Vax Live Is First Concert at SoFi

Vax Live: The Concert to Reunite the World is a virtual concert and broadcast to encourage Covid-19 vaccinations around the world. Thousands of fully vaccinated healthcare and other essential workers attended the vaccine awareness and advocacy benefit on Sunday. Finally, live music has returned to Southern California, and add to that a chance to be there at the debut of SoFi Stadium as a major new concert venue. The concert included performances by Lopez, Eddie Vedder, Foo Fighters, J Balvin and H.E.R. Photo courtesy SoFi Stadium. Photo credit: Kevin Mazur/Getty Images for Global Citizen.

Linda Luna Spends Life Helping Children with Love and Patience

By Kiersten Vannest

"In 2007, my son and my beautiful daughter-in-law called me and said I was going to be a grandma." Linda Luna, a Park Vista senior community resident in El Segundo, moved to sunny California to be closer to her growing family.

Born in Louisville, Kentucky, Luna's parents moved out to California for a better life. She then grew up in San Jose, working as a clerk for Pacific Bell. But the thing that most stands out about Luna's life is her extensive work helping children.

"I love kids," she says, going on to explain that she spent her parenting years also fostering children. As a foster child herself from age thirteen to eighteen, Linda used her experience to relate to kids going through the system. When her two sons were ages four and seven, she started a foster home and took kids from Juvenile Hall and the Girls' Ranch, a place for girls in difficult situations.

"The girls are pretty amazing, and once they knew that they were going to be safe and not be judged for whatever they did, but be encouraged about going forward and becoming the best they could be, you could see a change in their attitudes and their thinking," she explains.

The biggest challenge with a foster child, she says, is getting them to know that they can trust you. Luna explains the importance of establishing that she would not lie to or deceive a child in her care. She made sure it was clear that she wasn't going to kick them out if they did something wrong, be it not doing what she asked, or sneaking out and sneaking back in. She showed love, patience, structure, and kindness to every child in her care.

So how did Luna come up with her approach to these difficult situations? "I tried to follow what my foster mother did," she says, explaining that her own foster home was as normal as could be, and her foster parent was very motherly and loving. Not being able to have children of her own, Luna's foster mother took in about ten girls and helped empower them to take ownership of their own lives and responsibilities, giving them activities to do and taking them on vacation. "I would say I learned a lot from that and tried to implement it in my own home."

Often, kids who enter the foster system are dealing with some tough life circumstances. Luna recalls one girl who came into her care with 98 cavities and had trouble sleeping for fear of not being secure. For about three weeks in a row, she and her husband

South Bay Citizen Scientists: Collaboration and Community

By Tommy Vinh Bui, MLIS Associate Librarian, Inglewood Public Library

The sunshine and acres of blue skies above are ever inviting these days. As if we needed any inveigling to sally forth outdoors and enjoy the vitamin D-inducing rays abundant right in our yards. But rejoice because you can get your dosage of sunshine whilst also furthering science as well. And reach new heights of knowledge with a panoply of Citizen Scientist opportunities right at your fingertips. You, too, can participate without any specialized training to collect and analyze critical data in your neighborhood that'll be a boon to scientists the world over. And it's as easy as moseying onto your front stoop and keeping those peepers peeled.

Most students in Los Angeles County inexplicably found themselves with a surplus of spare time on their hands during the pandemic. And many managed to put that time to good use by ever vigilantly gathering crucial information to aid institutional researchers on a number of projects. Quarantine may've hobbled the quotidian day-to-day for many but it also served to propel Citizen Scientist initiatives to new stratas of understanding and provided invaluable scientific research by harnessing the energy of throngs of at-home STEM advocates. And participants indubitably conjure a real sense of community and

Rooftop Cinema Club Brings Outdoor Screenings to El Segundo In May

By Ryan Rojas for cinemacy.com

While the COVID pandemic has disrupted our lives and wrecked havoc across the world this past year, it's uplifting to start seeing parts of the world open up once again, with California also being the state with the lowest COVID-affected numbers in the whole country.

The news of re-opening is especially thrilling for Los Angeles movie-lovers, who, after more than a year of streaming movies from their living rooms, are once again able to start experiencing films the way they were meant to be watched: on the big screen.

While many are still processing the sad news of the Arclight Cinemas and Pacific month, and South Bay movie-lovers should be thrilled to hear it.

With the lineup of amazing movies, you won't be able to go wrong with any film you wish to see in this rooftop setting. Maybe you want to head to tonight's films and catch Selena or Dazed and Confused? Or just think about watching La La Land under the actual Los Angeles stars. The offerings range even further, from family films like The Goonies to The Princess Bride, hood films from Friday to Boyz N The Hood, and comedies from Anchorman to Superbad (El Segundo locals may want to check out the latter to catch the city's many famed high school shots). The list goes on with classic, horror and even

Theaters' closures (including myself), South Bay movie-lovers have a new reason to celebrate, as Rooftop Cinema Club is bringing their outdoor movie screening series to El Segundo for the month of May.

Starting tonight, May 6th and running through the end of May, LA and South Bay movie-lovers (ages 18+) will be able to experience the "ultimate outdoor air experience" with an amazing offering of popular, classic and cult films projected on a rooftop setting while being provided personal headphones and deck chairs (you'll need to bring your own cozy blankets, which is highly recommended for any rooftop breeze).

Typically held in downtown Los Angeles (along with other major cities like New York, Houston, San Diego and even London), Rooftop Cinema Club is moving their residence to El Segundo's Smoky Hollows District this more special-event films to see.

Of course, maintaining safety is the most important part of being able to hold these social screenings. As Rooftop Cinema Club says: "Our number one priority is our guests' and team's safety and wellbeing, which is why we have adapted our operations on the Rooftop." So be sure to review the new safety measures and rules for guests before booking a screening at rftop.cc/rooftopsafety.

