Hawthorne City Council Receives Favorable Quarterly Financial Report

By Nancy Peters

The Hawthorne City Council requested updated financial information on an ongoing basis when the new Director of Finance was hired. On Tuesday, October 28, Rickey Manbahal reported that the 2013-2014 books were now closed and for the first time in eight years the general fund is showing in the positive. The unaudited projections for 2014-15 are also on track as budgeted with expenses at $14.9 million for the first quarter of this fiscal year within the $62.5 million budget for the year. Revenues are up in Licenses and Permits (+22.3 percent) particularly and from July 1 to September 30, the revenues received total $6.8 million.

The Council members asked for less money spent in contracting services, rental services, and to eliminate pagers and certain staff cell phones when appropriate to save money. Mayor Pro-Tem Olivia Valentine requested that the budget for 2015-16 be prepared with economic development and earthquake insurance noted as necessary budgeted items. In addition, Manbahal pointed out that the expenditures for the airport and sewer funds correct to the positive when grant funds are received, but that occurs after the work on the sewers and roads is completed. So that is a big ticket item that makes the budget look different than it actually is.

Another savings is to distribute the budget on a portable hard drive rather than printing copies for the Council, staff, and citizens. Copies of the budget can be viewed by the public on the city website or printed copies or a portable hard drive can be purchased from the City Clerk's office when the 2015-16 budget is ready for distribution. It was also suggested that the printing of a pamphlet be considered for the public to see a snapshot version of the budget numbers when the 2015-16 budget is finalized, including a capsule of the 2014-15 budget as of the mid-year review.

A few resolutions were passed. Of particular interest to the public is the Drought Emergency declaration for those who purchase their water from Cal Water. The drought emergency measures that are mandatory for citizens to follow, or risk fines up to $500 are on the city website and will be distributed with invoices to homeowners. The Drought Emergency measures follow the state-mandated regulations. Californians are expected to stop washing down driveway and sidewalks; watering of outdoor landscapes that cause excess runoff; using a hose without a shut-off nozzle to wash a motor vehicle; using potable water in a fountain unless the water is recirculated. The State Water Conservation Board requires that cities adopt their measures and do not develop their own drought emergency programs.

The city reimbursement policy is now amended so those who were receiving a stipend for monthly expenses for city business now requiring an expense report to be reimbursed for actual necessary expenses and using a credit card to prove those expenses. Ethics training is also required of all elected officials, appointed commissioners, and staff who spend city dollars.

The City Council adopted the month of October as "Down's Syndrome Awareness" month.

In support of Proposition "P" on the November 4th ballot, for the tax measure benefitting the Los Angeles County Parks, the City Council adopted a resolution.

Conversely, the request by Valentine to oppose State Proposition 47 was passed by a vote of 3-0-2 (abstention by Mayor Chris Brown and City Council member Angie Reyes-English), after Mrs. Reyes-English declared that she is in support of Proposition 47 which, if passed in the general election, will allow certain felonies to be reduced to misdemeanors and change sentences for certain incarcerated individuals.

An ordinance was adopted after its second reading to prohibit the possession of open containers of alcoholic beverages in designated public places to be an infraction of city Municipal Codes, excluding any serving of these beverages by a licensed purveyor in an open air, sidewalk restaurant.

New camera equipment was approved for the City Council Chambers at City Hall so that the public will be able to view streaming meetings in high definition, with a fourth camera added so that all business conducted at the podium can be viewed as well as that on the dais.

The topic of how to address the growing population of feral cats throughout the city was discussed at length so that the public understands that humane methods by Animal Control, which is part of the Hawthorne Police Department, will be the goal. Citizens must understand that property owners and not the city can act on how animals are removed from places throughout the city and the city cannot arbitrarily become involved.

