City Council Elects New City Clerk; Aggressive Campaign Against Illegal Fireworks

By Haleemon Anderson

The Lawndale City Council elected long-time resident Rhonda Gorman Hofmann to a two-year term as City Clerk by unanimous vote Monday. The action, taken at the final meeting of the fiscal year, fills the position vacated by Bernadette Suarez, who assumed the council seat of the late Larry Rudolph.

Hofmann and applicants Sirley Cuevas and Henrietta Martinez were asked to introduce themselves and answer questions from the council. Nominations were called for and Hofmann was nominated by her predecessor, Suarez.

“I’m ecstatic,” Hofmann said after the vote. “I was looking for three votes; I’m happy with five.” She was sworn in with her mother Doris at her side. Her father, Harold E. Hofmann, was mayor from 1990 until his passing in 2013. The Lawndale community center is named in his honor.

The council also filled seats on the city’s cable commission and senior advisory committee. Mayor Robert Pullen-Mills noted that all four applicants to the cable group and nine of the 11 who applied to the senior advisory are incumbents. All members were unanimously approved for appointment to two-year terms. These shared governance committees provide recommendations to the council. One seat on each remains unfilled.

In the public safety report, Lieutenant John Hocking detailed an aggressive, pro-active campaign against illegal fireworks. The sheriff’s department, in collaboration with Los Angeles County, intends to crack down on illegal sale and usage through an elaborate program of undercover buys, communication and increased manpower.

“We will have 16 extra deputies on patrol,” Hocking said. He said legal fireworks and sales sites should clearly display the “safe and sane” logo. He cautioned that this “no tolerance” policy is being communicated through multiple sources, including social media, digital signage all over town, local news and magazines and flyers detailing guidelines, penalties and sales information.

Illegal fireworks have been a constant source of resident complaints before the city council. Hocking said patrols will target residences and blocks where previous complaints have been registered. He suggested people sign up for Nixle.com, a community information website which sends out localized alerts, advisories and traffic reports to registrants.

“The sheriff’s department, in collaboration with Los Angeles County, intends to crack down on illegal sale and usage through an elaborate program of undercover buys, communication and increased manpower.”

Routine consent items (2-15) were passed unanimously. A public hearing was opened and closed without comment on item H.16; the council unanimously approved support for a federal grant application for fireworks suppression and law enforcement at parades.

The council took action to designate or reaffirm standby officers, forwarding names to staff. Designees will be notified and contact information filed and updated as necessary. This action is taken to preserve government chain-of-command if any councilmember becomes unable to serve due to a state of emergency.

Other council action included adding sharps disposal and an organics waste disposal component to the extension contract with Republic Services and updates to current regulations for massage establishments.

Mayor Pullen said SB731 established uniform rules and regulations for the massage therapy industry. In 2014, Governor Jerry Brown added local regulatory authority, including limiting the number of retail stores per populations, and minimum sanitation rules. Council member Jim Osborne said the new rules are welcome. “This will limit the numbers,” Osborne said, noting these stores are often fronts for unseemly activities.

A representative of the South Bay Workforce Development Board gave a year-end report of the organization’s impact in Lawndale and 10 surrounding cities. SBWDB delivers employment and job training services to adults and youth. This year’s job fairs have seen an increase in on-the-spot hiring and second interviews. The organization received a $25,000 grant from Chevron, and is continuing to build up broadband infrastructure in the area as a way to retain businesses and corporate interest in the south bay.

A 15 minute closed session on proposed litigation netted no reportable action, according to City Attorney Tiffany Israel.

The council attended the Health and Safety Pet Fair last weekend, and thanked staff for mounting the successful event. Member Osborne congratulated Hofmann and the other newly appointed committee members. Osborne said he will continue to watch closely the Metro tax measure, which is proposing a train stop in Lawndale. Osborne said the impact in noise, congestion and potential cost to the city could be critical.

Sam Pena of Republic Services noted that due to the July 4th holiday falling on Monday, trash and recycling pick up will be delayed by one day. Robo-calls will go out, and residents are suggested to put trash out on Tuesday.

The meeting was adjourned in honor of Robert Haywood, a 60-year resident and WWII veteran who passed recently.