If you decide to experience any of these truly unique social cinema events (and I'm hoping that you do), be sure to arrive early to enjoy delicious food from The Urban Oven, as well as a drink (full bar complete with craft cocktails, beer and wine) at sunset with the mountains as your backdrop. Select your socially distanced seats and snack on classic cinema concessions like popcorn and candy

Your Neighborhood Therapist

Dear Neighborhood Therapist,

My partner and I have been arguing more lately, and our arguments have been getting worse. We have said things that we regret and don't mean, and it feels like we use everything that we have said against each other each time. We really love each other and we want to stay in our relationship, but we are worried that the conflict has taken on a life of its own and at some point, it will become too much. Do you have any ideas about how we can address this?

— Seriously Concerned, Hawthorne

Dear Seriously Concerned,

Conflict in a relationship is practically inevitable. You will disagree. One or both of you won't be at your best, and conflict will flare up. My suggestion is to take a moment when you are getting along well, when the stakes are low, and have a philosophical discussion about conflict. In other words, talk about how you fight. Here are some ideas that might help get you started.

First, the bad news: people speak carelessly all the time, even to the people they love the most. When people whose words have power over us get things wrong - which they do, because they are human - these words can have lasting negative effects.

Here's the good news. You know this already, but it bears repeating: the mind goes places we sometimes wish it did not. But just because an idea pops into your mind doesn't mean that you subscribe to it; and just because your mind entertained the notion that something was possible doesn't mean that you believe it to be true. Messed-up thoughts about our partners occur to all of us. Sometimes, especially when we are stressed, these messed-up thoughts slip straight from our brains and out of our mouths. And of course, we cannot un-say them or un-hear them, can we?

It sounds dire, but what if we consider that people get stuff wrong about each other all the time. Your parents got stuff wrong about you. If you have children, you will get stuff wrong about them. Your partner will get stuff wrong about you, and you will get stuff wrong about your partner. Just because you said things to each other doesn't make them true.

But what if the stuff you said about your partner actually is true. And maybe all the stuff your partner said about you is true. Fine, let us assume for a moment that it is, and neither you nor your partner is a perfect angel. What are the implications of the fact that you are not in a relationship with a perfect angel? When you each think about each other's flaws, is "fixing" what is wrong with them a condition of remaining in the relationship? If not, what makes it worth remaining in the relationship despite these imperfections?

On the other hand, what if it turns out that one of you, or both of you, took a bit of poetic license in the heat of the moment? What if it turns out that you wanted to win the argument or push back because you felt attacked? What if your discussion leads you to discover that "Conflict" has taken on a life of its own, separate from that of the relationship that you both want to nourish? Wouldn't it be ironic if you found yourselves working as a team in order to diminish the influence of Conflict on your relationship?

Huber's Hiccups

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy named Norb Huber

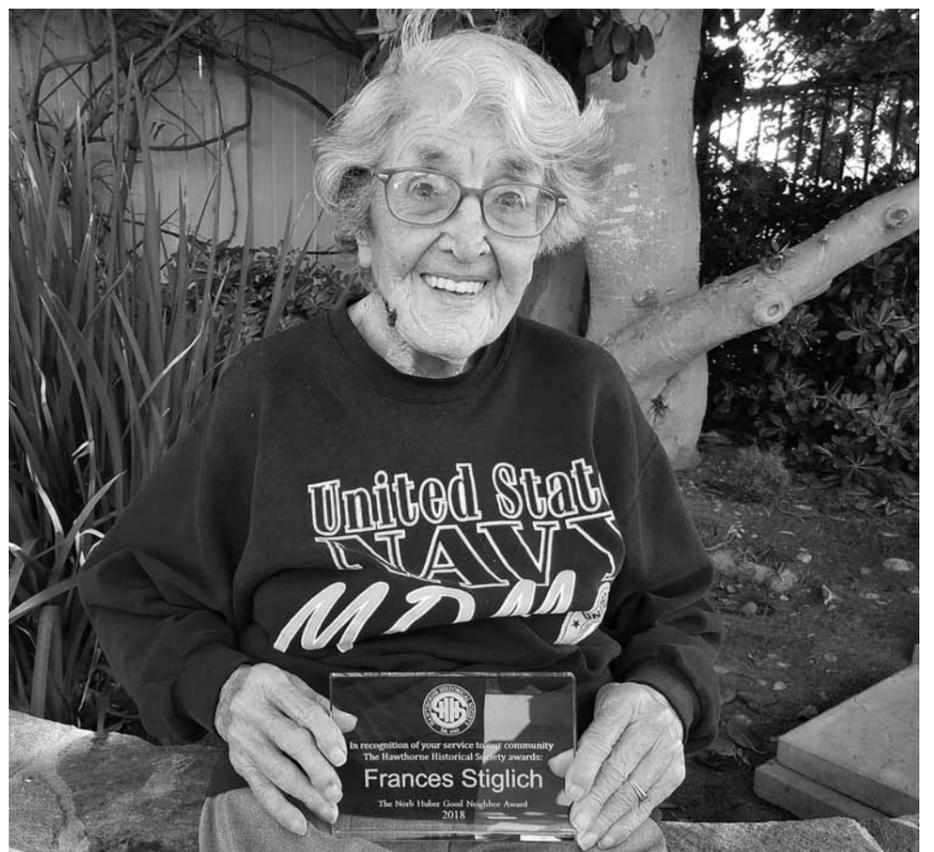

TRAVELS

Linda and I went to visit our son in Urbana, Illinois last week, so I missed you all. We had not seen him in over a year. Like most everyone else, we stayed home last year. Now that we both have been vaccinated, we feel a little more comfortable getting on an airplane and sitting elbow to elbow with total strangers. All four of our flights were full. There are fewer flights, but more people are getting out. Of course, masks were the rule. It seemed like people were more polite than before the virus, there wasn't any pushing and shoving to exit the aircrafts. Following our visit in Illinois, we spent a couple of days in Indianapolis, drove down to Louisville and then on to Nashville. The spring rains had made everything nice and green. It was fun to visit the Louisville Slugger baseball bat factory and museum and also drive by Churchill Downs. We couldn't get close to the horse race track since it was Kentucky Derby weekend. There is a Corvette museum in Bowling Green, Kentucky where GM has assembled over one million of their classic cars. Traveling further South, we made it down to Nashville, Tennessee. Our niece is working there and we were able to stay at her rented house. Down town Nashville is party city. It's a mix between Las Vegas and New Orleans with live music and entertainment. The cold ones were plentiful. Party buses cruised up and down the streets. The Country Music Hall of Fame is there. We had to drive a little bit to visit the Grand Ol Opry. Nashville is known as "Music City". Some of you remember the old television show, Hee Haw. It was filmed in front of a live studio audience at the Opry House. It ran for 26 seasons starting in 1969, with 655 episodes being broadcast. Those classic shows are long gone. With the variety of numerous cable channels, very few shows are watched by a large percentage of the country. We used to watch the same shows on one of the three main networks. It seems like the tv shows brought us more together, even if the shows were stupid. The more stupid the show, the more they were watched. We needed a good laugh. Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In was another one of those shows that brought some humor into our houses. See Huber's Hiccups, page 5

