STEM Academy Focuses on Girls

STEM FOCUS: At Grace Hooper STEM Academy, students are given an opportunity to excel in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math courses. Through its efforts, Grace Hooper STEM Academy has graduated young girls from underserved communities from all over Los Angeles into STEM focused high schools throughout the area. Grace Hopper STEM Academy Provides New Opportunities For Young Girls

By Cristian Vasquez

Nestled behind St. Mary's Academy on Grace Avenue in the City of Inglewood sits a new source of education and hope for young girls. Founded by the Ladera Education Institute [LEI], Grace Hooper STEM Academy [GHSA] is the only public charter school in Inglewood with an academic focus on Science, Technology, Engineering and Math [STEM] and that is designed to meet the needs of girls growing up in underserved communities.

"The current focus is on high school students but in reality the problem starts earlier. The gap is the middle school, where the problems begin," Director of Operations at Grace Hopper STEM Academy Yesmin Ortiz said. "What she [Executive Director Margo Harris] wanted to do was figure a way to target these girls."

GHSA's mission also includes emphasizing social responsibility among its students as they prepare for high school, college and beyond.

"GHSA is an Inglewood-based charter middle school that reaches out to the local low-income, under-privileged, high-risk communities [like East LA, Watts, Compton] and provides young minds a free education," Ortiz said. "Our school provides a safe place to learn and excel in STEM. Every day GHSA goes to the student's neighborhood, picks them up and takes them home to ensure students are in the classroom and learning instead of wandering the streets, and getting into trouble."

Through a partnership between LEI and Ladera Casa, GHSA is capable of working with families who have kids in the foster care system to provide them classes tailored to improving life at home.

"Our dormitory is a short-term, live-in facility with the goal of either reuniting families or to finding them a permanent home," Ortiz said.

GHSA provides 20 dorm rooms for young girls in the foster system to transition into a home-like environment with a more personalized setting. All of the rooms are single occupancy dorm rooms and are being supported by local clubs and organizations, who donate time and resources to decorate each room.

"There is a lot of temptation at the middle school age and studies have shown that the average student is sexually active and the age is lowering," Ortiz said. "Our approach is to prepare middle school students, in a safe environment, where we can get them excited about school, STEM and the benefits of higher education. We follow them through high school, so the opportunity for higher education is much easier."

In addition to the dorms, the campus plans to open a health clinic where the girls can receive basic medical check ups and address common medical needs. The campus has its own on-site chef responsible for providing two hot meals and a snack, all three healthy for the students, every day.

"Changing the girls' eating habits is hard; we don't have frozen, processed or instant foods," Ortiz said. "Through research, LEI has learned students focus better in the classroom when they are not focusing on how hungry they are. With this in mind, GHSA provides home-cooked meals for breakfast and lunch and soon dinner so that parents don't have to worry about their students going hungry."

Along with healthy food options, GHSA is dedicated to educating students on proper nutrition, including how to grow their own vegetables. However, at the core of its mission GHSA's mission is ensuring that students graduate into schools that will continue to challenge them academically and inspire them to pursue STEM careers. With just three years in existence, GHSA saw its first eighth-grade class graduate last year. Its first culminating class consisted of students who were able to enroll at Hawthorne Math and Science Academy, the Da Vinci schools in the Wiserburn School District and in the neighboring St. Mary's Academy.

Grace Hopper, known as "the mother of computer science," graduated with a B.A. in Mathematics and Physics from Vassar College; moved on to earn her M.A. in Mathematics and Physics from Yale and completed her academics with a PhD in Mathematics from Yale. Not one to settle with past achievements, Hopper joined the Navy Waves during World War II, graduating No. 1 in her class at Midshipman's School. The commissioned Lieutenant JG was assigned to the Navy's Bureau of Ships Computation Project at Harvard University. Until her retirement as a Rear Admiral from the Navy, Hopper was known to enjoy teaching young people.

In honor of her legacy, GHSA is building a strong reputation through the results of their commitment to introducing young girls to STEM and focuses on five major areas, including: providing an extended day academic program, focusing on the race to STEM; developing comprehensive behavior modification and treatment programs; providing a Family Resource Center that provides workshops and training for parents, guardians and caregivers; running a community wellness and health clinic on campus [LEI Health Connections will be a free clinic for the foster youth, students, and their families where they can go to for a check up or for an over-the-counter prescription]; and operating the residential dormitory [Casa Ladera] for those students who have been removed from their homes and must be reoriented to being responsible members of their community.