The next meeting of the Lawndale City Council will take place July 18, at 6:30 p.m. •

Beauty is, Literally, in the Eye of the Beholder in Stylish, Hypnotic “The Neon Demon”

Elle Fanning in “The Neon Demon.” Courtesy of Broad Green Pictures.

By Morgan Rojas
for www.cinemacy.com

After the credits roll and the lights come up, the older man sitting next to me says “So what’s for dinner?” and had we not just seen “The Neon Demon,” I may have said something like spaghetti and meatballs, but all I can muster up now is a slight chuckle while trying not be sick.

Days later, I find that I’m still trying to ‘digest’ the visual rollercoaster that is “The Neon Demon.” Elle Fanning plays Jesse, a small town girl with big dreams of making it as a top model in Los Angeles. Her doe-eyed innocence and all around aura seem that of cinematic experience (just saying ‘film’ seems to downplay his work) is more twisted and bizarre than others in his repertoire. He does again, however, manage to capture in his characters that unique feeling of emptiness within chaos, which made “Drive” and “Only God Forgives” memorable, for better or for worse.

The performances from everyone involved, including Keanu Reeves as a sketchy motel owner and Alessandro Nivola as a major fashion designer, play well against Refn’s aesthetically ambitious vision. As the title suggests, neon hues are present in almost every scene, often a moving gradient like the a porcelain doll, and at 16, she is quickly becoming the industry’s next “It Girl.”

Her sudden rise to fame doesn’t come without dangerous consequences. Jesse befriends the well-intentioned makeup artist Ruby (Jena Malone) but is met with thinly veiled jealousy by the other genetically gifted blonde beauties, Gigi (Bella Heathcote) and Sarah (Abbey Lee). Playing into the cattiness of the fashion world and its unattainable ideal of beauty, the girls’ relationship with Jesse is a mix between “Heathers” meets “Mean Girls,” but far darker. We’re talking necrophilia, physical torture, and other bizarre abstractions.

At one point, Jesse is pressured by the famed yet creepy photographer Jack (Desmond Harrington) to strip naked while he rubs gold paint over her body in the name of “art.” Sure it is evocative, but also quite disturbing. Not only is she underage, but instructed by her agent Jan – played by Christina Hendricks – to tell everyone she is 19 “because 18 is too on the nose.” She is fragile, literally a blank canvas slowly being stained by the industry and everything it stands for before our very eyes. It is at this point that we see Jesse’s transformation. Humility turns into confidence, that turns into entitlement, and the light that once illuminated her, fades.

Director Nicolas Winding Refn’s latest screensaver of a 95 Macintosh computer. I also feel obligated to mention that there are also multiple scenes with bright, unrelenting flashing lights that may cause seizures (now you’ve been warned!). And for as much as fashion and beauty are eroticized by the actions of the characters, Natasha Braier’s artfully realistic cinematography adds sophistication and unpredictability to the film.

While visually inspiring, there is not much of a narrative to follow, so those looking for a story in the traditional sense may find this film as vapid as the fashion industry it sartorially mocks. Any attempt to fully critique or even make sense of what is going on in the narrative can cause even more confusion. The result is that the audience just needs to go along for the ride in order to enjoy it. Perhaps this is a case of style over substance? But you’ve got to hand it to Refn, he is certainly far more than a typical “director,” he is a creator of cinematic worlds. Although I’m not speaking from experience, one could safely assume that “The Neon Demon” may best be enjoyed on an empty stomach and with some type of hallucinogenic?

‘The Neon Demon’ is rated R for disturbing violent content, bloody images, graphic nudity, a scene of aberrant sexuality, and language. In theaters Friday, June 24. •

Hawthorne Happenings

News for the ‘City of Good Neighbors’

From City Clerk Norb Huber

“SUNSHINE SUPERMAN” SCREENING

This Monday, June 27th at the Hawthorne Museum the Hawthorne Historical Society will be showing the recently released movie entitled, “Sunshine Superman”. It is the story of Carl Boenish, the Hawthorne resident who invented BASE jumping.

The somewhat tragic story is very moving and the scenic photography in the movie is spectacular. The screening will begin at 6:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served. Come out and see a great movie and meet some good neighbors.