Centinela Valley Union High School District Celebrates International Jazz Day 2021

The District hosted Conganas Latin-Jazz Band and invited all band students from Hawthorne High School, Lawndale High School and Leuzinger High School to attend a live concert and history of jazz as a field trip. It was their first time back on campus for class since the pandemic began. The event was live-streamed to over 190 countries on all 7 continents. Thank you Board VP Hugo M. Rojas for setting this up, it was so great to see students back on campus. Photo courtesy of Centinela Valley Union High School District.

would wake up with this little girl curled up on the foot of their bed, just to be close to them. With patience, love, and individual understanding, eventually, the girl felt safe enough to sleep in her own bed and opened up about things in her past.

"Each child is going to be different, and if you listen to them long enough, you'll hear what the root of the problem really is," she says. According to her, it's all about building trust and being truthful. Luna believes that God's gift to her was her natural instinct to be able to communicate with children, and it's her faith that helps her live her life.

Her advice for new parents is this: you have to sacrifice. The time of raising kids is so fast, she says, and you only have that short window of pouring yourself into their lives in order for them to have something to fall back on as an adult.

The most rewarding part about this facet of her life, she says, is getting to see kids grow into happy and healthy adults. "The most rewarding part was when they left, and they called back, and they'd come over and see me, and they would bring their kids with them and show me that they made a good life," she says fondly.

As for her children, Luna sees her son (now a teacher in El Segundo) nearly every day. She is best friends with her daughter-in-law. She enjoys spending lots of time with her two granddaughters.

"I have fallen in love with El Segundo," says Luna, "It's a very friendly town." Living in Park Vista, she says she enjoys monthly resident meetings where she can voice questions and concerns, even through Covid over Zoom. With optional activities, trips, parties, and a community room, Luna loves to explore and be active, and bond with her community. During Covid, her complex ensured that all of the seniors had access to safe and secure vaccine appointments and transportation.

Prior to having a stroke last year, Luna would ride her bike five miles, four days a week. She loves to go to the beach, and eat at local restaurants, and spend time with her family, be it a Chinese food night at home or a birthday party. "The simple things in life are the things that I like to do."

Linda's life so far has been spent loving and giving to those around her, and her advice for transitioning into senior years is to walk through these times softly and embrace the process. Having spent her seventy years making decisions for herself and her children, she says that it's okay to let her children start to steer the ship now.

She is looking forward to her granddaughter's upcoming eighth-grade graduation. Her goal for the foreseeable future is to regain her strength after last year's stroke, something with which she's already made remarkable progress. "You know," she ponders, "a life's story is very detailed and very intense at times... I just want to live out the rest of my life knowing that I gave my very best to my grandchildren and my son and daughter-in-law and that I love the Lord with all my heart." •

I have to admit, once in a while, I tune in old episodes of the "Golden Girls" that are repeated almost nightly on a cable channel. We all need a laugh still today. Laughing has been proven to help us mentally and physically. Wow! Can you believe that I have written all of this without telling you to have a cold one, relax, and let God love you? Some of you don't like beer. Some of you can't relax. Some of you don't like my preaching. So, maybe you have enjoyed my travel log today. It's like the old slide shows we would show of our trips to Hawaii or Mexico. No one was interested in seeing us have a good time. Just like all of the thousands of photos we take on our cell phones of our trips and we don't even go back and look at them ourselves. America is beautiful. There are many, many great places to visit. It is always nice to get back home. Cali may have its problems, but it's still not too bad of a place to live. My dear, loyal readers and you other folk, get out and see this great country. Wear your mask, take photos, see the sites, relax, have a cold one and let God love you. Thanks for allowing me to put you to sleep. Maybe next week I will get back to writing some more better, rumbling, stupid stuff. This was boring! It's difficult to be stupid all the time.

with contactless order and pickup. When the movie starts, you'll be able to live completely in those movie moments with state-of-the-art wireless headphones (sanitized thoroughly after each use) and an amazing view of the big screen.

The venue will be located in the parking structure at 1310 E Franklin Ave. Tickets are offered for two different types of deck-chairs – a single Lounge Seat for one or a double-width Love Seat for two (and Student Discount tickets are offered at 10% off). And the screenings go ahead come rain or shine.

Rooftop Cinema Club (whose tagline is Love, Peace and Great Film) believes that all experiences should be memorable, which is why they are on a mission to transform nights at the movies in to cinematic events like no other. "You bring your friends and loved ones, and we'll bring you city skylines, sunsets, starlit evenings, awesome drinks, delicious food, and great movies on the big screen." Rooftop Cinema Club is also currently running a drive-in theater experience at the Santa Monica Airport through May 31st.

So come on out and support this unique big screen experience, make some new memories, and remember why social cinema events like this are so meaningful and should be celebrated and saved as we return to our post-pandemic lives.

are empowered to delve deeper into these endeavours and develop thoughtful connections with other fellow science enthusiasts. It's categorically a mutually beneficial partnership for all parties involved.

One such initiative that is particularly near and dear to my heart is the annual Great Backyard Bird Count. Southern California is an oasis for migratory and native birdlife and one can make a meaningful contribution to our understanding of the region's biodiversity to the benefit of all. Bird watchers of all ages and experience are encouraged to tally up the number of birds in their vicinity to help researchers develop a better idea of the local bird population and report back online. This precious dataset incalculably aids scientists at the National Audubon Society, Cornell Lab of Ornithology, and Birds Canada to glean a clearer picture of global bird health and help guide focused and collaborative actions to protect bird habitats through conservation. Bird populations are constantly in flux and responding to a plethora of shifting variables such as climate fluctuations and habitat loss. This data will be crucial in understanding how warming weather patterns and man-made environmental blights are having an adverse effect on bird movements around the world. And this is a worthwhile and imperative campaign to be involved with.

