Three Candidates Vying for Two Wiseburn Unified School Board Seats

By Duane Plank

Culminating on Nov. 3, local voters will decide who will fill the two available seats on the five-member Wiseburn Unified School District School Board. Three candidates have entered the fray: Incumbents Joanne Kaneda and Neil Goldman, and newcomer Jessica Daugherty.

As election day nears, the candidates were asked by the Herald, over the next month, to share their thoughts and provide their qualifications on the most important issues facing the Wiseburn District (WUSD). Please note: We don't edit candidates answers and they are limited to 150 words.

1. Where were you born, raised, and educated?

Jessica Daugherty: I grew up in La Palma, CA into a family that believed education should be engrained in every aspect of life! My dad is a Southern Vietnam Vet who worked at a printing press and my mom is a liberal community college professor. Our dinner table taught me to debate respectfully, ask questions, and understand different perspectives. I went to public K-12 schools in our very diverse community, where I learned the harsh realities of racial inequalities and the power of speaking out against injustices. I earned a Bachelors in Global Studies from UC Santa Barbara and a Master of Public Policy from UCLA where I learned the power of inquiry and data. My most formative education has been "on the job" working for non-profit organizations, elected officials, and starting my own company. This life education taught me to lean into challenges, think entrepreneurially, ask questions, and work collaboratively.

Joanne Kaneda: 1. I was born and raised in St. Louis, Missouri. I am proud to be a bi-lingual, first generation descendant of immigrants from Eastern Europe. My own family unit is a blended, mixed-race family of Asian and European descent. 2. I moved to California when I began my aerospace career at Hughes Aircraft Company. 3. My education includes: Bachelor of Arts (BA) in Math, Education and Languages from Washington University in St. Louis, Missouri; Master's in Business Administration (MBA) from Drake University in Des Moines, Iowa. I completed the UCLA Executive Engineering Management Program and Executive Program Management Seminars during my aerospace career. I know how to manage schedules, budgets, teams and facilities, and I apply these leadership skills for our community as a WUSD Board member. I am a certified teacher with high school teaching experience. I am passionate about family, kids, education, diversity, and community.

Neil Godman: I'm Neil Goldman, currently Wiseburn School Board Vice President, and honored to have served since 2015. I was born in Los Angeles, and raised in Northridge. My mom—an English and ESL teacher and then a principal—instilled in me a love of learning and the power of education. I have a B.A. from UC Santa Barbara, and an MBA and Doctorate in Education (Ed.D.) from Pepperdine. Professionally, I'm a management consultant, and have worked to facilitate positive change in hundreds of organizations nationwide. As a Del Aire resident for over 20 years, I have continued to bring an all-win philosophy to Wiseburn, striving to continually improve our students' education. Please join me in the ongoing quest for the best in education for our kids. To learn more, please see: www.VoteGoldmanWUSD.com. I'm passionate about education, and hope to earn one of your two votes for Wiseburn School Board. Thank you!

2. What has been your Hawthorne community involvement, including support of the WUSD?

Neil Goldman: I have served our community and schools for over two decades. Here's a partial list: Co-Founder/First President, Wiseburn Education Foundation, Co-Creator, Rock Around the Block, Wiseburn Unification Committee, Juan de Anza School Site Council, Spoken before County and State Boards of Education for our community, Wiseburn Budget Committee, Wiseburn Bond Oversight Committee, School Reopening Committee, Facilities Master Plan Committee, Special Education Committee, Strategic planning/consultative research support: ESUSD, WUSD, DV Schools, Attendee, multiple Teacher of the Year recognition ceremonies, and more.

I'm additionally calling for a Wiseburn-Da Vinci Integration Committee to increase alignment and integration of our schools. Per one Wiseburn teacher's recent comment, "Neil relentlessly shows up to hear the voices of all stakeholders." And another: "As a Hollywood resident, Wiseburn teacher, and mother

Dick Johnson is Dead is a Darkly Humorous Dedication to Dad

By Morgan Rojas for Cinemacy.com

Why do we give our love to another person when we just end up alone in the end? This hypothetical question has stumped lovers, poets, and philosophers for years but I believe it comes down to this one reason: we love because that's the only way to live.