"IUSD [Inglewood Unified School District] had not approved a charter for seven years but Dr. [Don] Brann, who saw the vision of the Academy approved the charter in February," Ortiz said. "One of the things we did tell him was that we did not want to compete for his students, but we did tell him there are a lot of kids in the area that because of resources, are not receiving a quality education. A lot of times the key part of this is that we bring kids from another location."

Persons interested in learning more about GHSA and enrollment can visit: <http://www.ghsa-k12-ca.us> or call (310) 910-0230. Anyone who would like to help can email School@ghsa-k12-ca.us.

Prophet's Prey: Shedding Light on Warren Jeffs and His Polygamist Cult

By Morgan Rojas for CINEMACY

In the early 1800s, a man named Joseph Smith claimed he had been chosen by God to restore the Church of Jesus Christ on earth. For the next ten years, he was said to have received "messages" from above which eventually were translated into the Book of Mormon. Among the messages was the instruction that Mormon men were to have at least three wives to reach the celestial kingdom. Multiple wives bearing many children, known as polygamy, was seen as one of the most important components of the holy doctrine. This belief was just one of the emotional devastation at the loss of his children who, still complying to FLDS rules, remain hateful towards him for breaking out of the church and want no form of a relationship. One of Warren's wives, Janetta Jessop (#63 for those keeping score at home) tells stories of underage marriage, bearing a child, and an irreparable relationship with her own mother.

It is ironic that Berg pairs beautiful sweeping aerial shots of the FLDS' mountainous compound with the full sound of a children's choir singing hymns. These moments could be taken from a fairy tale, an innocent scene of the many controversies that surrounded the Fundamentalist Church of Latter Day Saints (FLDS), an unsanctioned offshoot of the traditional Mormon Church. When the self-proclaimed "prophet" Warren Jeffs took control of the church and its people in 2002, the patriarchal abuse hit an all time high.

Prophet's Prey trails closely behind private investigator Sam Brower who has dedicated years to monitoring the religious cult, sometimes from a distance and sometimes not. In the film, Brower is confronted, chased and followed by FLDS security in an attempt to expose the group's deepest and darkest secrets. What results is a riveting documentary, an unintentional horror film that exposes what truly goes on behind the doors of one of the world's most evasive religious sects.

Animated sketches recreate the FLDS history, giving those who are less familiar with the religion and its teachings an opportunity to get caught up to speed within the film's first three minutes.

Acclaimed director Amy Berg captures the innocence and remorse of so many current ex-members and how they feel about the life they lost while brainwashed at the hands of Warren Jeffs' tyrannical mind control. Warren's brother Wallace speaks candidly to Berg, expressing born out of purity. However what looks like paradise from above is in fact a mirage; one step into the reality of this scene and into the day-to-day life of a Warren Jeffs follower reveals a world void of joy, happiness, and individuality.

Dustin Lance Black, Brian Grazer, Ron Howard, and Regina Scully are a few of the powerful forces that serve as executive producers, while music by Warren Ellis and Nick Cave round out this who's who of famous backers.

At one time being #2 on the FBI's most wanted list (next to Osama Bin Laden at #1 and Whitey Bulger at #3), Warren Jeffs was captured in 2006 after years of evasion. Today, Warren's brother Lyle rules over more than 10,000 FLDS followers on behalf of his brother, who to this day remains locked up in a Texas jailhouse. Despite his capture, however, the worry of Warren Jeffs' control over his followers has not stopped. Interviewees are concerned that blind obedience will see thousands of people follow Warren to the grave, reminiscent of a Waco or Jonestown. Even though he is behind bars, Prophet's Prey leaves us with the indication that Warren's reign is not over yet. Prophet's Prey is now playing at ArcLight Hollywood and on Showtime VOD, followed by a national rollout. •

Wiseburn Board Approves Contract With Schoolzilla Data Platform

By Cristian Vasquez

Members of the Wiseburn School Board approved a contract for $85,000 during a two-year period, with $55,000 being paid in the first year and the remaining $30,000 during the second year, with Schoolzilla. The contract will be paid for by Da Vinci and Wiseburn.

Through Schoolzilla, Wiseburn and Da Vinci will have the ability to access data about their students that has already been collected by the district, through other data systems, in ways they have not been able to do so in the past.

"Schoolzilla will connect and transform the data so the district can build reports relevant to them," District Partnership Lead Steve Taylor said. "There are lots and lots of different teachers in the district so personalizing it with just their students would take a lot of staff time without powerful tools like Schoolzilla."