I must concede that I find little more satisfying than trundling out onto my patio most mornings and being treated to a serenade of garrulous house sparrows or mischievous scrub jays mid-chorus. I find retreating to the joys of birdwatching the ideal antidote to the anxiety and isolation that many are prone to feeling during quarantine. And to be collaborative with a responsive and supportive community of fellow science-aficionados as well, alas, that's just an added bonus.

So let's all turn our eyes toward the natural world a little longer and leap headlong into a realm of lifelong-learning and public engagement alongside a coterie of other concerned strangers that share your values for the advancement of science. And together we'll forge a new path to newfound insights and urgent realizations about our environment.

In the interim, keep those binoculars clean, your boots dry, and your curiosity outsized as you continue to frolic further outdoors this Spring season. •

RUBEN DOMINGUEZ
CASE NO. 21STPB03321

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the WILL or estate, or both of RUBEN DOMINGUEZ.

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by EVANGELINA CASTILLO in the Superior Court of California, County of LOS ANGELES. THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that EVANGELINA CASTILLO be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held in this court as follows: 05/10/21 at 8:30AM in Dept. 9 located at 111 N. HILL ST., LOS ANGELES, CA 90012

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the decedent, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within the later of either (1) four months from the date of first issuance of letters to a general personal representative, as defined in section 58(b) of the California Probate Code, or (2) 60 days from the date of mailing or personal delivery to you of a notice under section 9052 of the California Probate Code.

Other California statutes and legal authority may affect your rights as a creditor. You may want to consult with an attorney knowledgeable in California law.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

PUBLIC NOTICES

Adoption of Ordinance No. 2220, Amending Section 9.39.150 (Farmers Markets) of Chapter 9.39 (Community Events Permits) of Division IV (Offenses Against the Public Peace) of Title 9 (Public Peace, Morals and Welfare) of the Hawthorne Municipal Code Related to the Definition and Application Requirements for Farmers Markets

Pursuant to Government Code Section 36933(c), the following constitutes a summary of Ordinance No. 2220, which was adopted by the City Council at its regular meeting on April 27, 2020 at 6:00 p.m. Pursuant to California Government Code Section 36933(c) (1), the City Council has previously directed the preparation and publication of a summary of Ordinance No. 2220 which amends Section 9.39.150 (Farmers Markets) of Chapter 9.39 (Community Events Permits) of Division IV (Offenses Against the Public Peace) of Title 9 (Public Peace, Morals and Welfare) of the Hawthorne Municipal Code related to the definition of and application requirements for farmers markets in the City of Hawthorne. Specifically, this proposed Ordinance amended the definition of "farmers markets" in Section 9.39.150(A) to delete the requirement that farmer markets be "an event operated by an entity approved by the California Federation of Certified Farmers Market" and replaced that requirement with "an entity with at least three (3) years' experience in event and entertainment planning for farmers markets, approved by the City Manager" and further provide that events with no more than ten percent (10%) of the booths devoted to items unrelated to agriculture and food, such as arts, crafts, clothing or antiques, would nevertheless be considered a "farmers market" event. Accordingly, the definition was also amended to delete the prohibition on the sale of items "unrelated to agriculture and food, such as arts, crafts, clothing or antiques" at farmers markets. In addition, the definition was further amended to allow live music and/or entertainment as part of farmers markets permitted within the City of Hawthorne. Lastly, Ordinance No. 2220 amended Section 9.39.150(C) to require that the site plans submitted as part of the application for the farmers market indicate the location of live music and/or entertainment (if provided) and added a new application requirement (new Section 9.39.150(C)(2)) that the applicant provide, with the site plan submitted, an identification of booths generally as either booths related to agriculture and food or booths unrelated to agriculture and food. If identification is not possible, the applicant would be required to attest that the event is a farmers market (by definition) and that booths unrelated to agriculture and food constitute no more than ten percent (10%).

Environmental Review:
The proposed Ordinance is exempt from the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act ("CEQA") in accordance with Sections 15061(b)(3) and 15378 of Division 6 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations as the City Council finds that there is no possibility that amendment of the definition and application requirements of farmers markets contained in Chapter 9.39.150 will have a significant effect on the environment.

A certified copy of the entirety of the text of Ordinance No. 2220 is available both on the City's website and also in the office of the City Clerk, 4455 West 126th Street, Hawthorne, California, and is open for public inspection by appointment by calling 310-349-2915. Pursuant to Government Code Section 36933(c), the summary Ordinance No. 2220 was published at least five (5) days before the ordinance was considered for adoption on April 27, 2020 at a duly convened regular meeting of the Hawthorne City Council.

Notice of Availability of the Final Environmental Impact Report (EIR)/ Environmental Assessment (EA) and Finding of No Significant Impact (FONSI) for the I-105 ExpressLanes Project

Why this notice?

This is to inform you that the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans), in cooperation with the Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro), has completed the Final EIR/EA for the Interstate 105 (I-105) ExpressLanes Project in Los Angeles County. The Final EIR/EA identifies Alternative 3 as the Preferred Alternative. Alternative 3 would convert the existing High Occupancy Vehicle lane, from I-405 to Studebaker Road, to two (2) ExpressLanes in each direction by utilizing non-standard lane and shoulder widths, as well as widening. The two ExpressLanes, 11 feet wide each, would be separated from the general-purpose lanes by a 2-foot buffer. The general-purpose lanes would be 11 feet wide for the two (2) inside lanes, and 12 feet wide for the outside lane, except at some segments west and east of the I-105/I-110 Interchange where three (3) standard 12-foot general-purpose lanes are feasible. This alternative would also include a new overhead tolling system and signage, dynamic pricing on the ExpressLanes, and other improvements to the Corridor including soundwalls and auxiliary lanes. The Preferred Alternative would require acquisition of additional right-of-way.

