Independent Citizens' Oversight Committee Presents Annual Reports

By Cristian Vasquez

In one presentation Independent Citizens' Oversight Committee Chair Person Armin Karl Walther gave the report regarding Measures Y and Z, as well as Measures T and U, during this week's Torrance Unified School Board meeting. Formed by the Torrance Unified School District (TUSD) February 2, 2009 to comply with the state's constitution and education code, the Independent Citizens' Oversight Committee is responsible for overseeing the expenditure of Measure Y funds ($265 million) and Measure Z ($90 million) in general obligation bonds.

"We are pleased to say that we have no outstanding problems; we have very few actual issues that are usually just logical issues," Walther said. "It is accessible to have a fuel surcharge in the time where fuel rates are falling. It didn't seem logical, so we asked why there was a fuel surcharge and it was just the way the contract had been written."

Torrance residents approved Measure Y during the November 2008 election to undertake the efforts of making "classrooms and core academic facilities safe and modern"--which would in turn help improve learning and qualify the District for state matching funds. The funds allowed TUSD to begin renovating and replacing structures such as damaged walls and floors, worn-out roofs, old plumbing and lighting systems, and faulty drainage systems, as well as other safety hazards.

Also approved during that election was Measure Z to help with other upgrades to school facilities in order to "support student learning and extracurricular activities." These funds have given the District the ability to renovate--for health and safety reasons--old physical education facilities such as playgrounds, music/art classrooms and science labs.

"We generally only find problems with incomplete documentation, which has always been corrected by the staff at the Torrance School District," Walther said. "Whenever we have to have an explanation of why a certain measure is applicable to the bond issue, we don't enforce anything, but we do ask questions. Staff and the contractor will then resolve the issue to our satisfaction and then we put it in our reports."

Six years later, Torrance residents would approve Measure T and Measure U during the November 2, 2014 election and expand efforts to upgrade facilities throughout the district. Measure U ($50 million) funds are to be used to repair playgrounds and fields in accordance to health and safety standards, while Measure T ($144.3 million) funds will allow for the improvement of technology

IRS Has $1 Billion to Give Back to Taxpayers ... With a Catch

By Rob McCarthy

While most taxpayers are scrambling to get their income taxes filed on time, along comes an announcement from the Internal Revenue Service. Would the owners of $1 billion in unclaimed refunds please pick up their money? It's just waiting on that paperwork we asked for three years ago.

As many as 97,000 Californians didn't file income taxes in 2013, the IRS says. The average refund sitting in the federal government's taxpayer lost-and-found section is about $700, and its offer to return that money is good until April 18. After the deadline passes, $93 million that Californians paid in federal income taxes goes into the Treasury piggy bank.

To recap, taxpayers nationwide have almost $1 billion in refunds coming to them and the IRS is looking to return the money. But, there is a catch. To claim their refund, a taxpayer must file a late return. There's no financial penalty for filing late when a refund is due, so taxpayers aren't in trouble because they procrastinated.

They will forfeit the quick payout, though, if they wait much longer. And, they might not see the money right away.

Taxpayers who haven't filed yet for 2014 or 2015 don't receive a refund right away. The IRS says a refund will be applied first to any amounts still owed to

El Camino Development Program Wins Statewide Exemplary Honors

The El Camino College Special Resource Center's Educational Development Program recently received "Exemplary Program Award" honorable mention from the State Academic Senate. The California Community Colleges Board of Governors recognized ECC's program earlier this year.

The ECC Educational Development Program provides comprehensive services for the college's Disabled Students Programs and Services students. The program's 15 courses include academic support for students concurrently enrolled in English, math and computer literacy; courses focused on the soft skills necessary for success, such as time-management and self-regulation; curriculum to enhance self-awareness of strengths and weaknesses related to academics and technology; and courses taught in American Sign Language for students who are deaf or hard of hearing.

Students enrolled in the courses have access to a variety of support services available through ECC's Special Resource Center (SRC). The SRC houses the High-Tech Center and Alternate Media Services in which educational development computer literacy faculty collaborate with seasoned staff to support students as they use the services. The result is high-quality instruction via assistive hardware and software technology, all of which facilitates educational access. This "combination and collaboration" creates a welcoming, supportive environment for Educational Development Program students, and reinforces ECC's mission of providing equal access to its diverse student population.

