team had won the previous 16 consecutive games that you had started. Even the great one had been made victim of the slide, however, as the three-time Cy Young Award-winner pitched arguably his worst outing of the year by giving up four earned runs through just 3.2 innings in a 9-1 loss to the Rockies last Thursday night.

From going 53-10 and on pace to capture the most wins in MLB history to losing eight of the team's first nine games in September (and the five games in a row preceding that) is demoralizing, to say the least. Even still, there is no reason to worry just yet. Rival manager of the Rockies, Bud Black, perhaps summed it up the best when speaking of the Dodgers slide after his team's 5-4 win in Los Angeles last Friday night. "If you look at the landscape of our game and you look at every team – all 30 of them – you see segments of the season like this. It's what happens over the length of six months. It's very difficult to sustain a great deal of success because there's always someone on the other side coming for you."

The majority of the Dodger losses during their skid have not only come at the hands of their rivals from the NL West, but the rivals like the Rockies and the Diamondbacks who are fighting for their playoff lives. To say that those teams simply want it more right now, especially when up against the best team in all of baseball and the one that is in first place in their division, would be an understatement. While that doesn't sound good to say of a Dodgers team that should want every game just as badly as their opponent does, winning 90 games and basically clinching your division before the last week of August goes a long way to afford you some time of relief in a long 162-game season.

What we've seen of the Dodgers lately is manager Dave Roberts being very liberal with his disabled list. Kershaw, Yu Darvish, Corey Seager, Cody Bellinger and more have all been thrown on the DL lately, not because most have serious injuries, but because Roberts would rather have them around, fully healthy and clicking on all cylinders in October rather than in August and September. Missing key players and offensive pieces of the roster like the ones listed above can certainly do its part to throw a wrench into the concept of outscoring an opponent. What it also does, however, is gives other, lesser involved players, the opportunity to get at-bats in competitive situations in order to gear up and get them ready for a World Series run.

If the Dodgers know one thing about playoff competition, it's how easy it is to get beaten when you're off of your game. Los Angeles has won four consecutive NL West titles, yet has come up short every single year when the games tend to matter the most. Whether you're the 2006 St. Louis Cardinals, the 2000 New York Yankees, or a handful of other great teams from the past, a slump is a necessary part of a great season. Like winning, losing becomes contagious. Once the games begin to matter again for a team that is still miles ahead in its own division, winning will do its part to reappear, turning any memory of a so-called losing streak into nothing but a distant memory. Some might say that winning is always important on a night-in and night-out basis, but most Dodger fans would much rather have the "Ws" pile up once the new and more important season begins in October. – Aserrao6@yahoo.com •

Make Ahead Breakfast Bowls

Recipe content provided by BPT

Ingredients

- 2 lbs Yukon gold potatoes, chopped into 1-inch cubes
- 1 green pepper, seeded then chopped into 1-inch chunks
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/4 cup extra virgin olive oil
- 1 tablespoon seasoned salt
- 12 eggs (large)
- 2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
- 3 green onions, chopped
- toppings: tortilla chips, salsa, avocado
- 6 individual-sized containers with lids

Preparation

1. Preheat oven to 425 degrees F.
2. On a large baking sheet, place potatoes, peppers and onions in a single layer. Drizzle with olive oil and sprinkle with seasoned salt and ground black pepper. Toss until evenly coated.
3. Roast for about 30-40 minutes or until potatoes are golden brown and tender, stirring and rotating pan halfway through cooking.
4. Meanwhile, crack Eggland's Best eggs into a large bowl, then season with salt and pepper and whisk until smooth.
5. Heat a large skillet over medium heat, then spray with nonstick spray and add eggs.
6. Scramble until the eggs are just barely cooked through and still slightly glossy, then scoop onto a plate and set aside.
7. Divide the potatoes and scrambled eggs evenly between the containers, then set aside to cool.
8. Once cool, sprinkle with cheese and green onions, then cover and refrigerate. Freeze any portions that aren't eaten within three days.
9. To reheat from frozen: microwave for 1 1/2 minutes, then stir and continue microwaving until food is reheated, stirring between intervals. Top with optional toppings, then serve. •