You are also advised that a FONSI under the National Environmental policy Act (NEPA) has been made for this project by Caltrans as assigned by the Federal Highway Administration pursuant to 23 USC 327. A Notice of Determination (NOD) will soon be filed with the State Clearinghouse pursuant to the California Environmental Quality Act (CEQA).

What is available?

A copy of the Final EIR/EA with FONSI, which includes responses to comments from agencies, organizations, and individuals on the Draft EIR/EA, can be viewed at metro.net/105expresslanes. Hard copies of the document will be available upon request.

Contact:

For additional information, contact Dawn Kukla, Environmental Office Chief at (213) 269-1113, via 105ExpressLanes@metro.net or call the project telephone number at (213) 922-6565.

Thank you for your interest in this important transportation project!

Adoption of Ordinance No. 2222, Amending Chapter 2.17 (Youth Commission), Chapter 2.20 (Senior Citizens' Commission) and Chapter 2.22 (Parks, Recreation and Fine Arts Commission) of Title 2 (Administration, Civil Service and Personnel) of the Hawthorne Municipal Code to Make Consistent and Update the Provisions of Each Chapter and to Make Other Non-Substantive Changes in Furtherance of their Uniformity

Pursuant to Government Code Section 36933(c), the following constitutes a summary of Ordinance No. 2222, which was adopted by the City Council at its regular meeting on April 27, 2021 at 6:00 p.m. Pursuant to California Government Code Section 36933(c) (1), the City Council has previously directed the preparation and publication of a summary of Ordinance No. 2222 which amends Chapter 2.17 (Youth Commission), Chapter 2.20 (Senior Citizens' Commission) and Chapter 2.22 (Parks, Recreation and Fine Arts Commission) of Title 2 (Administration, Civil Service and Personnel) of the Hawthorne Municipal Code to Make Consistent and Update the Provisions of Each Chapter and to Make Other Non-Substantive Changes in Furtherance of their Uniformity. In sum, Ordinance No. 2222 amends Chapters 2.17 (Youth), 2.20 (Senior Citizens) and 2.22 (Parks, Recreation and Fine Arts) in order to create uniformity among the commissions currently under the management of the Community Services Department in order to aid in administration of each commission and to update the Hawthorne Municipal Code with regard to changes to the organizational structure of the City. Each Chapter would now contain the following consistent provisions (briefly summarized), in the following order:

- Establishment: Language creating each commission;
- Purpose: Provides duties and powers of each commission;
- Appointment to Office: Provides how appointments are made and providing that members serve at pleasure of the City Council;
- Terms of Office: Four year terms for all, with the exception of teen members of the Youth Commission;
- Organization: Chairperson and vice-chairperson to be appointed;
- Ex Officio Members: Appointment of non-voting members;
- Meetings, Quorum and Procedure: Each commission may make their own rules and regulations to govern meeting procedures, regular meetings would be once a month and special meetings as needed, that each commission is subject to the Brown Act, and that majority constitutes a quorum;
- Secretary and Minutes: A secretary and minutes are required;
- Vacancy: What causes a vacancy and how to address it;
- Compensation: Provides that compensation is to be established by resolution or budget of City Council.

Environmental Review:
The proposed Ordinance is exempt from the requirements of the California Environmental Quality Act ("CEQA") in accordance with Sections 15061(b)(3) and 15378 of Division 6 of Title 14 of the California Code of Regulations as the City Council finds that there is no possibility of any such methods.

(2) Use of a best value approach to procure and contract for delivery of the ITC Project, which approach shall generally set forth the criteria the City will evaluate when reviewing submittals, the relative weight of such criteria in the evaluation process, and the factors the City will consider in making its award determination, including, but not limited to, experience and qualifications, technical proposals and other related factors, in addition to contract price.

(3) Competitive solicitations using requests for qualifications, short-listing of qualified proposers, requests for proposals, pre-proposal procedures consistent with appropriate protocols including review and assessment of design and architectural components, meetings or interviews with individual short-listed proposers, and community engagement and previews of proposer solutions, revised proposals, and best and final offers.

(4) Negotiations with proposers prior to award to allow clarification and changes in the proposals. Should the City elect to use a competitive solicitation in connection with any procurement or contract under this ordinance, the City shall have discretion to require some or all of the procurement procedures described in subsection B below.

B. Procurement Process. With respect to any procurement and contract under this ordinance in which the City issues a request for qualifications, request for proposals or similar solicitation document, the City may utilize some or all of the following procurement procedures:

(1) The City shall take adequate measures to treat each proposer fairly and employ reasonable precautions to prevent the disclosure of confidential or proprietary information contained in any one proposal with other proposers, except as may be required by law.

(2) The City may identify a process whereby proposers may request and receive authorization to deviate from technical and financial specifications, provided the proposer has demonstrated to the City's satisfaction that the proposed deviation will meet or exceed the applicable specifications.

(3) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may withhold proposals from release or disclosure until the award of the contract and the conclusion of any protest or other challenge to such award or the lapse of the protest period without challenge.

(4) The City may require that all proposals be submitted to the City's designated procurement manager for the ITC Project, who shall safeguard them in a manner and at a location the designated procurement manager deems appropriate to reasonably maintain the confidentiality and security of the proposals.

(5) The City may require that every proposal for any contract under this ordinance be accompanied by proposal security, subject to terms and conditions and in such amounts as determined in the City's discretion, securing the proposer's obligation to enter into the proposed contract if the same be awarded to it.

(6) The City may require the party directly under contract with the City, one or more of that party's prime contractors, or any combination thereof, to provide performance and payment security in the form of bonds, guarantees, letters of credit or any other type of financial instrument, or any combination of the foregoing for all or part of the cost of the ITC Project. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may set the amounts of such performance and payment security based on its determination of what is required to adequately ensure payment of subcontractors and protect the City's interests.

(7) The City may pay stipends or payments for work product on terms and conditions and in such amounts as determined in the City's discretion.

(8) In exchange for such stipend or payment for work product, the City may require the proposer to grant to the City the right to use any work product contained in the proposer's proposal.

(9) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may allow contractors identified in a proposal for a contract procured under this ordinance to delay compliance with applicable licensing requirements until contract execution or financial close, as determined by the City in its sole discretion.