With Schoolzilla, district staff will be able to upload a raw file to the Wiseburn data warehouse, and reports will be automatically personalized to show teachers' data for only the students in their class. Principals will also be able to access reports that are designed for them. This compilation of detailed information will become a useful tool for teachers, who will be able to tailor their instruction for students on a group and/or individual basis. At Wiseburn and Da Vinci the first phase of the project we will have Schoolzilla partner with the district to unify three different student information systems, nine assessments systems and one database.

In one example shown during the presentation at the most recent board meeting, principals can look at grades for each teacher, class, and student all within one dashboard. The data will be updated overnight, so every morning they are looking at up-to-date data, and can help students accordingly.

Schoolzilla will only store the compiled data and adheres to the federal guidelines set by The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) in its handling of this data. As a result, Schoolzilla will not be keeping, nor view, any student data.

"We transform the data so the district can build reports relevant to them. We don't see detailed student data in the performance of our core responsibilities," Taylor said.

As Schoolzilla is being set up, Da Vinci and Wiseburn personnel will work side-by-side with implementation managers responsible for coordinating the connection of all data and team training as well as for providing support. Through Tableau training designed specifically for schools, from beginner to advanced, Da Vinci and Wiseburn personnel will learn the best methods to use the data structuring tools for the best data visualization practices.

"In another report that was presented, district and school leaders can see how many, and which students are exhibiting warning signs that they will not graduate from high school; these include grades, attendance, and behavior data," Taylor said. "With access to this data in real time, school staff can intervene before it is too late, and help more students to graduate from high school. College readiness reports will allow Wiseburn/Da Vinci staff to use ACT data to know what percentage of students are college ready. It can be filtered by demographic, by school, by grade."

Data and Accountability Coordinator between Da Vinci and Wiseburn Gloria White looked at six different companies who offer similar services before it was decided to enter a contract with Schoolzilla. With this new data compilation system, Wiseburn and Da Vinci personnel will have the ability to track the academic career of all of their students, well into college and their careers.

"The kids are our kids from when they are five until they are 25. Even when they are gone they are still with us," White said. "That way when kids come to us we can help them along their path using the information from kids who have come before them."

The system will allow for the use of data from Naviance database to provide data from after students graduate from Da Vinci School. With post-secondary data at hand, the district can understand and look at the students' entire academic career, even after they have graduated from high school.

Wiseburn and Da Vinci will be able to analyze college applications, application results, and post-secondary schools of attendance every single year for former students. Wiseburn and Da Vinci are already receiving information on post-secondary enrollment each semester from the National Student Clearinghouse; this contract with Schoolzilla will enable the use of that data to better serve current students and/or alumni, and help support them in their quest for a college degree.

The National Student Clearinghouse is a national database that tracks college enrollment. It started as a transcript evaluation service to help colleges and universities manage transfer students, but now provides data to states and school districts about alumni enrollment. It does not reveal student grades or their majors but it does provide useful enrollment information.

The goal is to have actionable reports to district and school leaders by the spring and to have a rollout to teachers by the fall of 2016. The district can also add build reports on additional data sources, such as surveys and business information, with the same software used to build academic dashboards and reports. In time, Wiseburn/Da Vinci staff will be able to provide more and more insights to educators by building and refining their reports library.

"Teachers need deep insights into their assessment data to make it useful," Taylor said. "After partnering with Schoolzilla, teachers will be able to use their standards based assessments to help drive instruction more effectively." •

HISTORICAL SOCIETY MEETING

We had a good turn out for our historical society meeting held this past Monday night. Maybe it was the free food or maybe the interesting speaker that drew an overflow crowd to the Hawthorne Museum. Mr. Kenny Jue shared his lifetime of memories with us. He stated that Tennessee Williams also once lived in Hawthorne. We now can add his name to our list of celebrity Hawthorne residents. Our next meeting will be Monday night, October 24 at 6:30 p.m. The speaker and discussion will be related to "Baseball in Hawthorne". It should be interesting to hear just how many famous players have come out of our area.

WHERE DO I STAND?