The next meeting of the City Council will be held on Wednesday, November 12 at 6 p.m. in lieu of the regular second Tuesday, which is November 11 and a federal holiday when City Hall is closed and all official business is not conducted on that day. •

Hawthorne Boulevard Traffic Mobility Improvement Project

The week of October 27 will have periodic single lane closures along Hawthorne Boulevard in both the northbound and southbound lanes. Also only two open lanes will be available for traversing the northbound and southbound lanes between 135th Street and 139th Street. •

Finance

Childproof Your Finances

(BPT) - Whether welcoming a newborn, adopting a child or becoming a stepparent for the first time, bringing a child into your life means big changes - and a big impact on your finances.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, parents of children born in 2013 will spend approximately $245,000 - per child - on housing, education, food, clothing, child care and other expenses until the age of 18. With that kind of monetary commitment looming, new parents need to childproof their finances against life's unpredictable situations and consider the potentially costly insurance implications of each stage of their child's life.

Securing finances against the unforeseen Americans work hard to keep their children safe - from retrofitting a home for a new baby to teaching a teenager safe driving habits and everything in between. But despite best intentions, on average, parents spend an estimated $11.5 billion annually on injuries to children according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC).

"Throughout a child's life, parents and guardians can face many unexpected financial hurdles related to injuries or illness," says Adam Hamm, National Association of Insurance Commissioners (NAIC) president and North Dakota insurance commissioner. "Parents need to educate themselves about the risks, challenges and insurance implications of raising a child to reduce injuries, save money and potentially even save a life."

Safety risks and unpredictable circumstances can arise in a variety of ways. Consider the following:

- Birth defects affect one in every 33 newborns according to CDC statistics. Babies who live with birth defects may face lifelong challenges, so it's important to know if your health insurance covers pre-natal and neo-natal screenings, emergency delivery procedures and extended hospital stays.
- The Consumer Product Safety Commission reports that 44 percent of playground equipment injuries occur at home. Parents should double check their liability coverage to ensure it covers playmates who are hurt on their property.
- The CDC also reports that 46 percent of teens don't wear seatbelts when riding with friends, significantly increasing their risk of injury or death in an auto accident. Something as seemingly simple as a teen driving contract can hold kids accountable - saving money and lives in the process.

Take Action Now

Understanding the insurance implications of a new child can be tricky. Get a jump on preparations by exploring the following:

- Determine if paid maternity leave is included in your health benefits. If you anticipate needing extra time off, a short-term disability policy might be helpful.

- Ask your employer about a flexible spending account that can be used to set aside pre-tax dollars to cover medical expenses and child care costs.

• Consider the impact on your auto insurance premiums if your expanding family compels you to purchase a larger vehicle. Shop rates and consider different models before you buy. Rates will vary depending on make, model, age of vehicle, etc.

• A new dependent means you should reassess your life insurance. Will your current level of insurance be enough to secure your child's future if the unthinkable happens to you? Consult with your insurance agent or use an online calculator to determine if you need additional insurance.

• Adoptive parents, stepparents and custodial guardians should also check with their health insurers to determine a new child's coverage eligibility. Life insurance policies, investment accounts and other financial accounts may need to be updated to reflect a new child as a beneficiary.

Hawthorne Happenings

News for the ‘City of Good Neighbors’

From City Clerk Norb Huber

NEIGHBORHOOD RESILIENCE

Since Hawthorne is known as the City of Good Neighbors, a new term was recently used that caught my attention: “neighborhood resilience”. A survey of people who have lived through disasters like hurricanes and tornados has shown that people put more trust in their neighbors helping them than any government agency. Emergency response teams are limited on how many people they can help in a disaster. Neighbors who are faced with the possibility of loss of life or property band together and forget all of their previous animosities and help one another survive. We all know that we have to be ready for the “big one” here in SoCal. Our “neighborhood resilience” will be put to the test when the big one hits. There are too many people living in our area for any government agency to respond to everyone’s needs. By being prepared, we can help not only our family but our neighborhood be “resilient”.

FACEBOOK – ARE YOU IN?

There are now 1.3 billion people with Facebook accounts who check them at least once a month. That is 1/5th of the world’s population! A high percentage of these people receive their news via Facebook. Instead of watching the evening news or reading the newspaper, more and more people turn to their cell phones and get an update on all the breaking world and local news. It’s amazing how technology has changed our world.