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING OF INTENTION TO TRANSFER A PETROLEUM PIPELINE FRANCHISE FROM EXXONMOBIL OIL CORPORATION TO TORRANCE VALLEY PIPELINE COMPANY, LLC AND TORRANCE PIPELINE COMPANY, LLC.
 NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Tuesday, October 10, 2017, at 6:00 P.M., a Public Hearing will be held in the City Council Chambers, 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California, 90250 to consider all protests or objections to the following proposed Ordinance No. 2131: "An Ordinance of the City Council of the City of Hawthorne, California, Transferring a Petroleum Franchise from ExxonMobil Oil Corporation to Torrance Valley Pipeline Company, LLC and Torrance Pipeline Company, LLC and Exercising Certain Rights of the City with Respect to the Rate of Fees Due under that Franchise. All Interested Persons are hereby invited to attend a public hearing at which all persons interested in or objecting to the proposed transfer of the pipeline franchise may appear and be heard. If you wish to legally challenge any action taken by the City on the above matter, you may be limited to raising only those issues you or someone else raised at the public hearing described in this notice, or in written correspondence delivered to the City prior to or at the public hearing. The grantee of the pipeline franchise and its successors and assigns will, during the life of its franchise, pay to the City of Hawthorne for the pipeline area occupied by each pipeline it installs or operates under this extended franchise at an annual rate of $1.01 base rate per linear foot for an 8" pipe and $3.64 base rate per linear foot for a 16" base rate per linear foot. The base franchise fee shall be due and payable during the life of the franchise.

 Base Franchise Fee.
 1. A base franchise fee shall be paid by the Grantee to the City for the pipeline area occupied by each pipeline it installs or operates under this extended franchise at an annual rate of $1.68 per cubic foot. Equivalent fee converted to linear feet can be found in the table below.

Pipe size (internal diameter in inches)	Base rate per linear foot ($)
8	1.01
16	3.64

The base franchise fee shall be due and payable during the life of the franchise, including the year of granting the franchise. For purposes of this subsection, the pipeline area occupied by a pipeline, pipe connections, cathodic protection facilities, pipe casings and other minor appurtenances shall be taken as equivalent to the volume occupied by a cylinder of equal length having a diameter of one (1) inch (for metal pipe) or two (2) inches (for plastic pipe) greater than the nominal internal diameter of the pipe or conduit but in no case with an equivalent cylinder diameter less than four (4) inches, and the payment rate therefore shall be computed to the nearest tenth of a cent per linear foot of pipe. Pipeline area occupied by any appurtenances such as manholes or vaults shall be computed from the outside dimensions of the structure. The annual fee shall be paid no later than December 31 of

 The compensation provided for in Section 3B shall be subject to an increase after the first year of the anniversary date of the Franchise and each subsequent year thereafter during the term of this Franchise. The amount of increase shall be computed pursuant to the Producer Price Index for all commodities in the following manner: Effective upon approval of this Ordinance, the base CPI for computing the adjustment is the Consumer Price Index, all Urban Consumers for the Los Angeles-Anaheim-Riverside Area (1982-84 = 100) (hereinafter referred to as the "Index"), for the period of April 2016 (hereinafter referred to as the "Beginning Index"). If the index published for the year proceeding Payment due date (hereinafter referred to as the "Extension Index") has increased over the Beginning Index, the Franchise fee for the following year (until the next adjustment) shall be set by multiplying the Franchise fee set forth in Section 3B by a fraction, the numerator of which is the Extension Index and the denominator of which is the Beginning Index. In no case shall this increased compensation be less than the Franchise fees set forth in Section 3B. If the

Index is discontinued or revised during the terms, such other mutually agreeable governmental index or computation with which it is replaced shall be used in order to obtain substantially the same results that would be obtained if the index had not been discontinued or revised. THE PUBLIC IS INVITED to submit written comments to the Public Works/Engineering Department or during the public hearing. Ordinance No. 2131 may be obtained at the City Clerk's Department located at 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, CA 90250 (310) 349-2915. Five Reasons to Make your End of Summer Road Trip a Flight Instead

(BPT) - Summer break is an American institution, and that midyear break is often best enjoyed through travel. This year is no different; in fact, many experts expect this year's summer travel season to be among the busiest ever. That is particularly true when it comes to air travel.

According to research from Airlines for America, a record 234.1 million passengers are expected to travel by air this summer on United States-based airlines.

So why are so many people taking to the skies? Below are five reasons air travel is going to be hot this season. They might just motivate you to go and book your trip.

- More disposable income. An increase in the United States' gross domestic product, coupled with a lower unemployment rate, means more Americans have disposable income they can use to travel. Trips that were once considered road destinations are now being targeted for flights, allowing travelers to spend more time at their final destination and less time trying to get there.
- Increased entertainment options. The days of planning to simply sleep on a plane are over. Travelers now have access to fast, consistent and global in-flight Wi-Fi with Inmarsat's GX Aviation, powered by Honeywell's JetWave hardware so they can stream their favorite Netflix shows, YouTube videos and even use Facebook Live. This advancement provides high-speed, in-flight Wi-Fi with the reliability travelers are used to having at home or in the office.

- Reduced travel expenses. Air flight used to be seen as a luxury expense, but that is no longer true. Improved airline efficiency and increased competition in the market have sent the price of airline travel down for several years.