(10) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may set a uniform rate of interest on payments due and owing but not yet made on contracts related to the ITC Project.

(11) To the extent that the City utilizes any of the procurement procedures described in this subsection, the request for qualifications, request for proposals or similar solicitation documents issued under this ordinance will specify relevant terms and conditions.

C. Contracting. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the City may include in a contract entered into under this ordinance any provision that the City determines is necessary or appropriate. Examples of such provisions include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Provisions addressing the allocation and management of project risks including without limitation design, construction, geotechnical, delay, permitting, governmental approvals, change of law, change in utility costs, operations and maintenance, force majeure, inflation and financing risks.

(2) Provisions providing that the City may pay the contractor by making periodic payments to the contractor through the term of the contract or any portion thereof. Such payments may include: availability, milestone, progress, substantial completion or final acceptance payments; payments for costs related to design, construction, financing, operations and maintenance; payments for costs incurred from utilities, land acquisition, and any other project development costs; and a rate of return on the contractor's investment the City determines to be appropriate.

(3) Provisions providing that the City may make downward adjustments to payments owing to the contractor where the contractor fails to achieve performance specifications or otherwise fails to

ORDINANCE [] OF THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF INGLEWOOD, CALIFORNIA ADDING SECTION 2-196.1 INGLEWOOD TRANSIT CONNECTOR PROCUREMENTS TO ARTICLE 5 OF CHAPTER 2 OF THE INGLEWOOD MUNICIPAL CODE AUTHORIZING USE OF ALTERNATIVE PROJECT DELIVERY METHODS AND ESTABLISHING CERTAIN REQUIREMENTS FOR PROCUREMENTS AND CONTRACTS RELATED TO THE PROPOSED INGLEWOOD TRANSIT CONNECTOR PROJECT.

WHEREAS, the City of Inglewood (the "City") is proposing to construct an approximately 1.6-mile-long, three station, fully elevated, electronically powered automated people mover system known as the Inglewood Transit Connector Project (the "ITC Project") that will connect passengers directly from the regional Metro Rail system to the City's new housing and employment centers, and sports and entertainment venues; and

WHEREAS, the proposed ITC Project is expected to increase transit ridership, reduce vehicle miles traveled and greenhouse gas emissions, and improve air quality throughout the region; and

WHEREAS, Article XXIII, Section 1 of the City Charter provides that the City Council shall, by ordinance, prescribe the procedures and requirements for the City's awarding of public projects in a manner that preserves the integrity of the competitive bidding process, insures the protection of public funds, but at the same time provides opportunity to effect economies in the operation of the City which are in the best interests of the public; and

WHEREAS, Article XXIII, Section 2 of the City Charter includes certain requirements and procedures for procurement and contracting related to public projects and such requirements and procedures are codified in Chapter 2, Article 5, Sections 2-196 and 2-198 of the Inglewood Municipal Code (collectively, the "Requirements"); and

WHEREAS, Article XXIII, Section 4 of the City Charter authorizes the City Council to declare certain contracts to be exempt from the Requirements, provided such exemptions are consistent with the intent expressed in Article XXIII, Section 1 of the City Charter; and

WHEREAS, the purpose of this ordinance is to authorize the use of alternative project delivery methods for contracts between the City and any successful contractors for procurement, pre-construction services, design, construction, finance, operations and maintenance, and related services for the proposed ITC Project; and

WHEREAS, because the proposed ITC Project is highly specialized and technically complex, it is advisable for the City to have the flexibility to use alternative procurement, contracting and financing methods in order to achieve lifecycle cost efficiencies, encourage private sector innovation, and incentivize on-time completion and high quality performance; and

WHEREAS, the City may require contractor-provided financing as part of its use of alternative project delivery methods to, among other things, incentivize high quality performance, facilitate cost and risk sharing between the City and its private partners, reduce the public cost of project delivery and provide savings to taxpayers; and

WHEREAS, the City Council desires to authorize the City to use alternative project delivery methods to procure and contract for the proposed ITC Project in the event that such project is otherwise approved to proceed; and

NOW, THEREFORE, THE CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF INGLEWOOD, CALIFORNIA, DOES ORDAIN AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION 1. General Findings. The City Council hereby finds that the procedures to procure and contract for the proposed ITC Project described in this ordinance are generally consistent with Article XXIII, Section 1 of the City Charter, to preserve the integrity of the Requirements, insure the protection of public funds and at the same time provide the opportunity to effect economies in the operation of the City that are in the best interests of the public and achieve the goals of the proposed ITC Project.

SECTION 2. Exemption from the Requirements. Based on the foregoing and as authorized under Article XXIII, Section 4 of the City Charter, the City Council hereby exempts from the Requirements any procurements and contracts that may be required in connection with the ITC Project, provided that the procedures and requirements set forth herein are implemented with respect to such procurements and contracts.

SECTION 3. Procurement and Contracting. The City is hereby authorized to use procurement methods and processes that the City determines are appropriate to solicit contractors and award contracts consistent with this ordinance, including, but not limited to, any of the following or combination of the following, at the City's discretion. The City Council hereby adds Section 2-196.1, Inglewood Transit Connector Procurements, to Article 5 of Chapter 2 of the Inglewood Municipal Code:

Section 2-196.1. Inglewood Transit Connector Procurements.
Contracts between the City and the successful contractors for pre-construction services, design, construction, finance, operations and maintenance, and related services for the Inglewood Transit Connector Project ("ITC Project") may be procured in accordance with the following subsections:

A. Alternative Methods. With respect to any procurement and contract under this ordinance, the City may utilize some or all of the following project delivery methods and procurement strategies:

(1) Alternative project delivery methods, including, but not limited to, design-build, design-build-maintain, design-build-finance-maintain, design-build-operate-maintain, design-build-finance-operate-maintain, concession arrangements, early contractor involvement, early works agreements, and other forms of alternative project delivery, or any combination of any such methods.

(2) Use of a best value approach to procure and contract for delivery of the ITC Project, which approach shall generally set forth the criteria the City will evaluate when reviewing submittals, the relative weight of such criteria in the evaluation process, and the factors the City will consider in making its award determination, including, but not limited to, experience and qualifications, technical proposals and other related factors, in addition to contract price.