AIRPLANE FLIGHT PATTERNS

First it was red light cameras, the next week I moved on to the homeless problem, and last week we took on illegal fireworks. Here’s another Hawthorne problem that has been going on for quite some time and there is no real fix to it. This week’s problem are low flying airplanes passing over our homes illegally. Yes, the FAA has flight patterns that pilots are instructed to follow. Jet airliners departing LAX are to fly out over the ocean and turn North or South when they are at a certain altitude. There have been times in the middle of the night where I hear a plane and it sounds like its coming right into our bedroom. I live in the Ramona tract and I’ve been able to read the numbers on the jet’s wings. Now, since a single engine test flight plane came down on a town house on Broadway, we find out that the small aircraft pilots are to make a turn over the closed Hawthorne Mall and turn down Hawthorne Blvd. instead of traveling over the residential neighborhoods to the west of the Hawthorne Airport. Even the traffic controllers are not always following the designated take off and landing procedures that are in place for our city’s airfield. Let’s just hope that the crash that occurred recently will lead to enforcement of the strict guide lines that are put in place for the safety of our neighborhoods.

GOOD NEIGHBORS DAY HAWTHORNE UNITED

It’s coming soon. The 6th Annual Hawthorne Hometown Fair - Good Family Fun - Live Music on stage - Classic Car Show - Great Food - Talent Competitions - Games for the kids - Vendors - Art Walk - Historical Museum - Tours of the old Hawthorne Jail (before it is torn down) - The Hawthorne Historical Society sponsors this event with the sole purpose of providing a great summer activity for ALL the residents of Hawthorne. We want to bring all of our GOOD NEIGHBORS together to celebrate our unity and diversity. Instead of downgrading our city, let’s build it up by coming together. We want to build a “closer community”. Invite your friends to attend. We are looking for Hawthorne talent. If you know of an individual or a group that would like to perform please contact us. If you wish to be a vendor, exhibitor, or show your car, just let us know. Our contact phone number is 310-370-0675 or email me at norbhuber@gmail.com.) Let us be HAWTHORNE UNITED. Mark your calendars for Saturday, July 16th. Special Announcement! Late breaking news! JUST ADDED: This year we will have a “beer garden” as part of Good Neighbors Day. So, instead of having coffee with the clerk or coffee with the cops, now you can have a “Cold One with the Clerk”. I have to warn you that it takes very little alcohol to get me going. I may be working the event also, so you may have to hoist one on your own. I can’t think of a better way to bring our good neighbors together than to have a fair number of our citizens enjoy a cold one in beautiful, downtown Hawthorne. Most of our problems would disappear, at least for one afternoon. THIS ONE’s for you Hawthorne! I can’t wait!

CAR SHOW

It’s not too late to enter your car in Hawthorne’s Car Show to be held during Good Neighbors Day. Every entry will receive a “goodie bag” full of nice items donated by vendors. We will be awarding trophies to cars in several categories. Plus, it’s just a good day to hang out with your friends. Please contact us if you have a car you wish to enter.

HALL OF FAME BANQUET

In case you are wondering when the Hawthorne Hall of Fame Banquet will be held, we have decided to move it to October. It usually is held the night before Good Neighbors Day. It was too much work to pull off two events on the same weekend. Information regarding the banquet will be released this summer.

GONE FISHING

Next week I’ll be going on our annual “men/boys only” fishing trip up to the western side of the High Sierras. This will mark our 27th consecutive summer that we have spent a week fishing, camping and drinking cold ones up at a lake named Florence. Don’t try to go there, the road is bad and we really don’t want any company enjoying our beautiful, secret spot. Let’s just say the fishing is terrible, the bugs are bad, and there are no campsites. I will see ya all when I return in a week. •

New Planet Is Largest Discovered Orbiting Two Suns

By Bob Eklund

If you cast your eyes toward the constellation Cygnus the Swan, you’ll be looking in the direction of the largest planet yet discovered around a double-star system. It’s too faint to see with the naked eye, but a team led by astronomers from NASA’s Goddard Space Flight Center and San Diego State University used the Kepler Space Telescope to identify the new planet, Kepler-1647b.

Planets that orbit two stars are called circumbinary planets, or “Tatooine” planets, after Luke Skywalker’s homeland in “Star Wars.” To detect planets, the Kepler telescope looks for slight dips in brightness that hint a planet might be transiting in front of a star, blocking some of the star’s light.