Award-winning documentarian Kirsten Johnson (Cameraperson) shows that loving wholeheartedly may be painful but the reward of being vulnerable and sharing your life with another person far outweighs the eventual heartache of losing them in her most personal film yet, Dick Johnson is Dead. After seeing the mental decline of her aging father, Kirsten suggested making a film about him dying. In her unique way, she works through her emotional hang-ups and the not-so-distant reality of his death by enacting hilariously absurd death scenarios. To execute this, she enlists her 86-years-young, retired psychiatrist father, Dick Johnson, to play himself.

The surreal fantasy moments are sprinkled in throughout an otherwise emotional and at times, heartbreaking, storyline. Dick's memory continues to decline as the film progresses and Kirsten captures it all on camera. The laughter, the tears, the struggles, the chocolate cake. With Dick Johnson is Dead, Kirsten has created a darkly humorous awakening to the reality of death and the impact we all leave behind when we're gone. One of the most powerful moments comes from Dick's "funeral," where a group of his family and friends -who knowingly participated in this mock service- are gathered to reminisce about his impact on their lives. And even though Dick Johnson is alive and well, watching from a peephole behind the

News for the City of Good Neighbors from an Old Guy named Norb Huber

A VOICE FOR THE VOICELESS

I received my mail-in ballot today. Now, I will exercise my right to vote. Along with everything else in 2020, this election seems different, with all the political back and forth. It seems to make America Christian again? No. The government will never and should never try to sanction one religion over another. However, I have to stand up Life. Everyone matters, I don't care if you drink cold ones or hot ones. I don't care if you agree with me or hate reading this junk, you are human, you are living, and God created you in His image.

The murder of black or white or brown young people is a tragedy. However, something much worse has been going on in America for a long time. Since 1973, 61,628,584 babies have been aborted. That comes out to approximately 3,600 lives extinguished each and every day since. It is hard for me to write about this just thinking about my youngest grandson and how precious he is. My heart cries. I pray for American families. I pray that expectant mothers might be given alternatives to abortion. Outlawing the procedure is not going to solve the problem. A change of heart that looks at all of life as a gift from God can make a difference. Most candidates must decide whether they want to continue to have government pay for this termination of life, or stand for preserving life. I'm not telling you who to vote for; I'm trying to use my voice to speak for those little ones who don't have a voice. I try to tune out the big mouth politicians, I was one of them way back when, but I do vote for the person who stands for Life. Yes, it's about life and death. Did I lose some of you loyal readers? Let's get back to some less serious stuff like it's looking like the Lakers and Dodgers might both win world championships. For LA fans it's been a long time since the cold ones have flowed in celebration. Here's to good times! Here's to Life! Here's to each and every person, unborn, young, old, happy, sad or just plain grumpy. Everyone is precious. Have a cold one and vote!

Be Prepared: Build Your Emergency Fund

(BPT) - Many of life's interruptions can't be predicted. Not having funds set aside for unexpected problems can leave you racking up high credit card debt or putting yourself in other difficult financial straits.

"When it comes to savings best practices, it is especially clear after the pandemic how valuable an emergency savings fund can become at a moment's notice," said Jaspreet Chawla, Senior Vice President of Savings Products at Navy Federal Credit Union. "Here are some tips that might help you kick start your emergency savings."

Here's how to create an emergency fund to protect your finances.

1. Do the math; set a goal.

If your first instinct is to save an enormous sum that will cover all expenses for many months, think again. While financial experts recommend having between three and six months of living expenses in an emergency fund, this number might not be realistic if you're just beginning to save. It's often a good idea to start with a smaller goal - $500 or $1,000. Then, as you get into the habit of saving, you can slowly start to raise your future goals until you reach the three-to six-month threshold.