The annual Exemplary Program Award is sponsored by the Foundation for California Community Colleges. Award nominees must show the overall success of their program; contribution to faculty engagement; demonstrate a response to the needs of students, faculty and the college; collaborate with other programs on campus or within the community; provide evidence that demonstrates how the program supports the community college mission; and can be used as models for other community colleges.

This award was established in 1991, and the first recipient was ECC's Project Success. El Camino College was again honored with the award during the 2009-10 academic year, recognizing the First Year Experience program.

Torrance-South Bay YMCA Encourages Diabetes Awareness

American Diabetes Association (ADA) Alert Day is observed annually on the fourth Tuesday in March, and this year March 28. With millions of Americans at risk for prediabetes and type 2 diabetes, the Torrance-South Bay YMCA urges residents to take action to prevent the disease. Currently, diabetes affects nearly 29 million people. Another 86 million Americans have prediabetes, yet only about 10 percent are aware of it. Diabetes also puts an incredible strain on our health care system, costing billions of dollars a year to treat and manage the disease.

Prediabetes is a condition in which individuals have blood glucose (sugar) levels that are higher than normal, but not high enough to be classified as diabetes. People with prediabetes are at high risk of developing type 2 diabetes, heart disease and stroke.

Understanding your risk is the first step in preventing diabetes. Several factors including family history, age, weight and physical activity level can contribute to developing type 2 diabetes. Learn your risk for type 2 diabetes by taking the diabetes risk test at ymca.net/diabetes.

Those at risk for diabetes can make necessary changes to help prevent the disease. Programs like YMCA's Diabetes Prevention Program can help. Supported by the Torrance Memorial Lundquist Cardiovascular Institute and facilitated by a trained YMCA Lifestyle Coach, the yearlong program at the Torrance-South Bay Y provides a supportive environment where participants work together in a small group to learn about behavior changes that can improve overall health. The program goal is to help adults at risk for diabetes reduce their body weight by five to percent and increase physical activity to 150 minutes per week. Studies show that programs like the YMCA's Diabetes Prevention Program can prevent or delay new cases of type 2 diabetes in adults by 58 percent and by as much as 71 percent in those over age 60.

Space Science Day 2017

Nearly 1,000 South Bay youngsters visited El Camino College's annual Onizuka Space Science Day on March 11. NASA astronaut Dr. Kjell N. Lindgren delivered the keynote address in Marsee Auditorium and was also available for a question and answer session. A "chemical magic show" satellite demonstration, space "bugs" discussion, and a paper airplane contest were just a few of the activities students enjoyed. The free event was open to the public and sponsored by ECC, the Astronaut Ellison S. Onizuka Memorial Committee, and American Honda Motor Company.

the IRS, or to the California Franchise Tax Board. And, a federal refund can be held up to pay back child support or past-due student loans. That might explain why some taxpayers procrastinated.

The reality is the IRS will be keeping a big chunk of this money because people have either changed jobs, left the state, or weren’t legally able to work in the United States and so they don’t qualify for a federal refund. Whatever the reason, the federal government is the beneficiary of whatever is left over from 2013’s collections after the April deadline, according to the IRS. “The IRS estimates the midpoint for potential refunds for 2013 to be $763; half of the refunds are more than $763 and half are less,” it said earlier in March. “In cases where a tax return was not filed, the law provides most taxpayers with a three-year window of opportunity for claiming a refund. For 2013 tax returns, the window closes April 18, 2017.”

The revenue department stressed that a 2013 tax return must be properly addressed, mailed and postmarked by April 18 or the window for claiming a refund is slammed shut for good.

Many Americans prefer to overpay their federal taxes during the year and collect a refund the following year. This way, there are no surprises but the federal government doesn’t pay interest for holding onto individuals’ refunds for an entire calendar year. Financial advisers refer to this practice as “the IRS savings plan. For these people, the refund is a safe bet and worth the wait.

People stand to lose more than just the money deducted from their checks in 2013 if they don’t file these back taxes, the IRS added. Individuals and households that made $46,227 or less may qualify for a tax credit. The credit--up to $6,000--reduces any amount owed to the federal government and potentially increases the size of any refund.

The tax credit helps individuals and families with low- to moderate incomes. To qualify, they had to show earnings for that year that don’t exceed:

- $46,227 ($51,567 if married filing jointly) with three or more children;
- $43,038 ($48,378 if married filing jointly) with two children;
- $37,870 ($43,210 if married filing jointly) with one child;
- $14,340 ($19,680 if married filing jointly) with no children.

