Wall of Distinction Nominations Accepted Now Through May 24

Do you know of a special someone who provided volunteer service to Lawndale and its residents? The City of Lawndale is now accepting nomination applications for those special individuals who dedicated themselves to the community through their volunteer efforts. Each year, the Lawndale City Council posthumously honors up to four individuals who had distinguished themselves by providing exemplary service.

The Lawndale Wall of Distinction is located at the Harold E. Hofmann Community Center, third floor corridor on the northernmost section of the eastern wall. Awardees are identified on the wall with a 2" x 3" name plate included on a perpetual plaque showing the awardees' name, years of life, and area(s) of accomplishment in Lawndale. The City Council established this program and policy to recognize Lawndale's "unsung heroes" – individuals who have not or would not be acknowledged or recognized in any other manner for their service and contributions.

To be considered for the wall, nominees must: (1) have been deceased for a minimum of five years prior to the submission of the nomination for this program; (2) have been a Lawndale resident during the time in which service was provided to the city and its residents; (3) have not held any elected office (i.e., federal, state, local or school district) by a vote of the residents or by appointment; and (4) have not been recognized or acknowledged for their service by the dedication of a public building, facility or park to them or by having their name included on a dedication plaque or sign of any kind on any governmental facility.

A nomination package must include proof that the person submitting the nomination is a Lawndale resident at the time he/she turns in the form; and a summary of the nominee's accomplishments and service to the city and/or its residents with details including length of service and category of service (public, business, educational, etc.).

A completed nomination form requires the following information: 1) name and last known address of nominee; 2) known relatives, if any; 3) reasons for nomination described in 250 or fewer words; 4) name, address and signature of Lawndale resident submitting the nomination; and 5) any other related supplemental information that supports the nomination. Nomination forms can be found here: <http://www.lawndalecity.org/ASSETS/JPEGs/oldmayors/Wall%20of%20Distinction%20Application%20and%20Flyer%20Draft.pdf>

Every June, the Wall of Distinction Review Committee (comprised of five total volunteer members, of which three are from the Historical Society and two from the Senior Citizens Advisory Committee) meets as needed to review submitted applications and make a recommendation of potential inductees to be presented to the City Council. Then, at a regularly scheduled public meeting, the Council will decide whether or not the nominee shall be included on the wall.

The City's community services director will be the staff liaison to the committee. Recognition/induction of nominees confirmed by the City Council will occur during a ceremony. The recognition will be memorialized with a plaque to be displayed on the Wall of Distinction that will include the name of each inductee and that person's years of life and area(s) of service.

Past Inductees 2016

Andrew Christian Meyer: Real estate developer, civic leader, Lawndale Democratic Club member, World War II veteran.

August Reiss: West Basin Municipal Water District director, Lawndale Chamber of Commerce president, Lawndale Civic Association president.

Axel Niska: Real estate developer, Lawndale Optimist Club member, owner of "Own Your Own Apartments" in Lawndale.

Robert Cerny: Lawndale Incorporation Committee chairperson, local businessman, Lawndale Chamber of Commerce president.

2017

Lertis R. Ellett: Local minister and chaplain, United States Air Force colonel, Air Force reserve officer.

Ella E. Traver: Lawndale PTA president, Woman's Club member, Woman of the Year, Brownie and Girl Scout leader.

Girls Who Code Coaxes Computer Cleverness from Young Craniums

Reviewed by Tommy Vinh Bui,
MLIS, Associate Librarian,
Inglewood Public Library

This is a stellar teen-themed book that inspires and cajoles young women to confound expectations and jump with both feet into the world of coding and computer science. Writer Reshma Saujani makes a compelling case to pursue a passion for computer coding and combine it with other interests to create a synergy of creative potential. It's all about empowerment and building confidence while unabashedly flying that nerd flag high.