“But finding circumbinary planets is much harder than finding planets around single stars,” said SDSU astronomer William Welsh, one of the paper’s coauthors. “The transits are not regularly spaced in time and they can vary in duration and even depth.”

Once a candidate planet is found, researchers employ advanced computer programs to determine if it really is a planet. It can be a grueling process. Laurance Doyle, a coauthor on the paper and astronomer at the Carl Sagan Center, SETI Institute, noticed a transit back in 2011, but more data and several years of analysis were needed to confirm that the transit was indeed caused by a circumbinary planet. A network of amateur astronomers in the KELT Follow-Up Network provided additional observations that helped the researchers estimate the planet’s mass.

Kepler-1647b is 3,700 light-years away and approximately 4.4 billion years old, roughly the same age as the Earth. The stars are similar to the Sun, with one slightly larger than our home star and the other slightly smaller. The planet has a mass and radius nearly identical to that of Jupiter, making it the largest transiting circumbinary planet ever found.

“It’s a bit curious that this biggest planet took so long to confirm, since it is easier to find big planets than small ones,” said SDSU astronomer Jerome Orosz, another coauthor on the study. “It took so long to confirm because its orbital period is so long.”

The planet takes 1,107 days (just over three years) to orbit its host stars, the longest period of any confirmed transiting exoplanet found so far. The planet is also much further away from its stars than any other circumbinary planet, breaking with the tendency for circumbinary planets to have close-in orbits. Interestingly, its orbit puts the planet within the so-called habitable zone. Like Jupiter, however, Kepler-1647b is a gas giant, making the planet unlikely to host life. Yet if the planet has large moons, they could potentially be suitable for life.

“Habitability aside, Kepler-1647b is important because it is the tip of the iceberg of a theoretically predicted population of large, long-period circumbinary planets,” Welsh said.

“It looks like more than 40 percent of circumbinary planets are in the habitable zones of their stars,” Doyle said. “It seems that the scene from Star Wars where Luke Skywalker is watching the double sunset may not be so rare after all. But physics might be more difficult—everything from shadows to rainbows would come in pairs.” •

Kill the 9-to-5 by Turning Your Hobby into a Thriving Business

(BPT) - A beloved hobby can feel like a mini vacation from everyday life. Whether it's gardening for relaxation, photography as a creative outlet or computer coding to exercise the brain, hobbies serve as an escape from stress and boredom.

What if rather than a hobby being your escape, it was what you did for a career?

"When you do what you love, it doesn't feel like work. However, people are intimidated by the idea of transitioning a hobby into this type of dream," says Jim Salmon, vice president of business services at Navy Federal Credit Union. "Becoming a successful entrepreneur doesn't have to be difficult with the right drive and passion."

Navy Federal Business Services has helped thousands of people turn their dreams of owning a small business into reality by providing expert guidance and financial support through Business Services products. Here are some of Salmon's expert tips based on best practices he's observed through his close relationship with entrepreneurial clients:

1. Take your time.

Becoming a successful entrepreneur doesn't mean you have to drop everything and devote all your time to starting a business. In fact, research shows the opposite: People who keep their day jobs while starting companies are a third less likely to fail than those who abandon their full time jobs. Instead, they're tinkering, researching and cautiously testing things out to see if their idea is a viable business venture and if there is a market for their product or service.

2. Set a timeline.

Is there a season where it would make sense to test out your business venture? Or perhaps there's a transitional time in your life where you'll be looking to open a new chapter. For example, transitioning your hobby into a viable business venture a great option for active duty military personnel and veterans because they naturally begin to think about what their second career will be after retiring or leaving the Armed Forces.

3. Decide on time commitment.

Decide how much time you are willing to dedicate to your new venture in the beginning. Being an entrepreneur means being your own boss which affords you unprecedented flexibility, but the effort you put in directly effects what you get out. Keep in mind, entrepreneurship isn't just for full-time professionals. Turning a hobby into a career is a great option for military and stay-at-home parents who require flexibility in regards to working hours and location, but they may have more open time to dedicate to the transition.