The 2013 tax forms and instructions are available on the IRS website at www.irs.gov/forms-pubs, or by calling 800-829-3676. Taxpayers missing their W-2, 1098, 1099 or 5498 earnings documents should request copies from their current or past employer, a bank or other source of taxable income, the department says.

Taxpayers who are unable to get missing forms from their employer or other payer should go to IRS.gov and use the “Get Transcript Online” tool to obtain a Wage and Income transcript. Taxpayers can file Form 4506-T to request a transcript of their 2013 income. They can use information on the transcript to file their tax return, according to the IRS.

Why is the tax-filing deadline pushed back to April 18 instead of the 15th, you might ask. The IRS says that because the 15th falls on a Saturday next month and the following Monday is a legal holiday in the District of Columbia, everybody in the nation gets an extra day to file. The IRS is in a generous mood, but that’s a limited-time offer. •

Kyle Hatai Takes the Lead for North

By Adam Serrao

In order to have a successful season in Pioneer League baseball, teams must receive stellar performances from their standout players. One of those standout players is Kyle Hatai of the North High Saxons. Hatai is leading the Saxons on the mound this year and already has the team off to a 6-2 record in the early stages of the young season. Last Thursday afternoon against the Hawthorne Cougars, Hatai put together his latest great performance and led North High to a 3-0 victory for the team’s second win in a row.

In the beginning stages of last week’s game against Hawthorne, it looked as if the crowd on hand would be in store for a pitchers’ duel of sorts. Hatai took the mound against the Cougars’ Johnny Pacheco and both teams were held scoreless throughout the first two innings. It’s certainly never easy to pitch a shutout in the game of baseball. In the top of the third inning, the Saxons ruined Pacheco’s chances of accomplishing such a feat.

Hatai didn’t only one-up Pacheco and Hawthorne on the mound, but he got things done at the plate as well. It was Hatai who drove in North’s first run of the game in the bottom of the third inning and gave himself some breathing room on defense. The sophomore pitcher didn’t need much breathing room, though, as he looked calm, cool and collected from the outset. Hatai’s control was on point and on full display as he fooled batter after batter with an entire array of pitches. In all, Hatai struck out 12 batters while walking zero in a complete-game shutout over the Cougars.

In addition to Hatai, infielder and pinch-hitter Thomas Bainton provided the rest of the offense. In the bottom of the fifth inning, it was Bainton who came through with two RBIs to pad the Saxon lead and ensure a victory on the day. Despite the play of opposing centerfielder Carlos Jacobo, who was a pest on the base pads all day, the all-around team effort from North was simply too much. Jacobo managed two stolen bases on the day, but ultimately Hatai was too much for the Hawthorne offense to handle in the 3-0 shutout for the Saxons.

North’s season will continue this week with a matchup against Palos Verdes before league play begins with a doubleheader against the Leuzinger Olympians. Behind the offensive production and excellent pitching of Hatai, the Saxons are contenders in a stacked Pioneer League this season.

South High

The South High Spartans boys’ baseball team is enjoying an extremely successful start to the season under head coach Grady Sain. South High baseball has been in the news recently because of the tragedy that occurred when sophomore shortstop Jesse Esphorst, Jr. was killed in a traffic accident. The Spartans canceled two games following the disaster and finally took the field again, dedicating a game versus Bishop Montgomery to Esphorst, Jr. in which South eventually won by a final score of 14-0.

The Spartans’ win over Bishop Montgomery has certainly not been the team’s only victory of the young season. A 13-3 triumph over Hawthorne earlier in the month and a 7-0 win last Thursday afternoon over Temple City have highlighted other great performances by South this year. Junior pitcher Kevin Ishimaru has come up big as the team’s ace this season. Ishimaru pitched five innings of two-hit ball while striking out six batters to secure the victory. Sophomore Carey Arbolida provided the offensive pop, smacking a two-run home run to end the game with three RBIs. Junior Josh Sheck also recorded an RBI double.

A young and talented South High team will continue a season dedicated to Esphorst, Jr. with play in this year’s Chatsworth Tournament before beginning league games with a doubleheader against the Leuzinger Olympians. In a loaded Pioneer League this season, nothing would be sweeter than bringing home a division championship for Esphorst, Jr.