The book is seemingly quixotic in ambition as it offers a succinct little primer and introduction to the world of coding. Saujani manages this Herculean task masterfully. She takes our hand and walks us through the history of the field and the innovations and advancements that women have contributed over the years to the study of computer science. The book is equal parts Hidden Figures and Lean In. The writer provides us with several historical figures and a multitude of case studies of the unsung female heroes blazing a trail in the world of tech. She also sows the notion that inspiring young girls to explore the world of coding is the future and how imperative it is today to close the gender gap in the tech industries.

Saujani additionally gives us a pretty comprehensive play by play into the basics of coding. She goes over the terminology and cobbles a sturdy scaffolding in which to frame a better understanding of the computational intricacies of the field. She manages to take a sometimes abstruse subject and make it relatable and palatable to digest. She uses an assortment of real-world scenarios and always endeavors to make the topic engaging and approachable. Though the work is largely skewed toward a female audience of a certain age, the information conveyed about rudimentary coding skills can be useful for a wide demographic of people just interested in the course of study.

The writer is an ardent advocate of eschewing stereotypes and impels young audiences to augment their thinking of what's expected and what's possible. She reminds us that encouraging STEM education and useful computer fundamentals will serve young girls for years to come and that the field is ready and receptive to a whole generation of groundbreaking tech pioneers. The possibilities are nigh boundless. Put the right string of code in the right girl's hands and she could make a sizeable impact from social justice champion to canny entrepreneur.

This Young Adult genre book earns a wholehearted recommendation. The content is delivered in an enthused and infectiously effusive manner. The range of topics covered is impressive from beginning to end and the overall message of empowerment gets delivered with precision. The Inglewood Public Library also has an audiobook version of this tome that includes a bonus disc with PDFs of images, computer history timelines, flowcharts, lines of code, and a handy-dandy glossary. All fine fodder for any coding connoisseur.

So get coding, kids. Plain and simple. And find yourself being programmed to dare to dream prodigiously posthaste. •

Infamous Ted Kennedy Scandal Is Explored in Film Chappaquiddick

By Ashley DeFrancesco
for www.cinemacy.com

Friday, July 18, 1969. Not a date that many young movie viewers may find significant, but director John Curran's Chappaquiddick teaches us about that deadly night that included a tragic cover-up and criminal negligence.

Chappaquiddick is the story of how high political power makes a man indestructible. Massachusetts Senator Ted Kennedy (Jason Clarke) and aspiring political strategist Mary Jo Kopechne (Kate Mara) get into a vehicular accident when Kennedy steers off Dike Bridge in Chappaquiddick, Massachusetts around 12:30 a.m. While Ted survives the crash, Mary Jo does not. She is found 10 hours later inside the flipped car at the bottom of Poucha Pond. Ten hours... so what was Kennedy doing all that time? Why didn't he call the police right away? What kind of legal troubles did he get into? Most importantly, why I haven't heard of this? All these questions swirled in my head as I watched this heartbreaking docudrama and with the constant pressure of living in his brother's shadow while wanting to create a name and legacy for himself. Helms masters the complicated and conflicted relationship that Gargan had with Kennedy during this time. Kate Mara's Mary Jo perfectly paints the struggle between moving forward after the devastation of Robert Kennedy's assassination, and remaining part of the family because of the connection she had during Bobby's election campaign. Although not given much screen time, she illustrates how history chooses who is remembered, whose story will be told, and who becomes an afterthought.

In today's world, we continue to see this struggle between political power and justice. Like the men portrayed in Chappaquiddick, we see so many lie, deny and create the narrative given to the public to survive and gain -- or maintain -- the ultimate power that politics can represent. This movie serves as a reminder that we cannot let those who are given this power run wildly with it. It asks us to take a hard look at those who we have was reminded that the trend of protecting our political heads of state over serving justice has long plagued our nation.

Taylor Allen and Andrew Logan wrote a screenplay showing the ugly underbelly of politics and power in America. Due to a majority of the nation's unrest with our current administration, I was deeply distressed to see that almost everyone in Ted's life was spinning the tragedy so that he could still run for president in the future.