PHOTO MATH

Since I teach high school Math, I was especially interested to see a new phone application that my students have shown me that solves any math problem for them by taking a photo of the problem. There is an “app” for everything. The only questions I have is whether or not this helps my students learn how to think and apply the math concept to real life problems.

REFORMATION DAY – BETTER KNOWN AS HALLOWEEN

October 31, 1517 is accepted as the start of all Protestant churches. On that day, Dr. Martin Luther posted 95 theses on the door of the Castle Church in Wittenberg, Germany. He simply wanted the Catholic church to discuss his disagreements. He never wanted to break away from the church, he just wanted to “reform” it. His statements were based on scripture alone. Luther started an entire movement that led to the eventual formation of many of the denominations we have today. Why did he post the theses on October 31st? Because he knew that many people would be coming to worship on All Saints Day which is November 1. Halloween is meant to scare all the bad spirits away on the “hallow eve”.

TURN YOUR CLOCKS BACK – FALL BACK IN THE FALL

This Sunday morning we get to sleep an extra hour. Our time changes at 2 a.m. that morning. I have always wondered how police or hospitals keep accurate track of exact time when there is a repeat of one hour from 2 a.m. back to 1 a.m.

FREE HOLIDAY LIGHT EXCHANGE

Do you have some electricity-guzzling incandescent holiday lights in your attic? Well you can trade them in for a new, energy efficient LED string of lights. The South Bay Cities Council of Government is sponsoring a Christmas light exchange on November 13 and 14 at 20285 S. Western Ave. Suite 100, Torrance. Take in your old lights and get band new ones and save money on your electricity bill.

Let me know if you would like to play in our golf tournament on Tuesday, November 11, Veterans Day. There are still some openings for golfers. Call me or email me if you, or a golfing friend want to play. •

Mars Orbiter Sees Comet Flyby

An artist's conception of NASA's Mars Odyssey spacecraft, seen here as the spacecraft passes above Mars' south pole. The spacecraft has been orbiting Mars since October 24, 2001. Mission operations are conducted jointly from Lockheed Martin and from JPL, a division of the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena. Image credit: NASA/JPL

Based on press releases from NASA and ESO, presented by Bob Eklund

The longest-lived robot ever sent to Mars came through its latest challenge in good health, reporting home on schedule after sheltering behind Mars from possible comet dust. NASA's Mars Odyssey was out of communications with Earth, as planned, while conducting observations of comet C/2013 A1 Siding Spring on Sunday, Oct. 19, as the comet flew near Mars. The comet sped within about 88,000 miles of Mars, equivalent to about one-third of the distance between Earth and Earth's moon. Odyssey had performed a maneuver on August 5 to adjust the timing of its orbit so that it would be shielded by Mars itself during the comet's passing, when computer modeling projected a slight risk from high-velocity dust particles in the comet's tail.

"The telemetry received from Odyssey confirms not only that the spacecraft is in fine health but also that it conducted the planned observations of comet Siding Spring within hours of the comet's closest approach to Mars," said Odyssey Mission Manager Chris Potts of NASA's Jet Propulsion Laboratory, Pasadena, Calif., speaking from mission operations center at Lockheed Martin Space Systems, Denver.

Three NASA Mars orbiters, two Mars rovers and other assets on Earth and in space are studying comet Siding Spring. This comet is making its first visit this close to the Sun from the outer solar system's Oort Cloud, so the concerted campaign of observations may yield fresh clues to our solar system's earliest days more than 4 billion years ago.

COMETS FOUND AROUND NEARBY STAR

A French team of astronomers at ESO's La

Silla Observatory in Chile has studied nearly 500 individual comets orbiting the star Beta Pictoris and has discovered that they belong to two distinct families of exocomets: old exocomets that have made multiple passages near the star, and younger exocomets that probably came from the recent breakup of one or more larger objects.

Beta Pictoris is a young star located 63 light-years from the Sun. It is only about 20 million years old and is surrounded by a huge disc of material—a very active young planetary system where gas and dust are produced by the evaporation of comets and the collisions of asteroids.