2. Decide where to put the funds.

The money in your emergency fund should be kept separate from accounts you use for paying bills or making purchases and be easily accessible when an emergency arises. Using just one account may make it far too easy to "borrow" from your emergency fund for non-essential items. Instead, place your emergency funds into an interest-bearing account that's specifically designated for this purpose. Good options include a savings account or money market account. Either can be easily accessed without penalties and allow your money to grow.

3. Get creative and save.

Building an emergency fund means you'll need to trim spending elsewhere. Quick fixes like evaluating your cell phone plan, cutting the cord on cable or bringing your lunch to work can help free up money for savings. Or think bigger, like refinancing your home or car. Use a refinance calculator to see whether a new loan will save you money.

4. Save unexpected windfalls.

You can boost the balance of your emergency fund when you least expect it with "found" money. Invest birthday or holiday cash gifts, work bonuses and tax refunds directly into your account and see how quickly you can reach your emergency fund goal. Since this money isn't part of your typical spending, it's Subsection (A)(8) of Section 17.74.020 (Permit Required) to read as follows: "If the short-term rental will be in a primary residence (i.e., not a vacation rental), proof of residency is required. Acceptable proof of primary residency shall include evidence of the homestead tax exemption for the property and two (2) of the following: motor vehicle registration; voter registration; income tax documents showing the residential unit as the host's primary residence; bank account statement; or a utility or credit card bill. If an application is for a "secondary residence," the applicant shall only need to provide proof of primary residence in the City of Hawthorne.

In addition, an affidavit signed by the owner attesting that the short-term rental unit is his/her primary residence or secondary residence (with primary residence in the City of Hawthorne) is required."

In summary, Proposed Ordinance No. 2206 amends the Hawthorne Municipal Code to allow "secondary residence" permits, as defined, to be subject to "home-sharing" regulations, adding that only ten (10) "secondary residence" permits would be issued on a first-come, first-served basis to applicants, with the further limitation of one (1) permit to be issued per property owner.

No more than ten (10) permits for a "secondary residence" will be issued by the City per year, on a first-come, first-served basis. No more than one (1) permit shall be issued per property owner.

• "Home-sharing" means an accessory use of a primary residence, while the host lives on-site, or a secondary residence owned by a person(s) whose primary residence is in the City of Hawthorne, for the purposes of providing temporary lodging, for compensation, for periods of 30 (thirty) consecutive days or less.

• "Vacation rental" means a dwelling unit that is not a primary residence of the owner and which is available for temporary lodging, for compensation. The term "vacation rental" shall not include: single-room occupancy buildings; hotels; a dwelling unit for which a tenant has a month-to-month rental agreement and the rental payments are paid on a monthly basis; or corporate housing. A secondary residence, as that term is defined in this Section, shall not be considered a "vacation rental."

In addition, a change would be made to door, half of the room is in tears. That's the power of love.

I couldn't help but think about my dad while watching Dick Johnson is Dead. I'm so lucky to have such a close relationship with him and my worst fear is the thought of losing him one day. But I keep coming back to this quote from the film, "What loving demands is that we face the fear of losing each other." Love greatly, without regrets, because we only get one chance.

And at 2:56 pm, as soon as the film ended and I closed out of the Netflix press screener browser, my dad texted me asking when I was going to come over and visit.

easy to use it for saving without missing it.

5. Make saving automatic.

We all know that saving money for the unexpected is a good idea, but it's easy to delay in favor of more pressing concerns. Treat your emergency fund like any other monthly recurring bill and have funds directly deposited into your savings account each month. You'll be less likely to miss the money and can sleep easy knowing you have a safety net when life interruptions occur.

"We always try to emphasize the importance of savings and financial security, and we want to be a resource for our members when it comes to prepping for financial emergencies," Chawla continued. "An emergency fund isn't a luxury; it's an important way to protect the things that matter most to you. I encourage you to talk to a financial institution you can trust, and get started saving as soon as you can." •

"There is always a part of my mind that is preparing for the worst, and another part of my mind that believes if I prepare enough for it, the worst won't happen."