The singular voice of reason during the days after the accident is Ted's cousin Joe Gargan (Ed Helms), who continues to urge the senator to follow his compass and stay with the truth rather than fabricate a story. He tries to be the Jiminy Cricket to Ted's lost and broken Pinocchio, but has little success as the manipulative and tightly gripped hand of Joe Kennedy continues to pull the strings. Back at the Kennedy compound, while the team is working to change the negative headlines, Gargan biting says, "A girl dies and Ted is a martyr?" His frustration and disgust at the easily crafted deception of Ted Kennedy as the victim highlights the theme of justice coming second to maintaining political power. Nothing will stop the Kennedy machine from destroying everything in its path in the name of that power.

The cast is exceptional in their portrayals of these real and flawed people. Clarke's Ted Kennedy shows us a man who is struggling and evaluate if they are working for opportunity or with integrity, as Gargan says to Kennedy. Lawyer Ted Sorensen perfectly sums it up when he says, "History usually has the final word on those things." Chappaquiddick gives us the opportunity to look at this historically tragic event once again and decide how we want to remember it, giving us permission to use this refined critical lens as we write the history that future generations will learn.

101 minutes. Chappaquiddick is rated PG-13. Now playing at Arclight Hollywood, The Landmark, AMC Marina, and AMC Century City. •

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy Named Norb Huber

As you know, I'm concluding my teaching career in June and will be retiring. Our love for our family has led me and my ol' lady to decide to purchase a "retirement home" in Orangevale, CA, which is located 20 miles Northeast of Sacramento.

Our daughter, son-in-law, and our two grandchildren moved to that area last summer. So, it is the love of being there for the grand kiddos and watching them grow up that has trumped my love for you my dear reader/friends and my love for Hawthorne. I have enjoyed writing this column and sharing my wit and nonwisdom with you the past eight years. All good or bad or stupid things have to come to an end sometime. Maybe the newspaper will let me continue to ramble on even in my physical absence from this local. It will be hard to replace me since I have no idea what I'm trying to say the majority of the time. No, I'm not leaving or stopping to write immediately. I just wanted to give you a heads up, all eight or ten or twelve of you. Do me a favor, don't let your tears of joy or sadness spill into your cold one and ruin a good brew, just enjoy life. I've heard it said that I should get out while the going is good, retire at my peak. When I started out low and sunk even lower, I can see the writing on the wall, it's time. Thank you for allowing me to be part of your life.

GRAFFITI REMOVAL

If you see graffiti in Hawthorne, call our hotline: 310-349-1632. Our goal is to remove any graffiti on public property or assist private property owners and have it removed with 48 hours of notification. If you see it, report it and discourage more graffiti from taking over our city. Let's keep Hawthorne clean.

THE END IS IN SIGHT

I've always tried my best to be transparent in my writing of this column and in my city clerk's duties. I like to "tell it like it is" and be "real" and be straight forward and not beat around the bush and not be a "typical politician" that tells you half truths or fake news to get you to think that I'm the one to vote for in the next election. So, here we go. Rather than conduct a news conference at City Hall, I will break the news to my loyal readers first through this outlet: I will not be seeking re-election this coming fall. In fact I won't be living in Hawthorne this fall.

ENVIRONMENTAL REVIEW: Pursuant to State California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA) Guidelines Sections 15321, (Enforcement Actions by Regulatory Agencies) and 15305 (Minor Alterations in Land Use Limitations) These provisions, respectively, exempt projects by regulatory agencies to enforce a rule, standard, or objective, administered or adopted by the regulatory agency and minor alterations in land use limitations in areas with an average slope of less than 20%, which do not result in any changes in land use or density. The Project would implement the adopted NCP, which was prepared to comply with Part 150 of Title 14, Code of Federal Regulations and the Airport Master Plan. The Project would incorporate the 65 CNEL noise contours and an airport overlay on properties near the Airport with slopes that are less than 20% and will not change the underlying land use or density. The Project will describe the non-compatible land uses around the Airport based upon Federal regulations, address measures to reduce the impact of noise, ensure proper disclosure, and prevent the introduction of new noise-sensitive uses within the 65 CNEL noise contour of the Airport.