For almost 30 years astronomers have seen subtle changes in the light from Beta Pictoris that were thought to be caused by the passage of comets in front of the star itself. Comets are small bodies of a few kilometers in size, but they are rich in ices, which evaporate when they approach their star, producing gigantic tails of gas and dust that can absorb some of the light passing through them. The dim light from the exocomets is swamped by the light of the brilliant star, so they cannot be imaged directly from Earth.

To study the Beta Pictoris exocomets, the team analyzed more than 1,000 observations obtained between 2003 and 2011. The researchers selected a sample of 493 different exocomets. Some exocomets were observed several times and for a few hours. Careful analysis provided measurements of the speed and the size of the gas clouds. Some of the orbital properties of each comet, such as the shape and the orientation of the orbit and the distance to the star, could also be deduced. •

South Bay Cities Council of Governments: Providing Programs, Saving Money

By Brian Simon

While there are many benefits to autonomy, collaboration with one's neighbors can pay also major dividends. Such is the case when it comes to the South Bay Cities Council of Governments (SBCCOG)—a 19-year-old joint powers authority comprised of 16 municipalities (plus Los Angeles County) that work together to advocate for regional projects and programs they would be hard-pressed to implement through individual efforts alone. As just a few recent examples of its ongoing mission to protect overall South Bay interests, the SBCCOG negotiated with utility partners to assure policies and actions are fair to cities, advanced city sustainability programs, lobbied the Public Utilities Commission to put the spotlight on South Bay infrastructure reliability programs, and prevented the South Bay Highway Program (SBHP) from paying for a $100 million Crenshaw Rail Project overrun.

The SBCCOG also provides cost-effective programs that save cities money now and in the future—with energy efficiency and transportation two of the major focus areas outlined in the agency's 2014/15 work program. On the energy side, cities working with the SBCCOG have realized significant general fund savings over the last five years through various utility incentives that also improve the environment by reducing greenhouse gas emissions. Just looking at the Herald Publications group of cities (El Segundo, Hawthorne, Inglewood, Lawndale and Torrance), those municipalities reported combined annual savings of nearly $500,000 and reduced emissions by over 2,100 tons collectively as a result of SBCCOG collaboration. Other regional offerings include energy audits and advice, training, energy action plans, energy leader programs, holiday light exchanges, municipal direct installs, and quarterly reports so each city can monitor energy efficiency. Municipal direct install—a program for government and non-profit facilities that can cut energy costs by up to 30 percent through on-site energy audits and installation of energy-saving equipment—has already provided well over $200,000 in combined upfront cost and annual savings for Hawthorne, Lawndale and Torrance. El Segundo and Inglewood also recently joined this program and expect to shave some of their yearly expenditures as a result.

Water conservation programs include Cash for Kitchens, California-friendly landscape training workshops, high-efficiency toilet exchanges, water reliability educational presentations, and water leak detection (El Segundo and Inglewood were two of four cities receiving grants totaling $408,000 to address this issue). The SBCCOG also collaborates on climate action plans for the individual cities.

On the transportation side, the SBCCOG fosters the application and funding processes for $906 million in Measure R (the countywide half-cent sales tax passed by voters) monies earmarked for the SBHP. This led to over $5 million in Measure R monies allocated for completed transportation projects in El Segundo (Maple Avenue to Parkview Avenue improvements), Hawthorne (Rosecrans arterial improvements) and Torrance (Maple at Sepulveda intersection improvements) over the last couple of years. In 2014/15, Measure R will subsidize $25 million for 11 highway projects in Torrance alone, with another $4 million-plus to cover nine total projects in El Segundo, Hawthorne and Lawndale.

Blending transportation and energy efficiency, the SBCCOG has put an emphasis on promoting the electric vehicle movement, with current programs in place for battery (BEV) and plug-in (PEV) cars and efforts to secure additional funding for PEV readiness as well as for an NEV (neighborhood electric vehicle) large-scale project and non-profit demonstration. The SBCCOG also orchestrated the Car2Go vehicle-sharing program now operating in El Segundo and Torrance. "The COG's interest in EVs and non-traditional transportation such as car sharing and NEVs comes from research showing that in the South Bay most trips—other than the commute trip to work—are less than three miles," said SBCCOG Executive Director Jacki Bacharach. "This makes them too long to walk and too short for transit. Also, while biking is encouraged, not everyone can bike... so other alternatives are of interest."