(3) Competitive solicitations using requests for qualifications, short-listing of qualified proposers, requests for proposals, pre-proposal procedures consistent with appropriate protocols including review and assessment of design and architectural components, meetings or interviews with individual short-listed proposers, and community engagement and previews of proposer solutions, revised proposals, and best and final offers.

(4) Negotiations with proposers prior to award to allow clarification and changes in the proposals. Should the City elect to use a competitive solicitation in connection with any procurement or contract under this ordinance, the City shall have discretion to require some or all of the procurement procedures described in subsection B below.

B. Procurement Process. With respect to any procurement and contract under this ordinance in which the City issues a request for qualifications, request for proposals or similar solicitation document, the City may utilize some or all of the following procurement procedures:

(1) The City shall take adequate measures to treat each proposer fairly and employ reasonable precautions to prevent the disclosure of confidential or proprietary information contained in any one proposal with other proposers, except as may be required by law.

(2) The City may identify a process whereby proposers may request and receive authorization to deviate from technical and financial specifications, provided the proposer has demonstrated to the City's satisfaction that the proposed deviation will meet or exceed the applicable specifications.

(3) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may withhold proposals from release or disclosure until the award of the contract and the conclusion of any protest or other challenge to such award or the lapse of the protest period without challenge.

(4) The City may require that all proposals be submitted to the City's designated procurement manager for the ITC Project, who shall safeguard them in a manner and at a location the designated procurement manager deems appropriate to reasonably maintain the confidentiality and security of the proposals.

(5) The City may require that every proposal for any contract under this ordinance be accompanied by proposal security, subject to terms and conditions and in such amounts as determined in the City's discretion, securing the proposer's obligation to enter into the proposed contract if the same be awarded to it.

(6) The City may require the party directly under contract with the City, one or more of that party's prime contractors, or any combination thereof, to provide performance and payment security in the form of bonds, guarantees, letters of credit or any other type of financial instrument, or any combination of the foregoing for all or part of the cost of the ITC Project. To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may set the amounts of such performance and payment security based on its determination of what is required to adequately ensure payment of subcontractors and protect the City's interests.

(7) The City may pay stipends or payments for work product on terms and conditions and in such amounts as determined in the City's discretion.

(8) In exchange for such stipend or payment for work product, the City may require the proposer to grant to the City the right to use any work product contained in the proposer's proposal.

(9) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may allow contractors identified in a proposal for a contract procured under this ordinance to delay compliance with applicable licensing requirements until contract execution or financial close, as determined by the City in its sole discretion.

(10) To the extent permitted by applicable law, the City may set a uniform rate of interest on payments due and owing but not yet made on contracts related to the ITC Project.

(11) To the extent that the City utilizes any of the procurement procedures described in this subsection, the request for qualifications, request for proposals or similar solicitation documents issued under this ordinance will specify relevant terms and conditions.

C. Contracting. Notwithstanding any other provision of law, the City may include in a contract entered into under this ordinance any provision that the City determines is necessary or appropriate. Examples of such provisions include, but are not limited to, the following:

(1) Provisions addressing the allocation and management of project risks including without limitation design, construction, geotechnical, delay, permitting, governmental approvals, change of law, change in utility costs, operations and maintenance, force majeure, inflation and financing risks.

(2) Provisions providing that the City may pay the contractor by making periodic payments to the contractor through the term of the contract or any portion thereof. Such payments may include: availability, milestone, progress, substantial completion or final acceptance payments; payments for costs related to design, construction, financing, operations and maintenance; payments for costs incurred from utilities, land acquisition, and any other project development costs; and a rate of return on the contractor's investment the City determines to be appropriate.

(3) Provisions providing that the City may make downward adjustments to payments owing to the contractor where the contractor fails to achieve performance specifications or otherwise fails to comply with its obligations under the contract.

(4) Provisions requiring that either the City or the contractor provide the utilities required during construction and operation of the ITC Project.

(5) Provisions requiring the use of arbitration or other alternative dispute resolution procedures to resolve disputes between the City and the contractor. Such alternative dispute resolution procedures may include, but are not limited to, binding or nonbinding process, arbitration or mediation, the establishment of a board to hear disputes and/or resort to the courts.

(6) Provisions addressing the City's requirements for operations, maintenance, renewal, rehabilitation, reequipping, use and change in use of the ITC Project, flexibility to expand the ITC Project, and provisions allocating performance obligations between the contractor and the City with respect to such requirements.

(7) Provisions providing for compensation of the contractor upon early termination of the contract, including, but not limited to, termination by the City for its convenience, or termination by default of either the City or the contractor. Compensation on termination amounts and formulas shall be as determined by the City in its discretion.

(8) Provisions specifying events of default and remedies available to the contractor and the City.

(9) Provisions setting forth the technical standards and specifications with which the contractor must comply, including, but not limited to, performance standards and output specifications, together with provisions allowing the City to enforce, amend or waive such technical standards and specifications.

(10) Provisions requiring that the contractor obtain and maintain insurance with such coverages and deductibles as determined by the City to be appropriate in its discretion.

(11) Provisions regarding the maintenance and auditing of the contractor's books and records.

(12) Provisions requiring the contractor to waive certain rights and benefits conferred by Public Contract Code Section 7104, to the extent that it may be inconsistent with any provision of the contract.

D. Funding and Financing. The City may utilize any lawful source of funding and financing, or combination thereof, for the development, design, construction, operations, maintenance, and renewal of the ITC Project. The City is hereby authorized to:

(1) Require the contractor to arrange for all or a portion of the financing required for the ITC Project and the City may elect in its discretion to participate with the contractor in any gains realized through the refinancing of the ITC Project, as determined by the City in its discretion.

(2) Pursue and apply for, and accept from the United States, any state, or any of their respective agencies, or from any regional or local governmental entity, such funds and credit assistance as are available to it for carrying out the purposes of this ordinance, whether the funds are made available by grant, loan, guaranty, line of credit or other financing arrangement, and pursue and apply for such funds and credit assistance to the extent necessary to support the contractor's use of such mechanisms to arrange for all or a portion of the financing required for the ITC Project.