4. Create a business plan.

Transitioning a hobby into a profession is a lot of fun, but it's also serious business if you want to be successful. That means creating a business plan that includes goals and plans for attaining them. This will serve as the foundation for how you strategize and build a successful business today. Plus, when it comes time to finance your budding business, a solid business plan will give you a leg up and direction for the future.

5. Find financial backing.

Depending on what type of business you want to pursue, you may need some additional funding beyond what you can afford. Establishing a relationship with a financial institution like Navy Federal Credit Union will help you learn more about small business loans and lending products that will help your small business grow. Bring your passion and your business plan - potential investors and financial institutions alike will want to see both before they make a decision.

Proper Flu Etiquette to Help Keep You and Your Family Flu-Free

(BPT) - It came out of nowhere. The sudden fever, aches, and chills you're experiencing are unbearable. You crawl into bed, thinking there's not much you can do. You already feel guilty for bringing the flu home to your kids and spouse. You can try to fight it, but the virus will likely make its way through your household. Right?

That's what the majority of U.S. adults think. According to a recent national survey conducted by the National Foundation for Infectious Diseases (NFID) more than half of U.S. adults (55 percent) incorrectly think that when they get sick, others in the household are bound to get the flu and they just have to wait for the flu virus to pass. The survey also found that almost twice as many U.S. adults call a healthcare professional when their great-great-granddaughter of etiquette guru Emily Post and co-author of Emily Post's Etiquette 18th edition. "Etiquette is all about consideration. Using basic good etiquette can help keep you and your family flu-free by preventing the virus' spread."

The Emily Post Institute offers the following etiquette tips to manage situations where the flu virus could spread:

- Know your F.A.C.T.S.: If you're experiencing Fever, Aches, Chills, Tiredness and Sudden Onset, it's likely flu. Realize that you're contagious and quickly see a healthcare professional.
- Stay home: If you have flu symptoms, it's okay to cancel plans or take a sick day. The polite thing to do is to stay away from crowds to avoid spreading the virus. Be sure child experiences flu symptoms (46 percent) versus when they personally experience flu symptoms (25 percent).

"It's important for adults to take care of themselves as well as those they care for, including children. The virus does not have to take down your whole family if one person gets sick," says Dr. William Schaffner, MD, NFID medical director. "There are ways to fight flu. If you see a healthcare professional quickly, they may prescribe prescription flu medicines that may help you get better faster. Your doctor may also prescribe them to prevent others in your household from getting the flu."

"Be proactive when it comes to the flu. It's the considerate thing to do," says Lizzie Post, to call your host, or the office to let them know you won't be able to make it.

- Stock up: Keep tissues and hand sanitizers with you at all times. If it's others who are sick, like that cougher or sneezer next to you, prompt them to protect others by offering a tissue or a spritz of alcohol-based sanitizer.

- Hands down. Keep your hands below your shoulders when in public. The idea is to avoid touching your face, which may also help keep you from getting sick after rubbing your nose, mouth or eyes with unclean hands.

Farro Salad with Veggies in Basil-Grapefruit Dressing

Recipe by www.juicecentral.org, provided by BPT.

Serving size: 1 cup • Servings per recipe: 6

Ingredients

- 1 cup/6 ounces farro
- 2 cups/8 ounces asparagus, cut into 1-inch lengths
- 4 ounces ruby red grapefruit juice
- 1 teaspoon grated garlic
- 2 teaspoons Dijon mustard
- 3 tablespoons extra virgin olive oil
- 1/2 cup/1/2 ounce basil, sliced or very roughly chopped
- 2 cups/8 ounces cherry tomatoes, halved
- 2 cups/2 ounces arugula, roughly chopped

Preparation

1. Place farro in a large pot with plenty of salted water. Bring to a boil and cook until al dente, about 40 minutes. One minute (depending on the size of the asparagus) before the farro is done, add the asparagus to the pot. Drain.
2. While the farro is cooking, make the dressing. Whisk together the grapefruit juice, garlic, mustard and olive oil. Stir in the basil. When the farro is done and while it's still hot, toss half the dressing with the farro. Taste and season with salt and pepper. Let sit for 10 minutes to allow the flavors of the dressing to absorb. Stir in the cherry tomatoes and arugula along with the remaining dressing. Taste once more and serve.