Bacharach, who oversees the SBCCOG's day-to-day operations and a staff of 13 employees plus several consultants, added that much of the organization's funding comes from grant dollars. "Another key area of success noted in our work program is that we leverage our dues with outside funding, raising 10 times the amount of funds from dues," she said.

SBCCOG also provides training and networking opportunities for city staff members, during which department heads meet to discuss issues of mutual interest and learn from one another. As examples, the new Social Media Working Group and the Senior Services Working Group recently launched. "Discussions at these meetings focus on what cities need to know and how they can do better for their constituents from working together," said Bacharach, who added that the SBCCOG's main networking event is its Annual General Assembly that is next scheduled for February 15 of next year. It is a full-day program with speakers and discussion periods. This year's theme is "A View From the Front Porch: Neighborhoods in the South Bay."

Individual Council members from each participating city serve as delegates (with alternates also appointed) who attend SBCCOG meetings. The list includes El Segundo Mayor Suzanne Fuentes, Hawthorne Mayor Pro Tem Olivia Valentine, Inglewood Councilmember Ralph Franklin, Lawndale Mayor Pro Tem James Osborne, and Torrance Councilmember Kurt Weideman. SBCCOG board meetings take place the fourth Thursday of each month (dark during February and November) at the South Bay Environmental Services Center at 20285 Western Avenue in Torrance and are open to the public. •

Hawthorne Can't Keep Up With El Segundo

After winning its first Ocean League football game over Beverly Hills on October 17, Hawthorne High's football team had an extremely stiff homecoming challenge from premiere El Segundo team that was unbeaten and ranked second in the CIF-Southern Section Western Division last Friday.

The Cougars started out doing everything they could in an attempt to pull off a major upset but the Eagles eventually proved overwhelming with a 67-21 rout. In the opening kickoff, Jamaal Neal quickly opened things off as Hawthorne took an early 7-0 lead with his 95-yard kickoff return.

El Segundo came back to take a 14-7 lead but, midway in the second quarter, Paris McDaniel raced 63 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 14 for the Cougars, who fell to 3-5 overall and 1-2 in league.

From there, the Eagles (8-0, 3-0) dominated and scored their machine didn't stop until right before the end of the game. El Segundo finished off the first half by scoring three TD's in a period of just over three minutes for a 34-14 halftime bulge, behind the arm of highly prospect quarterback Lars Nootbar. He threw touchdown passes of 34 and 35 yards to Taz Tauaese and seven to Miguel Wagner-Bagues.

The second half saw the Eagles add two more TDs before Hawthorne scored its final touchdown with four seconds into the fourth period on a two-yard quarterback keeper from Marte Mape. El Segundo's two third quarter scores were a 92-yard run by Wagner-Bagues and Nootbar's third touchdown pass to Jackson Walz from 25 yards out.

The Eagles finished added three more TD's in the fourth period on a 15-yard run by Tauaese, a 45-yard fumble recovery from linebacker Dwayne Polk and a four-yard run by Wagner-Bagues with 41 seconds left.

"El Segundo made the CIF (Northwest Division) finals last year," Hawthorne head coach Donald Paysinger said. "They are very good. We'll be all right."

McDaniel had a good game rushing for 218 yards and one touchdown.

Nootbar, who plans to go to University of Southern California but most likely for baseball even though he had offers for football, completed 11 of 22 passes for 288 yards and three TD's. Wagner-Bagues rushed for 207 yards on 18 carries.

"We had to deal with a couple of injuries," El Segundo head coach Steve Shevlin said. "Hawthorne came out great early. It was a test for us. We were hit with penalties. We had two touchdowns called back."

The Cougars hope for a good opportunity to get two league wins for the first time in 10 years as they host winless Culver City Friday at 7 p.m. The Centaurs appeared to have a promising season until losing seven top players who transferred to other schools and have been left with a mostly young and inexperienced squad. Hawthorne has not beaten Culver since the 1990's but hope this will be the year. At Culver last Friday, the Centaurs (0-3 in Ocean play) were humiliated by Santa Monica 49-0.