Torrance High

The Torrance Tartars boys’ baseball team and head coach Terry DeWan believe that they have what it takes to take down their competition in the Pioneer League this season. One of the reasons that the Tartars are so confident lies in the arms of three key pitchers on the staff. Seniors Alex Gallegos, Dante Mendoza and Travis Martizia form a three-headed pitching attack that has the ability to shut down any offense in the division.

So far, the Tartars have been able to shut down Leuzinger, Narbonne and El Segundo, among other teams, on their way to a very successful early part of the season. Torrance has already recorded three shutouts this season, including a 5-0 victory over El Segundo last Thursday afternoon. Junior Brad Kong had two RBIs and Gallegos pitched six innings of one-hit ball while striking out five. The Tartars will continue to shake off the rust of a long offseason as they take part in the Anaheim Lions Tournament before beginning Pioneer League play against the South High Spartans.

West High

The West High Warriors are among the South Bay’s highest-ranked teams this season, thanks in large part to the return of Sean Whorley, Taylor Proo and Grant Decatrel. As ace of the

The 4th Annual Torrance Police Department Awards and Appreciation Luncheon

By TerriAnn Ferren

The 4th Annual Torrance Police Department Awards and Appreciation Luncheon will be held next week on Thursday, March 30 at the Torrance Marriott. This special event is an open invitation to all Torrance businesses and residents. For the past three years, the Torrance business community, Chamber volunteers and residents have wholeheartedly supported this special event. Over four years ago, President and CEO of the Torrance Chamber of Commerce Donna Duperron began the tradition of honoring our local police with an awards and appreciation luncheon which was started to “honor brave officers of the Torrance Police Department who, while serving in an official or unofficial capacity, having distinguished themselves through outstanding performance above and beyond the call of duty and/or standard job responsibilities.”

Donna said, “The Torrance Area Chamber of Commerce is proud to partner with the Torrance Police Department in presenting this annual appreciation and awards luncheon. Members of the Torrance Police Department spend each day guarding our lives and property, often at great risk to themselves. This luncheon provides the opportunity for our community to say thank you and recognize those who give above and beyond.”

Mark A. Matsuda, Torrance Chief of Police, said, “I am very proud of this year’s honorees and I would like to personally thank them for representing the Torrance Police Department in such outstanding fashion. The positive impacts to the community from each inspirational act are immeasurable. Each recipient has embodied the ideals of Excellence Through Teamwork and Selfless Service.” He went on to say that he is also thankful to the Torrance Area Chamber of Commerce, the Torrance Marriott, and the Torrance Police Awards Committee for making this annual event a true success.

Emmett Miller, ABC News National Correspondent, will once again serve as Master of Ceremonies. Katrina Arnold, Events Coordinator for the Torrance Chamber, headed the planning committee this year with the help of Leslie Cortez, Charlotte Melsh, Tim Thompson, Robert Van Lingen, Sean Van Lingen, Jennifer Frew, Larry M. Halvorsen, Lieutenant Jennifer Uyeda, Lieutenant Chris Roosen, Lieutenant James Titiriga, Sergeant Dave Koenig, Sergeant Mike Chance, Sergeant Ron Harris, Officers:

Tracy Gowdy, Eric Applegate, Erika Chance, Kelli McCarthy, Erin Velarde, Services Officer Christina Szczypkowski, and Administrative Analyst Kent Sentinella.

The awards presented for 2017 will include the Chief’s Award to Guillermo Soto, Michael Strosnider and Raymond Washington; the Special Recognition Award to Sean O’Rourke and Rob Waldrop; the Unit Citation Award to Matt Slawson and Steven Masone; the Unit Citation Award – Sex Crimes Unit and Youth Services Section to Danielle Morreale, Lucas Ryono, Jesus Garcia, Erin Velarde, Nicole Connor, Darryl Tatum, Erik Eidet, John “Zeke” Thackray and Patrick Hunt; the Unit Citation Award – Community Lead Officer Detail to Michael Guell, Scott Norris, Daniel Cid, Greg Dukeman, Eric Bernier, Thomas Besse, Matthew Wessels, Stephen Kim and Charles Fisher; the Civilian Employee of the Year to Kent Sentinella; the Volunteer of the Year to Melinda Palmer; the Cadet of the Year to Katlyn Randolph; the Sworn Officer of the Year to Matt Slawson; the Life Saving Award to James Walker IV, Christopher Tomsic and Joshua Satterfield; and the Humanitarian Award to Branden Nakashima and Mark Cuny. And this year the Business Recognition Award will be presented to Pelican Products.