When asked whom I was voting for in presidential elections in the past, I have responded by saying that I support candidates who share my same values and beliefs. I'm a conservative. I believe less government is better. I believe that the government should not be writing new laws through the judicial system. I believe abortion is wrong. I believe marriage is a sacred union between a man and a woman. I base my views firmly on the bible. I may not be politically correct. I may not win if I ran for higher office especially here in liberal CA. In America we have the freedom to stand on our beliefs. I perform my duties as a duly elected city clerk and carry out the laws of California and Hawthorne, but my personal views may not always agree with those handed down from our state. As long as they don't keep me from having a cold one, I'm good. •

Lawndale Rolls over Peninsula

By Joe Snyder
Photos by Joe Snyder

Lawndale High's football team easily improved its record to 3-0 by crushing host Peninsula High 48-0 in non-league action last Friday in Rolling Hills Estates. The Cardinals already led 20-0 at halftime, then let loose for 28 third quarter points to turn the contest into a rout.

Fourth-year starting quarterback Chris Murray continued to shine by rushing for three touchdowns and passing for another. He started Lawndale's scoring with a 32-yard run in the first quarter, then added a 67-yarder to increase the Cardinals' lead to 14-0 midway in the second period. With 1:27 left before halftime, Murray connected with receiver Bryant Perkinson for a 46-yard TD increasing Lawndale's lead to 20 points.

The Cardinals finished off the Panthers, who fell to 1-3, in the third period. Their quarter scoring began on a 15-yard touchdown run from Murray. With 5:56 remaining, defensive back Zach Cooper picked off a pass from Peninsula quarterback Daniel Schubert and returned the ball 55 yards for the score. Terrell Williams made it 41-0 when he completed a Lawndale drive on a two-yard run. Lawndale capped off the scoring on Perkinson's 51-yard interception return. From there, the fourth quarter was on a mercy rule running clock and the Cardinals cleared the bench.

After losing its season opener to South Torrance 33-21 on September 4 at home, Lawndale recorded its stunning upset over a very good Encino Crespi squad on September 11 at home and its momentum continued to build from there. The Cardinals proceeded to roll over visiting crosstown rival Leuzinger 42-14 on September 18 before its win over the Panthers, who are struggling with a rebuilding season.

"We're trying to get better," Lawndale head coach Travis Clark said. "We must work harder and that's what we did."

Clark said that the whole team is contributing and that's what is needed for the Cardinals to win their first Ocean League championship. Lawndale has not won a league title since said. "Everybody is doing better."

For Lawndale, it is its first shutout of the season as the Cardinals limited Peninsula to just 82 total yards on offense. Murray rushed for 103 yards and three touchdowns on eight carries and completed 11 of 18 passes for 170 yards and one TD. Lawndale will seek to finish non-league at 4-1 as it hosts winless Torrance (0-4) Friday at 7 p.m. The Tartars are coming off a 41-7 loss to El Segundo last Friday at Torrance's Zamperini Field. The Cardinals begin the Ocean League at Culver City on October 9 at the same time.

MORNINGSIDE REMAINS UNBEATEN

Morningside High's football team is 4-0 after downing previously undefeated Gardena 33-14 in non-league action last Friday at Coleman Stadium in Inglewood. The Monarchs played probably their best defense of the season in holding down the Panthers' running game. Gardena, which entered the game averaging more than 300 yards rushing per contest, was held to just 68 yards on the ground. On offense, Morningside had two touchdowns apiece by Adarrus Wilson and quarterback Jerome Rouseborgh.

The Monarchs' scoring began early in the first quarter when Rouseborgh found

Wilson for a 50-yard pass play. Morningside added a defensive touchdown on a 42-yard fumble recovery. Leading 13-7 at halftime, Morningside pulled away in the second half that was started by a one-yard quarterback sneak from Rouseborgh. Rouseborgh also added another TD pass to Wilson.

Rouseborgh completed 14 of 31 passes for 170 yards and two touchdowns. He was intercepted once. Rouseborgh also ran for 44 yards on seven carries. Leading 27-14 entering the final period, the Monarchs put the game out of reach on a TD reception by Patrick Jeune.

With its running game held down, Gardena scored both of its TDs on short passes from quarterback Jonathan Mudd to receiver Jamar McDaniel. Morningside has its final tune-up for the Bay League against Blair High Friday at 7 p.m. at John Muir High in Pasadena. The Monarchs begin the Bay at Peninsula High on October 9 at 3 p.m.

GOLDEN VALLEY ROUTS HAWTHORNE

Hawthorne High's football team saw its record fall to 0-4 with a 43-14 loss to Golden Valley High last Thursday at Canyon Country Canyon High. A 36-point second quarter buried the Cougars in the contest as Golden Valley built a 43-7 halftime lead.

Hawthorne's only touchdowns came in the second quarter by Jaylen Morgan on a five-yard run and in the fourth period from Justice Powers on a 12-yard run. The Cougars will visit cross town rival Leuzinger for the Mayor's Cup Friday at 7 p.m. The Olympians had an off week and are 0-4.