The reasonable price of crude oil has also helped keep airfare a much more affordable option for summer travels than it was even five years ago.

- A more comfortable, reliable flight. A flight delay or turbulence can start any summer trip on a negative note. According to a recent survey by YouGov, 47 percent of U.S. adults who've flown in the past 12 months are most frustrated by late arrivals or departures while 35 percent said on-time arrivals and departures would make them most excited to fly again. Improved technology is reducing those risks while making the entire flight more comfortable. Honeywell's GoDirect Weather provides data that pilots can access through a mobile app to find real-time weather reports along their flight path. GoDirect Weather also provides crowd-sourced, real-time weather data that's shared from other planes flying in the sky. Pilots can then use this data to adjust their flight paths in response to the conditions they will face, meaning fewer flight delays and a safer, smoother flight for travelers.

- Still the safest way to travel. You've heard the statistics that you're more likely to suffer a fatal collision on your way to the airport than in the air, and it's true. Every year, the number of fatalities associated with flying dramatically pales in comparison with driving, and this trend is expected to continue. New flight technologies introduced every year are helping pilots avoid bad weather and overcome maintenance problems that can cause airline accidents, resulting in an increased number of safe, uneventful flights. So plan your vacation with a flight in mind. It's a secure, quick way to make the most of your summer trip this year.

Cupcake

We have kitties of every size and color. One is sure to be your perfect match. Look at this week's picks and check out their friends at www.kittenrescue.org.

Cupcake is a very sweet young cat. She was found with her three kittens about four months ago and was a very loving mom to them. She is like a dog in that she follows people all over the house and likes to be in the same room with them. Cupcake always runs to the door to greet her foster family when they arrive. She is a fast learner and quickly understands when told not to do something (e.g. to not try to exit through the front door when people go out). This elegant and graceful girl has an easygoing temperament and will be a wonderful addition to your family.

Tequila is quite the little character. He is spunky, funny and opinionated. His favorite three things are to eat, nap and play--exactly in that order. He is quite vocal when it comes to meal time because he loves wet food. It's a good thing his fast metabolism allows him to easily retain his boyish figure and good looks. In fact, he is going to be on the petite side when he is full-grown. He is an independent little guy that appreciates a good head rub, although he is not all that fond of being held for longer than a minute or two. He would rather curl up next to you or sit on your lap while being petted. If you're looking for a playful kitty that has an entertaining, quirky little personality, Tequila is your guy. He is young enough to adapt to a household with cat-friendly dogs and other cats in the home.

Priscilla is a beautiful girl, inside and out. She loves people, treats, pets, treats, attention, and... oh, did we mention treats?

She is sweet and gentle. She likes to play a little bit, but her favorite activity is to cuddle up with you for a nap on the couch. Priscilla would like to find a home without other cats, as she is more of a people person. She recently lost her home of 10 years when her owner had to move into a nursing home and is very eager to meet that new special someone who would like to bring her home.

Grace is a warm, maternal little kitten. She is a special girl who enjoys belly and head rubs. She also likes to perch up on a window, gazing at squirrels and watching for you to come home. On her playful side, she enjoys fuzzy toys and jumping for ball teasers. This beautiful angel would love to meet you!

Sprite is best known as a little purr machine. He is a very affectionate kitten who loves to be held and cuddled. While his foster mom works from home, Sprite likes to keep her company all afternoon by sleeping on her lap or beside her keyboard. Sprite is not just about napping and cuddling. He also loves to play and wrestle with his foster siblings and chase his cat toys around the living room. If you're looking for a kitten that loves to cuddle as much as he likes to nap and play, then Sprite is the perfect one for you! Because Sprite is such a social kitten, he would do best adopted together with another kitten or into a home with an existing cat.

Phoebe is a very sweet girl. Although she can be a little shy in a new environment, once Phoebe settles in, she's quite a cool cat! Phoebe is happiest in a home where she is the only kitty, but she is also quite fond of the family dog in her foster home. They like to hang out and just chill together. Phoebe loves to chase wand toys with her human friends. She also likes long naps in the sun, sleeping with her foster mom--and especially likes to snuggle next to her at bedtime. Her ideal home would be with adults (or some mature children would be okay too) where she is the only kitty, or with a mellow, cat-friendly dog. Phoebe is crossing her paws that you will get to meet soon!

Grace

Electra is a pretty, smoky-grey girl who is full of spunk and playfulness. Though she lives with many cats at the sanctuary and shared her previous home with another kitty, we suspect she would be happy to be an only cat. Electra is a quirky girl who would love to have a home with a person or persons who would play with her--she loves jumping, leaping and chasing her feather on a stick toy. Electra also likes to be pet after all of that playing. She will definitely entertain you with her playfulness!

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org.

Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Boulevard, #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.