PLEASE NOTE that pursuant to Government Code Section 65009: In an action or proceeding to attack, review, set aside, void, or annul a finding, determination or decision of the Planning Commission or City Council, the issues raised shall be limited to those raised at the public hearing in this notice or in written correspondence delivered to the Planning Commission or City Council at or prior to the public hearing.

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Purrrfect Companions

Malika

Every second of every minute of every day, a helpless animal is put to death just because no one was there to take them home. Saving one animal may not change the world, but it will change the world for that animal

Give one of these kitties a second chance for a lifetime of love in a new forever home with you.

Malika was adopted when she was just a little kitten. Her mom kept her as a young adult, but just decided to give Malika away. She said Malika was “too affectionate” and “bothered her when Malika wanted affection.” So she just traded Malika in for a new little kitten. How sad! All Malika knows is that she loves to be petted and loves snuggling and sitting next to you. If you want a loving, affectionate and rare female orange tabby who will give you lots of love, licks and purrs, then Malika is the kitty for you. Malika doesn’t really like other kitties, so she would do best in a home as an “only” cat.

Archie was abandoned and rescued off of the streets. He is a very sweet, sensitive boy. Archie loves to be held and petted and adores other cats and kittens. As a bonus, he is also accustomed to kitty-friendly dogs.

Pinkerton is a good-natured kitty who found himself on hard times when his humans became homeless. He lived with them outside for a while, but was left behind when his people were forced to move from their encampment. He is getting used to being indoors again and he thinks it’s pretty awesome. Once he settles in, Pinkerton likes ear scratches, affection, playing and hanging out with his human. Pinkerton’s ideal home will be with someone who is patient and has a quiet home. He is not skittish or super shy, but he does need some understanding and a little time to acclimate.

Dallas is an ultra-friendly 2-year-old boy who bonds instantly with people who are nice to him. He is a sweetheart. Dallas is not startled by anything and doesn’t hide. He just wants love and affection from his human friends. He gets along fine with (cat-friendly) dogs and we expect him to adapt well to a young, friendly cat or older, calm cat. Everyone loves Dallas. Some people comment that his personality is more like a dog than a cat, as he follows around his caretakers to see what is going on.

Blessing is just that – a blessing to have around. She is sweet, affectionate and absolutely gorgeous. Just look at that face and gorgeous green eyes! Blessing loves people and attention. She likes to follow her human around the house just to be in the same room together. If you want a buddy to chill with while you watch TV or read a book, Blessing is the perfect kitty for you. She is a gentle kitty who would be okay in a single-pet household or with another affectionate cat who will not bully her. This sweet girl is a lover, not a fighter.

Little Big Spot found himself at a shelter after being confiscated from a home with too many animals. He was scared at the shelter, so the staff and volunteers reached out to rescue groups to save him. As soon as Little Big Spot went into a foster home, we found that he was a sweet boy who loves to snuggle with humans and loves to play with his kitty friends. He even likes dogs! Little Big Spot loves to give kisses, with little nibbles in between -- they do not hurt. He is just trying to tell you to use that hand to pet him more

These kitties are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org or email us at mail@kittenrescue.org.

Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 914 Westwood Blvd. #583, Los Angeles, CA 90024.

On Saturdays, we have adoptions from noon to 3:30 p.m. in Westchester at 8655 Lincoln Blvd. just south of Manchester Ave.; and also in Mar Vista at 3860 Centinela Ave., just south of Venice Boulevard. Our website lists additional adoption sites and directions to each location.

Be kind. Save a life. Support animal rescue. •