NORTH BLANKS INGLEWOOD

Inglewood High's football team found North Torrance way too hard to handle in a 43-0 non-league loss last Thursday at Coleman Stadium. The Sentinels mustered only 66 total offensive yards against the Saxons (4-1), who recorded their fourth consecutive win and third straight shutout. Inglewood (1-3) closes non-league at home against Notre Dame High from Riverside Friday at 7 p.m. before hosting Redondo (4-1) in its Bay League opener on October 9 at the same time. •

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Wowser Schnauzers

Stewie has had a hard life and needs some love.

We are looking for volunteers to help with our pet adoption fairs which are held every Saturday at the Petco located at 537 N. Pacific Coast Highway Redondo Beach 90277, from noon-3: 30 p.m. If you are interested in volunteering and can commit to at least one Saturday a month, please contact us at info@msfr.org. You can also visit all of our Miniature Schnauzers & Friends rescues at the adoption fair or check out our website, www.msfr.org. If you have any questions about a particular dog's availability you can email us at info@msfr.org. Schnauzers! But you can't adopt just one!

Hi there I'm Stewie which is probably short for something but I'm not sure what. I'm a four-year old male purebred Miniature Schnauzer who was rescued from a LA county shelter where my previous owner abandoned me. Can you believe that I was dumped at the shelter gate, with nothing but an unsigned note, after a car hit me? Talk about no compassion! I had sutured lacerations on my abdomen and a leg injury but thankfully no broken bones. When I was rescued, my leg had a big abscess and the MSFR Vet did surgery to fix that. I had an excellent recovery and I'm all healed and ready for my new home. I get along great with other dogs, but because I'm kind of a small guy (only 16 pounds) I do best with dogs that have a calm temperament. If you are interested in Stewie, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

My name is Shermy and I'm a four-year old male purebred Miniature Schnauzer. I arrived at the IE (Inland Empire) shelter as a stray and thought I would be there forever! After two weeks in that overcrowded place I came down with kennel cough so I wasn't available to be adopted by the general public. I was so glad that the MSFR volunteers found me and decided to rescue me. I'm feeling much better now that I've made a full recovery. I can't wait to meet and greet all the folks who want to adopt a loving, fun, 26-pound boy. I get along great with other dogs but I'm so much more focused on spending time and sharing adventures with people – just call me LOYAL!! If you are interested in Shermy, please email info@msfr.org for more information.

My name is Nixon and for a youngster, only three years old, my life hasn't been all that delightful. I don't know why my owners were so unkind to me because I really did my best to be good. They never spent much time loving me or caring for me. I was never brushed or groomed so I was always a matted mess. Then they finally decided to drop me off at a shelter and they just walked away without a second glance. Because I was so matted I had to be shaved down after pictures were taken for the neglect case I was involved in. Can you blame me for being fearful of people when the little contact I had was all abuse? Thankfully the MSFR folks rescued me, got me some help and with lots of love and TLC, I'm finally back to my friendly, trusting self and looking for my forever home. I'm 15 pounds of love and devotion just looking for the right family to give it to. Will you be the ones? If you are interested in Nixon please email info@msfr.org for more information.

Hello there – it's me Petey. I'm the one-year old male Doxie /Jack Russell mix that was rescued from the Devore shelter in San Bernardino. I've been told that I'm quite the catch – quiet, calm, gentle and I do NOT have the classic Jack Russell personality. I have to admit that I'm a bit shy at first but I absolutely love people and make friends quickly. Since I'm only about 12 pounds, I enjoy playing with "gentle" dogs but I'm not one of those guys who require a doggie pal to make me happy. If truth be told, I'm actually most content with human companionship! I'm also crate trained, non-barky and a whole lot of fun to play with. Petey can be seen anytime at Yellow Brick Road Doggie Playcare in El Segundo Call 310-606-5507 or email southbaydoggie@hotmail.com for appointment. •

Happy Tails

Congratulations to Rerun, now named George Michael, and his new Dad. Rerun is our cutie that was rescued two weeks ago. He had kennel cough so he never even made it to adoptions. He joins 2014 MSFR alumni, Karma, who is now called Maeby. Maeby and George were absolutely smitten with each at their meet and greet earlier this week and it looks like a perfect match. George is now living in Lake Balboa and looking forward to a wonderful life. We wish the whole family many happy times. •

Best wishes to George Michael, who has a great new life with a new sister.