Wiseburn Rolls Over Tri Park

Article and Photos by Joe Snyder

Last week, local District 37 Little League Baseball and Softball teams began their All-Star Tournaments. In last Sunday's Junior (ages 13-14) Baseball All-Star contest, the contest was long and dragging but it was Wiseburn of Hawthorne that downed Tri Park from El Camino Village, 14-7 last Saturday at Jim Thorpe Park in Hawthorne.

In the seven-inning game that lasted nearly three and a half hours, Wiseburn started out with a 3-0 lead entering the bottom of the second inning. Tri Park, that includes players from Hawthorne, Lawndale, El Camino Village and Gardena, rallied for three runs to tie the game in the bottom of the second. From there, Wiseburn came back with seven unanswered runs for a 10-3 bulge through four innings. Tri Park got as close as four runs but Wiseburn put the game well out of reach with four runs in the bottom of the sixth. Perhaps the key blow for Wiseburn was a two-run home run from Cameron Lan in the bottom of the third. That round-tripper gave Wiseburn a 6-3 lead. Wiseburn added four more runs in the fourth to blow the game wide open. Danny Del La Cruz collected three hits in five at-bats and drove in three runs.

"The kids did a great job," Wiseburn manager Josh Cruz said. "The heat got to the players that caused the game to take awhile."

For Tri Park, Amir Lee had a fine game going three-for-four with two runs batted in and two runs scored. Matthew Chavez had a run-scoring double that cut Wiseburn's lead to 10-6 in the top of the sixth.

"We made a lot of errors," Tri Park manager Oscar Aguilar said. "It cost us about five or six runs."

Wiseburn played in the second round of the winner's bracket against Lawndale, which defeated Lennox in the first round, last Sunday at Thorpe Park. Tri Park played in the loser's bracket against Lennox. The tournament lasted, at least, through Wednesday but, if necessary, a second championship game will be played Friday at 7 p.m. at Thorpe Park.

LENNOX WINS 50-70 OPENER

The Lennox 50-70 (ages 11-13) Little

Wiseburn baserunner Cameron Lan inches past second base in last Saturday's District 37 Junior Little League All-Star Baseball Tournament play. Lan had a home run.

League Baseball team began quest for its fourth consecutive District 37 championship with a 16-6 win over Aviation Little League from Del Aire (an unincorporated community located between Hawthorne and El Segundo) in the first round last Thursday at Thorpe Park. Lennox moved on to take on Compton, a 10-0 first round winner over Wiseburn last Thursday, last Saturday but results were unavailable. Aviation and Wiseburn played in the loser's bracket last Friday. All games are at Thorpe Park. The first final was played last Monday with a necessary second game on Tuesday. The winner moves on to the Section 3 Tournament that starts on Saturday, also at Thorpe Park.

LENNOX WINS SENIOR MAGEE CLASSIC

The Lennox Senior Little League (ages 15-16) Twins captured the Carl Magee, Jr. Tournament of Champions title by shutting out the Tri Park Bluejays 4-0 on June 12 at Jim Thorpe Park. Winning pitcher went the distance allowing six hits. He struck out seven batters and walked just one. Devin Garza supplied the entire offense for the Twins. He hit a three-run home run in the bottom of the second inning. In the fifth, he drove in Salvador Mercado with a base hit.

CIF-SS ANNOUNCES NEW FOOTBALL PLAYOFF FORMAT

For many years, the CIF-Southern Section football playoffs have been played depending on the strength of leagues with the average enrollments of high schools. Things are different, today. The level of talents in the high school sports are more extreme with top athletes choosing certain high schools, instead of staying with local ones. As a result, the Southern Section Committee is going by the individual school talent, instead of the leagues.

Over the past two seasons, the Bay, Ocean and Pioneer Leagues played in the Western Division, which was classified as Division VII. One local school moving up from Division VII to Division VI will be Lawndale, which would have won the Ocean League last season but had to forfeit four wins, including two in league, due to use of an ineligible player. The Cardinals will play in that division with the likes of Manhattan Beach, Mira Costa and Pioneer League power West Torrance. Inglewood and Morningside go down to Division IX. Leuzinger and Inglewood will vie in Division X. Hawthorne, which struggled over the past several seasons, goes to Division XII. There are still a total of 13 divisions in the Southern Section 11-man football with Division I, formerly the PAC Five, being the most highly prestigious division. One of the teams in that division will be Serra High of Gardena, which was eliminated by Santa Ana Mater Dei in the quarterfinals last season. Centennial High of Corona won the PAC Five last year but lost to Concord De La Salle in the California State Open Division final. •

District’s Eight-Grade Students Will Receive Vision Screening Services

By Cristian Vasquez

Members of the Hawthorne School Board approved an agreement with Helen Keller International that will provide vision-screening services to the school district’s eight-grade students. This agreement will also cover services for any Hawthorne School District student that is referred, including sixth and seventh grade students.