Torrance is unique in so many ways and this luncheon, honoring the men and women of our police department, demonstrates not only the respect citizens have for the force, but the genuine gratitude for their service. Something I have noticed through the four years of this event is how volunteers involved leap to help year after year with every aspect of the luncheon. And speaking with people who have attended the event, I have discovered each one has their own story about how a member of the Torrance Police Department either helped, inspired or comforted. We all know that we here in Torrance have a special and unique police department. Officers frequently visit schools and are friends to our children. Hickory Elementary School students will once again provide artwork for each table at the luncheon. Students draw pictures of what they think a police officer does, or writes a message to the officers on the back. Two of the pictures I have are amazing. One youngster wrote, “Dear Torrance [sic] Policemen and Policewomen [sic], Thank you for keeping my family safe. And and security, provide emergency equipment, repair roofs and plumbing, install low-water-usage irrigation systems and renovate and build facilities. The School Board decided that the current Measure Y and Measure Z Independent Citizens' Oversight Committee should assume the responsibility for the new measures since those relate to the responsibilities of the already appointed committee.

"The committee decided to accept this job for T and U, as well as Y and Z, to save the complexity and have one team reporting on the same thing," Walther said. "We meet four times a year as a committee and we meet monthly as a sub-committee and review hundreds, if not more, documents."

Not all committee members were in attendance at the meeting, but they include Committee Vice Chairman-Business Community Mike Moran; Representative-at-Large Eddie Choy; Representative-at-Large Jason Frantz; Representative-at-Large Pearl Iizuka; Representative-at-Large Peter Lefevre; Representative-at-Large John McGee; Taypayers' Association's Ernest Lee; Homeowners'

Association's Jess Negrete; Parent or Guardian of TUSD Students Nicole Rasmussen; Representative-at-Large Ray Roulette; Parent/Guardian of TUSD Student and active in a Parent-Teacher Organization Michael Shannon; and Representative-at-Large Scott Uyeunten.

"We review every warrant that is presented for completeness of documentation and if appropriate to the intent and the letter of the bond measures," said Walther. "We appreciate you being there and asking those questions because that is what we want you to be doing--being vigilant and making sure that we are making appropriate expenditures and that we are spending the money from all of those bonds wisely for our schools and our students.

Walther concluded, "I want to thank all of the committee members that worked so hard. There are many hours that go into completing this work and it has been a pleasure being on the committee. Thank you for letting me be here to tell the good news that everything is working the way it's supposed to." •

As you can see, the results are sweet, surprising and downright precious. The 4 x 6 drawings are laminated and placed on each table as part of the centerpiece. In the past, children have drawn pictures of officers talking to their class, showing off the K-9 Unit with the beautiful, police dogs, and depicting many other duties of the officers children observe. And as an extra bonus, guests may take the laminated picture cards home as a memory of the day. I use mine at home as coasters.

Torrance is one of few cities that can boast of the rapport between citizens and its police department. The relationship we sometimes take for granted, few cities have--especially with the youth. We, the people of the city of Torrance, respect our police. Simply ask someone who doesn’t live in Torrance about our police department and you soon find out they wish their town had our police officers. We are truly blessed to live in this city with the caliber and integrity of a second-to-none police force--and we, the citizens of Torrance, are very aware of that fact. Just ask us.

Make plans on attending this very special event, which is open to everyone. The Torrance Area Chamber of Commerce invites you to attend the 4rd Annual Torrance Police Department Awards and Appreciation Luncheon, from 12 p.m. to 2 p.m. on March 30, 2017 at the Torrance Marriott. For tickets and further information, call 310.540.5858 or access www.torrancechamber.com. I will see you there! •

THE STORY STARTS IN TORRANCE

You can feel it in neighborhoods off Hawthorne Boulevard.
In homes where good grades
decorate refrigerators.

You can see it
in hardworking parents who change the world every day,
with every dollar saved
and every dinner served.

You can hear it in the voices of high school seniors when they tell the families that believe in them
those three magic words . . .

“I got in.”

Yes, you got in.
Congratulations. We know it wasn't easy.

We recognized you, the exceptional young men and women from Torrance, out of more than 100,000 applicants
from around the world.

And now, we ask that you join us, a community of scholars, at a place right up the 405.
A place where people just like you are waiting for you to write your next chapter.