(3) Enter into such arrangements and other agreements with the United States, any state, or any of their respective agencies, or with any state, regional or local governmental entity, as may be necessary, proper, and convenient for carrying out the purposes of this ordinance.

(4) Accept from any source any grant, donation, gift, pledge, or other form of conveyance of land, money, or other real or personal property, or other valuable thing made to the City for carrying out the purposes of this ordinance.

(5) Impose and collect fees, rents and charges from users of the ITC Project, as well as other project-generated revenue streams (including, but not limited to, advertising, corporate sponsorships, joint use and fiber optic technology). The City may increase such fees, rents and charges and use lawful measures to enforce such fees, rents and charges and/or authorize a contractor or another public entity to impose, collect, increase and enforce such fees, rents and charges to the same extent as available to the City. The use, application and sharing of such fees, rents, charges and revenue streams by the City or the contractor shall be as determined by the City in its discretion.

(6) Consider and adopt other alternative strategies for increasing ITC Project revenues as a means to reduce long term ITC Project costs payable by City or its assignee.

(7) Utilize any other lawful source of funding and financing, or combination thereof, that the City determines is necessary or appropriate.

SECTION 4. Severability. If any section, subsection, sentence, clause or phrase of this ordinance is for any reason held by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, such decision shall not affect the validity of the remaining portions of this ordinance. The City Council declares that it would have adopted this ordinance and each section, subsection, sentence, clause and phrase thereof, irrespective of the fact that any one or more section, subsection, sentence, clause, or phrase be declared invalid.

SECTION 5. The City Clerk shall certify to the introduction, approval, passage, and adoption of this Ordinance by the City Council and shall cause the same to be published in accordance with the City Charter, and thirty days from the final passage and adoption, this Ordinance shall be in full force and effect.

PETSPETS Pets PETSPETS

Purrrfect Companions

Lily

Why are there so many kittens and cats out there to save? An unspayed kitten can begin to have babies at as young as 5-6 months of age. With kittens themselves having kittens in a season that lasts for at least seven months, the birth rate in just one year is explosive. We will never run out of kittens; what we fight so hard to end is the unnecessary suffering and death of those mama cats and babies born on the streets. Please spay and neuter your pets; assistance is available! Along with spay and neutering, if just 2% of the pet-owning households in America fostered one pet a year, we could stop euthanizing healthy pets in shelters.

Lily is a sweet, mellow kitten who is one of two girls in this litter of five. Although she is much calmer as compared to Aster, Iris and Indigo, that does not mean she doesn't like to have fun! She has some spunk and enjoys chasing the laser light, leaping high into the air for the feather wand or running through the cat tube while chasing her siblings. Lily is curious yet cautious and loves to stare at her favorite human with her big eyes letting you know she wants some chin rubs and cuddles. Due to her young age and energy level, this beautiful girl would love to be adopted with one of her siblings or her Mama. This family has truly bonded and needs to be adopted in pairs only.

Kirk and Spock are playful, curious brothers who are very loving towards each other. They enjoy napping together and are often found cuddling and grooming each other. They like to run around and play with their toys. Like most teenage boys, they can be troublemakers at times, but overall, they are good cats. Kirk is very vocal and likes to leap to high places. He likes being pet and sitting close to you. Spock is cuddlier than Kirk. He will sniff your face and look for your hand until he is pet. He also likes to sit close to you. Kirk and Spock are very bonded and need to be adopted together.

Rescued from a dangerous industrial area, Musya's life was not easy which is another reason why she deserves a loving home. Although she can be shy at first, Musya is a sweetheart once you get to know her! She is an extremely cute girl, petite and loving, with the most gorgeous fur and coloring. Musya enjoys playing and is well-behaved. She is all about belly rubs and loves being brushed. Musya will be a great addition to your furry family or can do well as a single cat.

Toffee is a friendly, energetic, and affectionate boy that loves to romp and play, then cuddle up beside his human for some love and attention. Toffee is confident and not shy about meeting new people. He loves to chase the feather cat wand and laser toy. Though he is not the most graceful when he leaps into the air and plops to the ground, Toffee has a ton of fun and that is what counts. He would do best in a home without other cats. With his energetic personality, he just needs cat toys to keep him happy and stimulated. Schedule a time to meet this friendly, adorable guy and see if he is the right kitty for you.

These lovely girls will bring lots of joy to whoever is lucky enough to adopt them. Puma and her daughter Savannah are very loving, friendly, and affectionate with the people they meet as well as with one another. They are both confident and welcome the opportunity to make new friends because it means more pets and head scratches. These adorable cuddle bugs sound like purring engines when you give them attention. Puma and Savannah are extremely bonded to one another and must be adopted together into a home with no other pets. You are invited to meet this lovable duo and see if they are the right fur babies for you.

These cats and kittens are available for adoption through Kitten Rescue, one of the largest cat rescue groups in Southern California. All our kitties are spayed/neutered, microchipped, tested for FeLV and FIV, dewormed and current on their vaccinations. For additional information and to see these or our other kittens and cats, please check our website www.kittenrescue.org.

Our Adoption Center is temporarily closed. In the meantime, we are still conducting contactless adoptions using all the online tools at our disposal. To virtually browse our adoptable cats, please visit our Adoption Gallery where you can find photos and profiles of all the cats and kittens we have up for adoption from our network of foster homes and from the Sanctuary. At the end of each cat's profile is a link to the email address of the foster parent or adoption counselor, and you may reach out directly with questions or to arrange a virtual meeting.

The donations and support we receive from individuals like you, who share our love and commitment to helping cats and kittens in Los Angeles, are the sole reason we are able to do what we do. We are grateful for your financial help. By making even a small donation today, you can touch the lives of the many deserving, wonderful animals in our care. There are many ways you can donate and help, and every dollar means so much. Kitten Rescue is a 501(c)(3) nonprofit. Your tax-deductible donations for the rescue and care of our cats and kittens can be made through our website or by sending a check payable to Kitten Rescue, 3519 Casitas Ave., Los Angeles, CA 90039.

Saving one animal won't change the world, but the world will surely change for that animal. •