“The Services shall be furnished on the premises of public school location(s) established by the HSD [Hawthorne School District] and mutually agreed by HKI [Helen Keller International] and HSD to be appropriate for the services offered,” states the agreement attached to the board agenda. “The services shall be delivered on days and times mutually agreed to by both parties.”

This is a renewal of existing agreement and establishes the rates of service at $3.50 per student. It is estimated that these vision care services will reach 1,100 of the district’s eighth grade students. In addition, HKI is committed to providing an estimated 250 children with prescription eyeglasses [to students referred to ChildSight® on the initial vision screening completed by ChildSight® or the school nurse], free of charge to the district or students served through the agreement.

ChildSight® provides vision screenings and prescription glasses to children in impoverished communities in California, as well as states like Connecticut, New Jersey, New York and Ohio. By working directly with school administrators and nurses, ChildSight® staff is able to provide high-quality screenings, which in turn allows a licensed optometrist to prescribe adequate eyeglasses for kids in need of vision correction.

“Optometrists with whom HKI contracts shall present HSD with an original Certificate of Insurance evidencing insurance coverage for general liability, workman’s compensation and medical malpractice, in the amounts required by the HSD,” states the agreement.

The agreement will take effect Aug. 1 and is set to expire June 30, 2017, unless renewal occurs via the approval of an amendment by both HSD and HKI.

HKI, which was founded in 1915, spearheads a worldwide effort to save the sight and lives of disadvantaged people. By establishing a wide-range of programs based on research and evidence in vision, health and nutrition, HKI continues to fight the causes and effects of blindness and malnutrition. At the moment there are more than 120 programs in 21 countries in Africa, Asia and the United States dedicated to helping save people’s vision.

“Helen Keller International also reaches tens of thousands of underserved youth in the United States each year through ChildSight®,” states the HKI website [http://www.hki.org/about-us]. “This unique program provides free vision screenings and prescription eyeglasses to students living in poverty.”

HKI’s work provides communities, who otherwise would never be able to afford such services, cataract surgeries, vision correction, vitamin A supplements, screening and treatment for diabetic retinopathy, as well as providing treatments and cures for overlooked tropical diseases. Part of the mission for HKI is reducing malnutrition via the spread of efforts tailored to improving nutrition practices for families such as maternal and child nutrition education, by reinforcing staple foods considered to be rich in essential nutrients, as well as promoting “globally recognized family-led agricultural programs and community-based management of acute malnutrition.”

For the agreement with the HSD, HKI takes full responsibility in providing, maintaining and insuring all equipment to be used in the providing of its services. “HKI employees, representatives, contractors and agents will report suspected child abuse or neglect if he/she knows or has reasonable cause to believe or suspect an incident,” states the agreement.

All students’ personal information collected during the vision screenings will remain confidential. The District will disseminate information to parents regarding the vision screening services and all relevant dates.

Hawthorne Education Foundation Ready for 12th Annual Golf Tournament

The 12th Annual Hawthorne Education Foundation Golf Tournament will tee off on Monday, June 27 at Chester Washington Golf Course, located at 1930 W. 120th St. in Los Angeles.

Created as a fun way to raise funds, the tournament will dedicate all proceeds from entry fees and donations to financially supporting the Foundation’s Educational Grant program.

The HEF’s fundraising efforts benefit students in every grade by providing learning experiences beyond what a typical classroom lesson can create.

Persons interested in participating in this year’s tournament can learn more by call the district office at 310-676-2276 or by visiting the district website at: www.hawthorne.k12.ca.us/cms/page_view?d=x&piid=&vpid=1332946587031. Check in for the tournament will begin at 11 a.m. and tee time is scheduled for 1 p.m. •