El Segundo could have a showdown at home against Lawndale Friday at 7 p.m. This could be a good match between top quarterbacks Nootbar and the Cardinals' Chris Murray. At Beverly Hills last Friday, Lawndale rolled over the Normans 47-7.

CARDINALS ROUT NORMANS

Junior quarterback Chris Murray continued to prove dominant with 251 total yards as Lawndale High's football team improved to 3-0 in the Pioneer League and 5-3 overall with a 47-7 rout of host Beverly Hills last Friday.

Murray passed for 142 yards and rushed for 111 more that including beginning the Cardinals' scoring with a 72-yard run early in the second quarter. Murray passed for two TDs and ran for two more. Darius Flowers returned an interception for a touchdown. Joe Kolko scored the Normans' only TD on a five-yard run.

This sets the stage for the league showdown at El Segundo Friday at 7 p.m. as the Cardinals will be tested against a very balanced Eagle squad led by premiere quarterback Lars Nootbar and running back-wide receiver Miguel Wagner-Bagues.

INGLEWOOD EDGES MIRA COSTA

Inglewood High's football team picked up its first Bay League win by upsetting Mira Costa 22-21 last Friday at Coleman Stadium. The Sentinels (2-6, 1-2) won when quarterback Kindric Johnson scored on a one-yard quarterback keeper with three seconds remaining. Zabayr Muhammed also had a 57-yard scoring run for Inglewood.

Inglewood hopes to keep its hope for a CIF-Southern Section Western Division playoff spot alive as it hosts Peninsula Friday at 7 p.m. The Panthers (3-5, 1-2) are coming off a 40-7 home loss to Redondo last Friday.

LEUZINGER FALLS TO SOUTH

Leuzinger High's football team had a good offensive game but its defense was unable to hold down host South Torrance in a 49-31 Pioneer League loss last Friday. Nathan Vaughn sparked the Olympians with two touchdowns; one on an 85-yard kickoff return and the other on a 62-yard pass reception from quarterback Edwin Santos.

Hawthorne ballcarrier Paris McDaniel runs upfield in the clear in last Friday's Ocean League football game against El Segundo. The Eagles rolled over the Cougars 67-21.

Andrian Galera had a 22-yard TD run and freshman Loren Bowen scored on a two-yard run. South quarterback Gabe Zuniga passed for two touchdowns and Cameron Dillon ran for an 89-yard TD. Leuzinger hosts North Torrance Friday at 7 p.m. The Saxons are 5-3 overall and 2-1 in Pioneer action after topping Torrance 23-15 last Friday at North. •

BIDDERS: If you are considering bidding on this property lien, you should understand that there are risks involved in bidding at a trustee auction. You will be bidding on a lien, not on the property itself. Placing the highest bid at a trustee auction does not automatically entitle you to free and clear ownership of the property. You should also be aware that the lien being auctioned off may be a junior lien. If you are the highest bidder at the auction, you are or may be responsible for paying off all liens senior to the lien being auctioned off, before you can receive clear title to the property. You are encouraged to investigate the existence, priority, and size of outstanding liens that may exist on this property by contacting the county recorder's office or a title insurance company, either of which may charge you a fee for this information. If you consult either of these resources, you should be aware that the same lender may hold more than one mortgage or deed of trust on the property. NOTICE TO PROPERTY OWNER: The sale date shown on this notice of sale may be postponed one or more times by the mortgagee, beneficiary, trustee, or a court, pursuant to Section 2924g of the California Civil Code. The law requires that information about trustee sale postponements be made available to you and to the public, as a courtesy to those not present at the sale. If you wish to learn whether your sale date has been postponed, and, if applicable, the rescheduled time and date for the sale of this property, you may call 714-730-2727 for information regarding the trustee's sale or visit this Internet Web site <http://www.qualityloan.com> , using the file number assigned to this foreclosure by the Trustee: CA-09-313296-CL.
